(l) Make any and all elections for federal, state, and local tax purposes.

5.2. Indemnification of Member.

(a) The Company, its receiver, or its trustee (in the case of its receiver or trustee, to the extent of Company Property) shall indemnify, save harmless, and pay all judgments and claims against the Member relating to any liability or damage incurred by reason of: (i) ownership of an Interest in the Company, and (ii) any act performed or omitted to be performed by the Member in connection with the business of the Company, in any case including attorneys' fees incurred by the Member in connection with the defense of any action based on any of the foregoing.

(b) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in Section 5.2(a) above, in the event that any provision in such Section is determined to be invalid in whole or in part, such Section shall be enforced to the maximum extent permitted by law.

Section 6

ROLE OF THE MEMBER

6.1. Compensation. The Member may from time to time receive a salary, fee, or draw for services rendered to or on behalf of the Company in such amount as the Member deems appropriate.

6.2. Expenses. The Member may charge the Company for any expenses reasonably incurred by it in connection with the Company's business.

6.3. Loans. If the Member shall make any loan or loans to the Company or advance money on its behalf, the amount of any such loan or advance shall not be treated as a capital contribution but shall be a debt due from the Company. The amount of any such loan or advance by the Member shall be repayable out of the Company's cash and shall bear interest at such rate as the Company and the Member shall agree but not in excess of the maximum rate permitted by law. The Member shall not be obligated to make any loan or advance to, or on behalf of, the Company.

Section 7
TRANSFERS OF INTERESTS

7.1. No Restriction on Transfers. The Member may Transfer all or any portion of its Interest at any time.

7.2. Admission of Transferees as Members. Unless otherwise indicated in writing at the time of any Transfer of an Interest, a transferee of an Interest (including a transferee by operation of law) shall be admitted to the Company as a substituted Member and shall be bound by the terms of this Agreement upon such transferee's written notice to the Company at the address set forth in Section 1.4.

Section 8
DISSOLUTION AND WINDING UP

8.1. Liquidating Events. The death, retirement, bankruptcy or dissolution of the Member, or the occurrence of any other event that terminates the continued membership of a member in the Company, shall not cause the Company to be dissolved and its affairs wound up, but rather the business of the Company shall be continued without dissolution, provided that there remains at least one Member (including a transferee of one or more Interests who becomes a Member). The Company shall dissolve and commence winding up and liquidating upon the first to occur of any of the following events (the "Liquidating Events"):

- (a) The written consent of the Member or any successor Member;
- (b) There is no Member or transferee of one or more Interests who becomes a Member; or
- (c) The occurrence of any other event causing the dissolution of the Company under the Code.

8.2. Winding Up. Upon the occurrence of a Liquidating Event, the Company shall continue solely for the purposes of winding up its affairs in an orderly manner, liquidating its assets, and satisfying the claims of its creditors and the Member. To the extent not inconsistent with the foregoing, the terms of this Agreement shall continue in full force and effect until such time as all of the Property (including the proceeds of sales of Property) has been distributed pursuant to this Section 8.2 and the Company's existence has been terminated in accordance with the Code. The Member (or, in the event there is no remaining Member, any Person elected by those persons succeeding to ownership of the Member's Interest) shall be responsible for overseeing the winding up of the Company, shall take full account of the Company's liabilities and Property, shall cause the Property other than cash to be liquidated as promptly as is consistent with obtaining the fair value thereof, and shall cause the proceeds therefrom, to the extent sufficient therefore, to be applied and distributed in the following order:

(a) First, to the payment and discharge of all of the Company's debts and liabilities to creditors; and

(b) The balance, if any, to the Member.

Section 9

9.2. Headings. Section and other headings contained in this Agreement are for reference purposes only and are not intended to describe, interpret, define, or limit the scope, extent, or intent of this Agreement or any provision hereof.

9.3. Severability. Every provision of this Agreement is intended to be severable. If any term or provision hereof is illegal or invalid for any reason whatsoever, such illegality or invalidity shall not affect the validity or legality of the remainder of this Agreement.

9.4. Variation of Pronouns. All pronouns and any variations thereof shall be deemed to refer to masculine, feminine, or neuter, singular or plural, as the identity of the person or persons may require.

9.5. Governing Law. The laws of the State of Texas shall govern the validity of this Agreement, the construction of its terms, and the interpretation of the rights and duties of the Member.

ARTICLE IX

A. Rights to Indemnification. Each person who was or is made a party or is threatened to be made a party to or is otherwise involved in any action, suit or proceeding, whether civil, criminal, administrative or investigative (hereinafter, a “proceeding”), by reason of the fact that he or she, or a person of whom he or she is a legal representative, or is or was a director or officer of the Corporation or is only serving at the request of the Corporation as a director or officer of another Corporation or of a partnership, joint venture, trust or other enterprise, including service with respect to an employee benefit plan (hereinafter an “indemnitee”), whether the basis of such proceeding is alleged action in an official capacity or as a director or officer or in any other capacity while serving as a director or officer, shall be indemnified and held harmless by the Corporation to the fullest extent authorized by the Corporation Act as the same exists or may hereafter be amended (but, in the case of any such amendment, only to the extent that such amendment permits the Corporation to provide broader indemnification rights than permitted prior thereto), against all expense, liability and loss (including, without limitation, attorneys’ fees, judgments, fines, excise taxes or penalties and amounts paid or to be paid in settlement) incurred or suffered by such indemnitee in connection therewith and such indemnification shall continue with respect to an indemnitee who has ceased to be a director or officer and shall inure to the benefit of the indemnitee’s heirs, executors and administrators; provided, however, that except as provided in paragraph (B) hereof with respect to proceedings to enforce rights to indemnification, the Corporation shall indemnify any such indemnitee in connection with a proceeding initiated by such indemnitee only if such proceeding was authorized by the Board of Directors of the Corporation. The right to indemnification conferred in this Article shall be a contract right and shall include the right to be paid by the Corporation the expenses incurred in defending any such proceeding in advance of its final disposition (hereinafter an “advancement of expenses”); provided, however, that if the Corporation Act requires, an advancement of expenses incurred by an indemnitee shall be made only upon delivery to the Corporation of an undertaking (hereinafter an “undertaking”), by or on behalf of such indemnitee, to repay all amounts so advanced if it shall ultimately be determined by final judicial decision from which there is no further right to appeal (hereinafter a “final adjudication”) that such indemnitee is not entitled to be indemnified for such expenses under this Article or otherwise.

B. Rights of Indemnitee to Bring Suit. If a claim under paragraph (A) of this Article is not paid in full by the Corporation within sixty days after a written claim has been received by the Corporation (except in the case of a claim for an advancement of expenses, in which case the applicable period shall be twenty days), the indemnitee may at any time thereafter bring suit against the Corporation to recover the unpaid amount of the claim. If successful in whole or in part in any such suit, the indemnitee shall also be entitled to be paid the expense of prosecuting or defending such suit. In (i) any suit brought by the indemnitee to enforce a right to indemnification hereunder (but not a suit brought by the indemnitee to enforce a right to an advancement of expenses) it shall be a defense that, and (ii) in any suit by the Corporation to recover an advancement of expenses pursuant to the terms of an undertaking, the Corporation shall be entitled to recover such expenses upon a final adjudication that, the indemnitee has not met the applicable standard of conduct set forth in the Corporation Act. Neither the failure of the Corporation (including its Board of Directors, independent counsel or its stockholders) to have made a determination prior to the commencement of such suit that indemnification of the indemnitee has met the applicable standard of conduct set forth in the Corporation Act, nor an actual determination by the Corporation (including its Board of Directors, independent legal counsel or its stockholders) that the indemnitee has not met such applicable standard of conduct, or in the case of such a suit brought by the indemnitee, shall be a defense to such suit. In any suit brought by the indemnitee to enforce a right to indemnification or to an advancement of expenses hereunder or by the Corporation to recover an advancement of expenses pursuant to the terms of an undertaking, the burden of proving that the indemnitee is not entitled under this Article or otherwise to be indemnified, or to such advancement of expenses, shall be on the Corporation.

C. Non-Exclusivity of Rights. The rights to indemnification and to the advancement of expenses conferred in this Article shall not be exclusive of any other right which any person may have or hereafter acquire under these Articles of Incorporation or any Bylaw, agreement, vote of stockholders or disinterested directors or otherwise.

D. Insurance. The Corporation may maintain insurance, at its expense, to protect itself and any indemnitee against any expense, liability or loss, whether or not the Corporation would have the power to indemnify such person against such expense, liability or loss under the Corporation Act.

E. Indemnity of Employees and Agents of the Corporation. The Corporation may, to the extent authorized from time to time by the Board of Directors, grant rights to indemnification and to the advancement of expenses to any employee or agent of the Corporation to the fullest extent of the provisions of this Article or as otherwise permitted under the Corporation Act with respect to the indemnification and advancement of expenses of directors and officers of the Corporation.

ARTICLE X

The Bylaws of the Corporation may be altered, amended or repealed or new Bylaws may be adopted by the Board of Directors of the Corporation.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand this 21st day of September, 1998.

Section 7.9 Amendment. The power to alter, amend, or repeal these bylaws or to adopt new bylaws is vested in the board of directors.

Section 7.10 Right to Indemnification.

(A) Each person (hereinafter an "indemnitee") who was or is made a party to or is threatened to be made a party to or is otherwise involved in any action, suit or proceeding, whether civil, criminal, administrative or investigative (hereinafter a "proceeding"), by reason of the fact that he or she was a director, officer or agent of the corporation or is or was serving at the request of the corporation as a director, officer, employee or agent of another corporation or of a partnership, joint venture, trust or other enterprise, including service with respect to an employee benefit plan, whether the basis of such proceeding is alleged action in an official capacity as a director, officer, employee or agent, shall be indemnified and held harmless by the corporation to the fullest extent authorized by the Utah Revised Business Corporation Act, as the same exists or may hereafter be amended (but, in the case of any such amendment, only to the extent that such amendment permits the corporation to provide broader indemnification rights than permitted prior thereto), against all expense, liability and loss (including attorney's fees, judgments, fines, ERISA excise taxes or penalties and amounts paid in settlement) reasonably incurred or suffered by such indemnitee in connection therewith, and such indemnification shall continue with respect to an indemnitee who has ceased to be a director, officer, employee or agent and shall inure to the benefit of the indemnitee's heirs, executors and administrators; provided, however, that, except as provided in paragraph (B) hereof with respect to proceedings to enforce rights to indemnification, the corporation shall indemnify any such indemnitee only if such proceeding (or part thereof) was authorized by the board of directors of the corporation. The right to indemnification conferred in this section shall be a contract right and shall include the right to be paid by the corporation the expenses incurred in defending any such proceeding in advance of its final disposition (hereinafter an “advancement of expenses”); provided, however, that, if the Utah Revised Business Corporation Act, requires, an advancement of expenses incurred by an indemnitee shall be made only upon delivery to the corporation of an undertaking (hereinafter an “undertaking”), by or on behalf of such indemnitee, to repay all amounts so advanced if it shall ultimately be determined by final judicial decision from which there is no further right to appeal (hereinafter a “final adjudication”) that such indemnitee is not entitled to be indemnified for such expenses under this section or otherwise.

(B) If a claim under paragraph (A) of this section is not paid in full by the corporation within 60 days after a written claim has been received by the corporation, except in the case of a claim for an advancement of expenses, in which case the applicable period shall be 20 days, the indemnitee may at any time thereafter bring suit against the corporation to recover the unpaid amount of such suit, or in a suit brought by the corporation to recover an advancement of expenses pursuant to the terms of an undertaking, the indemnitee shall be entitled to be paid also the expense of prosecuting or defending such suit. In (i) any suit brought by the indemnitee to enforce a right to indemnification hereunder (but not in a suit brought by the indemnitee to enforce a right to an advancement of expenses) it shall be a defense that, and (ii) any suit by the corporation to recover an advancement of expenses pursuant to the terms of an undertaking the corporation shall be entitled to recover such expenses upon a final adjudication that, the indemnitee has not met the applicable standard of conduct set forth in the Utah Revised Business Corporation Act. Neither the failure of the corporation (including its board of directors, independent legal counsel, or its shareholders) to have made a determination prior to the commencement of such suit that indemnification of the indemnitee is proper in the circumstances because the indemnitee has met the applicable standard of conduct set forth in the Utah Revised Business Corporation Act, nor an actual determination by the corporation (including its board of directors, independent legal counsel, or its shareholders) that the indemnitee has not met such applicable standard of conduct shall create a presumption that the indemnitee has not met the applicable standard of conduct or, in the case of such a suit brought by the indemnitee, be a defense of such suit. In any suit brought by the indemnitee to enforce a right of indemnification or to an advancement of expenses hereunder, or by the corporation to recover an advancement of expenses pursuant to the terms of an undertaking, the burden of proving that the indemnitee is not entitled to be indemnified, or to such advancement of expenses, under this section or otherwise shall be on the corporation.

(C) The rights to indemnification and to the advancement of expenses conferred in this section shall not be exclusive of any other right which any person may have or hereafter acquire under any statute, the corporation’s certificate of incorporation, by agreement, by vote of shareholders or by disinterested directors or otherwise.

(D) The corporation may maintain insurance, at its expense, to protect itself and any director, officer, employee or agent of the corporation or another corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust or other enterprise against any expense, liability or loss, whether or not the corporation would have the power to indemnify such person against such expense, liability or loss under the Utah Revised Business Corporation Act.

Section 7.11 Invalid Provisions. If any provision of these bylaws is held to be illegal, invalid, or unenforceable under present or future laws, such provision shall be fully severable; these bylaws shall be construed and enforced as if such illegal, invalid, or unenforceable provision had never comprised a part hereof; and the remaining provisions hereof shall remain in full force and effect and shall not be affected by the illegal, invalid, or unenforceable provision or by its severance herefrom. Furthermore, in lieu of such illegal, invalid, or unenforceable provision there shall be added automatically as a part of these bylaws a provision as similar in terms to such illegal, invalid, or unenforceable provision as may be possible and be legal, valid, and enforceable.

Section 7.12 Headings. The headings used in these bylaws are for reference purposes only and do not affect in any way the meaning or interpretation of these bylaws.

The above bylaws were duly adopted as the bylaws of the corporation effective as of the 21st day of September, 1998.

Section 7.9 Amendment. The power to alter, amend, or repeal these bylaws or to adopt new bylaws is vested in the board of directors.

Section 7.10 Right to Indemnification.

(A) Each person (hereinafter an “indemnitee”) who was or is made a party or is threatened to be made a party to or is otherwise involved in any action, suit or proceeding, whether civil, criminal, administrative or investigative (hereinafter a “proceeding”), by reason of the fact that he or she was a director, officer or agent of the corporation or is or was serving at the request of the corporation as a director, officer, employee or agent of another corporation or of a partnership, joint venture, trust or other enterprise, including service with respect to an employee benefit plan, whether the basis of such proceeding is alleged action in an official capacity as a director, officer, employee or agent, shall be indemnified and held harmless by the corporation to the fullest extent authorized by the Virginia Stock Corporation Act, as the same exists or may hereafter be amended (but, in the case of any such amendment, only to the extent that such amendment permits the corporation to provide broader indemnification rights than permitted prior thereto), against all expense, liability and loss (including attorney’s fees, judgments, fines, ERISA excise taxes or penalties and amounts paid in settlement) reasonably incurred or suffered by such indemnitee in connection therewith, and such indemnification shall continue with respect to an indemnitee who has ceased to be a director, officer, employee or agent and shall inure to the benefit of the indemnitee’s heirs, executors and administrators; provided, however, that, except as provided in paragraph (B) hereof with respect to proceedings to enforce rights to indemnification, the corporation shall indemnify any such indemnitee only if such proceeding (or part thereof) was authorized by the board of directors of the corporation. The right to indemnification conferred in this section shall be a contract right and shall include the right to be paid by the corporation the expenses incurred in defending any such proceeding in advance of its final disposition (hereinafter an “advancement of expenses”); provided, however, that, if the Virginia Stock Corporation Act requires, an advancement of expenses incurred by an indemnitee shall be made only upon delivery to the corporation of an undertaking (hereinafter an “undertaking”), by or on behalf of such indemnitee, to repay all amounts so advanced if it shall ultimately be determined by final judicial decision from which there is no further right to appeal (hereinafter a “final adjudication”) that such indemnitee is not entitled to be indemnified for such expenses under this section or otherwise.

(B) If a claim under paragraph (A) of this section is not paid in full by the corporation within 60 days after a written claim has been received by the corporation, except in the case of a claim for an advancement of expenses, in which case the applicable period shall be 20 days, the indemnitee may at any time thereafter bring suit against the corporation to recover the unpaid amount of such suit, or in a suit brought by the corporation to recover an advancement of expenses pursuant to the terms of an undertaking, the indemnitee shall be entitled to be paid also the expense of prosecuting or defending such suit. In (i) any suit brought by the indemnitee to enforce a right to indemnification hereunder (but not in a suit brought by the indemnitee to enforce a right to an advancement of expenses) it shall be a defense that, and (ii) any suit by the corporation to recover an advancement of expenses pursuant to the terms of an undertaking the corporation shall be entitled to recover such expenses upon a final adjudication that, the indemnitee has not met the applicable standard of conduct set forth in the Virginia Stock Corporation Act. Neither the failure of the corporation (including its board of directors, independent legal counsel, or its shareholders) to have made a determination prior to the commencement of such suit that indemnification of the indemnitee is proper in the circumstances because the indemnitee has met the applicable standard of conduct set forth in the Virginia Stock Corporation Act, nor an actual determination by the corporation (including its board of directors, independent legal counsel, or its shareholders) that the indemnitee has not met such applicable standard of conduct shall create a presumption that the indemnitee has not met the applicable standard of conduct or, in the case of such a suit brought by the indemnitee, be a defense of such suit. In any suit brought by the indemnitee to enforce a right of indemnification or to an advancement of expenses hereunder, or by the corporation to recover an advancement of expenses pursuant to the terms of an undertaking, the burden of proving that the indemnitee is not entitled to be indemnified, or to such advancement of expenses, under this section or otherwise shall be on the corporation.

(C) The rights to indemnification and to the advancement of expenses conferred in this section shall not be exclusive of any other right which any person may have or hereafter acquire under any statute, the corporation's certificate of incorporation, by agreement, by vote of shareholders or by disinterested directors or otherwise.

(D) The corporation may maintain insurance, at its expense, to protect itself and any director, officer, employee or agent of the corporation or another corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust or other enterprise against any expense, liability or loss, whether or not the corporation would have the power to indemnify such person against such expense, liability or loss under the Virginia Stock Corporation Act.

Section 7.11 Invalid Provisions. If any provision of these bylaws is held to be illegal, invalid, or unenforceable under present or future laws, such provision shall be fully severable; these bylaws shall be construed and enforced as if such illegal, invalid, or unenforceable provision had never comprised a part hereof; and the remaining provisions hereof shall remain in full force and effect and shall not be affected by the illegal, invalid, or unenforceable provision or by its severance herefrom. Furthermore, in lieu of such illegal, invalid, or unenforceable provision there shall be added automatically as a part of these bylaws a provision as similar in terms to such illegal, invalid, or unenforceable provision as may be possible and be legal, valid, and enforceable.

Section 7.12 Headings. The headings used in these bylaws are for reference purposes only and do not affect in any way the meaning or interpretation of these bylaws.

The above bylaws were duly adopted as the bylaws of the corporation effective as of the 11th day of January, 1999.

Section 7.9 Amendment. The power to alter, amend, or repeal these bylaws or to adopt new bylaws is vested in the board of directors.

Section 7.10 Right to Indemnification.

(A) Each person (hereinafter an "indemnitee") who was or is made a party to or is threatened to be made a party to or is otherwise involved in any action, suit or proceeding, whether civil, criminal, administrative or investigative (hereinafter a "proceeding"), by reason of the fact that he or she was a director, officer or agent of the corporation or is or was serving at the request of the corporation as a director, officer, employee or agent of another corporation or of a partnership, joint venture, trust or other enterprise, including service with respect to an employee benefit plan, whether the basis of such proceeding is alleged action in an official capacity as a director, officer, employee or agent, shall be indemnified and held harmless by the corporation to the fullest extent authorized by the Virginia Stock Corporation Act, as the same exists or may hereafter be amended (but, in the case of any such amendment, only to the extent that such amendment permits the corporation to provide broader indemnification rights than permitted prior thereto), against all expense, liability and loss (including attorney's fees, judgments, fines, ERISA excise taxes or penalties and amounts paid in settlement) reasonably incurred or suffered by such indemnitee in connection therewith, and such indemnification shall continue with respect to an indemnitee who has ceased to be a director, officer, employee or agent and shall inure to the benefit of the indemnitee's heirs, executors and administrators; provided, however, that, except as provided in paragraph (B) hereof with respect to proceedings to enforce rights to indemnification, the corporation shall indemnify any such indemnitee only if such proceeding (or part thereof) was authorized by the board of directors of the corporation. The right to indemnification conferred in this section shall be a contract right and shall include the right to be paid by the corporation the expenses incurred in defending any such proceeding in advance of its final disposition (hereinafter an “advancement of expenses”); provided, however, that, if the Virginia Stock Corporation Act requires, an advancement of expenses incurred by an indemnitee shall be made only upon delivery to the corporation of an undertaking (hereinafter an “undertaking”), by or on behalf of such indemnitee, to repay all amounts so advanced if it shall ultimately be determined by final judicial decision from which there is no further right to appeal (hereinafter a “final adjudication”) that such indemnitee is not entitled to be indemnified for such expenses under this section or otherwise.

(B) If a claim under paragraph (A) of this section is not paid in full by the corporation within 60 days after a written claim has been received by the corporation, except in the case of a claim for an advancement of expenses, in which case the applicable period shall be 20 days, the indemnitee may at any time thereafter bring suit against the corporation to recover the unpaid amount of such suit, or in a suit brought by the corporation to recover an advancement of expenses pursuant to the terms of an undertaking, the indemnitee shall be entitled to be paid also the expense of prosecuting or defending such suit. In (i) any suit brought by the indemnitee to enforce a right to indemnification hereunder (but not in a suit brought by the indemnitee to enforce a right to an advancement of expenses) it shall be a defense that, and (ii) any suit by the corporation to recover an advancement of expenses pursuant to the terms of an undertaking the corporation shall be entitled to recover such expenses upon a final adjudication that, the indemnitee has not met the applicable standard of conduct set forth in the Virginia Stock Corporation Act. Neither the failure of the corporation (including its board of directors, independent legal counsel, or its shareholders) to have made a determination prior to the commencement of such suit that indemnification of the indemnitee is proper in the circumstances because the indemnitee has met the applicable standard of conduct set forth in the Virginia Stock Corporation Act, nor an actual determination by the corporation (including its board of directors, independent legal counsel, or its shareholders) that the indemnitee has not met such applicable standard of conduct shall create a presumption that the indemnitee has not met the applicable standard of conduct or, in the case of such a suit brought by the indemnitee, be a defense of such suit. In any suit brought by the indemnitee to enforce a right of indemnification or to an advancement of expenses hereunder, or by the corporation to recover an advancement of expenses pursuant to the terms of an undertaking, the burden of proving that the indemnitee is not entitled to be indemnified, or to such advancement of expenses, under this section or otherwise shall be on the corporation.

(C) The rights to indemnification and to the advancement of expenses conferred in this section shall not be exclusive of any other right which any person may have or hereafter acquire under any statute, the corporation’s certificate of incorporation, by agreement, by vote of shareholders or by disinterested directors or otherwise.

(D) The corporation may maintain insurance, at its expense, to protect itself and any director, officer, employee or agent of the corporation or another corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust or other enterprise against any expense, liability or loss, whether or not the corporation would have the power to indemnify such person against such expense, liability or loss under the Virginia Stock Corporation Act.

Section 7.11 Invalid Provisions. If any provision of these bylaws is held to be illegal, invalid, or unenforceable under present or future laws, such provision shall be fully severable; these bylaws shall be construed and enforced as if such illegal, invalid, or unenforceable provision had never comprised a part hereof; and the remaining provisions hereof shall remain in full force and effect and shall not be affected by the illegal, invalid, or unenforceable provision or by its severance herefrom. Furthermore, in lieu of such illegal, invalid, or unenforceable provision there shall be added automatically as a part of these bylaws a provision as similar in terms to such illegal, invalid, or unenforceable provision as may be possible and be legal, valid, and enforceable.

Section 7.12 Headings. The headings used in these bylaws are for reference purposes only and do not affect in any way the meaning or interpretation of these bylaws.

The above bylaws were duly adopted as the bylaws of the corporation effective as of the 25th day of October 1999.

For purposes of this Agreement, the term “Percentage Interest” shall mean the percentage that the number of Units owned by an Interest Holder bears to the aggregate number of Units owned by all of the Interest Holders.

(b) Notwithstanding anything herein to the contrary, if an Interest Holder has a deficit balance in such Interest Holder’s Capital Account (excluding from such Interest Holder’s deficit Capital Account any amount which such Interest Holder is obligated to restore in accordance with Treas. Reg. § 1.704-1 (b)(2)(ii)(c), as well as any amount such Interest Holder is treated as obligated to restore under Treas. Reg. §§ 1.704-2(g)(1) and 1.704-2(i)(5)) and unexpectedly receives an adjustment, allocation or distribution described in Treas. Reg. § 1.704- 1(b)(2)(ii)(d)(4), (5) or (6), then such Interest Holder will be allocated items of income and gain in an amount and manner sufficient to eliminate the deficit balance in such Interest Holder’s Capital Account as quickly as possible. If there is an allocation to an Interest Holder pursuant to this Section 7.1(b), then future allocations of net income pursuant to Section 7.1 shall be adjusted so that those Interest Holders who were allocated less income, or a greater amount of loss, by reason of the allocation made pursuant to this Section 7.1(b), shall be allocated additional net income in an equal amount. It is the intention of the parties that the provisions of this Section 7.1(b) constitute a “qualified income offset” within the meaning of Treas. Reg. § 1.704- 1(b)(2)(ii)(d), and such provisions shall be so construed.

(c) If there is a net decrease in the Company’s Minimum Gain (within the meaning of Treas. Reg. § 1.704-2(b)(2)) or Partner Nonrecourse Debt Minimum Gain (within the meaning of Treas. Reg. § 1.704-2(i)(3)) during any Fiscal Year, each Interest Holder shall be allocated, before any other allocations hereunder, items of income and gain for such Fiscal Year (and subsequent Fiscal Years, if necessary), in an amount equal to such Interest Holder’s share (determined in accordance with Treas. Reg. §§ 1.704-2(g) and 1.704-2(i)(5), as applicable) of the net decrease in the Company’s Minimum Gain or Partner Nonrecourse Debt Minimum Gain, as applicable, for such Fiscal Year; provided, however, that no such allocation shall be required if any of the exceptions set forth in Treas. Reg. §§ 1.704-2(f) or 1.704-2(i)(4) apply. It is the intention of the parties that this provision constitute a “minimum gain chargeback” within the meaning of Treas. Reg. §§ 1.704-2(f) and 1.704-2(i)(4), and this provision shall be so construed.

(d) Notwithstanding anything herein to the contrary, the Company’s partner nonrecourse deductions (within the meaning of Treas. Reg. § 1.704-2(i)(2)) shall be allocated solely to the Interest Holder who has the economic risk of loss with respect to the partner nonrecourse liability related thereto in accordance with the provisions of Treas. Reg. § 1.704-2(i)(1).

(e) Notwithstanding the provisions of Section 7.1(a), no net losses shall be allocated to an Interest Holder if such allocation would result in such Interest Holder having a deficit balance in such Interest Holder’s Capital Account (excluding from such Interest Holder’s deficit Capital Account any amount such Interest Holder is obligated to restore in accordance with Treas. Reg. § 1.704-1 (b)(2)(ii)(c), as well as any amount such Interest Holder is treated as obligated to restore under Treas. Reg. §§ 1.704-2(g)(1) and 1.704-2(i)(5)). In such case, the net loss that would have been allocated to such Interest Holder shall be allocated to the other Interest Holders to whom such loss can be allocated without violation of the provisions of this Section 7.1(e) in proportion to their respective Percentage Interests among themselves.

(f) Notwithstanding the provisions of Section 7.1(a), to the extent losses are allocated to the Interest Holders by virtue of Section 7.1(e), the net income of the Company thereafter recognized shall be allocated to such Interest Holders (in proportion to the losses previously allocated to them pursuant to Section 7.1(e)) until such time as the net income of the Company allocated to them pursuant to this Section 7.1(f) equals the net losses allocated to them pursuant to Section 7.1(e).

(g) For Federal, state and local income tax purposes only, with respect to any assets contributed by an Interest Holder to the Company ("Contributed Assets") which have an agreed fair market value on the date of their contribution which differs from the Interest Holder's adjusted basis as of the date of contribution, the allocation of depreciation and gain or loss with respect to such Contributed Assets shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of section 704(c) of the Code and the regulations promulgated thereunder using the method selected by the Board. For purposes of this Agreement, an asset shall be deemed a Contributed Asset if it has a basis determined, in whole or in part, by reference to the basis of a Contributed Asset (including an asset previously deemed to be a Contributed Asset pursuant to this sentence). Notwithstanding the foregoing, if the gain from the sale of any Contributed Asset is being reported on the installment method for income tax purposes, then the total amount of gain which is to be recognized by each of the Interest Holders in accordance with the above provision in all taxable years shall be computed and the amount of gain to be recognized by each of the Interest Holders in each taxable year shall be in proportion to the total gain to be recognized by each of the Interest Holders in all taxable years.

7.2 Allocation of Excess Non recourse Liabilities. For purposes of section 752 of the Code and the regulations thereunder, the excess nonrecourse liabilities of the Company (within the meaning of Treas. Reg. § 1.752-3(a)(3)), if any, shall be allocated to the Interest Holders as follows:

(a) First, such excess nonrecourse liabilities shall be allocated to the Interest Holders up to the amount of built-in gain allocable to such Interest Holders on section 704(c) property (as defined in Treas. Reg. § 1.704-3(a)(3)(ii)) or property for which reverse section 704(c) allocations are applicable (as described in Treas. Reg. § 1.704-3(a)(6)(i)) where such property is subject to the nonrecourse liability, to the extent such gain exceeds the gain described in Treas. Reg. § 1.752-3(a)(2).

(b) Second, the balance of such excess nonrecourse liabilities, if any, shall be allocated to the Interest Holders in accordance with their respective Percentage Interests.

7.3 Allocations in Event of Transfer, Admission of New Member, Etc. In the event of (i) the transfer of all or any part of an Interest Holder's Units (in accordance with the provisions of this Agreement), (ii) the admission of a new Member or (iii) disproportionate capital contributions, at any time other than at the end of a Fiscal Year, the transferring Interest Holder's, new Member's or Interest Holders' shares of the Company's income, gain, loss, deductions and credits allocable to such Units, as computed both for accounting purposes and for Federal income tax purposes, shall be allocated between the transferor Interest Holder and the transferee Interest Holder (or Interest Holders), the new Member and the other Interest Holders, or among the Interest Holders, as the case may be, in the same ratio as the number of days in such Fiscal Year before and after the date of such transfer, admission or disproportionate capital contributions; provided, however, that the Board shall have the option to treat the periods before and after the date of such transfer, admission or disproportionate capital contributions as separate Fiscal Years and allocate the Company's net income, gain, net loss, deductions and credits for each of such deemed separate Fiscal Years in accordance with the Interest Holders' respective interests in the Company for such deemed separate Fiscal Years. Notwithstanding the foregoing, if the Company uses the cash receipts and disbursements method of accounting, the Company's "allocable cash basis items," as that term is used in section 706(d)(2)(B) of the Code, shall be allocated as required by section 706(d)(2) of the Code and the regulations promulgated thereunder.

8. DISTRIBUTIVE SHARES AND FEDERAL INCOME TAX ELECTIONS.

8.1 Distributive Shares. For purposes of Subchapter K of the Code, the distributive shares of the Interest Holders of each item of Company taxable income, gains, losses, deductions or credits for any Fiscal Year shall be in the same proportions as their respective shares of the net income or net loss of the Company allocated to them pursuant to Section 7.1. Notwithstanding the foregoing, to the extent not inconsistent with the allocation of gain provided for in Section 7.1, gain recognized by the Company which represents recapture of depreciation or cost recovery deductions for Federal income tax purposes shall be allocated in the manner provided in Treas. Reg. § 1.1245-1(e) (regardless of whether real property or personal property is involved).

8.2 Elections. The election permitted to be made by section 754 of the Code, and any other elections required or permitted to be made by the Company under the Code, shall be made in such a manner as shall be determined by the Board.

8.3 Partnership Tax Treatment. It is the intention of the Members that the Company be treated as a partnership for Federal, state and local income tax purposes, and the Interest Holders shall not take any position or make any election, in a tax return or otherwise, inconsistent with such treatment.

8.4 Tax Matters Partner.

(a) The tax matters partner ("TMP") for the Company shall be Virginia Hospital Company, LLC so long as it is a Member. The TMP shall have such authority as is granted a TMP under the Code.

(b) The TMP shall employ experienced tax counsel to represent the Company in connection with any audit or investigation of the Company by the Internal Revenue Service and in connection with all subsequent administrative and judicial proceedings arising out of such audit. The fees and expenses of such counsel, as well as all other expenses incurred by the TMP in serving as the TMP, shall be a Company expense and shall be paid by the Company.

(c) The Company shall indemnify and hold harmless the TMP against judgments, fines, amounts paid in settlement and expenses (including attorneys' fees) reasonably incurred by the TMP in any civil, criminal or investigative proceeding in which the TMP is involved or threatened to be involved by reason of it being the TMP, provided that the TMP acted in good faith, within what the TMP reasonably believed to be the scope of the TMP's authority and for a purpose which the TM') reasonably believed to be in the best interests of the Company or the Interest Holders. The TMP shall not be indemnified under this provision against any liability to the Company or its Interest Holders to which the TMP would otherwise be subject by reason of willful misconduct or gross negligence in its duties involved in acting as TMP.

9. DISTRIBUTIONS. The Board shall determine whether distributions shall be made to the Members or whether the cash of the Company shall be reinvested for Company purposes.

10. BOARD OF DIRECTORS.

10.1 General Powers. All powers of the Company shall be exercised by or under the authority of, and the business and affairs of the Company managed under the direction of, its Board of Directors ("Board").

10.2 Number, Election and Term. The Board shall consist of not less than one, nor more than seven individuals, the exact number of which shall be determined by the Board from time to time. Initially, there shall be three directors, David L. Miller, W. Larry Cash and Rachel A. Seifert. Directors shall be elected at the first annual members' meeting and at each annual meeting thereafter. A decrease in the number of directors shall not shorten an incumbent director's term. Each director shall hold office until the director resigns or is removed. Despite the expiration of a director's term, such director shall continue to serve until the director's successor is elected and qualifies, until there is a decrease in the number of directors or the director is removed.

10.3 Resignation of Directors. A director may resign at any time by delivering written notice to the Board, its Chairman (as hereinafter defined), if any, or the Company. A resignation shall be effective when the notice is delivered unless the notice specifies a later effective date.

10.4 Removal of Directors by Members. A director shall be removed by the Members only at a meeting called for the purpose of removing such director and the meeting notice shall state that the purpose, or one of the purposes, of the meeting is removal of the director. The Members may remove one or more directors with or without cause.

10.5 Vacancy on Board. If a vacancy occurs on the Board, including a vacancy resulting from an increase in the number of directors, the Board shall fill the vacancy, and if the directors remaining in office constitute fewer than a quorum of the Board, they may fill the vacancy by the affirmative vote of a majority of all the directors remaining in office. A vacancy that will occur at a specific later date may be filled before the vacancy occurs, but the new director may not take office until the vacancy occurs.

10.6 Compensation of Directors. Directors on the Board shall not be entitled to receive a fee for the director's services as a director on the Board.

10.7 Meetings. The Board may hold regular or special meetings in or out of the State of Virginia. The Board may permit any or all directors to participate in a regular or special meeting by, or conduct the meeting through the use of, any means of communication by which all directors participating may simultaneously hear each other during the meeting. A director participating in a meeting by this means shall be deemed to be present in person at the meeting.

10.8 Special Meetings. Special meetings of the Board may be called by, or at the request of, the Chairman, if any, or the chief executive officer of the Company. All special meetings of the Board shall be held at the principal office or such other place as may be specified in the notice of the meeting.

10.9 Action Without Meeting. Any action required or permitted to be taken at a Board meeting may be taken without a meeting, without prior notice and without a vote if a consent or consents in writing, setting forth the action so taken, shall be signed by the directors having not less than the minimum number of votes that would be necessary to authorize or take such action at a meeting at which all directors entitled to vote thereon were present and voted.

10.10 Notice of Meetings. Meetings of the Board may be held without notice of the date, time, place or purpose of the meeting.

10.11 Quorum and Voting. A majority of the number of directors fixed by, or determined in accordance with, this Agreement shall constitute a quorum of the Board. If a quorum is present, an affirmative vote by a majority of the number of directors present shall constitute an act of the Board. A director who is present at a meeting of the Board or a committee of the Board when action is taken shall be deemed to have assented to the action taken unless (i) the director objects at the beginning of the meeting, or promptly upon the director's arrival, to holding it or transacting business at the meeting or (ii) the director's dissent or abstention from the action taken is entered in the minutes of the meeting or the director delivers written notice of the director's dissent or abstention to the presiding officer of the meeting before its adjournment or to the Company immediately after adjournment of the meeting. The right of dissent or abstention shall not be available to a director who votes in favor of the action taken.

10.12 Chairman and Vice-Chairman of the Board. The Board may appoint one of its members Chairman of the Board ("Chairman"). The Board may also appoint one of its members as Vice-Chairman of the Board, and such individual shall serve in the absence of the Chairman and perform such additional duties as may be assigned to such person by the Board.

11. OFFICERS.

11.1 Officers Generally. The Company shall have the officers appointed by the Board in accordance with this Agreement. A duly appointed officer may appoint one or more officers or assistant officers as provided in Section 11.11. The same individual may simultaneously hold more than one office in the Company. Section 11.10 delegates to the Secretary, if such office be created and filled, the required responsibility of preparing minutes of the Board's and Members' meetings and for authenticating records of the Company. If such office shall not be created and filled, then the Board shall delegate to one of the officers of the Company such responsibility.

11.2 Duties of Officers. Each officer of the Company shall have the authority and shall perform the duties set forth in this Agreement for such office or, to the extent consistent with this Agreement, the duties prescribed by the Board or by direction of an officer authorized by the Board to prescribe the duties of other officers.

11.3 Appointment and Term of Office. The officers of the Company shall be appointed by the Board. Vacancies may be filled or new offices created and filled at any meeting of the Board. Each officer shall hold office until such officer's successor shall be duly appointed or until the officer's death or until the officer shall resign or shall have been removed in the manner hereinafter provided.

11.4 Resignation and Removal of Officers. An officer may resign at any time by delivering notice to the Company. A resignation shall be effective when the notice is delivered unless the notice specifies a later effective date. If a resignation is made effective at a later date and the Company accepts the future effective date, the Board may fill the pending vacancy before the effective date if the Board provides that the successor shall not take office until the effective date. The Board may remove any officer at any time with or without cause.

11.5 Contract Rights of Officers. Appointment of an officer or agent shall not of itself create contract rights. An officer's removal shall not affect the officer's contract rights, if any, with the Company. An officer's resignation shall not affect the Company's contract rights, if any, with the officer.

11.6 Chairman of the Board. The Chairman, if that office be created and filled, may, at the discretion of the Board, be the chief executive officer of the Company and, if such, shall, in general, supervise and control the affairs and business of the Company, subject to control by the Board. The Chairman shall preside at all meetings of the Members and the Board.

11.7 President. The President, if that office be created and filled, shall be the chief executive officer of the Company, unless a Chairman is appointed and designated chief executive officer pursuant to Section 11.6. If no Chairman has been appointed or, in the absence of the Chairman, the President shall preside at all meetings of the Members. The President may sign certificates for Units, any deeds, mortgages, bonds, contracts or other instruments which the Board has authorized to be executed, except in cases where the signing and execution thereof shall be expressly delegated by the Board or by this Agreement to some other officer or agent of the Company, or shall be required by law to be otherwise signed or executed. The President shall, in general, perform all duties incident to the office of President of a Virginia corporation and such other duties as may be prescribed by the Board or the Chairman from time to time. Unless otherwise ordered by the Board, the President shall have full power and authority on behalf of the Company to attend, act and vote in person or by proxy at any meetings of shareholders of any corporation in which the Company may hold stock, and at any such meeting shall hold and may exercise all rights incident to the ownership of such stock which the Company, as owner, would have had and could have exercised if present. The Board may confer like powers on any other person or persons.

11.8 Vice-President. In the absence of the President, or in the event of the President's death, inability or refusal to act, the Vice-President (or, in the event there be more than one Vice-President, the Vice-Presidents in order designated at the time of their appointment, or in the absence of any designation, then in the order of their appointment), if that office be created and filled, shall perform the duties of the President and when so acting shall have all the powers of, and be subject to all the restrictions upon, the President. Any Vice-President may sign, with the Secretary or an assistant secretary, certificates for Units and shall perform such other duties as from time to time may be assigned to such person by the Chairman, the President or by the Board.

11.9 Treasurer. The Treasurer, if that office be created and filled, shall have charge and custody of, and be responsible for, all funds and securities of the Company, receive and give receipts for monies due and payable to the Company from any source whatsoever, and deposit all such monies in the name of the Company in such banks, trust companies and other depositories as shall be selected in accordance with the provisions of Section 6.1, and in general, perform all the duties incident to the office of Treasurer of a Virginia corporation and such other duties as from time to time may be assigned to such person by the Chairman, the President or the Board. If required by the Board, the Treasurer shall give a bond for the faithful discharge of such officer's duties in such sum and with such surety or sureties as the Board shall determine.

11.10 Secretary. The Secretary, if that office be created and filled, shall keep the minutes of the Members' meetings and of the Board's meetings in one or more books provided for that purpose, see that all notices are duly given in accordance with the provisions of this Agreement or as required by law, be custodian of the Company records and of the seal, if any, of the Company, be responsible for authenticating records of the Company, keep a register of the mailing address of the Members, which shall be furnished to the Secretary by the Members, sign with the President or a Vice-President certificates for Units, have general charge of the transfer books of the Company, and, in general, perform all duties incident to the office of Secretary of a Virginia corporation and such other duties as from time to time may be assigned to such person by the Chairman, the President or the Board.

11.11 Assistant Treasurers and Assistant Secretaries.

(a) Assistant Treasurer. The Assistant Treasurer, if that office be created and filled, shall, if required by the Board, give bond for the faithful discharge of such officer's duty in such sum and with such surety as the Board shall determine.

(b) Assistant Secretary. The Assistant Secretary, if that office be created and filled, and if authorized by the Board, may sign, with the President or Vice-President, certificates for Units.

(c) Additional Duties. The Assistant Treasurers and Assistant Secretaries, in general, shall perform such additional duties as shall be assigned to them by the Treasurer or the Secretary, respectively, or by the Chairman, the President or the Board.

12. STANDARD OF CARE OF DIRECTORS AND OFFICERS; INDEMNIFICATION.

12.1 Standard of Care. The directors and officers of the Company shall not be liable, responsible or accountable in damages to the Members or the Company for any act or omission on behalf of the Company performed or omitted by them in good faith with the care a corporate officer of like position would exercise under similar circumstances and in a manner reasonably believed by them to be in the best interests of the Company unless they have engaged in willful misconduct or a knowing violation of the criminal law.

12.2 Indemnification.

(a) To the fullest extent permitted by the Act, the Company shall indemnify each director or officer of the Company against reasonable expenses (including reasonable attorneys' fees), judgments, taxes, penalties, fines (including any excise tax assessed with respect to an employee benefit plan) and amounts paid in settlement (collectively "Liability"), incurred by such person in connection with defending any threatened, pending or completed action, suit or proceeding (whether civil, criminal, administrative or investigative, and whether formal or informal) to which such person is, or is threatened to be made, a party because such person is or was a director or officer of the Company, or is or was serving at the request of the Company as a director, officer, partner, member, employee or agent of another domestic or foreign corporation, partnership, limited liability company, joint venture, trust or other enterprise, including service with respect to employee benefit plans, provided that the director or officer has met the standard of conduct described in Section 12.1. A director or officer shall be considered to be serving an employee benefit plan at the Company's request if such person's duties to the Company also impose duties on or otherwise involve services by such person to the plan or to participants in or beneficiaries of the plan.

(b) To the fullest extent authorized or permitted by the Act, the Company shall pay or reimburse reasonable expenses (including reasonable attorneys' fees) incurred by a director or officer who is a party to a proceeding in advance of final disposition of such proceeding if:

(1) The director or officer furnishes the Company a written affirmation of his good faith belief that he has met the standard of conduct described in Section 12.1;

(2) The director or officer furnishes the Company a written undertaking, executed personally or on the director's or officer's behalf, to repay the advance if it is ultimately determined that the director or officer did not meet the standard of conduct. Such undertaking shall be an unlimited general obligation of the director or officer, but shall not be required to be secured and may be accepted without reference to financial ability to make repayment; and

(3) A determination is made that the facts then known to those making the determination would not preclude indemnification under the provisions of this Section 12.2.

(c) The indemnification against Liability and advancement of expenses provided by, or granted pursuant to, this Section 12.2 shall not be deemed exclusive of any other rights to which those seeking indemnification or advancement may be entitled under any agreement, action of the Members or disinterested directors or otherwise, both as to action in their official capacity and as to action in another capacity while holding such office of the Company, shall continue as to a person who has ceased to be a director or officer of the Company, and shall inure to the benefit of the heirs, executors and administrators of such a person.

(d) Any repeal or modification of this Section 12.2 by the Members shall not adversely affect any right or protection of a director or officer of the Company under this Section 12.2 with respect to any act or omission occurring prior to the time of such repeal or modification.

13. OTHER ACTIVITIES; RELATED PARTY TRANSACTIONS.

13.1 Other Activities. The directors and officers shall devote such of their time to the affairs of the Company's business as they shall deem necessary. The Interest Holders, directors, officers and their Affiliates (as hereinafter defined) may engage in, or possess an interest in, other business ventures of any nature and description, independently or with others, whether or not such activities are competitive with those of the Company. Neither the Company nor any Interest Holder shall have any rights by virtue of this Agreement in and to such independent ventures, or to the income or profits derived therefrom. The Interest Holders shall not be obligated to present any particular noncompeting business opportunity of a character which, if presented to the Company, could be taken by the Company and each Interest Holder and their Affiliates shall not have the right to take for their own account, or to recommend to others, any such particular business opportunity to the exclusion of the Company and the Interest Holders. For purposes of this Agreement, the term "Affiliate" shall mean any person, corporation, partnership, limited liability company, trust or other entity (directly or indirectly) controlling, controlled by, or under common control with, another person.

13.2 Related Party Transactions. The fact that a director, officer or their Affiliates are directly or indirectly interested in or connected with any person, firm or corporation employed by the Company to render or perform a service, or to or from whom the Company may purchase, sell or lease property, shall not prohibit the Company from employing such person, firm or corporation or from otherwise dealing with him or it, and neither the Company, nor any of the Interest Holders, shall have any rights in or to any income or profits derived there from. All such dealings with a director or such director's Affiliates will be on terms which are competitive and comparable with amounts charged by independent third parties.

14. MEMBERS.

14.1 Limitation on Participation in Management. Except as expressly authorized by this Agreement or as expressly required by the Act, no Member, solely by virtue of his or her status as a Member, shall participate in the management or control of the Company's business, transact any business for the Company or have the power to act for or bind the Company, said powers being vested solely and exclusively in the Board and the officers. No Interest Holder shall have any right to participate in the management or control of the Company's business.

14.2 Meetings. Meetings of the Members may be called by the Chairman, the chief executive officer or the Board, and shall be called by the chief executive officer at the demand of the holders of at least 20% of all votes entitled to be cast on any issue proposed to be considered at the proposed meeting, provided that such requisite number of Members sign, date and deliver to the Secretary of the Company one or more written demands for the meeting describing the purpose or purposes for which it is to be held. Unless otherwise fixed in this Agreement, the record date for determining Members entitled to demand a meeting shall be the date the first Member signs the demand.

14.3 Place of Members' Meeting. The Board may designate any place within or without the State of Virginia as the place for any meeting of the Members called by the Board. If no designation of place is properly made, the place of the meeting shall be at the principal office. If a meeting is called at the demand of the Members and the Members designate any place, either within or without the State of Virginia, as the place for the holding of such meeting, the meeting shall take place at the place designated. If no designation is properly made, the place of meeting shall be at the principal office.

14.4 Action Without Meeting. Any action required or permitted by the Act or this Agreement to be taken at a Members' meeting may be taken without a meeting, without prior notice and without a vote if a consent or consents in writing, setting forth the action so taken, shall be signed by the Members having not less than the minimum number of votes that would be necessary to authorize or take such action at a meeting at which all Members entitled to vote thereon were present and voted.

14.5 Notice of Meetings. Meetings of the Members may be held without notice of the date, time, place or purpose of the meeting.

14.6 Quorum and Voting. Members shall be entitled to take action on a matter at a meeting only if a quorum exists. Unless this Agreement provides otherwise, a majority of those votes entitled to be cast on the matter shall constitute a quorum for action on that matter. Members shall be entitled to one vote for each Unit owned. Unless this Agreement provides otherwise, if a quorum exists, action on any matter shall be approved if the votes cast favoring the action exceed the votes cast opposing the action.

14.7 Record Date. The Board may fix a record date of the Members of not more than 70 days before the meeting or action requiring a determination of the Members in order to determine the Members entitled to notice of a Members' meeting, to demand a special meeting, to vote or to take any other action. A determination of Members entitled to notice of, or to vote at, a Members' meeting shall be effective for any adjournment of the meeting unless the Board fixes a new record date, which it shall do if the meeting is adjourned to a date more than 120 days after the date fixed for the original meeting. If not otherwise fixed by the Board in accordance with this Agreement, the record date for determining the Members entitled to notice of and to vote at an annual or special Members' meeting shall be the day before the first notice is delivered to the Members, and the record date for any consent action taken by the Members without a meeting and evidenced by one or more written consents shall be the first date upon which a signed written consent setting forth such action is delivered to the Company at its principal office.

14.8 Proxies. At all meetings of the Members, the Members may vote their Units in person or by proxy. A Member may appoint a proxy to vote or otherwise act for the Member by signing an appointment form, either personally or by the Member's duly authorized attorney-in-fact. An appointment of a proxy shall be effective when the appointment form is received by the Secretary, or other officer or agent authorized to tabulate votes. An appointment shall be valid for 11 months unless a longer, or shorter, period is expressly provided in the appointment form. An appointment of proxy shall be revocable by the Member unless the appointment form conspicuously states that it is irrevocable and the appointment is coupled with an interest. The revocation of an appointment of proxy shall not be effective until the Secretary or such other officer or agent authorized to tabulate votes has received written notice thereof. All proxies shall be filed with the Secretary or the person authorized to tabulate votes before or at the time of the meeting.

15. DISSOLUTION.

15.1 Dissolution. Except as otherwise provided in the Act, the Company shall dissolve upon the decision of the Members to dissolve the Company or the sale or other disposition of all, or substantially all, of the assets of the Company and the sale and/or collection of any evidence of indebtedness received in connection therewith. Dissolution of the Company shall be effective upon the date specified in the Members' resolution, but the Company shall not terminate until the assets of the Company shall have been distributed as provided in Section 15.3. Notwithstanding dissolution of the Company, prior to the liquidation and termination of the Company, the Company shall continue to be governed by this Agreement.

15.2 Sale of Assets Upon Dissolution. Following the dissolution of the Company, the Company shall be wound up and the Board shall determine whether the assets of the Company are to be sold or whether some or all of such assets are to be distributed to the Interest Holders in kind in liquidation of the Company.

15.3 Distributions Upon Dissolution. Upon the dissolution of the Company, the properties of the Company to be sold shall be liquidated in orderly fashion and the proceeds thereof, and the property to be distributed in kind, shall be distributed as follows:

(a) First, to the payment and discharge of all of the Company's debts and liabilities, to the necessary expenses of liquidation and to the establishment of any cash reserves which the Board determines to create for unmatured and/or contingent liabilities or obligations of the Company.

(b) Second, to the Interest Holders, in accordance with their respective Capital Accounts; provided, however, that if the Board has established any reserves in accordance with the provisions of Section 15.3(a), then the distributions pursuant to this Section 15.3(b) (including distributions of such reserve) shall be pro rata in accordance with the balances of the Interest Holders' Capital Accounts.

16. WITHDRAWAL, ASSIGNMENT AND ADDITION OF MEMBERS.

16.1 Assignment of an Interest Holder's Units. An Interest Holder may freely sell, assign, transfer, pledge, hypothecate, encumber or otherwise dispose of the Interest Holder's Units. If the Interest Holder was a Member, the transferee of the Units shall automatically become a substitute Member in the place of the Member.

16.2 Bankruptcy, Dissolution, Etc. of Interest Holders. Upon the occurrence of any of the events set forth in Section 13.1-1040 subsection 6 through 12 of the Act with respect to a Member, the successor-in-interest of such Member shall have all of the rights of a Member for the purposes of managing such Member's affairs and, if the Interest Holder was a Member, automatically become a substitute Member in place of the Member.

16.3 Certificates for Units. Certificates representing Units shall be in such form as may be determined by the Board. Such certificates shall be signed by the President or a Vice-President and by the Secretary or an Assistant Secretary, if such offices be created and filled, or signed by two officers designated by the Board to sign such certificates. The signature of such officers upon such certificates may be signed manually or by facsimile. All certificates for Units shall be consecutively numbered. The name of the person owning the Units represented thereby, with the number of Units and date of issue, shall be entered on the books of the Company. (1) If given to the Company, to the Company at its principal office; and

(2) If given to an Interest Holder, to the Interest Holder at the address set forth in the records of the Company.

(b) All notices, demands and requests shall be effective upon being properly personally delivered, upon being delivered to a reputable messenger service, upon transmission of a confirmed fax, or upon being deposited in the United States mail in the manner provided in Section 17.1. However, the time period in which a response to any such notice, demand or request must be given shall commence to run from the date of personal delivery, the date of delivery by a reputable messenger service, the date on the confirmation of a fax, or the date on the return receipt, as applicable; provided, however, that if any party rejects delivery, then the time for a response shall commence to run two days following the mailing of the notice.

17.2 Amendment.

(a) Except as provided in Section 17.2(b), this Agreement may be modified or amended from time to time only upon the consent of the holders of a majority of the Units.

(b) In addition to any amendments authorized by Section 17.1(a), this Agreement may be amended from time to time by the Board without the consent of the Members to cure any ambiguity, to correct or supplement any provision hereof which may be inconsistent with any other provision hereof, or to make any other provisions with respect to matters or questions arising under this Agreement which will not be inconsistent with the provisions of this Agreement.

Each Interest Holder acknowledges and agrees that any information or data such Interest Holder has acquired on any of these matters or items were received in confidence and as a fiduciary of the Company.

(b) Each Interest Holder agrees that the Company would be irreparably damaged by reason of any violation of the provisions of Section 17.4(a), and that any remedy at law for a breach of such provisions would be inadequate. Therefore, the Company shall be entitled to seek and obtain injunctive or other equitable relief (including, but not limited to, a temporary restraining order, a temporary injunction or a permanent injunction) against any Interest Holder, for a breach or threatened breach of such provisions and without the necessity of proving actual monetary loss. It is expressly understood among the parties that this injunctive or other equitable relief shall not be the Company's exclusive remedy for any breach of this Section 17.4 and the Company shall be entitled to seek any other relief or remedy that the Company may have by contract, statute, law or otherwise for any breach hereof, and it is agreed that the Company shall also be entitled to recover its attorneys' fees and expenses in any successful action or suit against any Interest Holder relating to any such breach.

9. Indemnification:

A. Rights to Indemnification. Each person who was or is made a party or is threatened to be made a party to or is otherwise involved in any action, suit or proceeding, whether civil, criminal, administrative or investigative (hereinafter a "proceeding"), by reason of the fact that he or she, or a person of whom he or she is the legal representative, or is or was a director or officer of the Corporation or is or was serving at the request of the Corporation as a director or officer of another corporation or of a partnership, joint venture, trust or other enterprise, including service with respect to an employee benefit plan (hereinafter an "indemnitee"), whether the basis of such proceeding is alleged action in an official capacity as a director or officer or in any other capacity while serving as a director or officer, shall be indemnified and held harmless by the Corporation to the fullest extent authorized by the Virginia Code as the same exists or may hereafter be amended (but, in the case of any such amendment, only to the extent that such amendment permits the Corporation to provide broader indemnification rights than permitted prior thereto), against all expense, liability and loss (including, without limitation, attorneys' fees, judgments, fines, excise taxes or penalties and amounts paid or to be paid in settlement) incurred or suffered by such indemnitee in connection therewith and such indemnification shall continue with respect to an indemnitee who has ceased to be a director or officer and shall inure to the benefit of the indemnitee's heirs, executors and administrators; provided, however, that except as provided in paragraph (B) hereof with respect to proceedings to enforce rights to indemnification, the Corporation shall indemnify any such indemnitee in connection with a proceeding initiated by such indemnitee only if such proceeding was authorized by the Board of Directors of the Corporation. The right to indemnification conferred in this Article shall be a contract right and shall include the right to be paid by the Corporation the expenses incurred in defending any such proceeding in advance of its final disposition (hereinafter an "advancement of expenses"); provided, however, that, if the Virginia Code requires, an advancement of expenses incurred by an indemnitee shall be made only upon delivery to the Corporation of an undertaking (hereinafter an "undertaking"), by or on behalf of such indemnitee, to repay all amounts so advanced if it shall ultimately be determined by final judicial decision from which there is no further right to appeal (hereinafter a "final adjudication") that such indemnitee is not entitled to be indemnified for such expenses under this Article or otherwise.

B. Right of Indemnitee to Bring Suit. If a claim under paragraph (A) of this Article is not paid in full by the Corporation within sixty days after a written claim has been received by the Corporation (except in the case of a claim for an advancement of expenses, in which case the applicable period shall be twenty days), the indemnitee may at any time thereafter bring suit against the Corporation to recover the unpaid amount of the claim. If successful in whole or in part in any such suit, the indemnitee shall also be entitled to be paid the expense of prosecuting or defending such suit. In (i) any suit brought by the indemnitee to enforce a right to indemnification hereunder (but not a suit brought by the indemnitee to enforce a right to an advancement of expenses) it shall be a defense that, and (ii) in any suit by the Corporation to recover an advancement of expenses pursuant to the terms of an undertaking, the Corporation shall be entitled to recover such expenses upon a final adjudication that, the indemnitee has not met the applicable standard of conduct set forth in the Virginia Code. Neither the failure of the Corporation (including its Board of Directors, independent legal counsel or its stockholders) to have made a determination prior to the commencement of such suit that indemnification of the indemnitee has met the applicable standard of conduct set forth in the Virginia Code, nor an actual determination by the Corporation (including its Board of Directors, independent legal counsel or its stockholders) that the indemnitee has not met such applicable standard of conduct, or in the case of such a suit brought by the indemnitee, shall be a defense to such suit. In any suit brought by the indemnitee to enforce a right to indemnification or to an advancement of expenses hereunder or by the Corporation to recover an advancement of expenses pursuant to the terms of an undertaking, the burden of proving that the indemnitee is not entitled under this Article or otherwise to be indemnified, or to such advancement of expenses, shall be on the Corporation.

C. Non-Exclusivity of Rights. The rights to indemnification and to the advancement of expenses conferred in this Article shall not be exclusive of any other right which any person may have or hereafter acquire under these Articles of Incorporation or any Bylaw, agreement, vote of stockholders or disinterested directors or otherwise.

D. Insurance. The Corporation may maintain insurance, at its expense, to protect itself and any indemnitee against any expense, liability or loss, whether or not the Corporation would have the power to indemnify such person against such expense, liability or loss under the Virginia Code.

E. Indemnity of Employees and Agents of the Corporation. Section 3.13 Action by Unanimous Written Consent. Any action required or permitted to be taken at a meeting of the board of directors or any committee may be taken without a meeting if a consent in writing, setting forth the actions so taken, is signed by all of the members of the board of directors or such committee, as the case may be.

Section 7.9 Amendment. The power to alter, amend, or repeal these bylaws or to adopt new bylaws is vested in the board of directors.

Section 7.10 Right to Indemnification.

(A) Each person (hereinafter an "indemnitee") who was or is made a party or is threatened to be made a party to or is otherwise involved in any action, suit or proceeding, whether civil, criminal, administrative or investigative (hereinafter a "proceeding"), by reason of the fact that he or she was a director, officer or agent of the corporation or is or was serving at the request of the corporation as a director, officer, employee or agent of another corporation or of a partnership, joint venture, trust or other enterprise, including service with respect to an employee benefit plan, whether the basis of such proceeding is alleged action in an official capacity as a director, officer, employee or agent, shall be indemnified and held harmless by the corporation to the fullest extent authorized by the Virginia Stock Corporation Act, as the same exists or may hereafter be amended (but, in the case of any such amendment, only to the extent that such amendment permits the corporation to provide broader indemnification rights than permitted prior thereto), against all expense, liability and loss (including attorney's fees, judgments, fines, ERISA excise taxes or penalties and amounts paid in settlement) reasonably incurred or suffered by such indemnitee in connection therewith, and such indemnification shall continue with respect to an indemnitee who has ceased to be a director, officer, employee or agent and shall inure to the benefit of the indemnitee's heirs, executors and administrators; provided, however, that, except as provided in paragraph (B) hereof with respect to proceedings to enforce rights to indemnification, the corporation shall indemnify any such indemnitee only if such proceeding (or part thereof) was authorized by the board of directors of the corporation. The right to indemnification conferred in this section shall be a contract right and shall include the right to be paid by the corporation the expenses incurred in defending any such proceeding in advance of its final disposition (hereinafter an “advancement of expenses”); provided, however, that, if the Virginia Stock Corporation Act requires, an advancement of expenses incurred by an indemnitee shall be made only upon delivery to the corporation of an undertaking (hereinafter an “undertaking”), by or on behalf of such indemnitee, to repay all amounts so advanced if it shall ultimately be determined by final judicial decision from which there is no further right to appeal (hereinafter a “final adjudication”) that such indemnitee is not entitled to be indemnified for such expenses under this section or otherwise.

(B) If a claim under paragraph (A) of this section is not paid in full by the corporation within 60 days after a written claim has been received by the corporation, except in the case of a claim for an advancement of expenses, in which case the applicable period shall be 20 days, the indemnitee may at any time thereafter bring suit against the corporation to recover the unpaid amount of such suit, or in a suit brought by the corporation to recover an advancement of expenses pursuant to the terms of an undertaking, the indemnitee shall be entitled to be paid also the expense of prosecuting or defending such suit. In (i) any suit brought by the indemnitee to enforce a right to indemnification hereunder (but not in a suit brought by the indemnitee to enforce a right to an advancement of expenses) it shall be a defense that, and (ii) any suit by the corporation to recover an advancement of expenses pursuant to the terms of an undertaking the corporation shall be entitled to recover such expenses upon a final adjudication that, the indemnitee has not met the applicable standard of conduct set forth in the Virginia Stock Corporation Act. Neither the failure of the corporation (including its board of directors, independent legal counsel, or its shareholders) to have made a determination prior to the commencement of such suit that indemnification of the indemnitee is proper in the circumstances because the indemnitee has met the applicable standard of conduct set forth in the Virginia Stock Corporation Act, nor an actual determination by the corporation (including its board of directors, independent legal counsel, or its shareholders) that the indemnitee has not met such applicable standard of conduct shall create a presumption that the indemnitee has not met the applicable standard of conduct or, in the case of such a suit brought by the indemnitee, be a defense of such suit. In any suit brought by the indemnitee to enforce a right of indemnification or to an advancement of expenses hereunder, or by the corporation to recover an advancement of expenses pursuant to the terms of an undertaking, the burden of proving that the indemnitee is not entitled to be indemnified, or to such advancement of expenses, under this section or otherwise shall be on the corporation.

(C) The rights to indemnification and to the advancement of expenses conferred in this section shall not be exclusive of any other right which any person may have or hereafter acquire under any statute, the corporation’s certificate of incorporation, by agreement, by vote of shareholders or by disinterested directors or otherwise.

(D) The corporation may maintain insurance, at its expense, to protect itself and any director, officer, employee or agent of the corporation or another corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust or other enterprise against any expense, liability or loss, whether or not the corporation would have the power to indemnify such person against such expense, liability or loss under the Texas Business Corporation Law.

Section 7.11 Invalid Provisions. If any provision of these bylaws is held to be illegal, invalid, or unenforceable under present or future laws, such provision shall be fully severable; these bylaws shall be construed and enforced as if such illegal, invalid, or unenforceable provision had never comprised a part hereof; and the remaining provisions hereof shall remain in full force and effect and shall not be affected by the illegal, invalid, or unenforceable provision or by its severance herefrom. Furthermore, in lieu of such illegal, invalid, or unenforceable provision there shall be added automatically as a part of these bylaws a provision as similar in terms to such illegal, invalid, or unenforceable provision as may be possible and be legal, valid, and enforceable.

Section 7.12 Headings. The headings used in these bylaws are for reference purposes only and do not affect in any way the meaning or interpretation of these bylaws.

The undersigned officer of the corporation hereby confirms that the above bylaws were duly adopted as the bylaws of the corporation as of the 30th day of August, 1991.

3. PURPOSE AND TERM.

3.1 Purpose. The purposes of the Company are as follows:

(a) To acquire, own, manage and operate certain healthcare facilities.

(b) To engage in such other lawful activities in which a limited liability company may engage under the Act as is determined by the Member from time to time.

(c) To do all other things necessary or desirable in connection with the foregoing, or otherwise contemplated in this Agreement.

3.2 Company's Power. In furtherance of the purpose of the Company as set forth in Section 3.1, the Company shall have the power to do any and all things whatsoever necessary, appropriate or advisable in connection with such purpose, or as otherwise contemplated in this Agreement.

The Member may, but shall not be required to, make additional capital contributions to the Company from time to time.

4.2 No Liability of Member. Except as otherwise specifically provided in the Act, the Member shall not have any personal liability for the obligations of the Company. Except as provided in Section 4.1, the Member shall not be obligated to contribute funds or loan money to the Company.

4.3 No Interest on Capital Contributions. The Member shall not be entitled to interest on any capital contributions made to the Company.

5. ACCOUNTING.

5.1 Books and Records. The Company shall maintain full and accurate books of the Company at the Company's principal place of business, or such other place as the Board shall determine, showing all receipts and expenditures, assets and liabilities, net income and loss, and all other records necessary for recording the Company's business and affairs. 8. FEDERAL INCOME TAX ELECTIONS.

8.1 Tax Treatment. Reg. §§ 301.7701-2(c)(2)(i) and 301.7701-3(b)(1)(ii). The Member shall take all actions which may be necessary or required in order for the Company to be so disregarded for income tax purposes.

9. DISTRIBUTIONS.

9.1 Distributions. The Board shall determine, in the Board's sole discretion, the amount and timing of any distributions to the Member and whether such distributions shall be paid in cash or property.

10. BOARD OF DIRECTORS.

10.1 General Powers. All powers of the Company shall be exercised by or under the authority of, and the business and affairs of the Company managed under the direction of, its Board of Directors ("Board").

10.2 Number, Election and Term. The Board shall consist of not less than one, nor more than seven individuals, the exact number of which shall be determined by the Board from time to time. Initially, there shall be three directors, David L. Miller, W. Larry Cash and Rachel A. Seifert. Directors shall be elected at the first annual meeting of the Member and at each annual meeting thereafter. A decrease in the number of directors shall not shorten an incumbent director's term. Each director shall hold office until the director resigns or is removed. Despite the expiration of a director's term, such director shall continue to serve until the director's successor is elected and qualifies, until there is a decrease in the number of directors or the director is removed.

10.3 Resignation of Directors. A director may resign at any time by delivering written notice to the Board, its Chairman (as hereinafter defined), if any, or the Company. A resignation shall be effective when the notice is delivered unless the notice specifies a later effective date.

10.4 Removal of Directors by Member. A director shall be removed by the Member only at a meeting called for the purpose of removing such director and the meeting notice shall state that the purpose, or one of the purposes, of the meeting is removal of the director. The Member may remove one or more directors with or without cause.

10.5 Vacancy on Board. If a vacancy occurs on the Board, including a vacancy resulting from an increase in the number of directors, the Board shall fill the vacancy, and if the directors remaining in office constitute fewer than a quorum of the Board, they may fill the vacancy by the affirmative vote of a majority of all the directors remaining in office. A vacancy that will occur at a specific later date may be filled before the vacancy occurs, but the new director may not take office until the vacancy occurs.

10.6 Compensation of Directors. Directors on the Board shall not be entitled to receive a fee for the director's services as a director on the Board.

10.7 Meetings. The Board may hold regular or special meetings in or out of the State of Virginia. The Board may permit any or all directors to participate in a regular or special meeting by, or conduct the meeting through the use of, any means of communication by which all directors participating may simultaneously hear each other during the meeting. A director participating in a meeting by this means shall be deemed to be present in person at the meeting.

10.8 Special Meetings. Special meetings of the Board may be called by, or at the request of, the Chairman, if any, or the chief executive officer of the Company. All special meetings of the Board shall be held at the principal office or such other place as may be specified in the notice of the meeting.

10.9 Action Without Meeting. Any action required or permitted to be taken at a Board meeting may be taken without a meeting, without prior notice and without a vote if a consent or consents in writing, setting forth the action so taken, shall be signed by the directors having not less than the minimum number of votes that would be necessary to authorize or take such action at a meeting at which all directors entitled to vote thereon were present and voted.

10.10 Notice of Meetings. Meetings of the Board may be held without notice of the date, time, place or purpose of the meeting.

10.11 Quorum and Voting. A majority of the number of directors fixed by, or determined in accordance with, this Agreement shall constitute a quorum of the Board. If a quorum is present, an affirmative vote by a majority of the number of directors present shall constitute an act of the Board. A director who is present at a meeting of the Board or a committee of the Board when action is taken shall be deemed to have assented to the action taken unless (i) the director objects at the beginning of the meeting, or promptly upon the director's arrival, to holding it or transacting business at the meeting or (ii) the director's dissent or abstention from the action taken is entered in the minutes of the meeting or the director delivers written notice of the director's dissent or abstention to the presiding officer of the meeting before its adjournment or to the Company immediately after adjournment of the meeting. The right of dissent or abstention shall not be available to a director who votes in favor of the action taken.

10.12 Chairman and Vice Chairman of the Board. The Board may appoint one of its members Chairman of the Board ("Chairman"). The Board may also appoint one of its members as Vice Chairman of the Board, and such individual shall serve in the absence of the Chairman and perform such additional duties as may be assigned to such person by the Board.

11. OFFICERS.

11.1 Officers Generally. The Company shall have the officers appointed by the Board in accordance with this Agreement. A duly appointed officer may appoint one or more officers or assistant officers as provided in Section 11.11. The same individual may simultaneously hold more than one office in the Company. Section 11.10 delegates to the Secretary, if such office be created and filled, the required responsibility of preparing minutes of the Board's and the Member's meetings and for authenticating records of the Company. If such office shall not be created and filled, then the Board shall delegate to one of the officers of the Company such responsibility.

11.2 Duties of Officers. Each officer of the Company shall have the authority and shall perform the duties set forth in this Agreement for such office or, to the extent consistent with this Agreement, the duties prescribed by the Board or by direction of an officer authorized by the Board to prescribe the duties of other officers.

11.3 Appointment and Term of Office. The officers of the Company shall be appointed by the Board. Vacancies may be filled or new offices created and filled at any meeting of the Board. Each officer shall hold office until such officer's successor shall be duly appointed or until the officer's death or until the officer shall resign or shall have been removed in the manner hereinafter provided.

11.4 Resignation and Removal of Officers. An officer may resign at any time by delivering notice to the Company. A resignation shall be effective when the notice is delivered unless the notice specifies a later effective date. If a resignation is made effective at a later date and the Company accepts the future effective date, the Board may fill the pending vacancy before the effective date if the Board provides that the successor shall not take office until the effective date. The Board may remove any officer at any time with or without cause.

11.5 Contract Rights of Officers. Appointment of an officer or agent shall not of itself create contract rights. An officer's removal shall not affect the officer's contract rights, if any, with the Company. An officer's resignation shall not affect the Company's contract rights, if any, with the officer.

11.6 Chairman of the Board. The Chairman, if that office be created and filled, may, at the discretion of the Board, be the chief executive officer of the Company and, if such, shall, in general, supervise and control the affairs and business of the Company, subject to control by the Board. The Chairman shall preside at all meetings of the Member and the Board.

11.7 President. The President, if that office be created and filled, shall be the chief executive officer of the Company, unless a Chairman is appointed and designated chief executive officer pursuant to Section 11.6. If no Chairman has been appointed or, in the absence of the Chairman, the President shall preside at all meetings of the Member. The President may sign certificates for Units, any deeds, mortgages, bonds, contracts or other instruments which the Board has authorized to be executed, except in cases where the signing and execution thereof shall be expressly delegated by the Board or by this Agreement to some other officer or agent of the Company, or shall be required by law to be otherwise signed or executed. The President shall, in general, perform all duties incident to the office of President of a Virginia corporation and such other duties as may be prescribed by the Board or the Chairman from time to time. Unless otherwise ordered by the Board, the President shall have full power and authority on behalf of the Company to attend, act and vote in person or by proxy at any meetings of shareholders of any corporation in which the Company may hold stock, and at any such meeting shall hold and may exercise all rights incident to the ownership of such stock which the Company, as owner, would have had and could have exercised if present. The Board may confer like powers on any other person or persons.

11.8 Vice President. In the absence of the President, or in the event of the President's death, inability or refusal to act, the Vice President (or, in the event there be more than one Vice President, the Vice Presidents in order designated at the time of their appointment, or in the absence of any designation, then in the order of their appointment), if that office be created and filled, shall perform the duties of the President and when so acting shall have all the powers of, and be subject to all the restrictions upon, the President. Any Vice President may sign, with the Secretary or an assistant secretary, certificates for Units and shall perform such other duties as from time to time may be assigned to such person by the Chairman, the President or by the Board.

11.9 Treasurer. The Treasurer, if that office be created and filled, shall have charge and custody of, and be responsible for, all funds and securities of the Company, receive and give receipts for monies due and payable to the Company from any source whatsoever, and deposit all such monies in the name of the Company in such banks, trust companies and other depositories as shall be selected in accordance with the provisions of Section 6.1, and in general, perform all the duties incident to the office of Treasurer of a Virginia corporation and such other duties as from time to time may be assigned to such person by the Chairman, the President or the Board. If required by the Board, the Treasurer shall give a bond for the faithful discharge of such officer's duties in such sum and with such surety or sureties as the Board shall determine.

11.10 Secretary. The Secretary, if that office be created and filled, shall keep the minutes of the Member's meetings and of the Board's meetings in one or more books provided for that purpose, see that all notices are duly given in accordance with the provisions of this Agreement or as required by law, be custodian of the Company records and of the seal, if any, of the Company, be responsible for authenticating records of the Company, keep a register of the mailing address of the Member, which shall be furnished to the Secretary by the Member, sign with the President or a Vice President certificates for Units, have general charge of the transfer books of the Company, and, in general, perform all duties incident to the office of Secretary of a Virginia corporation and such other duties as from time to time may be assigned to such person by the Chairman, the President or the Board.

11.11 Assistant Treasurers and Assistant Secretaries.

(a) Assistant Treasurer. The Assistant Treasurer, if that office be created and filled, shall, if required by the Board, give bond for the faithful discharge of such officer's duty in such sum and with such surety as the Board shall determine.

(b) Assistant Secretary. The Assistant Secretary, if that office be created and filled, and if authorized by the Board, may sign, with the President or Vice President, certificates for Units.

(c) Additional Duties. The Assistant Treasurers and Assistant Secretaries, in general, shall perform such additional duties as shall be assigned to them by the Treasurer or the Secretary, respectively, or by the Chairman, the President or the Board.

12. STANDARD OF CARE OF DIRECTORS AND OFFICERS; INDEMNIFICATION.

12.1 Standard of Care. The directors and officers of the Company shall not be liable, responsible or accountable in damages to the Member or the Company for any act or omission on behalf of the Company performed or omitted by them in good faith with the care a corporate officer of like position would exercise under similar circumstances and in a manner reasonably believed by them to be in the best interests of the Company unless they have engaged in willful misconduct or a knowing violation of the criminal law.

12.2 Indemnification.

(a) To the fullest extent permitted by the Act, the Company shall indemnify each director or officer of the Company against reasonable expenses (including reasonable attorneys' fees), judgments, taxes, penalties, fines (including any excise tax assessed with respect to an employee benefit plan) and amounts paid in settlement (collectively "Liability"), incurred by such person in connection with defending any threatened, pending or completed action, suit or proceeding (whether civil, criminal, administrative or investigative, and whether formal or informal) to which such person is, or is threatened to be made, a party because such person is or was a director or officer of the Company, or is or was serving at the request of the Company as a director, officer, partner, member, employee or agent of another domestic or foreign corporation, partnership, limited liability company, joint venture, trust or other enterprise, including service with respect to employee benefit plans, provided that the director or officer has met the standard of conduct described in Section 12.1. A director or officer shall be considered to be serving an employee benefit plan at the Company's request if such person's duties to the Company also impose duties on or otherwise involve services by such person to the plan or to participants in or beneficiaries of the plan.

(b) To the fullest extent authorized or permitted by the Act, the Company shall pay or reimburse reasonable expenses (including reasonable attorneys' fees) incurred by a director or officer who is a party to a proceeding in advance of final disposition of such proceeding if:

(1) The director or officer furnishes the Company a written affirmation of his good faith belief that he has met the standard of conduct described in Section 12.1;

(2) The director or officer furnishes the Company a written undertaking, executed personally or on the director's or officer's behalf, to repay the advance if it is ultimately determined that the director or officer did not meet the standard of conduct. Such undertaking shall be an unlimited general obligation of the director or officer, but shall not be required to be secured and may be accepted without reference to financial ability to make repayment; and

(3) A determination is made that the facts then known to those making the determination would not preclude indemnification under the provisions of this Section 12.2.

(c) The indemnification against Liability and advancement of expenses provided by, or granted pursuant to, this Section 12.2 shall not be deemed exclusive of any other rights to which those seeking indemnification or advancement may be entitled under any agreement, action of the Member or disinterested directors or otherwise, both as to action in their official capacity and as to action in another capacity while holding such office of the Company, shall continue as to a person who has ceased to be a director or officer of the Company, and shall inure to the benefit of the heirs, executors and administrators of such a person.

Any repeal or modification of this Section 12.2 by the Member shall not adversely affect any right or protection of a director or officer of the Company under this Section 12.2 with respect to any act or omission occurring prior to the time of such repeal or modification.

13. OTHER ACTIVITIES; RELATED PARTY TRANSACTIONS.

13.1 Other Activities. The directors and officers shall devote such of their time to the affairs of the Company's business as they shall deem necessary. The Member, directors, officers and their Affiliates (as hereinafter defined) may engage in, or possess an interest in, other business ventures of any nature and description, independently or with others, whether or not such activities are competitive with those of the Company. Neither the Company nor the Member shall have any rights by virtue of this Agreement in and to such independent ventures, or to the income or profits derived therefrom. The Member shall not be obligated to present any particular noncompeting business opportunity of a character which, if presented to the Company, could be taken by the Company, and the Member and its Affiliates shall not have the right to take for their own account, or to recommend to others, any such particular business opportunity to the exclusion of the Company. For purposes of this Agreement, the term "Affiliate" shall mean any person, corporation, partnership, limited liability company, trust or other entity (directly or indirectly) controlling, controlled by, or under common control with, another person.

13.2 Related Party Transactions. The fact that a director, officer or their Affiliates are directly or indirectly interested in or connected with any person, firm or corporation employed by the Company to render or perform a service, or to or from whom the Company may purchase, sell or lease property, shall not prohibit the Company from employing such person, firm or corporation or from otherwise dealing with him or it, and neither the Company, nor the Member, shall have any rights in or to any income or profits derived therefrom. All such dealings with a director or such director's Affiliates will be on terms which are competitive and comparable with amounts charged by independent third parties.

14. MEMBERS.

14.1 Limitation on Participation in Management. Except as expressly authorized by this Agreement or as expressly required by the Act, the Member, solely by virtue of its status as the Member, shall participate in the management or control of the Company's business, transact any business for the Company or have the power to act for or bind the Company, said powers being vested solely and exclusively in the Board and the officers. The Member shall not have any right to participate in the management or control of the Company's business.

14.2 Assignment of Member's Interest. The Member may freely sell, assign, transfer, pledge, hypothecate, encumber or otherwise dispose of the Member's Units. The transferee of the Units shall automatically become a substitute Member in the place of the Member.

14.3 Bankruptcy, Dissolution, Etc. of Member. Upon the occurrence of any of the events set forth in Section 13.1-1040.1 subsections 6 through 12 of the Act with respect to the Member, the successor-in-interest of the Member shall automatically become a substitute Member in place of the Member.

14.4 Certificates for Units. Certificates representing Units shall be in such form as may be determined by the Board. Such certificates shall be signed by the President or Vice President and by the Secretary or Assistant Secretary, if such offices be created and filled, or signed by two officers designated by the Member to sign such certificates. The signature of such officers upon such certificates may be signed manually or by facsimile. All certificates for Units shall be consecutively numbered. The name of the person owning the Units represented thereby, with the number of Units and date of issue, shall be entered on the books of the Company. All certificates surrendered to the Company for transfer shall be canceled and no new certificates shall be issued until the former certificates for a like number of Units shall have been surrendered and canceled, except that, in case of a lost, destroyed or mutilated certificate, a new one may be issued therefore upon such terms and indemnity to the Company as the Board may prescribe.

15. DISSOLUTION.

15.1 Dissolution. Except as otherwise provided in the Act, the Company shall dissolve upon the decision of the Member to dissolve the Company or the sale or other disposition of all, or substantially all, of the assets of the Company and the sale and/or collection of any evidence of indebtedness received in connection therewith. Dissolution of the Company shall be effective upon the date specified in the Member's resolution, but the Company shall not terminate until the assets of the Company shall have been distributed as provided in Section 15.3. Notwithstanding dissolution of the Company, prior to the liquidation and termination of the Company, the Company shall continue to be governed by this Agreement.

15.2 Sale of Assets Upon Dissolution. Following the dissolution of the Company, the Company shall be wound up and the Board shall determine whether the assets of the Company are to be sold or whether some or all of such assets are to be distributed to the Member in kind in liquidation of the Company.

15.3 Distributions Upon Dissolution. Upon the dissolution of the Company, the properties of the Company to be sold shall be liquidated in orderly fashion and the proceeds thereof, and the property to be distributed in kind, shall be distributed as follows:

(a) First, to the payment and discharge of all of the Company's debts and liabilities, to the necessary expenses of liquidation and to the establishment of any cash reserves which the Member determines to create for unmatured and/or contingent liabilities or obligations of the Company.

(b) Second, to the Member.

16. GENERAL.

16.1 Amendment

(a) Except as provided in Section 16.1(b), this Agreement may be modified or amended from time to time only upon the consent of the Member.

(b) In addition to any amendments authorized by Section 16.1(a), this Agreement may be amended from time to time by the Board without the consent of the Member to cure any ambiguity, to correct or supplement any provision hereof which may be inconsistent with any other provision hereof, or to make any other provisions with respect to matters or questions arising under this Agreement which will not be inconsistent with the provisions of this Agreement.

16.2 Captions; Section References. Section titles or captions contained in this Agreement are inserted only as a matter of convenience and reference, and in no way define, limit, extend or describe the scope of this Agreement, or the intent of any provision hereof. All references herein to Sections shall refer to Sections of this Agreement unless the context clearly requires otherwise.

16.3 Number and Gender. Unless the context otherwise requires, when used herein, the singular shall include the plural, the plural shall include the singular, and all nouns, pronouns and any variations thereof shall be deemed to refer to the masculine, feminine or neuter, as the identity of the person or persons may require.

16.4 Severability. If any provision of this Agreement, or the application thereof to any person, entity or circumstances, shall be invalid or unenforceable to any extent, the remainder of this Agreement, and the application of such provision to other persons, entities or circumstances, shall not be affected thereby and shall be enforced to the greatest extent permitted by law.

16.5 Binding Agreement. Except as otherwise provided herein, this Agreement shall be binding upon, and inure to the benefit of, the parties hereto and their respective executors, administrators, heirs, successors and assigns.

If the Act is amended hereafter to authorize corporate action further eliminating or limiting the personal liability of directors, then the liability of a director of the Corporation shall be eliminated or limited to the fullest extent permitted by the Act, as so amended.

Any repeal or modification of the foregoing paragraph by the stockholders of the Corporation shall not adversely affect any right or protection of a director of the Corporation existing at the time of such repeal or modification.

Rights to Indemnification. Each person who was or is made a party or is threatened to be made a party to or is otherwise involved in any action, suit or proceeding, whether civil, criminal, administrative or investigative (hereinafter a “proceeding”), by reason of the fact that he or she, or a person of whom he or she is the legal representative, or is or was a director or officer of the Corporation or is or was serving at the request of the Corporation as a director or officer of another corporation or of a partnership, joint venture, trust or other enterprise, including service with respect to an employee benefit plan (hereinafter an “indemnitee”), whether the basis of such proceeding is alleged action in an official capacity as a director or officer or in any other capacity while serving as a director or officer, shall be indemnified and held harmless by the Corporation to the fullest extent authorized by the Act as the same exists or may hereafter be amended (but, in the case of any such amendment, only to the extent that such amendment permits the Corporation to provide broader indemnification rights than permitted prior thereto), against all expense, liability and loss (including, without limitation, attorneys’ fees, judgments, fines, excise taxes or penalties and amounts paid or to be paid in settlement) incurred or suffered by such indemnitee in connection therewith and such indemnification shall continue with respect to an indemnitee who has ceased to be a director or officer and shall inure to the benefit of the indemnitee’ s heirs, executors and administrators; provided, however, that except as provided in paragraph (B) hereof with respect to proceedings to enforce rights to indemnification, the Corporation shall indemnify any such indemnitee in connection with a proceeding initiated by such indemnitee only if such proceeding was authorized by the Board of Directors of the Corporation. The right to indemnification conferred in this Article Thirteen shall be a contract right and shall include the right to be paid by the Corporation the expenses incurred in defending any such proceeding in advance of its final disposition (hereinafter an “advancement of expenses”); provided, however, that, if the Act requires, an advancement of expenses incurred by an indemnitee shall be made only upon delivery to the Corporation of an undertaking (hereinafter an “undertaking”), by or on behalf of such indemnitee, to repay all amounts so advanced if it shall ultimately be determined by final judicial decision from which there is no further right to appeal (hereinafter a “final adjudication”) that such indemnitee is not entitled to be indemnified for such expenses under this Article Thirteen or otherwise.

Right of Indemnitee to Bring Suit. If a claim under paragraph (A) of this Article Thirteen is not paid in full by the Corporation within sixty days after a written claim has been received by the Corporation (except in the case of a claim for an advancement of expenses, in which case the applicable period shall be twenty days), the indemnitee may at any time thereafter bring suit against the Corporation to recover the unpaid amount of the claim. If successful in whole or in part in any such suit, the indemnitee shall also be entitled to be paid the expense of prosecuting or defending such suit. In (i) any suit brought by the indemnitee to enforce a right to indemnification hereunder (but not a suit brought by the indemnitee to enforce a right to an advancement of expenses) it shall be a defense that, and (ii) in any suit by the Corporation to recover an advancement of expenses pursuant to the terms of an undertaking, the Corporation shall be entitled to recover such expenses upon a final adjudication that, the indemnitee has not met the applicable standard of conduct set forth in the Act. Neither the failure of the Corporation (including its Board of Directors, independent legal counsel or its stockholders) to have made a determination prior to the commencement of such suit that indemnification of the indemnitee has met the applicable standard of conduct set forth in the Act, nor an actual determination by the Corporation (including its Board of Directors, independent legal counsel or its stockholders) that the indemnitee has not met such applicable standard of conduct, or in the case of such a suit brought by the indemnitee, shall be a defense to such suit. In any suit brought by the indemnitee to enforce a right to indemnification or to an advancement of expenses hereunder or by the Corporation to recover an advancement of expenses pursuant to the terms of an undertaking, the burden of proving that the indemnitee is not entitled under this Article Thirteen or otherwise to be indemnified, or to such advancement of expenses, shall be on the Corporation.

Non-Exclusivity of Rights. The rights to indemnification and to the advancement of expenses conferred in this Article Thirteen shall not be exclusive of any other right which any person may have or hereafter acquire under these Articles of Incorporation or any Bylaw, agreement, vote of stockholders or disinterested directors or otherwise.

Insurance. The Corporation may maintain insurance, at its expense, to protect itself and any indemnitee against any expense, liability or loss, whether or not the Corporation would have the power to indemnify such person against such expense, liability or loss under the Act.

Indemnity of Employees and Agents of the Corporation. Section 7.6 Seal. The seal, if any, of the corporation shall be in such form as may be approved from time to time by the board of directors. If the board of directors approves a seal, the affixation of such seal shall not be required to create a valid and binding obligation against the corporation.

Unless otherwise ordered by the board of directors, the president or the secretary of the corporation shall have full power and authority on behalf of the corporation to attend, to vote and to grant proxies to be used at any meeting of shareholders of such other corporation in which the corporation may hold stock. The board of directors may confer like powers upon any other person or persons.

Section 7.8 Fixed Record Date. In order that the corporation may determine the shareholders entitled to notice of or to vote at any meeting of shareholders or any adjournment thereof, or to express consent to corporate action in writing without a meeting, or entitled to receive payment of any dividend or other distribution or allotment of any rights, or entitled to exercise any rights in respect of any change, conversion or exchange of stock for the purpose of any other lawful action, the board of directors may fix, in advance, a record date which shall be not more than sixty 60 days before the date of such meeting, nor more than 60 days prior to any other action.

Section 7.9 Amendment. The power to alter, amend, or repeal these bylaws or to adopt new bylaws is vested in the board of directors.

Section 7.10 Right to Indemnification.

(A) Each person (hereinafter an "indemnitee") who was or is made a party to or is threatened to be made a party to or is otherwise involved in any action, suit or proceeding, whether civil, criminal, administrative or investigative (hereinafter a "proceeding"), by reason of the fact that he or she was a director, officer or agent of the corporation or is or was serving at the request of the corporation as a director, officer, employee or agent of another corporation or of a partnership, joint venture, trust or other enterprise, including service with respect to an employee benefit plan, whether the basis of such proceeding is alleged action in an official capacity as a director, officer, employee or agent, shall be indemnified and held harmless by the corporation to the fullest extent authorized by the West Virginia Corporation Act, as amended, as the same exists or may hereafter be amended (but, in the case of any such amendment, only to the extent that such amendment permits the corporation to provide broader indemnification rights than permitted prior thereto), against all expense, liability and loss (including attorney's fees, judgments, fines, ERISA excise taxes or penalties and amounts paid in settlement) reasonably incurred or suffered by such indemnitee in connection therewith, and such indemnification shall continue with respect to an indemnitee who has ceased to be a director, officer, employee or agent and shall inure to the benefit of the indemnitee's heirs, executors and administrators; provided, however, that, except as provided in paragraph (B) hereof with respect to proceedings to enforce rights to indemnification, the corporation shall indemnify any such indemnitee only if such proceeding (or part thereof) was authorized by the board of directors of the corporation. The right to indemnification conferred in this section shall be a contract right and shall include the right to be paid by the corporation the expenses incurred in defending any such proceeding in advance of its final disposition (hereinafter an “advancement of expenses”); provided, however, that, if the West Virginia Corporation Act, as amended, requires, an advancement of expenses incurred by an indemnitee shall be made only upon delivery to the corporation of an undertaking (hereinafter an “undertaking”), by or on behalf of such indemnitee, to repay all amounts so advanced if it shall ultimately be determined by final judicial decision from which there is no further right to appeal (hereinafter a “final adjudication”) that such indemnitee is not entitled to be indemnified for such expenses under this section or otherwise.

(B) If a claim under paragraph (A) of this section is not paid in full by the corporation within 60 days after a written claim has been received by the corporation, except in the case of a claim for an advancement of expenses, in which case the applicable period shall be 20 days, the indemnitee may at any time thereafter bring suit against the corporation to recover the unpaid amount of such suit, or in a suit brought by the corporation to recover an advancement of expenses pursuant to the terms of an undertaking, the indemnitee shall be entitled to be paid also the expense of prosecuting or defending such suit. In (i) any suit brought by the indemnitee to enforce a right to indemnification hereunder (but not in a suit brought by the indemnitee to enforce a right to an advancement of expenses) it shall be a defense that, and (ii) any suit by the corporation to recover an advancement of expenses pursuant to the terms of an undertaking the corporation shall be entitled to recover such expenses upon a final adjudication that, the indemnitee has not met the applicable standard of conduct set forth in the West Virginia Corporation Act, as amended. Neither the failure of the corporation (including its board of directors, independent legal counsel, or its shareholders) to have made a determination prior to the commencement of such suit that indemnification of the indemnitee is proper in the circumstances because the indemnitee has met the applicable standard of conduct set forth in the West Virginia Corporation Act, as amended, nor an actual determination by the corporation (including its board of directors, independent legal counsel, or its shareholders) that the indemnitee has not met such applicable standard of conduct shall create a presumption that the indemnitee has not met the applicable standard of conduct or, in the case of such a suit brought by the indemnitee, be a defense of such suit. In any suit brought by the indemnitee to enforce a right of indemnification or to an advancement of expenses hereunder, or by the corporation to recover an advancement of expenses pursuant to the terms of an undertaking, the burden of proving that the indemnitee is not entitled to be indemnified, or to such advancement of expenses, under this section or otherwise shall be on the corporation.

(C) The rights to indemnification and to the advancement of expenses conferred in this section shall not be exclusive of any other right which any person may have or hereafter acquire under any statute, the corporation’s certificate of incorporation, by agreement, by vote of shareholders or by disinterested directors or otherwise.

(D) The corporation may maintain insurance, at its expense, to protect itself and any director, officer, employee or agent of the corporation or another corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust or other enterprise against any expense, liability or loss, whether or not the corporation would have the power to indemnify such person against such expense, liability or loss under the West Virginia Corporation Act.

Section 7.11 Invalid Provisions. If any provision of these bylaws is held to be illegal, invalid, or unenforceable under present or future laws, such provision shall be fully severable; these bylaws shall be construed and enforced as if such illegal, invalid, or unenforceable provision had never comprised a part hereof; and the remaining provisions hereof shall remain in full force and effect and shall not be affected by the illegal, invalid, or unenforceable provision or by its severance herefrom. Furthermore, in lieu of such illegal, invalid, or unenforceable provision there shall be added automatically as a part of these bylaws a provision as similar in terms to such illegal, invalid, or unenforceable provision as may be possible and be legal, valid, and enforceable.

Section 7.12 Headings. The headings used in these bylaws are for reference purposes only and do not affect in any way the meaning or interpretation of these bylaws.

The above bylaws were duly adopted as the bylaws of the corporation effective as of the 4th day of March, 2002.

To the fullest extent permitted by Wyoming law, a director of the Corporation shall not be personally liable to the Corporation or its stockholders for monetary damages for breach of fiduciary duty as a director, except for liability (i) for any breach of the director's duty of loyalty to the Corporation or its stockholders, (ii) for acts or omissions not in good faith or which involve intentional misconduct or a knowing violation of law, (iii) under any applicable sections of the Act, or (iv) for any transaction from which the director derived an improper personal benefit. If the Act is amended hereafter to authorize corporate action further eliminating or limiting the personal liability of directors, then the liability of a director of the Corporation shall be eliminated or limited to the fullest extent permitted by the Act, as so amended.

Any repeal or modification of the foregoing paragraph by the stockholders of the Corporation shall not adversely affect any right or protection of a director of the Corporation existing at the time of such repeal or modification.

ARTICLE ELEVEN

A. Rights to Indemnification. Each person who was or is made a party or is threatened to be made a party to or is otherwise involved in any action, suit or proceeding, whether civil, criminal, administrative or investigative (hereinafter a "proceeding"), by reason of the fact that he or she, or a person of whom he or she is the legal representative, is or was a director or officer of the Corporation or is or was serving at the request of the Corporation as a director or officer of another corporation or of a partnership, joint venture, trust or other enterprise, including service with respect to an employee benefit plan (hereinafter an "indemnitee"), whether the basis of such proceeding is alleged action in an official capacity as a director or officer or in any other capacity while serving as a director or officer, shall be indemnified and held harmless by the Corporation to the fullest extent authorized by the Act as the same exists or may hereafter be amended (but, in the case of any such amendment, only to the extent that such amendment permits the Corporation to provide broader indemnification rights than permitted prior thereto), against all expense, liability and loss (including, without limitation, attorneys' fees, judgments, fines, excise taxes or penalties and amounts paid or to be paid in settlement) incurred or suffered by such indemnitee in connection therewith and such indemnification shall continue with respect to an indemnitee who has ceased to be a director or officer and shall inure to the benefit of the indemnitee's heirs, executors and administrators; provided, however, that except as provided in paragraph (B) of this Article Eleven with respect to proceedings to enforce rights to indemnification, the Corporation shall indemnify any such indemnitee in connection with a proceeding initiated by such indemnitee only if such proceeding was authorized by the Board of Directors of the Corporation. The right to indemnification conferred in this Article Eleven shall be a contract right and shall include the right to be paid by the Corporation the expenses incurred in defending any such proceeding in advance of its final disposition (hereinafter an "advancement of expenses"); provided, however, that, if the Act requires, an advancement of expenses incurred by an indemnitee shall be made only upon delivery to the Corporation of an undertaking (hereinafter an "undertaking"), by or on behalf of such indemnitee, to repay all amounts so advanced if it shall ultimately be determined by final judicial decision from which there is no further right to appeal (hereinafter a "final adjudication") that such indemnitee is not entitled to be indemnified for such expenses under this Article Eleven or otherwise.

B. Right of Indemnitee to Bring Suit. If a claim under paragraph (A) of this Article Eleven is not paid in full by the Corporation within sixty days after a written claim has been received by the Corporation (except in the case of a claim for an advancement of expenses, in which case the applicable period shall be twenty days), the indemnitee may at any time thereafter bring suit against the Corporation to recover the unpaid amount of the claim. If successful in whole or in part in any such suit, the indemnitee shall also be entitled to be paid the expense of prosecuting or defending such suit. In (i) any suit brought by the indemnitee to enforce a right to indemnification hereunder (but not a suit brought by the indemnitee to enforce a right to an advancement of expenses) it shall be a defense that, and (ii) in any suit by the Corporation to recover an advancement of expenses pursuant to the terms of an undertaking, the Corporation shall be entitled to recover such expenses upon a final adjudication that, the indemnitee has not met the applicable standard of conduct set forth in the Act. Neither the failure of the Corporation (including its Board of Directors, independent legal counsel or its stockholders) to have made a determination prior to the commencement of such suit that indemnification of the indemnitee has met the applicable standard of conduct set forth in the Act, nor an actual determination by the Corporation (including its Board of Directors, independent legal counsel or its stockholders) that the indemnitee has not met such applicable standard of conduct, or in the case of such a suit brought by the indemnitee, shall be a defense to such suit. In any suit brought by the indemnitee to enforce a right to indemnification or to an advancement of expenses hereunder or by the Corporation to recover an advancement of expenses pursuant to the terms of an undertaking, the burden of proving that the indemnitee is not entitled under this Article Eleven or otherwise to be indemnified, or to such advancement of expenses, shall be on the Corporation.

C. Non-Exclusivity of Rights. The rights to indemnification and to the advancement of expenses conferred in this Article Eleven shall not be exclusive of any other right which any person may have or hereafter acquire under these Articles of Incorporation or any Bylaw, agreement, vote of stockholders or disinterested directors or otherwise.

D. Insurance. The Corporation may maintain insurance, at its expense, to protect itself and any indemnitee against any expense, liability or loss, whether or not the Corporation would have the power to indemnify such person against such expense, liability or loss under the Act.

E. Indemnity of Employees and Agents of the Corporation. The Corporation may, to the extent authorized from time to time by the Board of Directors, grant rights to indemnification and to the advancement of expenses to any employee or agent of the Corporation to the fullest extent of the provisions of this Article Eleven or as otherwise permitted under the Act with respect to the indemnification and advancement of expenses of directors and officers of the Corporation.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand, this 2nd day of September, 1999.

MEETINGS OF SHAREHOLDERS

Section 2.1 Annual Meeting. An annual meeting of shareholders of the corporation shall be held on such date and at such time as shall be designated from time to time by the board of directors and stated in the notice of the meeting. At such meeting, the shareholders shall elect directors and transact such other business as may properly be brought before the meeting.

Section 2.2 Special Meetings. Special meetings of the shareholders for any purpose whatsoever may be called at any time by the president, the board of directors, or the holders of not less than ten percent of all shares entitled to vote at such meeting.

Section 2.3 Place of Meetings. All meetings of shareholders for any purpose or purposes may be held at such places, within or without the State of Wyoming, as may from time to time be fixed by the board of directors or as shall be stated in the notice of the meeting or in a duly executed waiver of notice thereof.

Section 2.4 Notice. Written notice stating the place, day and hour of the meeting and, in the case of a special meeting, the purpose or purposes for which the meeting is called, shall be given not less than ten nor more than sixty days before the date of the meeting, either personally or by mail.

Such list shall be produced at such meeting and at all times during such meeting shall be subject to inspection by any shareholder. The original stock transfer books shall be prima facie evidence as to who are the shareholders entitled to examine such list or stock transfer books.

The board of directors shall have the power at any time to change the number and members of any such committee, to fill vacancies and to discharge any such committee.

Section 3.12 Compensation of Directors. Persons serving as directors shall not receive any compensation for their services as directors; however, a director shall be entitled to Any or all of the signatures on the face of the certificate may be facsimile. Such certificates shall bear a legend or legends in the form and containing the restrictions to be stated thereon by the Wyoming Business Corporation Act, other provisions of law, the articles of incorporation or these bylaws. Section 6.2 Lost, Stolen, or Destroyed Certificates. The board of directors, the executive committee, or the president of the corporation may direct a new certificate or certificates representing shares to be issued in place of any certificate or certificates theretofore issued by the corporation alleged to have been lost, stolen, or destroyed, upon the making of an affidavit of the fact by the person claiming the certificate or certificates to be lost, stolen, or destroyed. When authorizing such issue of a new certificate the board of directors, the executive committee or the president may require the owner of such lost, stolen, or destroyed certificate, or his or her legal representative, to advertise the same in such manner as it or he or she shall require and/or give the corporation a bond in such sum as it may direct as indemnity against any claim that may be made against the corporation with respect to the certificate alleged to have been lost, stolen or destroyed.

Dividends upon the outstanding shares of the corporation, subject to the provisions of the applicable statutes and of the articles of incorporation, may be declared by the board of directors at any annual, regular or special meeting. Dividends may be declared and paid in cash, in property, or in shares of the corporation, or in any combination thereof.

Section 7.2 Reserves. There may be set aside out of any funds of the corporation available for dividends such sum or sums as the board of directors from time to time in their sole and absolute discretion think proper as a reserve to meet contingencies, or to equalize dividends, or to repair or maintain any property of the corporation, or for such other purpose as the board of directors shall think conducive to the interest of the corporation, and the board of directors may modify or abolish any such reserve in the manner in which it was created.

Section 7.3 Signature of Negotiable Instruments. All checks or demands for money and notes of the corporation shall be signed by such officer or officers or such other person or persons as the board of directors may from time to time designate.

Section 7.4 Fiscal Year. The fiscal year of the corporation shall be fixed by the board of directors; provided, that if such fiscal year is not fixed by the board of directors it shall be the calendar year.

Section 7.5 Books of the Corporation. The books of the corporation may be kept, subject to the provisions of the applicable statutes, within or outside of the State of Wyoming, at such place or places as may from time to time be designated by the board of directors or as the business of the corporation may require.

Section 7.6 Seal. The seal, if any, of the corporation shall be in such form as may be approved from time to time by the board of directors. If the board of directors approves a seal, the affixation of such seal shall not be required to create a valid and binding obligation against the corporation.

Section 7.7 Securities of Other Corporations. Unless otherwise ordered by the board of directors, the president or the secretary of the corporation shall have full power and authority on behalf of the corporation to attend, to vote and to grant proxies to be used at any meeting of shareholders of such other corporation in which the corporation may hold stock. The board of directors may confer like powers upon any other person or persons.

Section 7.8 Fixed Record Date. In order that the corporation may determine the shareholders entitled to notice of or to vote at any meeting of shareholders or any adjournment thereof, or to express consent to corporate action in writing without a meeting, or entitled to receive payment of any dividend or other distribution or allotment of any rights, or entitled to exercise any rights in respect of any change, conversion or exchange of stock for the purpose of any other lawful action, the board of directors may fix, in advance, a record date which shall be not more than sixty 60 days before the date of such meeting, nor more than 60 days prior to any other action.

Section 7.9 Amendment. The power to alter, amend, or repeal these bylaws or to adopt new bylaws is vested in the board of directors.

Section 7.10 Right to Indemnification.

(A) Each person (hereinafter an "indemnitee") who was or is made a party or is threatened to be made a party to or is otherwise involved in any action, suit or proceeding, whether civil, criminal, administrative or investigative (hereinafter a "proceeding"), by reason of the fact that he or she was a director, officer or agent of the corporation or is or was serving at the request of the corporation as a director, officer, employee or agent of another corporation or of a partnership, joint venture, trust or other enterprise, including service with respect to an employee benefit plan, whether the basis of such proceeding is alleged action in an official capacity as a director, officer, employee or agent, shall be indemnified and held harmless by the corporation to the fullest extent authorized by the Wyoming Business Corporation Act, as the same exists or may hereafter be amended (but, in the case of any such amendment, only to the extent that such amendment permits the corporation to provide broader indemnification rights than permitted prior thereto), against all expense, liability and loss (including attorney's fees, judgments, fines, ERISA excise taxes or penalties and amounts paid in settlement) reasonably incurred or suffered by such indemnitee in connection therewith, and such indemnification shall continue with respect to an indemnitee who has ceased to be a director, officer, employee or agent and shall inure to the benefit of the indemnitee's heirs, executors and administrators; provided, however, that, except as provided in paragraph (B) hereof with respect to proceedings to enforce rights to indemnification, the corporation shall indemnify any such indemnitee only if such proceeding (or part thereof) was authorized by the board of directors of the corporation. The right to indemnification conferred in this section shall be a contract right and shall include the right to be paid by the corporation the expenses incurred in defending any such proceeding in advance of its final disposition (hereinafter an "advancement of expenses"); provided, however, that, if the Wyoming Business Corporation Act requires, an advancement of expenses incurred by an indemnitee shall be made only upon delivery to the corporation of an undertaking (hereinafter an “undertaking”), by or on behalf of such indemnitee, to repay all amounts so advanced if it shall ultimately be determined by final judicial decision from which there is no further right to appeal (hereinafter a “final adjudication”) that such indemnitee is not entitled to be indemnified for such expenses under this section or otherwise.

(B) If a claim under paragraph (A) of this section is not paid in full by the corporation within 60 days after a written claim has been received by the corporation, except in the case of a claim for an advancement of expenses, in which case the applicable period shall be 20 days, the indemnitee may at any time thereafter bring suit against the corporation to recover the unpaid amount of such suit, or in a suit brought by the corporation to recover an advancement of expenses pursuant to the terms of an undertaking, the indemnitee shall be entitled to be paid also the expense of prosecuting or defending such suit. In (i) any suit brought by the indemnitee to enforce a right to indemnification hereunder (but not in a suit brought by the indemnitee to enforce a right to an advancement of expenses) it shall be a defense that, and (ii) any suit by the corporation to recover an advancement of expenses pursuant to the terms of an undertaking the corporation shall be entitled to recover such expenses upon a final adjudication that, the indemnitee has not met the applicable standard of conduct set forth in the Wyoming Business Corporation Act. Neither the failure of the corporation (including its board of directors, independent legal counsel, or its shareholders) to have made a determination prior to the commencement of such suit that indemnification of the indemnitee is proper in the circumstances because the indemnitee has met the applicable standard of conduct set forth in the Wyoming Business Corporation Act, nor an actual determination by the corporation (including its board of directors, independent legal counsel, or its shareholders) that the indemnitee has not met such applicable standard of conduct shall create a presumption that the indemnitee has not met the applicable standard of conduct or, in the case of such a suit brought by the indemnitee, be a defense of such suit. In any suit brought by the indemnitee to enforce a right of indemnification or to an advancement of expenses hereunder, or by the corporation to recover an advancement of expenses pursuant to the terms of an undertaking, the burden of proving that the indemnitee is not entitled to be indemnified, or to such advancement of expenses, under this section or otherwise shall be on the corporation.

(C) The rights to indemnification and to the advancement of expenses conferred in this section shall not be exclusive of any other right which any person may have or hereafter acquire under any statute, the corporation’s certificate of incorporation, by agreement, by vote of shareholders or by disinterested directors or otherwise.

(D) The corporation may maintain insurance, at its expense, to protect itself and any director, officer, employee or agent of the corporation or another corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust or other enterprise against any expense, liability or loss, whether or not the corporation would have the power to indemnify such person against such expense, liability or loss under the Wyoming Business Corporation Act.

Section 7.11 Invalid Provisions. If any provision of these bylaws is held to be illegal, invalid, or unenforceable under present or future laws, such provision shall be fully severable; these bylaws shall be construed and enforced as if such illegal, invalid, or unenforceable provision had never comprised a part hereof; and the remaining provisions hereof shall remain in full force and effect and shall not be affected by the illegal, invalid, or unenforceable provision or by its severance herefrom. Furthermore, in lieu of such illegal, invalid, or unenforceable provision there shall be added automatically as a part of these bylaws a provision as similar in terms to such illegal, invalid, or unenforceable provision as may be possible and be legal, valid, and enforceable.

Section 7.12 Headings. The headings used in these bylaws are for reference purposes only and do not affect in any way the meaning or interpretation of these bylaws.

The above bylaws were duly adopted as the bylaws of the corporation effective as of the 7th day of September, 1999.

Offices

The corporation may have offices at such places both within and without the State of Alabama as the Board of Directors may from time to time determine or the business of the corporation may require.

ARTICLE II
Capital Stock

Section 1. Amount of Capital Stock. The authorized capital stock of the corporation shall be as set forth in the Articles of Incorporation filed with the Secretary of State of the State of Alabama.

Section 2. Certificates of Stock. The certificates of stock shall be of such form and device as the Board of Directors may adopt. All certificates of stock shall be signed by the President, or in his absence, by a Vice-President or by the Chairman if there be one, and by the Secretary or Assistant Secretary or by such other persons as may be authorized by law to sign such certificates. Such certificates shall exhibit the holders' names and the number of shares, be numbered, and entered in the books of the corporation as they are issued.

Section 3. Transfers of Stock and Duplicate Certificates. Transfer of stock shall be made only on the books of the corporation. No new certificate shall be issued in lieu of an old one, unless the latter is properly endorsed, surrendered and marked "cancelled" at the time the new one is issued. If, however, a certificate shall be lost or destroyed, the Board of Directors may order a new certificate issued upon receipt by the corporation of satisfactory security by bond or otherwise against loss to the corporation and upon such other terms, conditions and guaranties as such Board may require. Any such new certificates shall be plainly marked "duplicate" on its face.

Section 4. Recognition of Ownership and Treasury Stock. Any person, firm or corporation in whose name stock stands on the books of the corporation, whether individually, or as trustee, pledgee or otherwise, may be recognized and treated by the corporation as the absolute owner thereof, and the corporation shall in no event be obliged to deal with or to recognize the rights or interests of any other person in such stock, or in any part thereof. Treasury stock shall be held by the corporation subject to disposal by the Board of Directors and shall neither be voted nor participate in dividends and other distributions.

ARTICLE III
Meetings of Shareholders

Section 1. Location. All meetings of the shareholders shall be held at any place within or without the State of Alabama which may be designated either by the Board of Directors or by the written consent of all shareholders entitled to vote thereat given either before or after the meeting and filed by the Secretary of the corporation. In the absence of any such designation, shareholders' meetings shall be held at 103 Continental Place, in the City of Brentwood, State of Tennessee.

Section 2. Annual Meeting. The annual meeting of the stockholders shall be held on such dates and at such times as determined by the Board of Directors. At such meeting, the stockholders shall elect directors, by a plurality vote, to serve for the ensuing year or until their successors shall be elected and qualified.

Section 3. Special Meetings. Special meetings of the shareholders, for any purposes whatsoever, may be called at any time by the President or by any Vice President or by a majority of the Board of Directors or by one or more shareholders holding not less than one-fifth (1/5) of the voting power of the corporation.

Section 4. Notices. Written notice of each annual meeting shall be given to each shareholder either personally or by mail or by other means of written communication, charges prepaid, addressed to each shareholder at his address appearing on the books of the corporation, or given by him to the corporation for the purpose of notice. If a shareholder gives no address, notice is duly given to him if sent by mail or other means of written communication addressed to the place where the principal office of the corporation is situated or if published at least once in some newspaper of general circulation in the county in which the office is located. Except as otherwise expressly provided by statute, any such notice shall be deposited in the United States mail, delivered to the telegraph company in the place in which the principal office of the corporation is located or published at least ten (10) days, but not more than forty (40) days prior to the time of the holding of the meeting. In case such notice is personally delivered or delivered by means of written communication other than by mail, telegraph or publication as above provided, it shall be so delivered at least seven (7) days prior to the time of the holding of the meeting. Such delivery, mailing, telegraphing or publishing as above provided shall be due legal and personal notice to such shareholders. Such notices shall specify the place, the day and the hour of such meeting and shall state such other matters, if any, as may be expressly required by statute. Notice of any special meeting shall specify in addition to the place, day and hour of such meeting the general nature of the business to be transacted. Attendance by a shareholder at any meeting in person or by proxy shall be deemed to waive all requirements as to notice of the meeting. Waiver by a shareholder in writing of notice of any meeting of shareholders shall be equivalent to the giving of such notice.

Section 5. Quorum. The presence in person or by proxy of the holders of a majority of the shares entitled to vote at any meeting shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. In the absence of a quorum, any meeting of the shareholders may be adjourned from time to time by the vote of a majority of the shares, the holders of which are either present in person or represented by proxy thereat, but no other business may be transacted. The shareholders present at a duly organized meeting may continue to transact any business notwithstanding the withdrawal from such meeting of enough shareholders to leave less than a quorum.

Section 6. Proxies. Stock may be represented by proxy and no special form of proxy shall be necessary, but the written authorization of proxy over signature of a shareholder shall be sufficient. No proxy shall be valid after eleven (11) months from the date of its execution, unless otherwise provided in the proxy.

Section 7. Voting. Each share of stock present at any meeting, either in person or by proxy, and having voting power shall be entitled to one vote on all matters coming before the meeting.

Section 8. Presiding Officer. Every meeting of shareholders, whether annual or special, shall be presided over by the President or, in his absence, by any Vice President. The Secretary of the corporation shall act as Secretary of every such meeting or, in his absence, a Secretary shall be appointed by the Chairman of such meeting.

Section 9. Record Date. For the purpose of determining shareholders entitled to notice of or to vote at any meeting of shareholders or any adjournment thereof, or to receive payment of any dividend, the Board of Directors shall fix a record date for determination of shareholders entitled to participate, which shall not be less than twenty (20) days nor more than fifty (50) days prior to the date on which such action is to be taken.

Section 10. Written Consent. To the extent provided by applicable law, any action required to be taken at any annual or special meeting of stockholders of the corporation, or any action which may be taken at any annual or special meeting of such stockholders, may be taken without a meeting, without prior notice and without a vote, if a consent in writing, setting forth the action so taken, shall be signed by all of the holders of outstanding stock.

ARTICLE IV

Directors

Section 1. Number. The number of directors which shall constitute the whole Board shall be not less than three nor more than ten. The first Board shall consist of three directors. Thereafter, within the limits above specified, the number of directors shall be determined by resolution of the Board of Directors or by the stockholders at the annual meeting. The directors shall be elected at the annual meeting of the stockholders, except as provided in Section 3 of this Article, and each director elected shall hold office until his successor is elected and qualified. Directors need not be stockholders.

Section 2. Authority. The Board of Directors shall have power:

First: To conduct, manage, and control the affairs and business of the corporation and to make such rules and regulations therefor, not inconsistent with law or with the Articles of Incorporation or with the Bylaws, as they may deem best;

Second: To appoint and remove at pleasure the officers, agents, and employees of the corporation, prescribe their duties and fix their compensation;

Third: To authorize the issue of shares of stock of the corporation from time to time upon such terms as may be lawful, in consideration of money paid, labor done or services actually rendered, debts or securities canceled, or tangible or intangible property actually received, or in the case of shares issued as a dividend, against amounts transferred from surplus to stated capital;

Fourth: To borrow money and incur indebtedness for the purposes of the corporation and to cause to be executed and delivered therefor, in the corporate name, promissory notes, bonds, debentures, deeds of trust, mortgages, pledges, hypothecations or other evidences of debt and securities therefor;

Fifth: To alter, repeal or amend, from time to time, and at any time, these Bylaws and any and all amendments of the same, and from time to time, and at any time, to make and adopt such new and additional Bylaws as may be necessary and proper, subject to the power of the shareholders to adopt, amend or repeal such Bylaws, or to revoke the delegation of authority of the directors, as provided by law or by Article XIII of these Bylaws; and

Sixth: To appoint an executive and other committees, and to delegate to the Executive Committee any of the powers and authority of the board in the management of the business and affairs of the corporation, except the power to declare dividends and to adopt, amend or repeal Bylaws. The Board of Directors shall have the power to prescribe the manner in which proceedings of the Executive Committee and other committees shall be conducted. The Executive Committee shall be composed of two or more directors.

Section 3. Removal of Directors. The stockholders shall have the power at any meeting of the stockholders to remove any director or officer with or without cause by a vote of the majority in amount of all the outstanding stock of the corporation entitled to vote.

Section 4. Vacancies. Vacancies and newly created directorships resulting from any increase in the authorized number of directors or from any removal of incumbent directors may be filled by a majority of the directors then in office, though less than a quorum, or by a sole remaining director, and the directors so chosen shall hold office until the next annual election and until their successors are duly elected and shall qualify, unless sooner removed. If there are no directors in office, then an election of directors may be held in the manner provided by statute.

Section 5. Quorum. A majority of all the directors of the corporation shall be necessary to constitute a quorum for the transaction of business at all meetings of the Board and a majority of the quorum shall decide any question that may come before the meeting, but less than a quorum may adjourn any meeting from time to time.

Section 6. Meetings. Regular meetings of the Board of Directors shall be held in the City of Brentwood, Tennessee, or at such other place as from time to time shall be determined by resolution of the Board and without notice of said meeting. Special meetings may be called at the discretion of the President of the corporation, or upon request of a majority of members of the Board. A regular meeting of the Board of Directors shall be held immediately following the annual meeting of stockholders, at which the directors shall elect the officers of the corporation for the ensuing year and transact such other business as may come before said meeting, of which no notice need be given except as herein contained.

Section 7. Notice of Meetings. Notice of all special meetings and the place, date and hour for holding such meetings, excepting only the regular meetings, shall be given to each director by mail, telecopy, or telegraph, by the Secretary at least three (3) days previous to the time fixed for the meeting. The transactions of any meeting of the Board of Directors, however called or noticed or wherever held, shall be as valid as though had a meeting duly been held after regular call and notice, if a quorum be present, and if, either before or after the meeting, each of the directors not present signs a written waiver of notice, or a consent to holding such meeting, or an approval of the minutes thereof. All such waivers, consents or approvals shall be filed with the corporate records or made a part of the minutes of the meeting.

Section 8. Compensation. Directors, as such, shall not receive a salary for their services, but by resolution of the Board, a fixed sum and expenses of attendant, if any, may be allowed for attendance at each regular or special meeting of the Board. Nothing herein contained shall be construed to preclude any director from serving the corporation in any other capacity and receiving compensation therefor.

Section 9. Written Consent in Lieu of Meeting. To the extent provided by applicable law, any action required or permitted to be taken at any meeting of the Board of Directors or of any committee thereof may be taken without a meeting, if all members of the Board or committee, as the case may be, consent thereto in writing, and the writing or writings are filed with the minutes of proceedings of the Board or committee.

Section 10. Indemnification. This corporation shall indemnify each present and future director and officer and any person who may serve at its request as a director or officer of another corporation to the extent required and to the extent permitted by the laws of the state in which indemnification is sought.

ARTICLE V

In addition, the President may appoint, or the Board of Directors may elect one or more Assistant Secretaries and one or more Assistant Treasurers who shall have the same duties and authority, respectively, as the Secretary and Treasurer. Section 5. President. Section 4 . Notices. Written notice of each annual meeting shall be given to each shareholder either personally or by mail or by other means of written communication, charges prepaid, addressed to each shareholder at his address appearing on the books of the corporation, or given by him to the corporation for the purpose of notice. In the absence of a quorum, any meeting of the shareholders may be adjourned from time to time by the vote of a majority of the shares, the holders of which are either present in person or represented by proxy thereat, but no other business may be transacted. No proxy shall be valid after eleven (11) months from the date of its execution, unless otherwise provided in the proxy.

Section 10. Written Consent. To the extent provided by applicable law, any action required to be taken at any annual or special meeting of stockholders of the corporation, or any action which may be taken at any annual or special meeting of such stockholders, may be taken without a meeting, without prior notice and without a vote, if a consent in writing, setting forth the action so taken, shall be signed by all of the holders of outstanding stock.

Fifth: To alter, repeal or amend, from time to time, and at any time, these Bylaws and any and all amendments of the same, and from time to time, and at any time, to make and adopt such new and additional Bylaws as may be necessary and proper, subject to the power of the shareholders to adopt, amend or repeal such Bylaws, or to revoke the delegation of authority of the directors, as provided by law or by Article XIII of these Bylaws; and

Sixth: To appoint an executive and other committees, and to delegate to the Executive Committee any of the powers and authority of the board in the management of the business and affairs of the corporation, except the power to declare dividends and to adopt, amend or repeal Bylaws. The Board of Directors shall have the power to prescribe the manner in which proceedings of the Executive Committee and other committees shall be conducted. The Executive Committee shall be composed of two or more directors.

Section 3. Removal of Directors. The stockholders shall have the power at any meeting of the stockholders to remove any director or officer with or without cause by a vote of the majority in amount of all the outstanding stock of the corporation entitled to vote.

Section 4. Vacancies. Vacancies and newly created directorships resulting from any increase in the authorized number of directors or from any removal of incumbent directors may be filled by a majority of the directors then in office, though less than a quorum, or by a sole remaining director, and the directors so chosen shall hold office until the next annual election and until their successors are duly elected and shall qualify, unless sooner removed. Section 7. Notice of Meetings. Notice of all special meetings and the place, date and hour for holding such meetings, excepting only the regular meetings, shall be given to each director by mail, telecopy, or telegraph, by the Secretary at least three (3) days previous to the time fixed for the meeting. The transactions of any meeting of the Board of Directors, however called or noticed or wherever held, shall be as valid as though had a meeting duly been held after regular call and notice, if a quorum be present, and if, either before or after the meeting, each of the directors not present signs a written waiver of notice, or a consent to holding such meeting, or an approval of the minutes thereof. All such waivers, consents or approvals shall be filed with the corporate records or made a part of the minutes of the meeting.

Section 8. Compensation. Directors, as such, shall not receive a salary for their services, but by resolution of the Board, a fixed sum and expenses of attendant, if any, may be allowed for attendance at each regular or special meeting of the Board. Nothing herein contained shall be construed to preclude any director from serving the corporation in any other capacity and receiving compensation therefor.

Section 9. Written Consent in Lieu of Meeting. To the extent provided by applicable law, any action required or permitted to be taken at any meeting of the Board of Directors or of any committee thereof may be taken without a meeting, if all members of the Board or committee, as the case may be, consent thereto in writing, and the writing or writings are filed with the minutes of proceedings of the Board or committee.

LIMITED LIABILITY COMPANY AGREEMENT
BLUFFTON HEALTH SYSTEM LLC

This Limited Liability Company Agreement (“Agreement”) of Bluffton Health System LLC (the “Company”) is made and entered into effective as of August 27, 1999, between QHG of Bluffton, Inc., an Indiana corporation (“QHG”) and Frankfort Health Partner, Inc., an Indiana corporation (“FHP”) (QHG, FHP and each additional person admitted as a member of the Company are referred to individually as a “Member” and collectively as “Members”).

A. An organizer formed the Company as a Delaware limited liability company under the Delaware Limited Liability Company Act (the “Act”) by filing a Certificate of Formation with the Office of the Delaware Secretary of State on August 27, 1999.

B. The Members desire to enter into this Agreement to set forth the provisions governing the management and conduct of the business of the Company and the rights and obligations of the Members.

The Members, in consideration of the foregoing premises and their mutual covenants and agreements set forth herein, agree as follows:

ARTICLE 1.

INTERESTS IN AND CAPITAL OF THE COMPANY

1.1 Units: Percentage Shares. Each Member’s Interest in the Company shall be denominated in “Units”. A Member’s “Percentage Share” in the Company shall be obtained by converting to a percentage the fraction having as its numerator the number of Units held by such Member and having as its denominator the aggregate number of Units held by all Members at the time. The initial Units and Percentage Share of each Member shall be set forth opposite such Member’s name on Exhibit 1.1 attached hereto. Thereafter, such Percentage Share shall be adjusted from time to time in accordance with this Agreement. All such adjustments shall be reflected on Exhibit 1.1 hereto.

1.2 Initial Capital Contributions. The Capital Contributions of the Members are shown on Exhibit 1.2. Except as provided in the Act, after a Member’s initial Capital Contribution is fully paid, no Member shall be required to make any further capital contributions or to lend any funds to the Company. “Capital Contribution” shall mean, with respect to any Member, the amount of money and the initial gross asset value of any property (other than money) contributed at any time to the Company with respect to such Member’s interest in the Company.

1.3 Return of Capital. No Member or assignee shall have the right to demand or receive a return of all or any part of such Member’s contributions to the capital of the Company. No Member (or assignee) shall be entitled to any interest on such Member’s capital account.

1.4 Limited Liability of Members, Assignees and Directors. No Member, assignee or Director shall be personally liable for the acts, debts, liabilities, or other obligations of the Company, whether arising in contract, tort or otherwise, or for the acts or omissions of any other Member, assignee, Director, employee or agent of the Company. Each Member, Director and assignee shall be liable only to make the Capital Contributions that it has agreed to make and for such person's own acts and conduct.

1.5 Capital Accounts. Separate capital accounts shall be maintained for each Member (and assignee) and shall consist generally of the sum of the Member's initial capital account and any additional contributions to the capital of the Company that may be made by such Member, plus such Member's share of the income of the Company, less such Member's share of any losses of the Company, and less any distributions to or withdrawals made by or attributable to such Member from the Company. Each Member's capital account shall be maintained and adjusted in accordance with the principles set forth in U.S. Treasury Regulation Section 1.704-1(b).

ALLOCATIONS AND DISTRIBUTIONS

2.1 Allocation of Profits and Losses. Profits and losses for any fiscal year or other shorter period shall be allocated among Members in accordance with their respective Percentage Shares. "Profits and Losses" shall mean, for each fiscal year or other shorter period, an amount equal to the Company's taxable income or loss for such year or period, determined in accordance with Code Section 703(a) (for this purpose, all items of income, gain, loss or deduction required to be stated separately pursuant to Code Section 703(a)(1) shall be included in taxable income or loss). "Code" shall mean the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended from time to time.

2.2 Distributions. The Board of Directors is authorized to make distributions of cash or other property to the Members (or assignees) in accordance with their respective Percentage Shares in such amounts and at such times as the Board of Directors shall determine. Nothing contained herein is intended nor shall be construed or applied to violate the fraud and abuse prohibitions under the Medicare and Medicaid programs. No Member shall have the right to demand or receive distributions of property other than cash. Distributions in kind of Company property, in liquidation or otherwise, shall be made only with the consent of the Board of Directors and only at a value agreed to by the Board of Directors. Prior to any such distribution in kind, the difference between such agreed value and the book value of such property shall be credited or charged, as the case may be, to the Members' capital accounts in proportion to their Percentage Shares, except as may otherwise be required under Code Section 704(c). Upon the distribution of such property, such agreed value shall be charged to the Capital Accounts of the Members receiving such distribution.

MANAGEMENT OF THE COMPANY'S AFFAIRS:

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

3.1 General Powers of the Board of Directors. The business and affairs of the Company shall be managed by its “Board of Directors” (herein so called) and the persons serving on the Board of Directors (the “Directors”), who shall serve in the capacity of “Managers” as defined in the Act. The Board of Directors shall direct, manage and control the Company’s business to the best of its ability and shall have full and complete authority, power, and discretion to make any and all decisions and do any and all things which the Board of Directors deems necessary or desirable for that purpose, subject to the rights and responsibilities of the Members. Unless expressly authorized by the Board of Directors, no Member shall have any authority to bind or obligate the Company.

3.2 Number. The number of Directors which shall constitute the whole Board of Directors shall be not less than three nor more than ten. The first Board of Directors shall consist of three Directors. Thereafter, within the limits above specified, the number of Directors shall be determined by resolution of the Board of Directors or by the Members at the annual meeting of the Members, except as provided in Section 3.3 of this Article, and each Director elected shall hold office until his successor is elected and qualified Directors need not be Members.

3.3 Removal of Directors. The Members shall have the power at any meeting of the Members to remove any Director or officer with or without cause by a vote of the majority in amount of all the outstanding Units of the Company entitled to vote.

3.4 Vacancies. Vacancies and newly created directorships resulting from any increase in the authorized number of Directors or from any removal of incumbent Directors may be filled by a majority of the Directors then in office, though less than a quorum, or by a sole remaining Director, and the Directors so chosen shall hold office until the next annual election and until their successors are duly elected and shall qualify, unless sooner removed. If there are no Directors in office, then an election of Directors may be held by the Members.

3.5 Quorum. A majority of all the Directors of the Company shall be necessary to constitute a quorum for the transaction of business at all meetings of the Board of Directors and a majority of the quorum shall decide any question that may come before the meeting, but less than a quorum may adjourn any meeting from time to time.

3.6 Meetings. Regular meetings of the Board of Directors shall be held in the City of Brentwood, Tennessee, or at such other place as from time to time shall be determined by resolution of the Board of Directors and without notice of said meeting. Special meetings may be called at the discretion of the President of the Company, or upon request of a majority of members of the Board of Directors. A regular meeting of the Board of Directors shall be held immediately following the annual meeting of Members, at which the Directors shall elect the officers of the Company for the ensuing year and transact such other business as may come before said meeting, of which no notice need be given except as herein contained.

3.7 Notice of Meetings. Notice of all special meetings and the place, date and hour for holding such meetings, excepting only the regular meetings shall be given to each Director by mail, telecopy, or telegraph, by the Secretary at least three (3) days previous to the time fixed for the meeting. The transactions of any meeting of the Board of Directors, however called or noticed or wherever held, shall be as valid as though had a meeting duly been held after regular call and notice, if a quorum be present, and if, either before or after the meeting, each of the Directors not present signs a written waiver of notice, or a consent to holding such meeting, or an approval of the minutes thereof. All such waivers, consents or approvals shall be filed with the records of the Company or made a part of the minutes of the meeting.

3.8 Compensation. Directors, as such, shall not receive a salary for their services, but by resolution of the Board of Directors, a fixed sum and expenses of attendant, if any, may be allowed for attendance at each regular or special meeting of the Board of Directors. Nothing herein contained shall be construed to preclude any Director from serving the Company in any other capacity and receiving compensation therefor.

3.9 Written Consent in Lieu of Meeting. To the extent provided by applicable law, any action required or permitted to be taken at any meeting of the Board of Directors or any committee thereof may be taken without a meeting, if all members of the Board of Directors or committee, as the case may be, consent thereto in writing, and the writing or writings are filed with the minutes of proceedings of the Board of Directors or committee.

3.10 Indemnification. This Company shall indemnify each present and future Director and officer and any person who may serve at its request as a Director or officer of another entity to the extent required and to the extent permitted by the Act.

3.11 Local Advisory Board.

3.11.1 Board. It shall be the policy of the Company that any medical facility owned by the Company shall be operated as a division of the Company under the administrative direction of an "Administrator" and with the advice of a "Local Advisory Board", some of the members of which shall be persons who are residents of the area served by the facility. The medical practice conducted in each medical facility shall be under the supervision of the medical staff of such facility and shall be conducted in accordance with the highest standards of medical ethics and professional competence. The Local Advisory Board shall consist of two (2) individual members of the community in which Caylor-Nickel Medical Center (the "Hospital") is operated (the "Community Representatives"), two (2) physicians chosen by the Board of Directors and two (2) other representatives chosen by the Board of Directors. The Community Representatives will be selected by the Board of Directors from a slate of candidates (at least equal to the number of Local Advisory Board seats to be filled) submitted by Caylor-Nickel Medical Center, Inc. or a party it identifies from time to time in writing to the Board of Directors as its designee. In the event the Company or an affiliate acquires, leases or engages in a similar transaction with Wells Community Hospital, the Company may increase the size of the Local Advisory Board and provide for the selection of such additional LAB Directors as the Company determines in its discretion, to provide Wells Community Hospital representation on the Local Advisory Board. Members of the Local Advisory Board are referred to in this Agreement as "LAB Directors". The Local Advisory Board shall continue in existence until the earlier of (i) a change in law that the Board of Directors believes would result in the illegality of the Local Advisory Board relationship, (iii) receipt of a response from a nationally recognized hospital accreditation commission indicating that the Local Advisory Board's continued existence would have a material negative effect on the Hospital's ability to receive or maintain accreditation by such commission, or (iii) October 1, 2009 (the "Existence Period").

3.11.2 Governance and Responsibilities. The Local Advisory Board shall be governed by this Agreement, but in addition thereto shall authorize and adopt Bylaws for its own management subject to the authority of the Board of Directors. Such Bylaws shall provide the procedure for the election of officers, regular meetings, keeping of a permanent record of the minutes of the meetings of the Local Advisory Board and other matters. Such Bylaws and rules of procedure shall also provide for the giving of adequate notice of the meetings, and a fair and just procedure to be followed in the reaching of evidentiary and judgmental determinations as to the actions of any medical staff member or any employee of the medical facilities or Company. The Bylaws shall further provide that all action taken by the Local Advisory Board shall be reported to and subject to the authority of the Board of Directors. In the event of a conflict between this Agreement and the Bylaws, this Agreement shall control. The Local Advisory Board shall be responsible for the following:

- (a) authority over medical staff affairs, including appointments, re-appointments, credentialing, quality of care issues, and bylaws;
- (b) assuring the Hospital's compliance with the requirements of the JCAHO;

- (d) providing input to the Board of Directors' on strategic and long-range plans; and
- (e) in the event the Company or an affiliate leases or acquires or sells Wells Community Hospital, development of a plan to consolidate the operations of the Hospital and Wells Community Hospital.

3.11.3 Reservation. Responsibilities not specifically assigned to the Local Advisory Board in Section 3.11.2 will be retained by the Board of Directors including but not limited to all authority regarding operational and financial matters. In addition, the Board of Directors shall have authority, in its sole discretion, to override any decision made by the Local Advisory Board.

3.11.4 Removal of LAB Directors. The Board of Directors shall have the power to remove and replace any LAB Director with or without cause. Vacancies from any resignation or removal of incumbent LAB Directors shall be filled by the Board of Directors provided, however, that any replacement of a LAB Director originally selected from the slate of candidates submitted by Caylor-Nickel Medical Center, Inc. pursuant to Section 3.11.1 shall be selected by the Board of Directors from a new slate of candidates submitted by Caylor-Nickel medical Center, Inc.

3.11.5 Administrator. The Board of Directors shall select and employ a competent and experienced Administrator who shall be its direct representative in the management of the medical facility. The Administrator shall be given the necessary authority and held responsible for the administration of the medical facility in all departments, subject only to the policies enacted by the Board of Directors or by the Local Advisory Board pursuant to any delegated responsibility for medical matters.

3.11.6 Amendment. The provisions of Section 3.11 of this Agreement shall not be amended, modified, or repealed without a favorable vote of at least two-thirds of the Units voted at the meeting at which such amendment is to be considered, except with respect to any medical facilities which, in the opinion of at least two-thirds of all members of the Board of Directors, are not operating in accordance with the highest standards of medical ethics and professional competence or good business practices.

5.4 Notices. Written notice of each annual meeting shall be given to each Member either personally or by mail or by other means of written communication, charges prepaid, addressed to each Member at his address appearing on the books of the Company, or given by him to the Company for the purpose of notice. If a Member gives no address, notice is duly given to him if sent by mail or other means of written communication addressed to the place where the principal office of the Company is situated or if published at least once in some newspaper of general circulation in the county in which the office is located. Except as otherwise expressly provided by statute, any such notice shall be deposited in the United States mail, delivered to the telegraph company in the place in which the principal office of the Company is located or published at least ten (10) days, but not more than forty (40) days prior to the time of the holding of the meeting. Waiver by a Member in writing of notice of any meeting of Members shall be equivalent to the giving of such notice.

5.5 Quorum. The presence in person or by proxy of the holders of a majority of the Units entitled to vote at any meeting shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. In the absence of a quorum, any meeting of the Members may be adjourned from time to time by the vote of a majority of the Units, the holders of which are either present in person or represented by proxy thereat, but no other business may be transacted. The Members present at a duly organized meeting may continue to transact any business notwithstanding the withdrawal from such meeting of enough Members to leave less than a quorum.

5.6 Proxies. Units and Members may be represented by proxy and no special form of proxy shall be necessary, but the written authorization of proxy over signature of a Member shall be sufficient. No proxy shall be valid after eleven (11) months from the date of its execution, unless otherwise provided in the proxy.

5.8 Presiding Officer. Every meeting of Members, whether annual or special, shall be presided over by the President or, in his absence, by any Vice President. The Secretary of the Company shall act as Secretary of every such meeting or, in his absence, a Secretary shall be appointed by the Chairman of such meeting.

5.9 Record Date. For the purpose of determining Members entitled to notice of or to vote at any meeting of Members or any adjournment thereof, or to receive payment of any dividend, the Board of Directors shall fix a record date for determination of Members entitled to participate, which shall not be less than twenty (20) days nor more than fifty (50) days prior to the date on which such action is to be taken.

5.10 Written Consent. To the extent provided by applicable law, any action required to be taken at any annual or special meeting of Members of the Company, or any action which may be taken at any annual or special meeting of such Members, may be taken without a meeting, without prior notice and without a vote, if a consent in writing, setting forth the action so taken shall be signed by all of the Members.

ARTICLE 6.

TRANSFERS OF MEMBERSHIP INTERESTS BY MEMBERS

6.1 No Transfers. Each Member covenants and agrees that it will not sell, assign, transfer, alienate or otherwise dispose of (each such event being deemed a "Transfer") all or any part of its Units in the Company to any person or entity, including the Company without the approval of the Board of Directors. Notwithstanding the foregoing, it shall not be deemed a Transfer for a Member to mortgage, pledge or otherwise encumber its Units in the Company; provided, however, that it shall be deemed a Transfer if a party for whose benefit the Units are mortgaged, pledged or otherwise encumbered shall obtain full title to such Units.

ARTICLE 7.

DISSOLUTION AND LIQUIDATION OF THE COMPANY

- iv. Any event which results in there being fewer than two Members.
- v. Any Transfer of a Unit in violation of Section 6.1.

Notwithstanding any other provision of this Agreement, in no event shall the redemption or purchase of the Units of a Member by the Company or any Transfer of a Unit be a dissolving event if the remaining Members consent to the continued existence and business of the Company as provided in Act §18-801(4).

7.2 Method of Liquidation. Upon the happening of any of the events specified in Section 7.1, the Company shall continue solely for the purpose of winding up its affairs liquidating its assets, and satisfying the claims of its creditors and Members. The Board of Directors shall be responsible for overseeing the winding up and liquidation of the Company. In the course of winding up its affairs, any of the Company's assets may be sold upon the consent of the Board of Directors, and any proceeds derived from any such sale, together with all assets that are not sold, shall be applied and distributed in the following manner and in the following order of priority:

- i. To the payment of the debts and liabilities of the Company and to the expenses of liquidation in the order of priority as provided by law, and to the establishment of any reserves that the Board of Directors deems necessary for any contingent liabilities or obligations of the Company; then
- ii. To the payment of any liabilities or debts, other than capital accounts, of the Company to any of the Members; then
- iii. To the Members (and assignees) in accordance with the relative positive balances of their capital accounts, after giving effect to all contributions, distributions and allocations under this Agreement for all periods as required by Section 704(b) of the Code and the regulations promulgated thereunder.

In the course of any liquidation, the difference between the fair market value and book value of any assets that are distributed in kind shall be credited or charged, as the case may be, to the Members' (or assignees') capital accounts.

7.3 Reasonable Time for Liquidation. A reasonable time (not to exceed twelve (12) months) shall be allowed for the orderly liquidation and winding up of the Company in order to minimize any losses that may be attendant upon such liquidation.

7.4 Distribution to Liquidating Trust. In the discretion of the Board of Directors, assets otherwise distributable to the Members (or assignees) pursuant to Section 7.2 may be distributed to a liquidating trust established for the benefit, and upon the agreement, of all Members (and assignees) for purposes of liquidating Company assets, collecting amounts owed to the Company, and paying any contingent or potential liabilities or obligations of the Company.

7.5 Date of Termination. The Company shall be completely terminated when all property of the Company shall have been disposed of by the Company in accordance with Section 7.2. The establishment of any reserves in accordance with the provisions of Section 7.2 or the creation of a liquidating trust in accordance with Section 7.4 shall not have the effect of extending the existence of the Company, but any remaining balance in any such reserve or liquidating trust shall be distributed in the manner provided in Section 7.2 upon expiration of the period of such reserve or liquidating trust, as the case may be.

7.6 Certificate of Cancellation. Upon completing the winding up and liquidation of the Company, the Company shall cause to be filed a Certificate of Cancellation of the Company as provided by Act § 18-203. The Members agree to join in executing such document if such joinder is required by the Act or deemed necessary or appropriate by the Board of Directors.

shall give priority to the fulfillment by the Company of the Standards and Section 3.2(b) and shall not have the right to award punitive damages. No action or inaction by either category of Directors under any of the provisions of this Section 12.6 shall constitute any basis for granting or denying any relief sought by either category of Directors in any such arbitration.

If the other Member(s) fails to exercise the Right of First Refusal or indicates in writing that it will not exercise the Right of First Refusal within the period provided, or if the other Member(s) exercises the Right of First Refusal but fails to effect the purchase within the prescribed period, the Selling Member may, subject to Section 14.2 hereof, convey or dispose of the Interest, but only at the price, terms and conditions, and to the Offeror. If terms and conditions more favorable to the proposed purchaser than, or in any material manner different from, those offered to the other Member(s) should be agreed to by the Selling Member, the other Member(s) shall again have the right to purchase the Selling Member's interest in the Company which is subject to the more favorable or different purchase terms in accordance with this Section 14.1. The other Member(s) may assign the rights in this Section 14.1 to the Company, in which event the Member's interest may be liquidated (rather than purchased) by the Company. The Member(s) and the Company shall not be liable or accountable to any Selling Member which attempts to transfer its interest in the Company for any loss, damage, expense, cost or liability resulting from the Member's exercise or failure to exercise the Right of First Refusal under this Section 14.1, delay in notifying the Selling Member of its intention not to exercise the Right of First Refusal, or its enforcement of the requirements of this Section 14.1 in the event that it elects not to exercise the Right of First Refusal. A Member's failure to exercise the Right of First Refusal or to indicate in writing that it is electing not to exercise the Right of First Refusal shall not be deemed a consent of the Member to allow any third party transferee to become a Substituted Member, such consent being controlled by the provisions of Section 13.2 hereof.

14.2 Tag-Along Rights. If at any time a Selling Member which holds a Sharing Percentage greater than fifty percent (50%) gives the notice required by Section 14.1 hereof in connection with an offer to acquire in any manner all or any part of such Selling Member's interest, in the Company, and the other Member(s) does not exercise its Right of First Refusal (or assign such right to the Company) with respect to such offer, the non-Selling Member shall have (in addition to its Right of First Refusal under Section 14.1 hereof) the right (the "Tag-Along Right") to require, as a condition to any sale or disposition to the Offeror, that the Offeror purchase from the non-Selling Member, at the same price and on the same terms and conditions as specified in the notice given pursuant to Section 14.1 hereof, the number of Units owned by the non-Selling Member multiplied by a fraction, the numerator of which is the number of Units proposed to be sold by the Selling Member and the denominator of which is the total number of Units owned by the Selling Member. Such non-Selling Member shall have the Tag-Along Right for a period of sixty (60) days from the day it receives the notice required by Section 14.1 hereof, and in the event that a Member shall elect to exercise such Tag-Along Right, such Member shall communicate such election in writing to the Selling Member within such time period.

14.3 Option Based on Sharing Percentage. Each Member shall have the right to, acquire the other Member's interest pursuant to the terms of the Option to Purchase (Call) attached hereto as Exhibit F.

14.4 DHCC Member Put Option Upon Triad Parent Change in Control.

(a) In the event, that Triad Parent undergoes a Change in Control (as defined in Section 14 4(b)), the DHCC Member shall have the option to sell to Triad Member, and Triad Member shall have the obligation to purchase, all, but not less than all, of the Units held by DHCC Member in exchange for payment in cash of a purchase price equal to the Appraised Value of the Units; provided, however, that the purchase price for such Units during the first two (2) years following the date hereof shall not be less than the price determined by the Asset Valuation ($10,000 per Unit) as defined in the Contribution Agreement. Triad Member shall give the Company and DHCC Member written notice of the Change in Control (the "Change in Control Notice) as soon as practicable, but in no event later than thirty (30) days after the event constituting the Change in Control has occurred. Triad Member's failure to give the Change in Control Notice shall not affect DHCC Member's rights granted herein.

(b) For purposes of the Agreement, a "Change in Control" means any of the following: (i) a merger or consolidation of Triad Parent into or with, or any transfer or conveyance of Triad Parent securities to, any other Person or Persons who are not Affiliates of Triad Parent in a single transaction or a series of related transactions, in which the stockholders of Triad Parent immediately prior to such transaction or first of such series of transactions, directly or indirectly, possess less than fifty percent (50%) of the voting power of Triad Parent's or any successor entity's issued and outstanding capital stock immediately after such transaction or series of such transactions; (ii) a single transaction or series of related transactions pursuant to which a Person or Persons who are not Affiliates of Triad Parent acquire all or substantially all of Triad Parent's assets, determined on a consolidated basis; or (iii) the approval by the holders of capital stock of Triad Parent of any plan or proposal for the liquidation or dissolution of Triad Parent.

(c) DHCC Member shall have sixty (60) days after its receipt of the Change in Control Notice to give written notice to Triad Member and the Company of its election to exercise the option to sell all, but not less than all, of its Units to Triad Member (the "Election Notice") If DHCC Member fails to give an Election Notice within the applicable sixty (60) day time limit, the option to sell shall lapse. The closing of the purchase and sale of DHCC Member's Units to Triad Member shall be held at a mutually acceptable place on a mutually acceptable date not more than one hundred twenty (120) days after the date on which the Election Notice is received by Triad Member. Triad Member shall make payment to DHCC Member for the Units being purchased by delivering immediately available funds to an account designated by DHCC Member in the full amount of the purchase price applicable to the Units. DHCC Member shall transfer to Triad Member all, but not less than all, of the Units being sold, free and clear of all claims, liabilities, options, pledges or other encumbrances of any kind (other than those arising under the Agreement and applicable law).

14.5 Appraised Value.

(a) The Appraised Value of the Units shall be the product determined by multiplying (i) the Appraised Fair Market Value of the Company (hereinafter defined), times (ii) DHCC Member's Sharing Percentage. For purposes of this Agreement, the term "Appraised Fair Market Value of the Company" shall mean the fair market value of the Company, as determined below.

(b) Triad Member and DHCC Member shall negotiate in good faith with one another following the Election Notice to determine the Appraised Fair Market Value of the Company, Triad Member and DHCC Member agree to use their best efforts to negotiate an agreed upon Appraised Fair Market Value of the Company. If Triad Member and DHCC Member reach an agreement as to the Appraised Fair Market Value of the Company, then the Appraised Fair Market Value of the Company shall be the amount determined by Triad, Member and DHCC Member.

(c) If Triad Member and DHCC Member are unable to agree upon the Appraised Fair Market Value of a Company within thirty (30) days following the date Triad Member receives an Election Notice, then either party may notify the other party that it is initiating the Appraisal Process, described below (or such other appraisal process upon which the parties may mutually agree in writing within ten (10) days of the date on which either party has initiated the appraisal process (the "Alternate Appraisal Process")). If either Triad Member or DHCC Member shall have initiated the Appraisal Process (and the parties shall not have agreed in writing to an Alternate Appraisal Process within ten (10) days), then Triad Member and DHCC Member shall each engage a Qualified Appraiser (collectively, the "Initial Appraisers", and individually, an "Initial Appraiser") within twenty (20) days after the date upon which the party received notice that the other party's intent to initiate the Appraisal Process (the "Initiation Date). Triad Member and DHCC Member also shall engage jointly one additional Qualified Appraiser that is mutually acceptable to the parties (the "Third Appraiser", the Initial Appraisers and the Third Appraiser are referred to collectively as the "Appraisers"). If the parties cannot agree upon the identity of the Third Appraiser within twenty (20) days after the Initiation Date, the parties shall direct the Initial Appraisers to select and engage the Third Appraiser on behalf of the parties. Each of Triad Member and DHCC Member shall pay the fees and expenses of its respective Appraiser, and the fees and expenses of the Third Appraiser shall be shared equally by Triad Member and DHCC Member. For purposes of the Agreement, the term "Qualified Appraiser" shall mean an independent, third party, nationally recognized investment bank or MAI-certified appraiser who (i) is experienced in the valuation of health care entities comparable to the Company and (ii) has, within the twenty-four (24) month period preceding the date of the Election Notice, delivered appraisals and/or fairness opinions, on a going concern basis, in connection with at least three (3) other transactions involving the sales of hospitals. The Appraisers so selected shall each then conduct an appraisal to determine the Appraised Fair Market Value of the Company (i) on a going concern basis, (ii) using valuation techniques then customary and accepted in the industry, (iii) using performance information respecting the Facilities that is acceptable to Triad Member and DHCC Member and that has been supplied to each of the Appraisers, (iv) viewing the enterprise of the Company as a whole, (v) taking into account the future prospects of the Facilities, and (vi) assuming that the Company were to be sold on a stand-alone basis (and not as a part of a portfolio sale). Each Appraiser's determination of the Appraised Fair Market Value of the Company (individually, a "Valuation" and collectively, the "Valuations") shall be expressed as a single value rather than a range of values, Each party shall cause the Initial Appraiser engaged by it to submit such Initial Appraiser's sealed Valuation to the other party within sixty (60) days of the Initiation Date, and both parties shall use their reasonable best efforts to cause the Third Appraiser to submit its sealed Valuation to both parties within such period. Once Triad Member and DHCC Member have received from all three Appraisers their respective Valuations, the Appraised Fair Market Value of the Company shall be determined based upon the Valuations as follows:

- (i) if the three Valuations are within five percent (5%) of another (i.e., if each of the highest Valuation and the middle Valuation is no greater than 1.05 times the lowest Valuation), the Appraised Fair Market Value of the Company shall be the average of all three Valuations;
- (ii) if subsection (i) above is inapplicable and two Valuations are within five percent (5%) of one another (i.e., if the higher of such two Valuations is no greater than 1.05 times the lower of such two Valuations), the Appraised Fair Market Value of the Company shall be the average of such two Valuations;
- (iii) if subsections (i) and (ii) above are inapplicable and the three Valuations are within ten percent (10%) of one another (i.e., if each of the highest Valuation and the middle Valuation is no greater than 1.10 times the lowest Valuation); the Appraised Fair Market Value of the Company shall be the average of all three Valuations;
- (iv) if subsections (i) through (iii) above are inapplicable and two Valuations are within ten percent (10%) of one another if the higher of such two Valuations is no greater than 1.10 times the lower of such two Valuations), the Appraised Fair Market Value of the Company shall be the average of such two Valuations;
- (v) if subsections (i) through (iv) above are inapplicable and the three Valuation are within twenty percent (20%) of one another (i.e., if each of the highest Valuation and the middle Valuation is no greater than 1.20 times the lowest Valuation), the Appraised Fair Market Value of the Company shall be the average of all three Valuations;
- (vi) if subsections (i) through (v) above are inapplicable and two Valuations are within twenty percent (20%) of one another (i.e., if the higher of such two Valuations is no greater than 1.20 times the lower of such two Valuations), the Appraised Fair Market Value of the Company shall be the average of such two Valuations; and
- (vii) if subsections (i) through (vi) above are inapplicable, the Appraised Fair Market Value of the Company shall be the average of all three Valuations.

V. DISSOLUTION.

15.1 Causes. Each Member expressly waives any right which it might otherwise have to dissolve the Company except as set forth in this Article XV. The Company shall be dissolved upon the first to occur of the following:

- (a) The Approval by the Members of an instrument dissolving the Company,

(b) The dissolution of the Company by judicial decree;

(c) The Approval of the Board of the dissolution of the Company after having determined that a rule, ordinance, regulation, statute or government pronouncement has or may be enacted that would make any material aspect of this Agreement or the activities conducted by the Company unlawful or eliminate or substantially reduce, either directly or indirectly, the benefits that would accrue to the Members with respect to continuing the Company's business operations; provided, however, that the Members agree to first use their best efforts to restructure the Company in such a manner that Will avoid the unlawful or adverse effect and, to the extent practicable, will preserve the existing financial and business relationships among them;

(d) The failure of the Company to satisfy the Standards as set forth in Section 3.2; or

(e) The termination or non-renewal of the Management Agreement.

Nothing contained in this section 15.1 is intended to grant to any Member the right to dissolve the Company at will (by retirement, resignation, withdrawal or otherwise), or to exonerate any Member from liability to the Company and the remaining Members if it dissolves the Company at will. Any dissolution at will of the Company shall be in contravention of this Agreement for purposes of the Act. Dissolution of the Company under Section 15.1(c) shall not constitute a dissolution at will.

XVI WINDING UP ANT) TERMINATION.

16.1 General. If the Company is dissolved and is not reconstituted, the Manager (or the event that the Manager has withdrawn as Manager, a Liquidator or liquidating committee, selected by those Members who own at least eighty percent (80%) of the aggregate Members' Sharing Percentages) shall commence to wind up the affairs of the Company and to liquidate and sell the Company's assets. The party or parties actually conducting such liquidation in accordance with the foregoing sentence, whether the Manager, a liquidator or a liquidating committee, is herein referred to as the "Liquidator." The Liquidator (if other than the Manager) shall have sufficient business expertise and competence to conduct the winding up and termination of the Company and, in the course thereof, to cause the Company to perform any contracts which the Company has or thereafter enters into. The Liquidator shall have full right and unlimited discretion to determine the time, manner and terms of any sale or sales of Company property under such liquidation, having due regard far the activity and condition of the relevant market and general financial and economic conditions. The Liquidator (if other than the Manager) appointed as provided herein shall be entitled to receive such reasonable compensation for its services as shall be agreed upon by the Liquidator and those Members who own at least eighty percent (80%) of the aggregate Members' Sharing Percentages. If the Manager serves as the Liquidator, the Manager shall not be entitled to receive any fee for carrying out the duties of the Liquidator. The Liquidator (if other than the Manager) may resign at anytime by giving fifteen (15) days prior written notice and may be removed at any time, with or without cause, by written notice of Members who own at least eighty percent (80%) of the aggregate Members' Sharing Percentages. Upon the death, dissolution, removal or resignation of the Liquidator, a successor and substitute Liquidator (who shall have and succeed to all the rights, powers and duties of the original Liquidator) will, within thirty (30) days thereafter, be appointed by those Members who own at least eighty percent (80%) of the aggregate Members' Sharing Percentages, evidenced by written appointment and acceptance. The right to appoint a successor or substitute Liquidator in the manner provided herein shall be recurring, and continuing for so long as the functions and services of the Liquidator are authorized to continue under the provisions hereof, and every reference herein to the Liquidator will be deemed to refer also to any such successor or substitute Liquidator appointed in the manner herein provided. The Liquidator shall have and may exercise, without further authorization or consent of any of the parties hereto or their legal representatives or successors in interest, all of the powers conferred upon the Manager under the terms of this Agreement to the extent necessary or desirable in the good faith judgment of the Liquidator to perform its duties and, functions. The Liquidator (if other than the Manager) shall not be liable to the Members except to the extent provided in the Act and shall, while acting in such capacity on behalf of the Company, be entitled to the indemnification rights set forth in Section 17.1 hereof.

16.2 Court Appointment of Liquidator. If the Manager does not serve as the Liquidator and, within ninety (90) days, following the date of dissolution or other time provided in Section 16.1 hereof, a Liquidator or successor Liquidator has not been appointed in the manner provided therein, any interested party shall have the right to make application to any United States Federal District Judge (in his individual and not judicial capacity) for the Western District of Oklahoma for appointment of a Liquidator or successor Liquidator, and the Judge, acting as an individual and not in his judicial capacity, shall be fully authorized and empowered to appoint and designate a Liquidator or successor Liquidator who shall have all the powers, duties, rights and authority of the Liquidator herein provided.

16.3 Liquidation. The Liquidator shall give all notices to creditors of the Company and shall make all publications required by the Act. In the course of winding up and terminating the business and affairs of the Company, the assets of the Company (other than cash) shall be sold or distributed in kind to the Members, in the reasonable discretion of the Liquidator, its liabilities and obligations to creditors, including any Members who made loans to the Company as provided in Section 4.5 hereof, and all expenses incurred in its liquidation shall be paid, and all resulting items of Company income, gain, loss or deduction shall be credited or charged to the Capital Accounts of the Members in accordance with Article V hereof. The fair market value of any assets of the Company distributed in kind to the Members shall be determined by an independent appraiser chosen by the Board of Directors. Any distribution in kind need not be made on a pro rata basis so long as the value of the assets and cash (if any) distributed to each Member is in compliance with this Article. All Company assets (except to the extent reserves have been established pursuant to Section 16.4 hereof) shall be distributed among all Members having positive Capital Account balances (as determined after giving effect to all adjustments attributable to allocations of items of profit and loss realized by the Company during the Fiscal Year in question (including items of profit and loss realized on the liquidation) and all adjustments attributable to contributions and distributions of money and property effected prior to such distribution), pro rata in accordance with such positive Capital Account balances. This distribution shall be made no later than the end of the fiscal year during which the Company is liquidated (or, if later, ninety (90) days after the date on which the Company is liquidated). Upon the completion of the liquidation of the Company and the distribution of all the Company assets, the Company shall terminate and the Liquidator shall have the authority to execute and record all documents required to effectuate the dissolution and termination of the Company. In the discretion of the Liquidator, a pro rata portion of the distributions that would otherwise be made to the Members may instead be distributed to a trust established for the benefit of the Members for the purposes of liquidating Company property, collecting amounts owed to the Company, and paying any contingent or unforeseen liabilities or obligations of the Company or of the Members arising out of or in connection with the, Company. The assets of any such trust shall be distributed to the Members from time to time, in the reasonable discretion of the Liquidator, in the same proportions as the amount distributed to such, trust by the Company would otherwise have been, distributed to the Members pursuant to this Agreement.

16.4 Creation of Reserves. After making payment or provision for payment of all debts and liabilities of the Company and all expenses of liquidation, the Liquidator may set up such cash reserves as the Liquidator may deem reasonably necessary for any contingent or unforeseen liabilities or obligations of the Company.

16.5 Final Statement. Within a reasonable, time following the completion of the liquidation, the Liquidator shall supply to each of the Members a statement which shall set forth the assets and the liabilities of the Company as of the date of complete liquidation; each Member's pro rata portion of distributions under Section 16,3 hereof, and the amount retained as reserves by the Liquidator under Section hereof.

XVII. MISCELLANEOUS.

17.1 Standard of Care of Board of Directors; Indemnification.

(a) The members of the Board of Directors (the "Board Representatives") shall not be liable, responsible or accountable in damages to any Member or the Company for any act or omission on behalf of the Company performed or omitted by them in good faith and in a manner reasonably believed by them to be in the best interests of the Company and, in the case of a criminal proceeding, had no reasonable cause to believe that the conduct was unlawful.

(b) To the fullest extent permitted by the Act, the Company shall indemnify each Board Representative against reasonable expenses (including reasonable attorneys' fees), judgments, taxes, penalties, fines (including any excise tax assessed with respect to an employee benefit plan) and amounts paid in settlement (collectively "Liability"), incurred by the Board Representative in connection with defending any threatened, pending or completed action; suit or proceeding (whether civil, criminal, administrative or investigative, and whether formal or informal) to which the Board Representative is, or is threatened to be made, a party because they are or were a Board Representative, provided that (i) the Board Representative acted in good faith and in a manner reasonably believed by the Board Representative to be in the best interest of the Company; (ii) in the case of a criminal proceeding, the Board Representative had no reasonable cause to believe the conduct was unlawful; (iii) in connection with a proceeding brought by or in the right of the Company, the Board Representative was not adjudged liable to the Company, and (iv) the Board Representative was not adjudged liable in a proceeding charging improper personal benefit.

(c) To the fullest extent authorized or permitted by the Act, the Company shall pay or reimburse reasonable expenses (including reasonable attorneys' fees) incurred by a Board Representative who is a party to a proceeding in advance of final disposition of such proceeding if (i) the Board Representative furnishes the Company a written affirmation of its, his or her good faith belief that it, he or she has met the standard of conduct described in Section 17.1(b) hereof; (ii) the Board Representative furnishes the Company a written undertaking, executed personally or on the Board Representatives behalf, to repay the advance if it is ultimately determined that the Board Representative did not meet the standard of conduct and the Board reasonably believes such Board Representative would have the ability to repay such advance, and (iii) a determination is made that the facts then known to those making the determination would not preclude indemnification under the provisions of Section 17.1(b) hereof.

(d) The indemnification against Liability and advancement of expenses provided by, or granted pursuant to, this Section 17.1 shall not be deemed exclusive of any other rights to which these seeking indemnification or advancement may be entitled under any agreement, action of Members or otherwise, both as to action in their official capacity and as to action in another capacity while holding such office of the Company, shall continue as to an entity or person who has ceased to be a Board Representative, and shall inure to the benefit of the successors, assigns, heirs, executors and administrators of such an entity or person.

(e) Any repeal or modification of this Section 17.1 by the Members shall not adversely affect any right or protection of the Board Representatives under this Section 17.1 with respect to any act or omission occurring prior, to the time of such repeal or modification.

17.2 Notices. All notices given pursuant to this Agreement shall be in writing and shall be deemed effective when personally delivered or when placed in the United States mail, registered or certified with return receipt requested, or when sent by prepaid telegram or facsimile followed by confirmatory letter. For purposes of notice, the addresses of the Members shall be as stated under their names on the attached Exhibit B; provided, however, that each Member shall have the right to change its address with notice hereunder to any other location by the giving of thirty (30) days notice to the Manager in the manner set forth above.

17.3 Governing Law. This Agreement shall be governed by and construed in accordance with the substantive federal laws of the United States and the laws of the State of Delaware; provided, however, that the conflicts of law principles of the State of Delaware shall not apply to the extent that they would operate to apply the laws Of another state.

17.4 Waiver of Trial by Jury. EACH PARTY HERETO HEREBY IRREVOCABLY WAIVES ANY AND ALL RIGHTS IT MAY HAVE TO DEMAND THAT ANY ACTION, PROCEEDING OR COUNTERCLAIM ARISING OUT OF OR, IN ANY WAY RELATED TO THIS AGREEMENT OR THE RELATIONSHIPS OF THE PARTIES HERETO BE TRIED BY JURY. THIS WAIVER EXTENDS TO ANY AND ALL RIGHTS TO DEMAND A TRIAL BY JURY ARISING FORM ANY SOURCE INCLUDING, BUT NOT LIMITED TO, THE CONSTITUTION OF THE UNITED STATES OR ANY STATE THEREIN, COMMON LAW OR ANY APPLICABLE STATUTE OR REGULATIONS. EACH PARTY HERETO ACKNOWLEDGES THAT IT IS KNOWINGLY AND VOLUNTARILY WAIVING ITS RIGHT TO DEMAND TRIAL BY JURY.

17.5 Successors and Assigns. This Agreement shall be binding upon and shall inure to the benefit of the Members, and their respective heirs, legal representatives, successors and permitted assigns; provided, however, that nothing contained herein shall negate or diminish the restrictions set forth in Articles XIII or XIV hereof.

17.6 Construction. Every Covenant, term, and provision of this Agreement shall be construed simply according to its fair meaning and not, strictly for or against any Member. The failure by any party to specifically enforce any term or provision hereof or any rights of such party hereunder shall not be construed as the waiver by that party of its rights hereunder. The waiver by any party of a breach or violation of any provision of this Agreement shall not operate as, or be construed to be, a waiver of any subsequent breach of the same or other provision hereof.

17.7 Time. Time is of the essence with respect to this Agreement.

17.8 Waiver of Partition. Notwithstanding any statute or principle of law to the contrary, each Member hereby Agrees that, during the term of the Company, it shall have no right (and hereby waives any right that it might otherwise have had) to cause any Company property to be partitioned and/or distributed in kind.

17.9 Entire Agreement. This Agreement contains the entire agreement among the Members relating to the subject matter hereof, and all prior agreements relative hereto which are not contained herein are terminated.

17.10 Amendments. Except as otherwise expressly provided in this Section 18.10, amendments or modifications may be made to this Agreement only by setting forth such amendments or modifications in each document Approved by the Members, and any alleged amendment or modification herein which is not so documented and approved shall not be effective as to any Member; provided, however, that Sections 3.1, 3.2, 3.4, 3.5, 4.2, 6.1, 8.3, 10.1, 10.2, 12.1, 12.5, 12.6, 14.2 and 15.1 shall not be amended without the consent of the DHCC Members. The Manager may, without the approvals set forth in this Section 17.10, amend any provision of this Agreement and execute, swear to, acknowledge, deliver, file and record whatever documents may be required connection therewith to reflect:

(c) qualification of the Company as a limited liability company under the laws of any state or that is necessary or advisable in the opinion of the Manager to ensure that the Company will not be treated as an association taxable as a corporation for federal income tax purposes, provided, in either case, such action shall not adversely affect any Member, or

(d) a change that is required or contemplated by this Agreement;

However, no amendment or modification which disproportionately affect the interest of any Member in the governance, capital, Profits or Losses of; or distributions or allocations with respect to, the Company shall be effective as to any Member unless the same has been set forth in a document duly executed by such Member.

If any provision of this Agreement or the application thereof to any Person or circumstance shall, for any reason and to any extent, be invalid or unenforceable, but the extent of such invalidity or unenforceability does not destroy the basis of the bargain among the Members as expressed herein, the remainder of this Agreement and the application of such provision to other Persons or circumstances shall not be affected thereby, but rather shall be enforced to the greatest extent permitted by law.

(i) Any item of Company profit that is exempt from federal income tax and not otherwise taken into account in computing Adjusted Net Income Or Loss pursuant to this Section 1.1(b) shall be treated as additional Gross Income and, if not otherwise allocated pursuant to Section

(d) All Member Nonrecourse Deductions, attributable to a Member Nonrecourse Debt shall be allocated among the Members bearing the Economic Risk Of Loss for such debt; provided, however, that if more than one Member bears the Economic Risk Of Loss for such debt, the Member Nonrecourse Deductions attributable to such debt shall be allocated to and among such Members, pro rata in the same proportion that their Economic Risks Of Loss bear to one another.

(e) All Nonrecourse Deductions shall be allocated among the Members, pro rata in accordance with their respective Sharing Percentages.

(f) Any Adjusted Net Income realized by the Company for such year and, except as provided in Section 3.1(h) hereof, any Book Gain derived from a Capital Transaction occurring during such year and not allocated pursuant to Sections 3.1(a), 3.1(b), 3.1(c), 3.1(d), and 3.1(e) and Section 3.4 hereof, shall be allocated among the Members, as necessary, so as to cause the balances in their respective Section 704 Capital Accounts to be in the same ratio to one another as are their Sharing Percentages, with all remaining amounts of Adjusted Net Income and Book Loss to be allocated to the Members, pro rata in accordance with their respective Sharing Percentages.

(g) Any Adjusted Net Loss realized by the Company for such year and, except as provided in Section 3.1(h) hereof, any Book Loss derived from a Capital Transaction occurring during such year and not allocated pursuant to Sections 3.1(a), 3.1(b), 3.1(c), 3.1(d), and 3.1(e) and Section 3.4 hereof shall be allocated among the Members, as necessary, so as to cause the balances in their respective Section 704 Capital Accounts to be in the same ratio to one another as are their Sharing Percentages, with all remaining amounts of Adjusted Net Loss and Book Loss to be allocated to the Members pro rata in accordance with their respective Sharing Percentages.

(h) Book Gain Or Loss derived from a Capital Transaction that is entered into in connection with, or results in, the Liquidation of the Company shall be allocated among the Members as follows in the following order of priority (after giving effect to all adjustments attributable to allocations of items of Company profit and loss made pursuant to the preceding provisions of this Section 3.1 and Section 3.4 for such year and after giving effect to all adjustments attributable to contributions and distributions of money and property effected prior to such determination).

(i) Book Gain remaining after the allocations provided for in Sections 3.1(a), 3.1(b) and 3.1(c) hereof shall be allocated as follows and in the following order of priority:

(A) First: Book Gain equal to the deficit balance (if any) in each Member's Capital Account shall be allocated to such Member.

(B) Second: An amount of Book Gain shall be allocated next among the Members to the least extent necessary to cause their positive Section 704 Capital Account balances to equal their respective Sharing Percentages.

(C) Third: All remaining amounts of Book Gain shall be allocated among the Members pro rata in accordance with their respective Sharing Percentages.

(ii) Book Loss (if any) shall be allocated as follows and in the following order of priority:

(A) First: Book Loss shall be allocated to the Members to the least extent necessary to cause the positive balances in their Section 704 Capital Accounts to be in the same proportion to one another as are their respective Sharing Percentages.

(B) Second: All remaining amounts of Book Loss shall be allocated among the Members pro rata in accordance with their respective Sharing Percentages.

(i) For purposes of determining the nature (as ordinary or capital) of any Company profit allocated among the Members for Federal income tax purposes pursuant to this Section 3.1, the portion of such profit required to be recognized as ordinary income pursuant to Sections 1245 and/or 1250 of the Code shall be deemed to be allocated among the Members in the same proportion that they were allocated and they claimed the Book Depreciation deductions, or basis reductions, directly or indirectly giving rise to such treatment under Sections 1245 and/or 1250 of the Code.

(j) The parties intend that the foregoing allocation provisions of this Section 3.1 shall produce Section 704 Capital Account balances of the Members that will permit liquidating distributions that are made in accordance with final Capital Account balances under Section 16.3 of the Agreement to be made to the Members, pro rata in accordance with their respective Sharing Percentages. To the extent that the allocation provisions of this Section 3.1 would fail to cause the Members' final Capital Account balances to be in such ratio, (i) such provisions shall be amended by the Members if and to the extent necessary to produce such result and (ii) taxable income and taxable loss of the Company for prior open years (or items of Gross income and Deductible Expenses of the Company for such years) shall be reallocated among the Members to the extent it is not possible to achieve such result with allocations of items of income (including Gross Income) and Deductible Expenses for the current year and future years. This Section 3.1(j) shall control notwithstanding any reallocation or adjustment of taxable income, taxable loss, or items thereof by the Internal Revenue Service or any other taxing authority.

Section 3.2 Allocation of Tax Items.

(a) Except as otherwise provided in the succeeding provisions of this Section 3.2, each Tax Item shall be allocated among the Members in the same manner as each correlative item of profit or loss, as calculated for book purposes, is allocated pursuant to the provisions of Section 3.1 and Section 3.4 hereof.

(b) The Members hereby acknowledge that all Tax Items in respect of any Book/Tax Disparity Property owned by the Company are required to be allocated among the Members in the same manner as under Section 704(c) of the Code (as specified in Sections 1.704-1(b)(2)(iv)(f) and 1.704-1(b)(2)(iv)(g) of the Regulations) and that the principles of Section 704(c) of the Code require that such Tax Items must be shared among the Members so as to take account of the variation between, the adjusted tax basis and Book Basis of each such Book/Tax Disparity Property. Thus, notwithstanding anything in Sections 3.1 or 3.2(a) to the contrary, the Members' distributive shares of Tax Items in respect of each Book/Tax Disparity Property shall be separately determined and allocated among the Members in accordance with the principles of Section 704(c) of the Code. For purposes of making tax allocations pursuant to Section 704(c) of the Code (including allocations pursuant to Section 1.704-1(b)(2)(iv)(f) if a Revaluation Event occurs) the Manager shall determine the method or methods to be used by the Company.

Section 3.3 Allocations, Of Profit And Loss And Distributions In Respect Of Interests Transferred.

(a) If any Unit or other interest in the Company is transferred, or is increased or decreased by reason of the admission of a new Member or otherwise, during any Fiscal Year, each item of Adjusted Net Income Or Loss, Book Gain Or Loss and other Company profit and loss for such year shall be divided and allocated among the Members in question by taking account of their varying interests in the Company during such year on a daily, monthly or other basis, as determined by the Manager using any permissible method under Section 706 of the Code and the Regulations thereunder,

(b) Distributions of Company in respect of a Unit or other interest in the Company shall be made only to the persons or entities who, according to the Company's books and records, are the holders of record of the Units or other interests in the Company in respect of which such distributions are made on the actual date of distribution. Neither the Company nor the Manager shall incur any liability for making distributions in accordance with the provisions of the preceding sentence, whether or not the Company or the Manager has knowledge or notice of any transfer or purported transfer of ownership of any Unit or other interest in the Company.

(c) Notwithstanding any provision above to the contrary, Book Gain Or Loss (and taxable gain or loss to the extent permitted by the Code and Regulations) realized in connection with a sale or other disposition of any Company properties shall be allocated solely among the parties owning Units or other interests in the Company as of the date such sale or other disposition occurs.

All capitalized terms used herein and not otherwise defined herein are as deed in the LLC Agreement.

IT IS THEREFORE, AGREED AS FOLLOWS:

1. GRANT OF OPTION TO PURCHASE. DHCC hereby grants to Triad Sub the irrevocable right, at its option, during the Option Period (as hereinafter defined), to purchase on the Purchase Date (as hereinafter defined), all, but not less than all, of the Units in the Company held by DHCC and its affiliates in exchange for payment in cash of the Purchase Price (as hereinafter defined). The Option Period shall be any period during which the Sharing Percentage of DHCC and its affiliates in the Company is less than twenty percent (20%).

2. DETERMINATION OF PURCHASE PRICE. The Purchase Price (herein so called) shall be the product determined by multiplying (i) the Appraised Fair Market Value of the Company (hereinafter defined), times (ii) DHCC's Sharing Percentage; provided, however, that during the first two (2) years following the Closing Date, the Purchase Price shall not be less than the price determined in the Assets Valuation ($10,000 per Unit). For purposes of this Agreement, the term "Appraised Fair Market Value of the Company" shall Mean the fair market value of the Company, as determined in accordance with Section 4 of this Agreement.

3. EXERCISE OF OPTION TO PURCHASE. In the event that Triad Sub exercises its option to purchase all, but not less than all, of the Units in the Company held by DHCC and its affiliates, Triad Sub shall give written notice to DHCC of such election (the "Exercise Notice"). The closing of such sale (the "Call Closing") shall take place on a mutually acceptable date and time (the "Purchase Date") (which date shall not be earlier than ninety (90) days and not later than one hundred twenty (120) days after the date on which the Exercise Notice is delivered). Notwithstanding the delivery by Triad Sub to DHCC of the Exercise Notice, for a period of ninety (90) days following the receipt of the Exercise Notice and provided the Option to Purchase between DHCC and Triad Sub dated the date hereof has not terminated, DHCC shall have the option (pursuant to the Option to Purchase) to purchase additional Units in the Company which would give DHCC and its affiliates a Sharing Percentage of at least twenty percent (20%) and thereby eliminate the Exercise Notice (but not the ability of Triad Sub to send a subsequent Exercise Notice in the event the Sharing Percentage of DHCC and its affiliates in the Company thereafter falls below twenty percent (20%)).

4. APPRAISED FAIR MARKET VALUE.

(a) In the event that Triad Sub exercises its option to purchase all (but not less than all) of the Units in the Company held by DHCC and its affiliates, DHCC and Triad Sub shall negotiate in good faith with one another following the Exercise Notice to determine the Appraised Fair Market Value of the Company. DHCC and Triad Sub agree to use their best efforts to negotiate an agreed upon Appraised Fair Market Value of the Company. If DHCC and Triad Sub reach an agreement as to the Appraised Fair Market Value of the Company, then the Appraised Fair Market Value of the Company shall be the amount determined by DHCC and Triad Sub. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Agreement, during the first two (2) years following the Closing Date, the Purchase Price shall not be less than the price determined in the Assets Valuation ($10,000 per Unit).

(b) If DHCC and Triad Sub are unable to agree upon the Appraised Fair Market Value of the Company within thirty (30) days following the date of the Exercise Notice, either DHCC or Triad SO thereafter may notify the other party that it is initiating the appraisal process described below (or such other appraisal process upon which the parties may mutually agree in writing within ten (10) days of the date on which either party has initiated the appraisal process). If either DHCC or Triad Sub shall have initiated the appraisal process (and the parties shall not have agreed in writing to another appraisal process within ten (10) days), then DHCC and Triad shall each, engage a Qualified Appraiser (collectively, the "Initial Appraisers" and individually, an "Initial Appraiser") within twenty (20) days after the date "upon which the parties shall have initiated this appraisal process. DHCC and Triad Sub shall also jointly engage one additional Qualified Appraiser that is mutually acceptable to the parties (the "Third Appraiser"; the Initial Appraisers and the Third Appraiser are referred to collectively as the "Appraisers"). If the parties cannot agree upon the identity of the Third Appraiser within twenty (20) days after the date on which the parties shall have initiated this appraisal process the parties shall direct the Initial Appraisers to select and engage the Third Appraiser on behalf of the parties. Each of DHCC and Triad Sub shall pay the fees and expenses of its respective Appraiser, and the fees and expenses of the Third Appraiser shall be shared equally by DHCC and Triad Sub. For purposes of this Agreement, the term "Qualified Appraiser" shall mean an independent, third party, nationally recognized investment bank or MAI-certified appraiser who (i) is experienced in the valuation of healthcare entities comparable to the Company and (ii) has, within the twenty-four (24) month period preceding the date of the Exercise Notice, delivered appraisals and/or fairness opinions, on a going concern basis, in connection with at least three (3) other transactions involving the sales of hospitals.

(c) The Appraisers so selected shall each then conduct an appraisal to determine the Appraised Fair Market Value of the Company (i) on a going concern basis, (ii) using valuation techniques then customary and accepted in the industry, (iii) using performance information respecting the Hospital that is acceptable to DHCC and Triad Sub and that has been supplied to each of the Appraisers, (iv) viewing the enterprise of the Company as a whole, (v) taking into account the future of the prospects of the Hospital, and (vi) assuming that the Company were sold to be on a stand-alone basis (and, not as a part of a portfolio sale). Each Appraiser's determination of the Appraised Fair Market Value of the Company (individually, a "Valuation" and collectively, the "Valuations") shall be expressed as a single value rather than a range of values. Each party shall cause the Initial Appraiser engaged by it to submit such Initial Appraiser's sealed Valuation to the other party within sixty (60) days of the initiation of this appraisal process, and both parties shall use their reasonable best efforts to cause, the Third Appraiser to submit its sealed Valuation to both parties within such period.

(d) Once all three Appraisers have submitted their respective Valuations, the, Appraised Fair Market Value of the Company shall be determined based upon the Valuations as follows:

(i) if the three Valuations are within 5% of another (i.e., if each of the highest Valuation and the middle Valuation is no greater than 1.05 times the lowest Valuation), the Appraised Fair Market Value of the Company shall be the average of all three Valuations;

(ii) if subsection (i) above is inapplicable and two Valuations are within 5% of one another (i.e., if the higher of such two Valuations is no greater than 1.05 times the lower of such two Valuations), the Appraised, Fair Market Value of the Company shall be the average of such two Valuations;

(iii) if subsections (i) and (ii) above are inapplicable and the three Valuations are within 10% of one another (i.e., if each of the highest Valuation and the middle Valuation is no greater than 1.10 times the lowest Valuation), the Appraised Fair Market Value of the Company shall be the average of all three Valuations;

(iv) if subsections (i) through (iii) above are inapplicable and two Valuations are within 10% of one another (i.e., if the higher of such two Valuations is no greater than 1.10 times the lower of such two Valuations), the Appraised Fair Market Value of the Company shall be the average of Such two Valuations;

(v) if subsections (i) through (iv) above are inapplicable and the three Valuation are within 20% of one another (i.e., if each of the highest Valuation and the middle Valuation is no greater than 1.20 times the lowest Valuation), the Appraised Fair Market Value of the Company shall be the average of all three Valuations;

(vi) if subsections (i) through (v) above are inapplicable and two Valuations are within 20% of one another (i.e., if the higher of such two Valuations is no greater than 1.20 times the lower of such two Valuations), the Appraised Fair Market Value of the Company shall be the average of such two Valuations; and

(vii) if subsections (i) through (vi) above are inapplicable, the Appraised Fair Market Value of the Company shall be the average of all three Valuations.

5. PAYMENT OF PURCHASE PRICE. At the Call Closing:

(a) Triad Sub shall make payment to DHCC for the Units being purchased by delivering immediately available funds to the order of DHCC the full amount of the Purchase Price.

(b) DHCC shall transfer to Triad Sub all, but not, less than all, of the Units being sold, free and clear of all claims, liabilities, options, pledges or other encumbrances of any kind (other than those arising under the LLC Agreement and applicable law).

In addition, to effectively transfer an interest in accordance with this Agreement, the relevant Certificate for Interest or Certificates for Interest must be surrendered or presented at the Company's principal office. Whenever any such Certificate for Interest is so surrendered or presented for transfer, if such transfer otherwise complies with and satisfies the terms of this Agreement, the Managing Member or an Officer shall cause one or more new Certificates for Interest to be issued by the Company in the name of the designated transferee. 15. Certificate(s) for Interest. The interests in the Company of the members shall be evidenced by certificates in the form of Exhibit D hereto, with such changes thereto as may be approved by the Managing Member (the "Certificates for Interest"); provided, however, that nothing contained herein shall be deemed to affect the validity of any Certificate for Interest that may be outstanding on the date of this Agreement. The Certificates for Interest shall constitute "securities" and "certificated securities" governed by, and within the meaning of, Article 8 of the Uniform Commercial Code (as in effect from time to time in the State of Delaware and any other applicable jurisdiction).

Upon receipt of written notice or other evidence reasonably satisfactory to the Company of the loss, theft, destruction or mutilation of any Certificate for Interest and, in the case of any such loss, theft or destruction, upon receipt of the Member's unsecured indemnity agreement, or in the case of any other holder of a Certificate for Interest or Certificates for Interest, other indemnity reasonably satisfactory to the Company, or in the case of any such mutilation upon surrender or cancellation of such Certificate for Interest, the Managing Member, on behalf of the Company, will make and deliver a new Certificate for Interest, of like tenor, in lieu of the lost, stolen, destroyed or mutilated Certificate for Interest.

The Company shall cause to be kept at the Company's principal office an accurate ledger in which the Managing Member shall provide for the issuance and registration of interests in the Company and any transfers of them, which such ledger shall constitute conclusive evidence as to the identity of the Members. 4.7 Advisory Board and Committee Action Without a Meeting:

Any action which may be taken at a meeting by the Advisory Board or a committee thereof may be taken without a meeting if a consent in writing setting forth such action is signed by all of the Advisory Board or members of the committee, as the case may be, and is filed in the minutes of the proceedings of the Advisory Board or of the committee.

Unless otherwise provided in these Bylaws, a majority of the members of any committee shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. After a quorum has been established at a committee meeting, the subsequent withdrawal of committee members from the meeting so as to reduce the number of committee members present to fewer than the number required for a quorum shall not affect the validity of any action taken at the meeting. Each committee shall keep minutes of its meetings and report to the Advisory Board as necessary with recommendations.

Actions of any committee may be taken without a formal meeting of such committee if taken in accordance with the provisions of these Bylaws in Article IV, 4.5 or 4.7 as applicable.

6.6 Resignation or Removal of Committee Members:

A member of any committee of the Advisory Board may resign at any time by tendering his or her resignation in writing to the Chairperson of the Advisory Board. Resignation as an Advisory Board member shall also constitute resignation as a member of any

In the event some but not all of the Members other than the Assuming Member would have Adjusted Capital Account Deficits as a consequence of an allocation of Losses pursuant to section 6.2, the limitation set forth in this subsection 6.2(a) shall be applied on a Member by Member basis so as to allocate the maximum permissible Loss to each Member other than the Assuming Member under Section 1.704-1(b)(2)(ii)(d) of the

(a) Minimum Gain Chargeback. Except as otherwise provided in Section 1.704-2(f) of the Regulations, notwithstanding any other provision of this section 6, if there is a net decrease in Company Minimum Gain during any Company fiscal year or other shorter period, each Member shall be specially allocated items of Company income and gain for such year or other shorter period (and, if necessary, subsequent years) in an amount equal to such Member's share of the net decrease in Company Minimum Gain, determined in accordance with Regulations Section 1.704-2(g). This subsection 6.3(a) is intended to comply with the minimum gain chargeback requirement in Section 1.704-2(f) of the Regulations and shall be interpreted consistently therewith.

(b) Member Minimum Gain Chargeback Except as otherwise provided in Section 1.7042(i)(4) of the Regulations, notwithstanding any other provision of this section 6 except subsection 6.3(a), if there is a net decrease in Member Nonrecourse Debt Minimum Gain attributable to a Member Nonrecourse Debt during any Company fiscal year or other shorter period, each Member who has a share of the Member Nonrecourse Debt Minimum Gain attributable to such Member Nonrecourse Debt, determined in accordance with Section 1.704-2(i)(5) of the Regulations, shall be specially allocated items of Company income and gain for such year or other shorter period (and, if necessary, subsequent years) in an amount equal to such Member's share of the net decrease in Member Nonrecourse Debt Minimum Gain attributable to such Member Nonrecourse Debt, determined in accordance with Regulations Section 1.704-2(i)(4). Allocations pursuant to the previous sentence shall be made in proportion to the respective amounts required to be allocated to each Member pursuant thereto. In the event any Member unexpectedly receives any adjustments, allocations, or distributions described in Regulations Section 1.704- 1(b)(2)(ii)(d)(4), 1.704-1(b)(2)(ii)(d)(5), or 1.704-1(b)(2)(ii)(d)(6), items of income and gain shall be specially allocated to each such Member in an amount and manner sufficient to eliminate, to the extent required by the Regulations, the Adjusted Capital Account Deficit of such Member as quickly as possible, provided that an allocation pursuant to this subsection 6.3(c) shall be made if and only to the extent that such Member would have an Adjusted Capital Account Deficit after all other allocations provided for in this section 6 have been tentatively made as if this subsection 6.3(c) were not in this Agreement.

(d) Gross Income Allocation. In the event any Member has a deficit Capital Account at the end of any Company fiscal year or other shorter period that is in excess of the sum of (i) the amount such Member is obligated to restore, and (ii) the amount such Member is deemed to be obligated to restore pursuant to the penultimate sentences of Regulations Sections 1.704-2(g)(1) and 1.704-2(i)(5), each such Member shall be specially allocated items of Company income and gain in the amount of such excess as quickly as possible, provided that an allocation pursuant to this subsection 6.3(d) shall be made if and only to the extent that such Member would have a deficit Capital Account in excess of such sum after all other allocations provided for in this section 6 have been tentatively made as if subsection 6.3(c) hereof and this subsection 6.3(d) were not in this Agreement.

(e) Nonrecourse Deductions. Nonrecourse Deductions for any fiscal year or other shorter period shall be specially allocated among the Members, in accordance with their respective Percentage Shares.

(g) Code Section 754 Adjustments. To the extent an adjustment to the adjusted tax basis of any Company asset pursuant to Code Section 734(b) or Code Section 743(b) is required, pursuant to Regulations Section 1.704-1(b)(2)(iv)(m)(2) or Regulations Section 1.704-1(b)(2)(iv)(m)(4), to be taken into account in determining Capital Accounts as the result of a distribution to a Member in complete liquidation of his or her Interest, the amount of such adjustment to the Capital Accounts shall be treated as an item of gain (if the adjustment increases the basis of the asset) or loss (if the adjustment decreases such basis), and such gain or loss shall be specially allocated to the Members in accordance with their interests in the Company in the event that Regulations Section 1.704-1(b)(2)(iv)(m)(2) applies, or to the Members to whom such distribution was made in the event that Regulations Section 1.704-1(b)(2)(iv)(m)(4) applies.

(h) Allocations Relating to Taxable Issuance of Company Units. Any income, gain, loss or deduction realized as a direct or indirect result of the issuance of Units by the Company to a Member (the "Issuance Items") shall be allocated among the Members so that, to the extent possible, the net amount of such Issuance Items, together with all other allocations under this Agreement to each Member shall be equal to the net amount that would have been allocated to each such Member if the Issuance Items had not been realized.

(i) Imputed Interest. To the extent the Company has taxable interest income with respect to any promissory note pursuant to Section 483 or Sections 1271 through 1288 of the Code:

(1) Such interest income shall be specially allocated to the Member to whom such promissory note relates; and

(2) The amount of such interest income shall be excluded from the capital contributions credited to such Member's Capital Account in connection with payments of principal with respect to such promissory note.

SECTION 6.4 Curative Allocations. The allocations set forth in subsections 6.2(a), 6.3(a), 6.3(b), 6.3(c), 6.3(d), 6.3(e), 6.3(f) and 6.3(g) hereof (the "Regulatory Allocations") are intended to comply with certain requirements of the Regulations. It is the intent of the Members that, to the extent possible, all Regulatory Allocations shall be offset either with other Regulatory Allocations or with special allocations of other items of Company income, gain, loss, or deduction pursuant to this section 6.4. Therefore, notwithstanding any other provision of this section 6 (other than the Regulatory Allocations), the Board shall make such offsetting special allocations of Company income, gain, loss, or deduction in whatever manner it determines appropriate so that, after such offsetting allocations are made, each Member's Capital Account balance is, to the extent possible, equal to the Capital Account balance such Member would have had if the Regulatory Allocations were not part of this Agreement and all Company items were allocated pursuant to sections 6.1, 6.2, 6.3(h), 6.3(i), and 6.5. In exercising its discretion under this section 6.4, the Board shall take into account future Regulatory Allocations under subsections 6.3(a) and 6.3(b) that, although not yet made, are likely to offset other Regulatory Allocations previously made under subsections 6.3(e) and 6.3(f).

6.5 Other Allocations Rules.

(a) Basis for Determining Profits or Losses. For purposes of determining the Profits, Losses, or any other items allocable to any period, Profits, Losses, and any such other items shall be determined on a daily, monthly, or other basis, as determined by the Board on a consistent basis using any permissible method under Code Section 706 and the Regulations thereunder.

(b) Distributions of Cash treated as proceeds from Nonrecourse Liability or Member Nonrecourse Debt. To the extent permitted by Sections I.704-2(h)(3) of the Regulations, the Board shall endeavor to treat distributions of cash as having been made from the proceeds of a Nonrecourse Liability or a Member Nonrecourse Debt only to the extent that such distributions would cause or increase an Adjusted Capital Account Deficit for any Member.

(c) Allocations of Items Not Otherwise Allocated. Except as otherwise provided in this Agreement, all items of Company income, gain, credit, loss, deduction, and any other allocations not otherwise provided for shall be divided among the Members in the same proportions as they share Profits or Losses, as the case may be, for such fiscal year or other shorter period.

(d) Allocations Binding. The Members are aware of the income tax consequences of the allocations made by this section 6 and hereby agree to be bound by the provisions of this section 6 in reporting their respective shares of Company income and loss for income tax purposes. The Members further intend that pursuant to Regulations Section 1.704-1(b)(3), the Members' respective interests in the Company are equal to their respective Percentage Shares for purposes of complying with Section 704(b) of the Code.

SECTION 6.6 Tax Allocations: Code Section 704(c). In accordance with Code Section 704(c) and the Regulations thereunder, income, gain, loss, and deduction with respect to any property contributed to the capital of the Company shall, solely for tax purposes, be allocated among the Members so as to take account of any variation between the adjusted basis of such property to the Company for federal income tax purposes and its initial Gross Asset Value.

In the event the Gross Asset Value of any Company asset is adjusted pursuant to subsection 6.8(h)(2) hereof, subsequential allocations of income, gain, loss and deduction with respect to such asset shall take account of any variation between the adjusted basis of such asset for federal income tax purposes and its Gross Asset Value in the same manner as under Code Section 704(c) and the Regulations thereunder.

Any elections or other decisions relating to such allocations shall be made by the Board in any manner that reasonably reflects the purpose and intention of this Agreement. Allocations pursuant to this section 6.6 are solely for purposes of federal, state, and local taxes and shall not affect, or in any way be taken into account in computing any Member's Capital Account or share of Profits, Losses, other items, or distributions pursuant to any provision of this Agreement.

SECTION 6.7 Allocations with Respect to Transferred Interests.

(a) General Rule. If any Member's Interest is transferred, or is increased or decreased by reason of the admission of a new Member, or otherwise, during any fiscal year or other shorter period of the Company, Profits or Losses and any other item of income, gain, loss, deduction or credit of the Company for such fiscal year or other shorter period shall be allocated among the Members in accordance with their varying respective Percentage Shares which they had from time to time during such fiscal year or other shorter period in accordance with Code Section 706(d).

(b) Accounting Convention. For convenience in accounting, the Company may, to the extent permitted by law, treat a transfer of an Interest, or an increase or decrease of a Member's Percentage Share, that occurs at any time during a month (commencing with the month including the date of this Agreement) as having been consummated on the first day of that month, regardless of when during that month, the transfer, increase or decrease actually occurs, or adopt such other convention as the Board may lawfully select.

(c) Sale or Other Disposition of All Assets. Notwithstanding anything in section 6.6 to the contrary, gain or loss of the Company realized in connection with the sale or other disposition of all or substantially all Company Property and/or the liquidation of the Company shall be allocated only to Members who own Interests as of the date such transaction occurs.

SECTION 6.8 Allocation Definitions.

If the Gross Asset Value of an asset has been determined or adjusted pursuant to subsections 6.8(h)(1), 6.8(h)(2) or 6.8(h)(3) such Gross Asset Value shall thereafter be adjusted by the depreciation taken into account with respect to such asset for purposes of computing Profits and Losses.

SECTION 7. OBLIGATIONS OF MEMBERS

SECTION 7.1 Related Party Transactions. No transaction or contract to which the Company is or may be a party shall be void, voidable or a breach of fiduciary duty for reason that any Member, or any Affiliate of the Member, is a party thereto. The Company is expressly permitted to enter into transactions with any Affiliates, Affiliates of Members or other Persons in which the Company or its Affiliates have an ownership or investment interest or that have an Interest in the Company, provided that the terms of the transactions are not less favorable to the Company than the terms generally governing comparable transactions between unrelated parties in the geographic area in which the Company is located. Additionally, the Company may obtain loans from its Members which are commercially reasonable. Each Member acknowledges that the Company and the Members, or Affiliates thereof, may enter into certain service agreements with respect to the Business pursuant to which the Member or Affiliate thereof shall be entitled to certain compensation as set forth in such agreement. The Company is authorized to enter into the Affiliation Agreement, Employee Leasing Agreement, Management Agreement and Cash Management Agreements. Except for the Affiliation Agreement, Management Agreement, and Cash Management Agreements, or agreements which comport with the first three sentences of this section 7.1, the related party agreements and any amendments thereto must be approved by the supermajority vote of the Board, as set forth in section 3.4.

SECTION 7.2 Business Activities of Members. Each Member and its Affiliates may engage in other business activities without liability or accounting to the Company. Each Member may participate in other preferred provider organizations, health maintenance organizations or other health care provider businesses, as long as such participation does not preclude the Member from complying with the requirements of the Business and does not violate section 7.3. It shall not be deemed a breach of any Member's duty of loyalty to the Company for that Member to pursue, for that Member's own benefit, any opportunity outside the Area (as defined in section 7.3).

SECTION 7.3 Non-Compete Restriction. Each of the Members agree that from the date of this Agreement until the later of (i) a date when Quorum, Clinic and Summa and their Affiliates are no longer Members, or (ii) twelve months after any termination of the Affiliation Agreement, each of Quorum, Clinic and Summa hereby grant the Company a right of first refusal to develop, acquire or operate all new ventures, enterprises, undertakings or business proposals (other than entering into a non-exclusive provider agreement with a physician) of any kind (a "Proposed Venture") proposed to be developed, acquired or operated by either Quorum or its Affiliates or Clinic or its Affiliates or Summa or its Affiliates wherein the facilities of such Proposed Venture are to be located within an area (the "Area") within a five (5) mile radius of the facilities of the Company at 400 Austin Avenue, N.W., Massillon, Ohio but excluding the area presently constituting the contiguous main campus of Altman Hospital located at 2600 Sixth Street, S.W., Canton, Ohio; provided, that if Quorum, Clinic or Summa or any of their Affiliates acquire or enter into a joint venture or similar arrangement with an acute care hospital or health system based primarily outside the Area the foregoing right of first refusal shall not apply to existing facilities of the acquired entity or system which are already located in the Area as of the date of such acquisition, joint venture or similar arrangements if the acquiring party shall have undertaken reasonable efforts to cause such existing facilities in the Area to be reasonably offered to the Company and such efforts shall have been unsuccessful. The foregoing notwithstanding, "reasonable efforts" shall not include any action by the acquiring party which, in the reasonable judgment of such party, is reasonably anticipated to impair consummation of an acquisition, joint venture or similar arrangement or require any material concession by such party in the negotiations therefore. Each of the Members represent and warrant that with respect to that party and its Affiliates it does not directly or indirectly own or operate any business facilities of any kind within Stark County except that owned by the Company.

(a) Venture Offer. Prior to developing, acquiring or operating any Proposed Venture that is subject to the terms of this section 7.3, Quorum, Clinic or Summa, as applicable, shall give to the Members and Company written notice (the "Venture Notice") which shall include a detailed description of the Proposed Venture and an offer (the "Venture Offer") to the Company to develop, acquire or operate the Proposed Venture.

(b) Venture Period. The Venture Offer shall be irrevocable for a period ending at 11:59 p.m., local time at the Company's principal place of business, on the thirtieth (30th) day following the day the Members and Company receive the Venture Notice (the "Venture Period").

(c) Acceptance of Venture Offer. At any time during the Venture Period, the Board may accept or waive the Company's right to accept the Venture Offer on behalf of the Company by giving written notice of such acceptance or waiver to Quorum, Clinic or Summa, as applicable.

(d) Failure to Accept First Refusal Offer. If the Venture Offer is not accepted by the Company in the manner provided herein, Quorum, Clinic or Summa, as applicable, may commence the development, acquisition or operation of the Proposed Venture (but it shall be limited solely to the matters and pursued in the manner described in the Venture Offer) at any time within three months after the last day of the Venture Period. If the Proposed Venture is not commenced within the preceding time period, Quorum, Clinic or Summa, as applicable, will be required to make a new Venture Offer before commencing the Proposed Venture.

SECTION 7.4 Expenses. With respect to Company approved activities, each Member shall be reimbursed by the Company for all reasonable and necessary expenses approved in advance by the Company and directly and reasonably incurred by it as a Member in the conduct of any Company business; provided that the Member shall submit reasonable documentation to the Board with respect to such expenses prior to receiving any reimbursement thereof.

SECTION 7.5 Compensation. Except for the fees paid to Quorum or an Affiliate of Quorum pursuant to agreements complying with section 7.1, or with the supermajority vote of the Board, no Member or Affiliate thereof shall be entitled to any salary or other compensation from the Company. The compensation for each Member shall be the Cash Available for Distribution under this Agreement and any payment made pursuant to the agreements between the Company and the Member or Affiliate thereof.

SECTION 7.6 Company Property. All real or personal property acquired by or contributed to the Company shall be Company property and title shall be held in the name of the Company. No Member individually shall have any beneficial ownership of such property or the right to have any such property partitioned. No Company property shall be withdrawn or otherwise distributed to any Member unless the Board determines such property is not needed in the operation of the Company, and the distribution shall not impair the solvency of the Company. In such event, unless otherwise agreed upon by the vote of the Members, the Company property shall be distributed to each Member in the proportion of each Member's respective interest in the Company determined as if an Event of Termination had occurred where the Company had disposed of the Company property at its fair market value as of the date of the distribution of the Company property and had distributed its remaining assets pursuant to section 10.

SECTION 7.7 Status of Company for Tax Purposes. The Members intend that the Company be classified as a partnership for federal income tax purposes. The Members shall be under a continuing obligation to perform their duties and responsibilities under this Agreement in light of such intention, and the Company shall do any and all things and acts necessary or appropriate to maintain such classification. The Members understand and acknowledge that the Company shall be treated as a partnership for all Delaware and Ohio state and local taxes if the Company is so classified for federal income tax purposes. Any provisions required by Rev. Proc. 95-10 as it may be amended, supplemented or superseded to be expressly included in this Agreement with respect to a manager-managed (as opposed to a member-managed) limited liability company in order for the Company to be taxed as a partnership and not otherwise set forth herein are hereby expressly incorporated herein by reference. The Company shall do any and all things and acts reasonably necessary or appropriate in order to prevent the Company from becoming a “publicly traded partnership” within the meaning of Section 7704 of the Code and the Regulations thereunder.

SECTION 7.8 Net Worth Representation. After making its initial Capital Contribution as described in section 4.3 hereof, and as of the date of this Agreement, the assets of the Assuming Member (other than its interest in, or claims against, the Company and any other partnerships or limited liability companies in which the Assuming Member owns an interest) shall have an aggregate value exceeding the Assuming Member’s aggregate liabilities, both the assets and liabilities being recorded and reported as required by Rev. Proc. 72-13 (such assets less such liabilities being hereinafter referred to as “Net Worth”), by an amount equal to no less than the amount of Net Worth required of such Assuming Member in order to satisfy the requirements applicable to “manager-managed” limited liability companies under Rev. Proc. 95-10.

Such books and records and financial statements together with any other records and documents required to be made available by the Company for inspection under the Act shall be maintained at the principal office of the Company. Such documents shall be open for inspection and examination, copying, verification or audit thereof by any Member or its duly authorized representative, at the expense of such Member. SECTION 8.3 Tax Matters Partner. Quorum shall act as the Tax Matters Partner as defined in section 6231(a)(7) of the Code. The Company shall provide the Members with a copy of all correspondence and shall keep the Members reasonably informed of any audit, administrative or judicial proceedings involving the potential adjustment at the Company level of any item required to be taken into account by the Members for purpose of Federal income taxation. If any controversy develops with the Internal Revenue Service or any other taxing authority involving the Company, either directly or indirectly, the Board may in respect thereof incur expenses on behalf of the Company which it deems necessary and advisable in the interest of the Company including, without limitation, attorneys’ and accounting fees. The Tax Matters Partner may execute or agree to a settlement or compromise of such controversy, waive or extend the statute of limitation, choose the forum for litigation and file amended tax returns only with the consent of the Board.

SECTION 8.4 Tax Elections. The Board shall have the responsibility for making (and revoking) all tax elections on behalf of the Company (and which are to be made by the Company as opposed to the Members) under the Code.

SECTION 9. LIMITATIONS UPON TRANSFER

SECTION 9.1 Admission of New Member. A new Member may be admitted only upon the vote of the Board and shall be effective only if:

- (a) Approval. The admission of the new Member satisfies the membership criteria established by the Board from time to time;
- (b) Capital Contribution. The proposed new Member has paid in the Initial Capital Contribution in accordance with section 4.3(a) or contributed property, services or other items equivalent thereto and deemed adequate by the Board;
- (c) Assumption. The proposed new Member shall have agreed in writing to assume all obligations as a Member under, and to be bound by, this Agreement; and
- (d) Documents. The proposed new Member shall have executed such documents as the Company may reasonably require for effecting such admission.
- (e) Preemptive Rights. Clinic and Summa shall have received an opportunity to maintain their respective Percentage Share by purchasing a pro rata portion of any new Units issued by the Company, which right shall be exercised within 10 days of notice to Clinic and Summa on the terms and conditions contained in such notice.

SECTION 9.2 Resignation. No Member may resign as a Member from the Company except with the written consent of the other Members. The resignation of the Member shall be treated as a Voluntary Transfer and offer to sell the Interest of such Member as provided in section 9.5.

SECTION 9.3 Voluntary Transfer. Except as provided in section 9.5, no Member may make a Voluntary Transfer of the whole or any portion of its Interest, without the supermajority vote of the Board pursuant to section 3.4. Any Voluntary Transfer in violation of this section 9.3 shall be treated as a resignation by such Member and an offer to sell the Interest of such member as provided in section 9.5.

SECTION 9.4 Involuntary Withdrawal. Upon the Involuntary withdrawal of any Member, the Company shall be dissolved unless within 90 days thereof Quorum, Clinic and Summa (or Members holding a majority of all Interests in the Company if Quorum, Clinic and Summa do not collectively hold a majority in Interests (as such phrase is defined in Revenue Procedure 94-46) in the Company) elect to continue the business of the Company. The Involuntary Withdrawal of the Member shall be treated as an offer to sell the Interest of such Member as provided in section 9.6. In the event the remaining Members do not purchase the Interest of the withdrawing Member and continue the business of the Company upon the Involuntary Withdrawal of a Member, the successor in interest may, upon the written consent of the other Members, become a transferee with respect to the Interest of the Member with the rights set forth in section 9.8.

SECTION 9.5 Purchase Right. Subject to the provisions of subsection (d) of this section 9.5, upon the Voluntary Transfer by a Member (“Selling Member”), the other Members (“Purchasing Members”) shall have the right to purchase (“Purchase Right”) the Interest of the Selling Member as provided in this section 9.5. Any purported Voluntary Transfer other than pursuant to this Agreement is null and void and the Company shall not give any effect to any such attempted Voluntary Transfer. The terms of the Purchase Right are as follows:

- (a) Offer By Selling Member. In the event a Selling Member desires to make a Voluntary Transfer, it shall make an offer in writing to the Purchasing Members (the “Offer”), and the Offer shall include: (i) a statement of the Selling Member’s intention to make a Voluntary Transfer, (ii) the name(s) and address(es) of the prospective third party transferee(s), (iii) the number of Units involved in the proposed third party transaction, and (iv) the full terms and conditions of the transaction (which shall include, but not be limited to, a detailed description of the transaction, including the names and addresses of all parties thereto, and the price, time, method and other conditions of payment), including a true copy of the bona fide written offer presented to the Selling Member by the prospective third party transferee(s) (the “Third Party Offer”).
- (b) Acceptance of Offer. The Purchasing Members may, at each of their option, provide a written notice to the Selling Member of their acceptance of the Offer within 60 days of the date the Purchasing Members received the Offer. If the Offer is not accepted by all Purchasing Members, then any accepting Purchasing Member shall have the right to purchase all of the remaining Units involved in the Offer within the succeeding 15 day period. If not all of the Units described in the Offer have been accepted in the fashion described above, the Offer shall be deemed not accepted by any Purchasing Members. If there is more than one Purchasing Member, the Purchasing Members shall be entitled to purchase pursuant to the Offer in proportion to their respective Percentage Share of Units at the time of the Offer. If the Offer is not accepted, the Selling Member may make a bona fide Voluntary Transfer to the third party transferee named in the statement attached to the Offer but only in strict accordance with the Third Party Offer.
- (c) Purchase Price Determination. The purchase price and the terms and conditions subject to the Offer shall be the same as set forth in the Third Party Offer. The closing of the purchase shall take place at the principal office of the Company and shall occur within 30 days of acceptance of the Offer. At closing, the purchase price shall be paid in accordance with the manner set forth in the Third Party Offer, provided that if the Third Party Offer includes any consideration other than cash, the Purchasing Member(s), at their option, may pay in cash the fair market value of such non-cash consideration.
- (d) Exceptions. The provisions of this section 9.5 are subject to and only arise to the extent that they are not in conflict with (and the rights are subordinate to) any provisions in the Purchase Agreement. The following sales shall be exempt from the provisions of sections 9.3 and 9.5: (i) sale of Interests to physicians practicing within the marketplace served by the Company who are members of the medical staff of the Company’s hospital;

(ii) any Voluntary Transfer by Quorum of up to an aggregate maximum of ten percent (10%) of the Units beneficially owned by Quorum; (iii) a bona fide pledge and bona fide foreclosure or transfer in lieu of foreclosure and transfer thereafter; and (iv) any transfer by Quorum of its Units to one of its Affiliates provided that such Affiliate agrees to be bound hereby.

SECTION 9.6 Purchase Option. Clinic and Summa (“Purchasers”) shall have the option to purchase (“Change In Control Option”) the Interest of Quorum for a price and upon the terms set forth in this section 9.6. Additionally, upon the Involuntary Withdrawal of a Member (the “Selling Member”) the other Members (“Purchasing Members”) shall have the right (the “Involuntary Withdrawal Option”) to purchase the Interest of the Selling Member for a price and upon the terms set forth in this section 9.6.

(a) Exercise. The Change In Control Option and Involuntary Withdrawal Option may be exercised by the Purchasers as follows:

(1) Change of Control. In the event of a Change In Control, as defined herein, of Quorum Health Group, Inc. (“QHG”) in which a Competitor, as defined herein, acquires control of QHG, the Purchasers may exercise the Change In Control Option by giving written notice to Quorum at any time during the 20 day period following a Change In Control of QHG. For purposes of this section 9.6, a “Change In Control” of QHG shall be deemed to have occurred upon the happening of any event, transaction or series of transactions (including, without limitation, a purchase of outstanding or newly issued voting securities, merger, consolidation or business combination) that results in a Competitor increasing its ownership of voting securities of QHG (or an entity that owns fifty percent (50%) or more of the voting securities of QHG) to be in excess of fifty percent (50%) of all outstanding voting securities of QHG (or an entity that owns fifty percent (50%) or more of the voting securities of QHG) as of such date. For purposes of this section 9.6, “Competitor” means Columbia/HCA Healthcare Corporation, University Hospitals of Cleveland and any entity which succeeds to ownership of 50% or more of the voting securities or all or substantially all of the assets of such entities.

(2) Involuntary Withdrawal. The Purchasing Members may, at each of their options, provide written notice to the Selling Member suffering an Involuntary Withdrawal of their intention to exercise their Involuntary Withdrawal Option as provided in this section 9.6 within 15 days of the date the Purchasing Members receive notice of the event of Involuntary Withdrawal. If there is more than one Purchasing Member, the Purchasing Members shall be entitled to purchase in accordance with their respective Percentage Share of Units at the time of the written notice to the Selling Member.

(3) Exceptions. The provisions of this section 9.6 are subject to and only arise to the extent that they are not in conflict with (and the rights are subordinate to) any provisions in the Purchase Agreement.

(b) Purchase Price Determination. Within 20 days of the date of the exercise of a Change In Control Option or Involuntary Withdrawal Option, the affected Members shall mutually agree upon a purchase price for the Interest being sold. If the affected Members are unable to mutually agree upon a purchase price, the affected Members shall mutually select a disinterested appraiser to evaluate the Business and determine the fair market value of the Business. If the affected Members cannot select an appraiser, then the American Arbitration Association shall be petitioned to designate an appraiser. The cost of the appraisal and any necessary arbitration shall be paid one-half by the seller and one-half by the purchasers. The appraiser shall provide a written notice ("FMV Notice") to each affected Member of its determination of the fair market value, which determination shall be binding upon the affected Members. The purchase price for the Interest being acquired pursuant to this section 9.6 shall then be the product of (i) the fair market value of the Business pursuant to the FMV Notice multiplied by (ii) the Percentage Share of Quorum or the Selling Member, respectively.

(c) Closing. The closing of the purchase pursuant to this section 9.6 shall take place at the principal place of business of the Company as such time and during reasonable business hours on such day as designated by the Purchasers or Purchasing Members, provided that such closing shall not be later than 10 days after the purchase price has been determined in accordance with section 9.6(b). Unless otherwise agreed by the Members, the purchase price shall be payable in cash.

SECTION 9.7 Required Return. In the event the Affiliation Agreement expires without being renewed or is terminated for any reason other than termination by Quorum without cause and Company is not participating in a successor agreement or arrangement similar to the Affiliation Agreement which is otherwise acceptable to Company as granting comparable benefits in Company's sole discretion, then the Interest of Summa and Clinic shall be deemed immediately transferred to Quorum, Inc. or its assigns and Summa and Clinic shall no longer have any rights or interest in the Company, under this Agreement or otherwise. In addition, in the event of a "Partial Termination" of the Affiliation Agreement (as defined in section 3.3 of the Affiliation Agreement) by Clinic or the Company, then Clinic's Interest shall be deemed immediately transferred to Quorum, Inc. or its assigns and Clinic shall no longer have any rights or interest in the Company, under this Agreement or otherwise.

SECTION 9.8 Rights of Substitute Member. Unless admitted as a substitute Member pursuant to this section 9.8, any transferee of a Member shall not be entitled to any other rights or privileges of a Member, including without limitation, any rights to inspect Company records or have representatives on the Board. If such transferee is not admitted as a substitute Member, then the rights attributed to the Interest held by the transferee shall not be deemed allocated or otherwise be deemed outstanding for any provision of this Agreement. A transferee of an Interest pursuant to any transfer in accordance with the provisions of this Agreement shall succeed to the Capital Account representing the transferred Interest. A transferee of the whole or any portion of any Interest of a Member shall become a substitute Member with respect to such Interest only if:

(a) Approval. The admission of the substitute Member has been approved by the vote of the Board.

(b) Request. The transferring Member shall have forwarded to the Company a request for admission of the substitute Member, duly executed by the transferring Member and the proposed substitute Member.

(c) Assumption. The proposed substitute Member shall have agreed in writing to assume all obligations of it as a Member under, and to be bound by, this Agreement.

(d) Documents. The transferring Member and the proposed substitute Member shall have executed such documents as the Company may reasonably require for effecting such substitution.

(e) Payment. The transferring Member shall have paid or caused to be paid all costs related to such transfer, including legal fees and other expenses incurred by the Company.

SECTION 9.9 Restrictions on Sale or Exchange. The Interests have not been registered under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, but were issued pursuant to an exemption from such registration. Notwithstanding any provisions to the contrary in this Agreement, no reoffers, reoffers for sale, resale or transfer of the Interests may be made except pursuant to an exemption from such registration under the Securities Act of 1933 and applicable state law evidenced by an opinion of counsel in form and by counsel reasonably satisfactory to the Board. Furthermore, no transfer may be except upon receipt of an opinion of counsel in form and by counsel reasonably satisfactory to the Company that the ownership of the Interest by the assignee shall not violate either the Medicare fraud and abuse statute or the federal, Delaware or Ohio Stark Bill.

SECTION 9.10 Sale of Assets. In the event the Company desires to sell all or substantially all of its assets to a Competitor (as defined in section 9.6(a)(1)) each of Clinic and Summa shall have the right to purchase ("Right of Refusal") such assets as provided in this section 9.10. The terms of the Right of Refusal are as follows:

(a) Offer By Company. In the event Company desires to sell all or substantially all of its assets to a Competitor, it shall make an offer in writing to each of Clinic and Summa (the "Offer"), and the Offer shall include: (i) a statement of the Company's intention to sell all or substantially all of its assets to a Competitor, (ii) the name(s) and address(es) of the prospective third party purchaser(s), (iii) a brief description of the assets involved in the proposed third party transaction, and (iv) the full terms and conditions of the transaction (which shall include, but not be limited to, a detailed description of the transaction, including the names and addresses of all parties thereto, and the price, time, method and other conditions of payment), including a true copy of the bona fide written offer presented to the Company (or third party transferee(s)) by the prospective third party transferee(s) (or the Company) (the "Third Party Offer").

(b) Acceptance of Offer. Clinic and Summa may, at each of their option, provide a written notice to the Company of their acceptance of the Offer within 60 days of the date Clinic or Summa received the Offer. If the Offer is accepted by both Clinic and Summa, then Clinic and Summa shall provide written notice to the Company within 5 days advising the Company which of them will purchase the assets subject to the Third Party Offer or whether they will jointly purchase the assets subject to the Third Party Offer. If such notice is not timely given, the Offer shall be deemed to be rejected by Clinic and Summa. If the Offer is not accepted, the Company may sell the assets to the third party transferee named in the statement attached to the Offer in accordance with the Third Party Offer.

(c) Purchase Price Determination. The purchase price and the terms and conditions subject to the Offer shall be the same as set forth in the Third Party Offer. The closing of the purchase shall take place at the principal office of the Company and shall occur within 30 days of acceptance of the Offer. At closing, the purchase price shall be paid in accordance with the manner set forth in the Third Party Offer, provided that if the Third Party Offer includes any consideration other than cash, the purchaser, at its option, may pay in cash the fair market value of such non-cash consideration.

SECTION 10. DISSOLUTION

SECTION 10.1 Event of Termination. The Company shall continue until terminated upon the happening of any one of the following events:

- (a) Term. Expiration of term of the Company that ends December 31, 2046.
- (b) Consent. The vote of the Board to terminate the Company.
- (c) Involuntary Withdrawal. The Involuntary Withdrawal of a Member, unless the remaining Members elect continue the Company pursuant to section 9.4.
- (d) Sale of Business. The sale or disposition of all or substantially all of the Business.

Upon termination of the Company pursuant to this section 10.1, the company business shall be terminated, its liabilities discharged, its property distributed as hereinafter described, and the Company shall be liquidated. A reasonable period of time shall be allowed for the orderly termination of the business, discharge of its liabilities, and distribution of its remaining cash and other property as Final Distribution Proceeds pursuant to section 5.2.

SECTION 10.2 Winding Up. Upon an Event of Termination, for purposes of the termination of the Company business, discharge of its liabilities, and distribution of its remaining property, the Board shall have the exclusive power and authority to act on behalf of the Company, to terminate the Company business, to sell and convey any property of the Company for such consideration and upon such terms and conditions as the Board reasonably deems appropriate, to discharge the Company's liabilities, to set up and maintain all cash and other reserves permitted pursuant to section 5.3 and to apply all Company property as provided in this section 10.2. The Board shall apply all Company property to pay, or to provide the reserves as then set up and maintained pursuant to section 5.3 for payment of, all expenses of liquidation and to satisfy all liabilities and obligations of the Company as provided by the Act, and then distribute any remaining cash and other property as Final Distribution Proceeds pursuant to section 5.2.

SECTION 10.3 Distribution to Liquidating Trust. In the discretion of the Board assets otherwise distributable to the Members (or assignees) pursuant to section 10.2 may be distributed to a liquidating trust established for the benefit, and upon the agreement, of all Members (and assignees) for purposes of liquidating Company assets, collecting amounts owed to the Company, and paying any contingent or potential liabilities or obligations of the Company. The term of such trust may extend beyond the existence of the Company, and any such extended term shall not be an extension of the Company's existence. All assets of any such trust remaining upon the termination thereof shall be distributed to the Members (and assignees) in the same proportions as such assets would have otherwise been distributed to the Members by the Company.

SECTION 10.4 Restoration of Deficit Capital Account. In the event Clinic or Summa, following an Event of Termination, has a deficit in its Capital Account as a result of a distribution previously made pursuant to section 5, then Clinic or Summa, respectively, shall be obligated to pay to the Company an amount equal to such deficit. In the event the Assuming Member, following an Event of Termination, has a deficit in its Capital Account, then the Assuming Member shall be obligated to pay to the Company an amount equal to such deficit. Any Member required to so contribute shall contribute the amount of such deficit within 30 days of a request for such payment from the Board. No Member other than the Assuming Member, Clinic and Summa shall have any liability for restoration of any negative Capital Account balance, and the Assuming Member, Clinic and Summa shall have no liability for restoration of any other Member's negative Capital Account Balance.

SECTION 11. MISCELLANEOUS

SECTION 11.1 Notices. All notices shall be in writing and shall be sent by (i) personal delivery; (ii) first class mail, postage prepaid; (iii) national overnight courier; or (iv) telecopier, with telephone confirmation. Notice shall be deemed given on the day such notice is delivered to the recipient or, with respect to any mailing, two days after such notice is deposited in the mail. Unless otherwise specified by a notice to the Company all notices shall be given or made upon the Members at the address (or telecopy number) set forth in the records of the Company or as they may be changed from time to time by written notice.

SECTION 11.2 Amendment. This Agreement may be amended in whole or part in a writing approved by the supermajority vote of the Board pursuant to section 3.4. However, no amendment may reduce any right under this Agreement of any transferee of an Interest, including any right attributable to such Interest to participate in allocations or distributions, without the consent of the transferee.

SECTION 11.3 Construction. The following shall be applicable in interpreting and construing the terms of this Agreement:

(a) Complete Agreement. This Agreement contains the entire agreement among the parties and supersedes any prior understandings or agreements between them respecting the subject matter hereof. This Agreement may be executed in several counterparts, and each executed counterpart shall be considered as an original of this Agreement.

(b) Binding. This Agreement shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of the parties, their respective heirs, personal representatives, successors and permitted assigns.

(c) Interpretation. The captions at the beginning of the sections of this Agreement are not part of the context hereof, but are merely labels to assist in locating and reading those sections and shall be ignored in construing this Agreement. Each exhibit and schedule referred to in this Agreement is incorporated by reference.

(d) Governing Law. This Agreement shall be governed by, and construed pursuant to, the laws of the State of Delaware. Each provision of this Agreement is severable from every other provision of this Agreement.

SECTION 11.4 Rights of Third Parties. This Agreement is expressly intended by the parties to benefit at any time solely those persons who at that time are Members pursuant to the provisions of this Agreement and not any other persons including without limitation any creditors of, or other persons claiming through, the Company. This Agreement shall be enforceable, and proceedings to remedy any breach of this Agreement shall be brought, solely by any one or more of the Members or the legal representatives thereof. By way of illustration and not in limitation of the foregoing, the obligation by any Member (other than the Assuming Member) to make capital contributions or to restore any negative balance in a Capital Account is for the benefit solely of the Members and shall not be enforceable by any creditor of, or other person claiming through, the Company.

SECTION 11.5 Business Rights. Under the asset purchase agreement and related agreements executed at closing thereof (collectively, the “purchase agreement”) between the Company and Doctors Hospital, Inc. of Stark County and Comp Care, Inc. (“hospital”) certain rights have been granted to the hospital. In addition, the Company has entered into the Affiliation Agreement, Management Agreement, Cash Management Agreements and Employee Leasing Agreement that imposes certain restrictions and requirements on the Company. The Members each acknowledge that the rights granted under all of these agreements are enforceable against the Company.

SECTION 11.6 Waiver of Action for Partition. Each Member (and assignee) irrevocably waives, during the term of the Company, any right that he may have to maintain any action for partition with respect to the Company and its property.

SECTION 11.7 Survival of Provisions. Whenever possible, each provision and term of this Agreement shall be interpreted in such manner as to be valid and enforceable; provided that in the event any provision or term of this Agreement should be determined to be invalid or unenforceable, all other provisions and terms of this Agreement and the application thereof to all persons and circumstances subject thereto shall remain unaffected to the extent permitted by law.

SECTION 11.8 Arbitration of Disputes. The parties hereto agree that they shall seek to resolve any and all disputes arising under this Agreement or the documents delivered pursuant hereto or otherwise relating to the transactions contemplated hereby in an amicable and businesslike manner through informal discussions. In the event such informal discussions have not produced a resolution of such dispute within fifteen (15) days of commencing such informal discussions, then either party may initiate arbitration proceedings with respect to the dispute. The parties hereby agree that any such arbitration shall be final and binding upon the parties, to the fullest extent permitted by law. Such arbitration proceedings shall be conducted in the State of Ohio and in accordance with the National Health Lawyer's Association Alternative Dispute Resolution Procedures as then in effect.

SECTION 11.9 Recognition of Non-Profit and Exempt Status of Clinic and Summa. The parties hereby acknowledge that (i) Clinic and Summa are tax-exempt organizations pursuant to section 501(c)(3) of the Code and nonprofit corporations under Ohio law and (ii) it is intended that the organization and operation of the Company shall not adversely affect their status as such. Taxation of income received by Clinic or Summa pursuant to this Agreement shall not be deemed to affect such status. Accordingly, the parties agree that, if any action proposed to be taken by the Company shall reasonably be expected to adversely affect the status of either the Clinic or Summa and Clinic or Summa shall have provided Quorum a written description and analysis of the adverse affect, the Members shall attempt, in good faith, to take such action (or refrain from taking such action) as shall be necessary to avoid adversely affecting such status; provided, however, that this section shall not require any Member to take any action (or refrain from taking any action) that is determined (in the reasonable discretion of such Member) to be adverse to its own economic or other interest.

The initial Percentage Share of each Member is set forth in section 4.5. and Exhibit B. Thereafter, such Percentage Share shall be adjusted from time to time in accordance with this section and at all times rounded to the nearest one thousandth of a percent (.00001). If the aggregate Percentage Shares of all Members do not equal one hundred percent (100.000%), then the Members mutually agree to adjust further their Percentage Shares in the smallest amount necessary to cause the aggregate Percentage Shares of all Members to equal one hundred percent (100.000%). All such adjustments shall be reflected on Exhibit B hereto, which shall be revised as a result thereof through the execution of a revised Exhibit B by the President/CEO and attested by the Secretary of the Company. SECTION 2. RIGHTS OF MEMBERS

SECTION 2.1 General. Except for the rights specifically granted to the Members pursuant to this Agreement, the sole right of the Members shall be to appoint Managers to the Board of Managers as set forth herein. The Members authorize the Board to exercise all of the rights and privileges of the Members and for the management and operation of the Company.

SECTION 2.2 Limited Liability. Pursuant to Act § 18-303(b), the Assuming Member will, by separate instrument attached hereto as Exhibit C, become obligated for all debts, obligations and liabilities of the Company and by virtue of such express assumption by the Assuming Member, it is the Assuming Member's express intention and that of the other Members of the Company that the Company lack the corporate characteristic of "limited liability" as described in Regulation section 301.7701-2(d) for as long as the Company is required to lack such corporate characteristic under the Regulations under section 7701 and Rev. Proc. 95-10 in order to remain classified as a partnership for federal income tax purposes. Except as provided above with regard to the Assuming Member, no Member, assignee, manager, board officer or operating officer shall be personally liable for the acts, debts, liabilities, or other obligations of the Company, whether arising in contract, tort or otherwise, or for the acts or omissions of any other Member, assignee manager, board officer or operating officer, employee or agent of the Company. Except as otherwise provided herein (including section 10.4) and by applicable state law, each Member, assignee, manager, board officer or operating officer shall be liable only to make the Capital Contributions that it has agreed to make and for such person's own acts and conduct.

SECTION 2.3 Indemnification. To the maximum extent permitted by law, each Member, board manager, board officer and operating officer of the Company shall be indemnified by the Company against any loss, damage, liability or expense ("Liability") sustained by such Person by reason of such Person's status as a Member, Manager, board officer or operating officer of the Company or any act of such Person performed for or on behalf of the Company or in furtherance of its business or any omission on the parts of such Person, provided that the act or omission was not the result of gross negligence, willful misconduct or fraud on the part of such Person. Each Member agrees to indemnify, defend and hold harmless the Company and the other Members from and against any liability, including but not limited to, interest, penalties and the reasonable fees of its attorney and disbursements, arising out of or resulting from any material noncompliance by the Member with any covenants, agreements or undertakings of the Member contained in this Agreement.

SECTION 2.4 Management Fee. The Members acknowledge that Quorum or Affiliate or Quorum shall be entitled to the Management Fee for providing certain management services to the Company.

SECTION 2.5 Meetings of the Members. Meetings of the Members shall be held at such time, date and place and upon such notice determined by the Board or by two or more Members, and in accordance with the following:

(a) Quorum. Members holding more than fifty percent (50%) of the Units entitled to vote, represented in person or by proxy, shall constitute a quorum at any meeting of Members. In the absence of a quorum at any such meeting, a majority of the Members so represented may adjourn the meeting from time to time for a period not to exceed thirty (30) days without further notice. However, if the adjournment is for more than thirty (30) days, a notice of the adjourned meeting shall be given to each Member of record entitled to vote at the meeting. At such adjourned meeting at which a quorum shall be present or represented, any business may be transacted which might have been transacted at the meeting as originally noticed. The Members present at a duly organized meeting may continue to transact business until adjournment, notwithstanding the withdrawal during such meeting of that number of Members whose absence would cause there to be less than a quorum.

(b) Manner of Acting. If a quorum is present, the affirmative vote of the Members owning a majority of Units represented at the meeting and entitled to vote on the subject matter shall be the act of the Members, unless a greater or lesser proportion or number or class voting for the appointment of Managers is otherwise required by this Agreement.

(c) Proxies. At all meetings of Members, a Member may vote in person or by proxy executed in writing by the Member or by a duly authorized attorney-in-fact. Such proxy shall be filed with the Company before or at the time of the meeting.

(d) Voting by Certain Members.

(1) Units owned in the name of a corporation may be voted by such officer, agent or proxy as the bylaws of such corporation may prescribe, or, in the absence of such provision, as the board of directors of such corporation may determine.

(2) Units owned in the name of a deceased person, a minor ward or an incompetent person, may be voted by an administrator, executor, court appointed guardian or conservator, either in person or by proxy without a transfer of such Units into the name of such administrator, executor, court appointed guardian or conservator. Units owned in the name of a trustee may be voted by him or her, either in person or by proxy, but no trustee shall be entitled to vote Units held by him or her without a transfer of such Units into his or her name.

(3) Units owned in the name of a receiver may be voted by such receiver and Units held by or under the control of a receiver may be voted by such receiver either in person or by proxy, but no receiver shall be entitled to vote Units without a transfer thereof into the receiver's name.

(4) A Member whose Units are pledged shall be entitled to vote such Units until the Units have been transferred into the name of the pledgee, and thereafter the pledgee shall be entitled to vote the Units so transferred.

(5) If Units are owned in the names of two or more persons, whether fiduciaries, members of a partnership, joint tenants, tenants in common, tenants by the entirety, or otherwise, or if two or more persons have the same fiduciary relationship respecting the same Units, voting with respect to the Units shall have the following effect:

(a) If only one person votes, his or her act binds all;

(b) If two or more persons vote, the act of the majority so voting binds all:

(c) If two or more persons vote, but the vote is evenly split on any particular matter, each faction may vote the Units in question proportionately, or any person voting the Units of a beneficiary, if any, may apply to any court of competent jurisdiction in the State of Ohio to appoint an additional person to act with the persons so voting the Units. The Units shall then be voted as determined by a majority of such persons and the person appointed by the court. If a tenancy is held in unequal interests, a majority or even split for the purpose of this subparagraph (c) shall be a majority or even split in interest.

(e) Action by Members Without a Meeting. Action required or permitted to be taken at a meeting of Members may be taken without a meeting if the action is evidenced by one or more written consents describing the action taken, signed by each Member entitled to vote and delivered to the President for filing with the Company records. Action taken under this section (e) is effective when all Members entitled to vote have signed the consent, unless the consent specifies a different effective date.

(f) Voting by Ballot. Voting on any question or in any election may be by voice vote unless the Board or at least two (2) Members shall demand that voting be by ballot.

(g) Waiver of Notice. When any notice is required to be given to any Member, a waiver thereof in writing signed by the person entitled to such notice, whether before, at, or after the time stated therein, shall be equivalent to the giving of such notice. The attendance of a Member at any meeting shall constitute a waiver of notice, waiver of objection to defective notice of such meeting, and a waiver of objection to the consideration of a particular matter at the meeting unless the Member, at the beginning of the meeting, objects to the holding of the meeting, the transaction of business at the meeting, or the consideration of a particular matter at the time it is presented at the meeting.

Recognizing that Managers have a duty of loyalty and fidelity to the Company, each Manager of the Company shall upon appointment and from time to time as appropriate, fully disclose to the Board any material interest he or she may have in an issue in which the Company also has an interest. Any such interest that is materially different from the Company's interest shall constitute a conflict of interest.

(b) Procedure. Any Manager having a conflicting interest in any transaction shall recuse himself or herself from all discussions on the matter and shall not vote on the matter, but such Manager may be counted in determining the quorum for the meeting. The minutes of the meeting should reflect the making of the disclosure, the abstention from voting and the quorum situation. The requirements of this section 3.14(b) shall not be construed as preventing any Manager or officer from briefly stating his or her position in the matter, nor from answering pertinent questions of the Board or other officers. No transaction of the Company shall be voidable solely because a Manager has a direct or indirect interest in the transaction if either the transaction is fair to the Company or the disinterested Managers, knowing the material facts of the transaction and the Manager's interest therein, authorize or ratify the transaction. Except as otherwise provided in this section 3.15 or as otherwise prohibited by law, the Company shall indemnify and defend each person who, by reason of (1) being or at any time having been a Manager or officer of the Company, or (2) any action taken or omitted to be taken by such Manager or officer in his or her capacity as such, is named or otherwise becomes or is threatened to be made a party to any action, suit, investigation or proceeding (or claim or other matter therein) related to the business, affairs or management of the Company, and the Company by the Board may indemnify any other person as deemed proper by the Board, against any and all costs and expenses (including attorney fees, judgments, fines, penalties, amounts paid in settlement, and other disbursements) actually and reasonably incurred by or imposed upon such person in connection with any action, suit, investigation or proceeding (or claim or other matter therein), whether civil, criminal, administrative or otherwise in nature, with respect to which such person is named or otherwise becomes or is threatened to be made a party by reason of being or at any time having been a Manager, officer, employee or other agent of or in a similar capacity with the Company, or by reason of being or at any time having been, at the direction or request of the Company, a trustee, officer, volunteer, administrator, Manager, employee, member, advisor or other agent of or fiduciary for any other corporation, partnership, trust, venture or other entity or enterprise including any employee benefit plan and the Company.

(b) Scope of Indemnity. Unless it is proved, by clear and convincing evidence in a court with jurisdiction that the act or omission of the Manager or officer for which liability is being asserted in an action, suit, or proceeding referred to in section 3.15(a) involved gross negligence, willful misconduct or fraud of such Manager or officers, such Manager or officer who is the subject of an action, suit or proceeding referred to in section 3.15(a) shall be entitled to the indemnification mandated by such section. Any indemnification hereunder shall be satisfied solely out of the assets of the Company. No Member shall be subject to personal liability by reason of these indemnification provisions.

(c) Advancement of Expenses. Upon the request of a Manager, officer or employee who is the subject of an action, suit or proceeding referred to in section 3.15(a), the Company shall pay the expenses incurred by such Manager, officer, or employee in defending the action, suit, or proceeding, including attorney's fees, as they are incurred, in advance of the final disposition of the action, suit, or proceeding, upon receipt of an undertaking by or on behalf of the Manager, officer or employee to repay the amount if it is ultimately determined that he or she is not entitled to be indemnified by the Company.

(d) Discretionary Indemnification. Each request or case of or on behalf of any person other than a Manager, officer or employee, who is or may be entitled to indemnification, shall be reviewed by the Board, and indemnification of such person shall be authorized by the Board only if it is determined by the Board that indemnification is proper in the specific case.

(e) Only in Accordance with Law. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this section, no person shall be indemnified to the extent, if any, it is ultimately determined by a court of competent jurisdiction that indemnification is contrary to applicable Delaware law.

(f) Contractual Rights: Applicability. The right to be indemnified or to the advancement or reimbursement of expenses (i) is a contract right based upon good and valuable consideration, pursuant to which the person entitled thereto may sue as if these provisions were set forth in a separate written contract between such person and the Company; (ii) is and is intended to be retroactive and shall be available as to events occurring prior to the adoption of these provisions; and (iii) shall continue after any rescission or restrictive modification of such provisions as to events occurring prior thereto.

(g) Insurance. The Company may purchase and maintain such insurance on behalf of any person who is or at any time has been a Manager, officer, employee or other agent of or in a similar capacity with the Company, or who is or at any time has been, at the direction or request of the Company, a trustee, officer, volunteer, administrator, Manager, employee, member, advisor or other agent of or fiduciary for any other corporation, partnership, trust, venture or other entity or enterprise including any employee benefit plan against any liability asserted against and incurred by such person.

(h) Liability. Notwithstanding any provisions of this Agreement to the contrary, neither a Manager or officer of the Company shall be personally liable to the Company or to the Members of the Company for monetary damages for breach of fiduciary duty except with respect to (1) any breach of the duty of loyalty; (2) acts or omissions not in good faith or which involve intentional misconduct or a knowing violation of law; or (3) any transactions from which the Manager or officer derived an improper personal benefit. Notwithstanding any provisions hereof, to the contrary, neither a Manager nor an officer shall be liable to the Company or to any Member for any action taken or omitted to be taken by such Manager or officer, provided that such Manager or officer acted in good faith and such action or omission does not involve the gross negligence, willful misconduct or fraud of such Manager or officer.

SECTION 3.16 Management of Medical Facility.

(a) Advisory Board. It shall be the policy of the Company that any medical facility owned by the Company shall be operated as an autonomous division of the Company under the direction of an Administrator, and with an Advisory Board, not less than two-thirds of the members of which shall be persons who are residents of the area served by the facility. The medical practice conducted in each medical facility shall be under the supervision of the medical staff of such facility and shall be conducted in accordance with the highest standards of medical ethics and professional competence.

(b) Meetings of Advisory Board. The Advisory Board shall be governed by the provisions hereunder, but in addition thereto, shall authorize and adopt Bylaws for its own management, subject to approval by the Board of Managers. Such Bylaws shall provide rules of the procedure for the election of officers, regular meetings, and keeping of a permanent record of the minutes of the meetings of the Advisory Board. Such Bylaws and rules of procedure shall also provide for the giving of adequate notice of the meetings, and a fair and just procedure to be followed in the reaching of evidentiary and judgmental determinations as to the actions of any medical staff member or any employee of the medical facilities or Company. The rules of procedure shall further provide that all action taken by the Advisory Board shall be reported to the Board of Managers of the Company.

The Administrator/CEO shall be given the necessary authority and held responsible for the administration of the medical facility in all departments, subject to the policies enacted by the Board of Managers or by the Advisory Board under any authority delegated to it for medical matters.

SECTION 4. CAPITAL

SECTION 4.1 Capital Accounts. A separate Capital Account shall be maintained for each Member. No Member shall have any interest in the Capital Account of any other Member. Capital Accounts shall be determined and maintained on the same basis as Capital Accounts are determined and maintained by the Company for purpose of Federal income taxation in accordance with section 1.704-1(b) of the Regulations. The Capital Accounts of each Member shall be maintained by:

(a) Increase. Crediting the Capital Account (1) at the time of each capital contribution with the amount of money and with the fair market value of property contributed with respect to that Member; (2) at the time of assumption or distribution with the amount of all liabilities of the company that are assumed by the Member or that are secured by property distributed to the Member; and (3) as of the last day of each calendar year (or other periods for which Profit or Loss is determined) with the Member's allocation of Profit and other items in the nature of income allocated for that period pursuant to section 6; and

(b) Decrease. Debiting the Capital Account (1) at the time of each distribution with the amount of money and with the fair market value of property distributed as a distribution to the Member pursuant to section 5; (2) at the time of assumption or distribution with the amount of all liabilities of the Member that are assumed by the Company or that are secured by property contributed to the Company; and (3) as of the last day of each calendar year (or other periods for which Profit or Loss is determined) with the Member's allocation of Loss and other items in the nature of a loss or expenditure allocated for that period pursuant to section 6.

The Capital Accounts of the Members shall also be maintained in accordance with the following provisions:

(c) The Assuming Member and all Members who are also Managers, shall in the aggregate maintain throughout the entire existence of the Company a minimum Capital Account balance equal to the lesser of one percent (1%) of total positive Capital Account balances or $500,000.

(d) Whenever a Member who is not a Manager nor the Assuming Member makes a capital contribution, the Members who are Managers and the Assuming Member shall in the aggregate immediately contribute to the Company capital equal to 1.01 percent (1.01%) of the capital contribution of the Member who is not a Manager nor the Assuming Member or a lesser amount (including zero) that causes the sum of the Member-Managers and Assuming Member's Capital Account balances to equal the lesser of one percent (1%) of total positive Capital Account balances (determined in accordance with Regulations Section 1.704-1(b)(2)(iv)) for the Company or $500,000. If no Member at such time has a positive Capital Account balance, then the Member-Managers and the Assuming Member need not have a positive Capital Account balance to satisfy this requirement. Moreover, any other provisions expressly required by Rev. Proc. 95-10 to be included in this Agreement in order for the Company to be taxed as a partnership and not otherwise set forth herein are hereby expressly incorporated herein by reference.

SECTION 4.2 Restatement of Capital Accounts. Upon the events set forth in section 1.704-1(b)(2)(iv)(f) of the Regulations, the Members shall have the right to restate the value at which Company property is stated for purpose of the Members' Capital Accounts to equal the fair market value thereof. In the event the value of Company property is so restated, the Capital Account of each Member shall be adjusted as if an Event of Termination had occurred where the Company had disposed of all Company property at its fair market value as of the date of the event giving rise to the restatement and had distributed its remaining assets pursuant to section 10.

SECTION 4.3 Funding Obligations. The Members shall have the following funding obligations which shall be credited to the Capital Account of each Member upon payment:

(a) Initial Capital Contribution. The Initial Capital Contribution of Quorum shall be sufficient to fund the purchase of the Hospital at closing under the Purchase Agreement. The Members acknowledge that Quorum's Capital Contribution was made by its contribution of a demand promissory note. The Initial Capital Contribution of Clinic and Summa shall be the contract rights granted to the Company in the Affiliation Agreement which shall be deemed equal in value to an aggregate Percentage Share of the Units of five percent (5%).

(b) Assessments. Assessments in such amounts as determined from time to time by the Board to fund the operations and capital needs of the Company. Assessments shall be made pro rata based on each Member's Percentage Share of the Units outstanding. Such assessments shall be reasonable when considering the cash available and to be available from other sources and such needs. The Clinic and Summa shall each have the right to determine if they wish to comply with an assessment. If the Clinic or Summa does not comply with an assessment, Quorum shall have the right to pay such assessment and have it treated as an assessment against Quorum and a contribution of capital by Quorum. In such event, Quorum's capital account shall be adjusted pursuant to section 4.1(a) and Quorum shall receive a proportional increase in its number of Units and Percentage Share.

SECTION 4.4 Return of Capital. Except as otherwise provided in this Agreement, no Member shall:

(a) Demand. Have the right to demand the return of any capital contribution or have priority over any other Member either as to the return of capital contributions or as to any cash or other distribution by the Company.

(b) Liability. Except for a Member's obligation to restore a negative balance in its Capital Account pursuant to section 10.4, be liable for the return of all or any part of the capital contributions of the other Members. Any such return shall be made solely in cash and solely from the assets of the Company.

(d) Interest. Have interest accrue or be paid on the capital contributions of such Member.

(a) Initial Capital Contribution. The Initial Capital Contribution of Quorum shall be sufficient to fund the purchase of the Hospital at closing under the Purchase Agreement. The Members acknowledge that Quorum's Capital Contribution was made by its contribution of a demand promissory note. The Initial Capital Contribution of Clinic and Summa shall be the contract rights granted to the Company in the Affiliation Agreement which shall be deemed equal in value to an aggregate Percentage Share of the Units of five percent (5%).

(b) Assessments. Assessments in such amounts as determined from time to time by the Board to fund the operations and capital needs of the Company. Assessments shall be made pro rata based on each Member's Percentage Share of the Units outstanding. Such assessments shall be reasonable when considering the cash available and to be available from other sources and such needs. The Clinic and Summa shall each have the right to determine if they wish to comply with an assessment. If the Clinic or Summa does not comply with an assessment, Quorum shall have the right to pay such assessment and have it treated as an assessment against Quorum and a contribution of capital by Quorum. In such event, Quorum's capital account shall be adjusted pursuant to section 4.1(a) and Quorum shall receive a proportional increase in its number of Units and Percentage Share.

SECTION 4.4 Return of Capital. Except as otherwise provided in this Agreement, no Member shall:

(a) Demand. Have the right to demand the return of any capital contribution or have priority over any other Member either as to the return of capital contributions or as to any cash or other distribution by the Company.

(b) Liability. Except for a Member's obligation to restore a negative balance in its Capital Account pursuant to section 10.4, be liable for the return of all or any part of the capital contributions of the other Members. Any such return shall be made solely in cash and solely from the assets of the Company.

The Company shall have no authority to issue certificates evidencing any interests in the Company. The Board acting on behalf of the Company, shall have the right to grant or sell options and other rights, including convertible securities, for the purchase of Units to Persons who provide services or other things of value to the Company, including employees of the Company, and to have the Company purchase, either directly or through a nominee, or to have issued, the Units as necessary or appropriate to permit the Company to fulfill the terms of any such options, rights or purchases. The Board may establish plans for the issuance of such options or rights to such Persons or for the purchase of Units by such Persons.

SECTION 5. DISTRIBUTIONS

SECTION 5.1 Cash Available for Distribution. The Board shall determine as of the end of each calendar quarter (or such other period the Board deems appropriate) the amount of Cash Available for Distribution as of the end of such period to be applied as provided in this section 5.1. Cash Available for Distribution shall be applied within 45 days of the end of each quarter to distribute the balance to all Members in accordance with their Percentage Share of Units.

SECTION 5.2 Final Distribution Proceeds. The Board shall determine the amount of Final Distribution Proceeds following an Event of Termination. All Final Distribution Proceeds shall be applied as provided in this section 5.2 not later than the end of the Company's taxable year in which the Event of Termination occurs (or, if later, the 90th calendar day following the Event of Termination). Notwithstanding the preceding sentence as long as such retention complies with the provisions of section 1.704-1(b) of the Regulations, the Company may (i) establish reasonable reserves for contingent or unforeseen liabilities or obligations pursuant to section 5.3 which need not be distributed until such liabilities or obligations are satisfied; and (ii) with respect to installment obligations and other amounts owed to the Company which are not collected prior to the time the Company is required to distribute its assets, may retain each such obligation until payment is received by the Company. The amount of Final Distribution Proceeds shall be applied to make a distribution to all Members having a positive balance in their Capital Accounts, after giving effect to the allocations pursuant to section 6, in proportion to the positive balances in their Capital Accounts.

SECTION 5.3 Reserves. The Company shall establish such reserves for the operation of the Company and to fund any contingent or unforeseen liabilities or obligations of the Company upon and after an Event of Termination as the Board determines in its reasonable discretion are necessary or appropriate.

SECTION 6. ALLOCATIONS

SECTION 6.1 Allocation of Profits. After giving effect to the special allocations set forth in sections 6.3 and 6.4 hereof, Profits for any fiscal year or other shorter period shall be allocated among Members in accordance with their respective Percentage Shares. The definition of capitalized terms used in this section 6, not previously defined herein are set forth in section 6.8

SECTION 6.2 Allocation of Losses. After giving effect to the special allocations set forth in sections 6.3 and 6.4 hereof, Losses for any fiscal year or other shorter period shall be allocated among Members in accordance with their respective Percentage Shares.

(a) The Losses allocated pursuant to section 6.2 hereof shall not exceed the maximum amount of Losses that can be so allocated without causing any Member other than the Assuming Member to have an Adjusted Capital Account Deficit at the end of any fiscal year. In the event some but not all of the Members other than the Assuming Member would have Adjusted Capital Account Deficits as a consequence of an allocation of Losses pursuant to section 6.2, the limitation set forth in this subsection 6.2(a) shall be applied on a Member by Member basis so as to allocate the maximum permissible Loss to each Member other than the Assuming Member under Section 1.704-1(b)(2)(ii)(d) of the Regulations. All Losses in excess of the limitation set forth in this subsection 6.2(a) shall be allocated to the Assuming Member.

SECTION 6.3 Special Allocations. The following special allocations shall be made in the following order:

(a) Minimum Gain Chargeback. Except as otherwise provided in Section 1.704-2(f) of the Regulations, notwithstanding any other provision of this section 6, if there is a net decrease in Company Minimum Gain during any Company fiscal year or other shorter period, each Member shall be specially allocated items of Company income and gain for such year or other shorter period (and, if necessary, subsequent years) in an amount equal to such Member's share of the net decrease in Company Minimum Gain, determined in accordance with Regulations Section 1.704-2(g). Allocations pursuant to the previous sentence shall be made in proportion to the respective amounts required to be allocated to each Member pursuant thereto. The items to be so allocated shall be determined in accordance with Sections 1.7042(f)(6) and 1.704-2(j)(2) of the Regulations. This subsection 6.3(a) is intended to comply with the minimum gain chargeback requirement in Section 1.704-2(f) of the Regulations and shall be interpreted consistently therewith.

(b) Member Minimum Gain Chargeback. Except as otherwise provided in Section 1.7042(i)(4) of the Regulations, notwithstanding any other provision of this section 6 except subsection 6.3(a), if there is a net decrease in Member Nonrecourse Debt Minimum Gain attributable to a Member Nonrecourse Debt during any Company fiscal year or other shorter period, each Member who has a share of the Member Nonrecourse Debt Minimum Gain attributable to such Member Nonrecourse Debt, determined in accordance with Section 1.704-2(i)(5) of the Regulations, shall be specially allocated items of Company income and gain for such year or other shorter period (and, if necessary, subsequent years) in an amount equal to such Member's share of the net decrease in Member Nonrecourse Debt Minimum Gain attributable to such Member Nonrecourse Debt, determined in accordance with Regulations Section 1.704-2(i)(4). Allocations pursuant to the previous sentence shall be made in proportion to the respective amounts required to be allocated to each Member pursuant thereto. The items to be so allocated shall be determined in accordance with Sections 1.704-2(i)(4) and 1.704-2(j)(2) of the Regulations. This subsection 6.3(b) is intended to comply with the minimum gain chargeback requirement in Section 1.704-2(i)(4) of the Regulations and shall be interpreted consistently therewith.

(c) Qualified Income Offset. In the event any Member unexpectedly receives any adjustments, allocations, or distributions described in Regulations Section 1.704-1(b)(2)(ii)(d)(4), 1.704-1(b)(2)(ii)(d)(5), or 1.704-1(b)(2)(ii)(d)(6), items of income and gain shall be specially allocated to each such Member in an amount and manner sufficient to eliminate, to the extent required by the Regulations, the Adjusted Capital Account Deficit of such Member as quickly as possible, provided that an allocation pursuant to this subsection 6.3(c) shall be made if and only to the extent that such Member would have an Adjusted Capital Account Deficit after all other allocations provided for in this section 6 have been tentatively made as if this subsection 6.3(c) were not in this Agreement.

(d) Gross Income Allocation. In the event any Member has a deficit Capital Account at the end of any Company fiscal year or other shorter period that is in excess of the sum of (i) the amount such Member is obligated to restore, and (ii) the amount such Member is deemed to be obligated to restore pursuant to the penultimate sentences of Regulations Sections 1.704-2(g)(1) and 1.704-2(i)(5), each such Member shall be specially allocated items of Company income and gain in the amount of such excess as quickly as possible, provided that an allocation pursuant to this subsection 6.3(d) shall be made if and only to the extent that such Member would have a deficit Capital Account in excess of such sum after all other allocations provided for in this section 6 have been tentatively made as if subsection 6.3(c) hereof and this subsection 6.3(d) were not in this Agreement.

(e) Nonrecourse Deductions. Nonrecourse Deductions for any fiscal year or other shorter period shall be specially allocated among the Members, in accordance with their respective Percentage Shares.

(f) Member Nonrecourse Deductions. Any Member Nonrecourse Deductions for any fiscal year or other shorter period shall be specially allocated to the Member who bears the economic risk of loss with respect to the Member Nonrecourse Debt to which such Member Nonrecourse Deductions are attributable in accordance with Regulations Section 1.704-2(i)(1).

(g) Code Section 754 Adjustments. To the extent an adjustment to the adjusted tax basis of any Company asset pursuant to Code Section 734(b) or Code Section 743(b) is required, pursuant to Regulations Section 1.704-1(b)(2)(iv)(m)(2) or Regulations Section 1.704-1(b)(2)(iv)(m)(4), to be taken into account in determining Capital Accounts as the result of a distribution to a Member in complete liquidation of his or her Interest, the amount of such adjustment to the Capital Accounts shall be treated as an item of gain (if the adjustment increases the basis of the asset) or loss (if the adjustment decreases such basis), and such gain or loss shall be specially allocated to the Members in accordance with their interests in the Company in the event that Regulations Section 1.704-1(b)(2)(iv)(m)(2) applies, or to the Members to whom such distribution was made in the event that Regulations Section 1.704-1(b)(2)(iv)(m)(4) applies.

(h) Allocations Relating to Taxable Issuance of Company Units. Any income, gain, loss or deduction realized as a direct or indirect result of the issuance of Units by the Company to a Member (the "Issuance Items") shall be allocated among the Members so that, to the extent possible, the net amount of such Issuance Items, together with all other allocations under this Agreement to each Member shall be equal to the net amount that would have been allocated to each such Member if the Issuance Items had not been realized.

(i) Imputed Interest. To the extent the Company has taxable interest income with respect to any promissory note pursuant to Section 483 or Sections 1271 through 1288 of the Code:

(1) Such interest income shall be specially allocated to the Member to whom such promissory note relates; and

(2) The amount of such interest income shall be excluded from the capital contributions credited to such Member's Capital Account in connection with payments of principal with respect to such promissory note.

SECTION 6.4 Curative Allocations. The allocations set forth in subsections 6.2(a), 6.3(a), 6.3(b), 6.3(c), 6.3(d), 6.3(e), 6.3(f) and 6.3(g) hereof (the "Regulatory Allocations") are intended to comply with certain requirements of the Regulations. It is the intent of the Members that, to the extent possible, all Regulatory Allocations shall be offset either with other Regulatory Allocations or with special allocations of other items of Company income, gain, loss, or deduction pursuant to this section 6.4. Therefore, notwithstanding any other provision of this section 6 (other than the Regulatory Allocations), the Board shall make such offsetting special allocations of Company income, gain, loss, or deduction in whatever manner it determines appropriate so that, after such offsetting allocations are made, each Member's Capital Account balance is, to the extent possible, equal to the Capital Account balance such Member would have had if the Regulatory Allocations were not part of this Agreement and all Company items were allocated pursuant to sections 6.1, 6.2, 6.3(h), 6.3(i), and 6.5. In exercising its discretion under this section 6.4, the Board shall take into account future Regulatory Allocations under subsections 6.3(a) and 6.3(b) that, although not yet made, are likely to offset other Regulatory Allocations previously made under subsections 6.3(e) and 6.3(f).

SECTION 6.5 Other Allocations Rules.

(a) Basis for Determining Profits or Losses. For purposes of determining the Profits, Losses, or any other items allocable to any period, Profits, Losses, and any such other items shall be determined on a daily, monthly, or other basis, as determined by the Board on a consistent basis using any permissible method under Code Section 706 and the Regulations thereunder.

(b) Distributions of Cash treated as proceeds from Nonrecourse Liability or Member Nonrecourse Debt. To the extent permitted by Sections 1.704-2(h)(3) of the Regulations, the Board shall endeavor to treat distributions of cash as having been made from the proceeds of a Nonrecourse Liability or a Member Nonrecourse Debt only to the extent that such distributions would cause or increase an Adjusted Capital Account Deficit for any Member.

(c) Allocations of Items Not Otherwise Allocated. Except as otherwise provided in this Agreement, all items of Company income, gain, credit, loss, deduction, and any other allocations not otherwise provided for shall be divided among the Members in the same proportions as they share Profits or Losses, as the case may be, for such fiscal year or other shorter period.

(d) Allocations Binding. The Members are aware of the income tax consequences of the allocations made by this section 6 and hereby agree to be bound by the provisions of this section 6 in reporting their respective shares of Company income and loss for income tax purposes. The Members further intend that pursuant to Regulations Section 1.704-1(b)(3), the Members' respective interests in the Company are equal to their respective Percentage Shares for purposes of complying with Section 704(b) of the Code.

SECTION 6.6 Tax Allocations: Code Section 704(c). In accordance with Code Section 704(c) and the Regulations thereunder, income, gain, loss, and deduction with respect to any property contributed to the capital of the Company shall, solely for tax purposes, be allocated among the Members so as to take account of any variation between the adjusted basis of such property to the Company for federal income tax purposes and its initial Gross Asset Value.

In the event the Gross Asset Value of any Company asset is adjusted pursuant to subsection 6.8(h)(2) hereof, subsequent allocations of income, gain, loss and deduction with respect to such asset shall take account of any variation between the adjusted basis of such asset for federal income tax purposes and its Gross Asset Value in the same manner as under Code Section 704(c) and the Regulations thereunder.

Any elections or other decisions relating to such allocations shall be made by the Board in any manner that reasonably reflects the purpose and intention of this Agreement. Allocations pursuant to this section 6.6 are solely for purposes of federal, state, and local taxes and shall not affect, or in any way be taken into account in computing any Member's Capital Account or share of Profits, Losses, other items, or distributions pursuant to any provision of this Agreement.

SECTION 6.7 Allocations with Respect to Transferred Interests.

(a) General Rule. If any Member's Interest is transferred, or is increased or decreased by reason of the admission of a new Member, or otherwise, during any fiscal year or other shorter period of the Company, Profits or Losses and any other item of income, gain, loss, deduction or credit of the Company for such fiscal year or other shorter period shall be allocated among the Members in accordance with their varying respective Percentage Shares which they had from time to time during such fiscal year or other shorter period in accordance with Code Section 706(d).

(b) Accounting Convention. For convenience in accounting, the Company may, to the extent permitted by law, treat a transfer of an Interest, or an increase or decrease of a Member's Percentage Share, that occurs at any time during a month (commencing with the month including the date of this Agreement) as having been consummated on the first day of that month, regardless of when during that month, the transfer, increase or decrease actually occurs, or adopt such other convention as the Board may lawfully select.

(c) Sale or Other Disposition of All Assets. Notwithstanding anything in section 6.6 to the contrary, gain or loss of the Company realized in connection with the sale or other disposition of all or substantially all Company Property and/or the liquidation of the Company shall be allocated only to Members who own Interests as of the date such transaction occurs.

SECTION 6.8 Allocation Definitions.

(a) Adjusted Capital Account Deficit shall mean with respect to any Member, the deficit balance, if any, in such Member's Capital Account as of the end of the relevant fiscal year or other shorter period, after giving effect to the following adjustments:

(1) Credit to such Capital Account any amounts which such Member is obligated to restore or is deemed to be obligated to restore pursuant to the penultimate sentences of Regulations Sections 1.704-2(g)(1) and 1.704-2(i)(5); and

(2) Debit to such Capital Account the items described in Sections 1.704- 1(b)(2)(ii)(d)(4), (5) and (6) of the Regulations.

The foregoing definition of Adjusted Capital Account Deficit is intended to comply with the provisions of Section 1.704-1(b)(2)(ii)(d) of the Regulations and shall be interpreted consistently therewith.

(e) Member Nonrecourse Debt Minimum Gain means an amount, with respect to each Member Nonrecourse Debt, equal to the Company Minimum Gain that would result if such Member Nonrecourse Debt were treated as a Nonrecourse Liability, determined in accordance with Section 1.704-2(i)(3) of the Regulations.

(f) Member Nonrecourse Deductions has the meaning set forth in Sections 1.704-2(i)(1) and 1.704-2(i)(2) of the Regulations for "Partner Nonrecourse Deductions" after substituting therein the word "Member" in place of the word "Partner".

(1) The initial Gross Asset Value of any asset contributed by a Member to the Company shall be the gross fair market value of such asset as determined by the Members and the Company;

(2) The Gross Asset Values of all Company assets shall be adjusted to equal their respective gross fair market values, as determined by the Board, as of the following times: (a) the acquisition of an additional Interest by any new or existing Member in exchange for more than a de minimis capital contribution; (b) the distribution by the Company to a Member of more than a de minimis amount of Company property as consideration for an Interest; and (c) the liquidation of the Company within the meaning of Regulations Section 1.704-1(b)(2)(ii)(g); provided, however, that the adjustments pursuant to clauses (a) and (b) above shall be made only if the Board reasonably determines that such adjustments are necessary or appropriate to reflect the relative economic rights of the Members in the Company;

(3) The Gross Asset Value of any Company asset distributed to any Member shall be the gross fair market value of such asset on the date of distribution as determined by the distributee and the Board; and

(4) The Gross Asset Values of Company assets shall be increased (or decreased) to reflect any adjustments to the adjusted basis of such assets pursuant to Code Section 734(b) or Code Section 743(b), but only to the extent that such adjustments are taken into account in determining Capital Accounts pursuant to Regulations Section 1.704-1(b)(2)(iv)(m) and section 6.5 hereof; provided, however, that Gross Asset Values shall not be adjusted pursuant to this subsection 6.8(h)(4) to the extent the Board determines that an adjustment pursuant to subsection 6.8(h)(2) is necessary or appropriate in connection with a transaction that would otherwise result in an adjustment pursuant to this subsection 6.8(h)(4).

If the Gross Asset Value of an asset has been determined or adjusted pursuant to subsections 6.8(h)(1), 6.8(h)(2) or 6.8(h)(3) such Gross Asset Value shall thereafter be adjusted by the depreciation taken into account with respect to such asset for purposes of computing Profits and Losses.

SECTION 7. OBLIGATIONS OF MEMBERS

SECTION 7.1 Related Party Transactions. No transaction or contract to which the Company is or may be a party shall be void, voidable or a breach of fiduciary duty for reason that any Member, or any Affiliate of the Member, is a party thereto. The Company is expressly permitted to enter into transactions with any Affiliates, Affiliates of Members or other Persons in which the Company or its Affiliates have an ownership or investment interest or that have an Interest in the Company, provided that the terms of the transactions are not less favorable to the Company than the terms generally governing comparable transactions between unrelated parties in the geographic area in which the Company is located. Additionally, the Company may obtain loans from its Members which are commercially reasonable. Each Member acknowledges that the Company and the Members, or Affiliates thereof, may enter into certain service agreements with respect to the Business pursuant to which the Member or Affiliate thereof shall be entitled to certain compensation as set forth in such agreement. The Company is authorized to enter into the Affiliation Agreement, Employee Leasing Agreement, Management Agreement and Cash Management Agreements. Except for the Affiliation Agreement, Management Agreement, and Cash Management Agreements, or agreements which comport with the first three sentences of this section 7.1, the related party agreements and any amendments thereto must be approved by the supermajority vote of the Board, as set forth in section 3.9.

SECTION 7.2 Business Activities of Members. Each Member and its Affiliates may engage in other business activities without liability or accounting to the Company. Each Member may participate in other preferred provider organizations, health maintenance organizations or other health care provider businesses, as long as such participation does not preclude the Member from complying with the requirements of the Business and does not violate section 7.3. It shall not be deemed a breach of any Member's duty of loyalty to the Company for that Member to pursue, for that Member's own benefit, any opportunity outside the Area (as defined in section 7.3).

SECTION 7.3 Non-Compete Restriction. Each of the Members agree that from the date of this Agreement until the later of (i) a date when Quorum, Clinic and Summa and their Affiliates are no longer Members, or (ii) twelve months after any termination of the Affiliation Agreement, each of Quorum, Clinic and Summa hereby grant the Company a right of first refusal to develop, acquire or operate all new ventures, enterprises, undertakings or business proposals (other than entering into a non-exclusive provider agreement with a physician) of any kind (a "Proposed Venture") proposed to be developed, acquired or operated by either Quorum or its Affiliates or Clinic or its Affiliates or Summa or its Affiliates wherein the facilities of such Proposed Venture are to be located within an area (the "Area") within a five (5) mile radius of the facilities of the Company at 400 Austin Avenue, N.W., Massillon, Ohio but excluding the area presently constituting the contiguous main campus of Altman Hospital located at 2600 Sixth Street, S.W., Canton, Ohio; provided, that if Quorum, Clinic or Summa or any of their Affiliates acquire or enter into a joint venture or similar arrangement with an acute care hospital or health system based primarily outside the Area the foregoing right of first refusal shall not apply to existing facilities of the acquired entity or system which are already located in the Area as of the date of such acquisition, joint venture or similar arrangements if the acquiring party shall have undertaken reasonable efforts to cause such existing facilities in the Area to be reasonably offered to the Company and such efforts shall have been unsuccessful. The foregoing notwithstanding, "reasonable efforts" shall not include any action by the acquiring party which, in the reasonable judgment of such party, is reasonably anticipated to impair consummation of an acquisition, joint venture or similar arrangement or require any material concession by such party in the negotiations therefore. Each of the Members represent and warrant that with respect to that party and its Affiliates it does not directly or indirectly own or operate any business facilities of any kind within Stark County except that owned by the Company.

(a) Venture Offer. Prior to developing, acquiring or operating any Proposed Venture that is subject to the terms of this section 7.3, Quorum, Clinic or Summa, as applicable, shall give to the Members and Company written notice (the "Venture Notice") which shall include a detailed description of the Proposed Venture and an offer (the "Venture Offer") to the Company to develop, acquire or operate the Proposed Venture.

(b) Venture Period. The Venture Offer shall be irrevocable for a period ending at 11:59 p.m., local time at the Company's principal place of business, on the thirtieth (30th) day following the day the Members and Company receive the Venture Notice (the "Venture Period").

(c) Acceptance of Venture Offer. At any time during the Venture Period, the Board may accept or waive the Company's right to accept the Venture Offer on behalf of the Company by giving written notice of such acceptance or waiver to Quorum, Clinic or Summa, as applicable.

(d) Failure to Accept First Refusal Offer. If the Venture Offer is not accepted by the Company in the manner provided herein, Quorum, Clinic or Summa, as applicable, may commence the development, acquisition or operation of the Proposed Venture (but it shall be limited solely to the matters and pursued in the manner described in the Venture Offer) at any time within three months after the last day of the Venture Period. If the Proposed Venture is not commenced within the preceding time period, Quorum, Clinic or Summa, as applicable, will be required to make a new Venture Offer before commencing the Proposed Venture.

SECTION 7.4 Expenses. With respect to Company approved activities, each Member shall be reimbursed by the Company for all reasonable and necessary expenses approved in advance by the Company and directly and reasonably incurred by it as a Member in the conduct of any Company business; provided that the Member shall submit reasonable documentation to the Board with respect to such expenses prior to receiving any reimbursement thereof.

SECTION 7.5 Compensation. Except for the fees paid to Quorum or an Affiliate of Quorum pursuant to agreements complying with section 7.1, or with the supermajority vote of the Board, no Member or Affiliate thereof shall be entitled to any salary or other compensation from the Company. The compensation for each Member shall be the Cash Available for Distribution under this Agreement and any payment made pursuant to the agreements between the Company and the Member or Affiliate thereof.

SECTION 7.6 Company Property. All real or personal property acquired by or contributed to the Company shall be Company property and title shall be held in the name of the Company. No Member individually shall have any beneficial ownership of such property or the right to have any such property partitioned. No Company property shall be withdrawn or otherwise distributed to any Member unless the Board determines such property is not needed in the operation of the Company, and the distribution shall not impair the solvency of the Company. In such event, unless otherwise agreed upon by the vote of the Members, the Company property shall be distributed to each Member in the proportion of each Member's respective interest in the Company determined as if an Event of Termination had occurred where the Company had disposed of the Company property at its fair market value as of the date of the distribution of the Company property and had distributed its remaining assets pursuant to section 10.

SECTION 7.7 Status of Company for Tax Purposes. The Members intend that the Company be classified as a partnership for federal income tax purposes. The Members shall be under a continuing obligation to perform their duties and responsibilities under this Agreement in light of such intention, and the Company shall do any and all things and acts necessary or appropriate to maintain such classification. The Members understand and acknowledge that the Company shall be treated as a partnership for all Delaware and Ohio state and local taxes if the Company is so classified for federal income tax purposes. Any provisions required by Rev. Proc. 95-10 as it may be amended, supplemented or superseded to be expressly included in this Agreement with respect to a manager-managed (as opposed to a member-managed) limited liability company in order for the Company to be taxed as a partnership and not otherwise set forth herein are hereby expressly incorporated herein by reference. The Company shall do any and all things and acts reasonably necessary or appropriate in order to prevent the Company from becoming a “publicly traded partnership” within the meaning of Section 7704 of the Code and the Regulations thereunder.

SECTION 7.8 Net Worth Representation. After making its initial Capital Contribution as described in section 4.3 hereof, and as of the date of this Agreement, the assets of the Assuming Member (other than its interest in, or claims against, the Company and any other partnerships or limited liability companies in which the Assuming Member owns an interest) shall have an aggregate value exceeding the Assuming Member’s aggregate liabilities, both the assets and liabilities being recorded and reported as required by Rev. Proc. 72-13 (such assets less such liabilities being hereinafter referred to as “Net Worth”), by an amount equal to no less than the amount of Net Worth required of such Assuming Member in order to satisfy the requirements applicable to “manager-managed” limited liability companies under Rev. Proc. 95-10.

SECTION 8. ACCOUNTING

SECTION 8.1 Books and Records. The books and records of the Company shall be kept in sufficient detail to determine the Profit and Loss and the Federal income tax items of the Company for each period for which an allocation is to be made pursuant to this Agreement. The Company shall also keep such books and records in sufficient detail so as to permit preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting methods and principles of such period. Such books and records and financial statements together with any other records and documents required to be made available by the Company for inspection under the Act shall be maintained at the principal office of the Company. Such documents shall be open for inspection and examination, copying, verification or audit thereof by any Member or its duly authorized representative, at the expense of such Member. The Company shall cooperate with any Member in any such reasonable inspection, examination, verification or audit.

SECTION 8.2 Accounting Period and Basis. The accounting period and taxable year of the Company shall be the period specified in section 6.1. The Company shall prepare all financial statements on the accrual method of accounting or such other reasonable accounting method selected by the Board.

SECTION 8.3 Tax Matters Partner. Quorum shall act as the Tax Matters Partner as defined in section 6231(a)(7) of the Code. The Company shall provide the Members with a copy of all correspondence and shall keep the Members reasonably informed of any audit, administrative or judicial proceedings involving the potential adjustment at the Company level of any item required to be taken into account by the Members for purpose of Federal income taxation. If any controversy develops with the Internal Revenue Service or any other taxing authority involving the Company, either directly or indirectly, the Board may in respect thereof incur expenses on behalf of the Company which it deems necessary and advisable in the interest of the Company including, without limitation, attorneys' and accounting fees. The Tax Matters Partner may execute or agree to a settlement or compromise of such controversy, waive or extend the statute of limitation, choose the forum for litigation and file amended tax returns only with the consent of the Board.

SECTION 8.4 Tax Elections. The Board shall have the responsibility for making (and revoking) all tax elections on behalf of the Company (and which are to be made by the Company as opposed to the Members) under the Code.

SECTION 9. LIMITATIONS UPON TRANSFER

SECTION 9.1 Admission of New Member. A new Member may be admitted only upon the vote of the Board and shall be effective only if:

(a) Approval. The admission of the new Member satisfies the membership criteria established by the Board from time to time;

(b) Capital Contribution. The proposed new Member has paid in the Initial Capital Contribution in accordance with section 4.3(a) or contributed property, services or other items equivalent thereto and deemed adequate by the Board;

(c) Assumption. The proposed new Member shall have agreed in writing to assume all obligations as a Member under, and to be bound by, this Agreement; and

(d) Documents. The proposed new Member shall have executed such documents as the Company may reasonably require for effecting such admission.

(e) Preemptive Rights. Clinic and Summa shall have received an opportunity to maintain their respective Percentage Share by purchasing a pro rata portion of any new Units issued by the Company, which right shall be exercised within 10 days of notice to Clinic and Summa on the terms and conditions contained in such notice.

SECTION 9.2 Resignation. No Member may resign as a Member from the Company except with the written consent of the other Members. The resignation of the Member shall be treated as a Voluntary Transfer and offer to sell the Interest of such Member as provided in section 9.5.

SECTION 9.3 Voluntary Transfer. Except as provided in section 9.5, no Member may make a Voluntary Transfer of the whole or any portion of its Interest, without the supermajority vote of the Board pursuant to section 3.9. Any Voluntary Transfer in violation of this section 9.3 shall be treated as a resignation by such Member and an offer to sell the Interest of such member as provided in section 9.5.

SECTION 9.4 Involuntary Withdrawal. Upon the Involuntary withdrawal of any Member, the Company shall be dissolved unless within 90 days thereof Quorum, Clinic and Summa (or Members holding a majority of all Interests in the Company if Quorum, Clinic and Summa do not collectively hold a majority in Interests (as such phrase is defined in Revenue Procedure 94-46) in the Company) elect to continue the business of the Company. The Involuntary Withdrawal of the Member shall be treated as an offer to sell the Interest of such Member as provided in section 9.6. In the event the remaining Members do not purchase the Interest of the withdrawing Member and continue the business of the Company upon the Involuntary Withdrawal of a Member, the successor in interest may, upon the written consent of the other Members, become a transferee with respect to the Interest of the Member with the rights set forth in section 9.8.

SECTION 9.5 Purchase Right. Subject to the provisions of subsection (d) of this section 9.5, upon the Voluntary Transfer by a Member (“Selling Member”), the other Members (“Purchasing Members”) shall have the right to purchase (“Purchase Right”) the Interest of the Selling Member as provided in this section 9.5. Any purported Voluntary Transfer other than pursuant to this Agreement is null and void and the Company shall not give any effect to any such attempted Voluntary Transfer. The terms of the Purchase Right are as follows:

(a) Offer By Selling Member. In the event a Selling Member desires to make a Voluntary Transfer, it shall make an offer in writing to the Purchasing Members (the “Offer”), and the Offer shall include: (i) a statement of the Selling Member’s intention to make a Voluntary Transfer, (ii) the name(s) and address(es) of the prospective third party transferee(s), (iii) the number of Units involved in the proposed third party transaction, and (iv) the full terms and conditions of the transaction (which shall include, but not be limited to, a detailed description of the transaction, including the names and addresses of all parties thereto, and the price, time, method and other conditions of payment), including a true copy of the bona fide written offer presented to the Selling Member by the prospective third party transferee(s) (the “Third Party Offer”).

(b) Acceptance of Offer. The Purchasing Members may, at each of their option, provide a written notice to the Selling Member of their acceptance of the Offer within 60 days of the date the Purchasing Members received the Offer. If the Offer is not accepted by all Purchasing Members, then any accepting Purchasing Member shall have the right to purchase all of the remaining Units involved in the Offer within the succeeding 15 day period. If not all of the Units described in the Offer have been accepted in the fashion described above, the Offer shall be deemed not accepted by any Purchasing Members. If there is more than one Purchasing Member, the Purchasing Members shall be entitled to purchase pursuant to the Offer in proportion to their respective Percentage Share of Units at the time of the Offer. If the Offer is not accepted, the Selling Member may make a bona fide Voluntary Transfer to the third party transferee named in the statement attached to the Offer but only in strict accordance with the Third Party Offer.

(c) Purchase Price Determination. The purchase price and the terms and conditions subject to the Offer shall be the same as set forth in the Third Party Offer. The closing of the purchase shall take place at the principal office of the Company and shall occur within 30 days of acceptance of the Offer. At closing, the purchase price shall be paid in accordance with the manner set forth in the Third Party Offer, provided that if the Third Party Offer includes any consideration other than cash, the Purchasing Member(s), at their option, may pay in cash the fair market value of such non-cash consideration.

(d) Exceptions. The provisions of this section 9.5 are subject to and only arise to the extent that they are not in conflict with (and the rights are subordinate to) any provisions in the Purchase Agreement. The following sales shall be exempt from the provisions of sections 9.3 and 9.5: (i) sale of Interests to physicians practicing within the marketplace served by the Company who are members of the medical staff of the Company's hospital; (ii) any Voluntary Transfer by Quorum of up to an aggregate maximum of ten percent (10%) of the Units beneficially owned by Quorum; (iii) a bona fide pledge and bona fide foreclosure or transfer in lieu of foreclosure and transfer thereafter, and (iv) any transfer by Quorum of its Units to one of its Affiliates provided that such Affiliate agrees to be bound hereby.

SECTION 9.6 Purchase Option. Clinic and Summa ("Purchasers") shall have the option to purchase ("Change In Control Option") the Interest of Quorum for a price and upon the terms set forth in this section 9.6. Additionally, upon the Involuntary Withdrawal of a Member (the "Selling Member") the other Members ("Purchasing Members") shall have the right (the "Involuntary Withdrawal Option") to purchase the Interest of the Selling Member for a price and upon the terms set forth in this section 9.6.

(a) Exercise. The Change In Control Option and Involuntary Withdrawal Option may be exercised by the Purchasers as follows:

(i) Change of Control. In the event of a Change In Control, as defined herein, of Quorum Health Group, Inc. ("QHG") in which a Competitor, as defined herein, acquires control of QHG, the Purchasers may exercise the Change In Control Option by giving written notice to Quorum at any time during the 20 day period following a Change In Control of QHG. For purposes of this section 9.6, a "Change In Control" of QHG shall be deemed to have occurred upon the happening of any event, transaction or series of transactions (including, without limitation, a purchase of outstanding or newly issued voting securities, merger, consolidation or business combination) that results in a Competitor increasing its ownership of voting securities of QHG (or an entity that owns fifty percent (50%) or more of the voting securities of QHG) to be in excess of fifty percent (50%) of all outstanding voting securities of QHG (or an entity that owns fifty percent (50%) or more of the voting securities of QHG) as of such date. For purposes of this section 9.6, "Competitor" means Columbia/HCA Healthcare Corporation, University Hospitals of Cleveland and any entity which succeeds to ownership of 50% or more of the voting securities or all or substantially all of the assets of such entities.

(ii) Involuntary Withdrawal. The Purchasing Members may, at each of their options, provide written notice to the Selling Member suffering an Involuntary Withdrawal of their intention to exercise their Involuntary Withdrawal Option as provided in this section 9.6

within 15 days of the date the Purchasing Members receive notice of the event of Involuntary Withdrawal. If there is more than one Purchasing Member, the Purchasing Members shall be entitled to purchase in accordance with their respective Percentage Share of Units at the time of the written notice to the Selling Member.

(iii) Exceptions. The provisions of this section 9.6 are subject to and only arise to the extent that they are not in conflict with (and the rights are subordinate to) any provisions in the Purchase Agreement.

(b) Purchase Price Determination. Within 20 days of the date of the exercise of a Change In Control Option or Involuntary Withdrawal Option, the affected Members shall mutually agree upon a purchase price for the Interest being sold. If the affected Members are unable to mutually agree upon a purchase price, the affected Members shall mutually select a disinterested appraiser to evaluate the Business and determine the fair market value of the Business. If the affected Members cannot select an appraiser, then the American Arbitration Association shall be petitioned to designate an appraiser. The cost of the appraisal and any necessary arbitration shall be paid one-half by the seller and one-half by the purchasers. The appraiser shall provide a written notice ("FMV Notice") to each affected Member of its determination of the fair market value, which determination shall be binding upon the affected Members. The purchase price for the Interest being acquired pursuant to this section 9.6 shall then be the product of (i) the fair market value of the Business pursuant to the FMV Notice multiplied by (ii) the Percentage Share of Quorum or the Selling Member, respectively.

(c) Closing. The closing of the purchase pursuant to this section 9.6 shall take place at the principal place of business of the Company as such time and during reasonable business hours on such day as designated by the Purchasers or Purchasing Members, provided that such closing shall not be later than 10 days after the purchase price has been determined in accordance with section 9.6(b). Unless otherwise agreed by the Members, the purchase price shall be payable in cash.

SECTION 9.7 Required Return. In the event the Affiliation Agreement expires without being renewed or is terminated for any reason other than termination by Quorum without cause and Company is not participating in a successor agreement or arrangement similar to the Affiliation Agreement which is otherwise acceptable to Company as granting comparable benefits in Company's sole discretion, then the Interest of Summa and Clinic shall be deemed immediately transferred to Quorum, Inc. or its assigns and Summa and Clinic shall no longer have any rights or interest in the Company, under this Agreement or otherwise. In addition, in the even of a "Partial Termination" of the Affiliation Agreement (as defined in section 3.3 of the Affiliation Agreement) by Clinic or the Company, then Clinic's Interest shall be deemed immediately transferred to Quorum, Inc. or its assigns and Clinic shall no longer have any rights or interest in the Company, under this Agreement or otherwise.

SECTION 9.8 Rights of Substitute Member. Unless admitted as a substitute Member pursuant to this section 9.8, any transferee of a Member shall not be entitled to any other rights or privileges of a Member, including without limitation, any rights to inspect Company records or have representatives on the Board. If such transferee is not admitted as a substitute Member, then the rights attributed to the Interest held by the transferee shall not be deemed allocated or otherwise be deemed outstanding for any provision of this Agreement. A transferee of an Interest pursuant to any transfer in accordance with the provisions of this Agreement shall succeed to the Capital Account representing the transferred Interest. A transferee of the whole or any portion of any Interest of a Member shall become a substitute Member with respect to such Interest only if:

(a) Approval. The admission of the substitute Member has been approved by the vote of the Board.

(b) Request. The transferring Member shall have forwarded to the Company a request for admission of the substitute Member, duly executed by the transferring Member and the proposed substitute Member.

(c) Assumption. The proposed substitute Member shall have agreed in writing to assume all obligations of it as a Member under, and to be bound by, this Agreement.

(d) Documents. The transferring Member and the proposed substitute Member shall have executed such documents as the Company may reasonably require for effecting such substitution.

(e) Payment. The transferring Member shall have paid or caused to be paid all costs related to such transfer, including legal fees and other expenses incurred by the Company.

SECTION 9.9 Restrictions on Sale or Exchange. The Interests have not been registered under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, but were issued pursuant to an exemption from such registration. Notwithstanding any provisions to the contrary in this Agreement, no reoffers, reoffers for sale, resale or transfer of the Interests may be made except pursuant to an exemption from such registration under the Securities Act of 1933 and applicable state law evidenced by an opinion of counsel in form and by counsel reasonably satisfactory to the Board. Furthermore, no transfer may be except upon receipt of an opinion of counsel in form and by counsel reasonably satisfactory to the Company that the ownership of the Interest by the assignee shall not violate either the Medicare fraud and abuse statute or the federal, Delaware or Ohio Stark Bill.

SECTION 9.10 Sale of Assets. In the event the Company desires to sell all or substantially all of its assets to a Competitor (as defined in section 9.6(a)(1)) each of Clinic and Summa shall have the right to purchase ("Right of Refusal") such assets as provided in this section 9.10. The terms of the Right of Refusal are as follows:

(a) Offer By Company. In the event Company desires to sell all or substantially all of its assets to a Competitor, it shall make an offer in writing to each of Clinic and Summa (the "Offer"), and the Offer shall include: (i) a statement of the Company's intention to sell all or substantially all of its assets to a Competitor, (ii) the name(s) and address(es) of the prospective third party purchaser(s), (iii) a brief description of the assets involved in the proposed third party transaction, and (iv) the full terms and conditions of the transaction (which shall include, but not be limited to, a detailed description of the transaction, including the names and addresses of all parties thereto, and the price, time, method and other conditions of payment), including a true copy of the bona fide written offer presented to the Company (or third party transferee(s)) by the prospective third party transferee(s) (or the Company) (the "Third Party Offer").

(b) Acceptance of Offer. Clinic and Summa may, at each of their option, provide a written notice to the Company of their acceptance of the Offer within 60 days of the date Clinic or Summa received the Offer. If the Offer is accepted by both Clinic and Summa, then Clinic and Summa shall provide written notice to the Company within 5 days advising the Company which of them will purchase the assets subject to the Third Party Offer or whether they will jointly purchase the assets subject to the Third Party Offer. If such notice is not timely given, the Offer shall be deemed to be rejected by Clinic and Summa. If the Offer is not accepted, the Company may sell the assets to the third party transferee named in the statement attached to the Offer in accordance with the Third Party Offer.

(c) Purchase Price Determination. The purchase price and the terms and conditions subject to the Offer shall be the same as set forth in the Third Party Offer. The closing of the purchase shall take place at the principal office of the Company and shall occur within 30 days of acceptance of the Offer. At closing, the purchase price shall be paid in accordance with the manner set forth in the Third Party Offer, provided that if the Third Party Offer includes any consideration other than cash, the purchaser, at its option, may pay in cash the fair market value of such non-cash consideration.

SECTION 10. DISSOLUTION

SECTION 10.1 Event of Termination. The Company shall continue until terminated upon the happening of any one of the following events:

(a) Term. Expiration of term of the Company that ends December 31, 2046.

(b) Consent. The vote of the Board to terminate the Company.

(c) Involuntary Withdrawal. The Involuntary Withdrawal of a Member, unless the remaining Members elect continue the Company pursuant to section 9.4.

(d) Sale of Business. The sale or disposition of all or substantially all of the Business.

Upon termination of the Company pursuant to this section 10.1, the company business shall be terminated, its liabilities discharged, its property distributed as hereinafter described, and the Company shall be liquidated. A reasonable period of time shall be allowed for the orderly termination of the business, discharge of its liabilities, and distribution of its remaining cash and other property as Final Distribution Proceeds pursuant to section 5.2.

SECTION 10.2 Winding Up. Upon an Event of Termination, for purposes of the termination of the Company business, discharge of its liabilities, and distribution of its remaining property, the Board shall have the exclusive power and authority to act on behalf of the Company, to terminate the Company business, to sell and convey any property of the Company for such consideration and upon such terms and conditions as the Board reasonably deems appropriate, to discharge the Company's liabilities, to set up and maintain all cash and other reserves permitted pursuant to section 5.3 and to apply all Company property as provided in this section 10.2. The Board shall apply all Company property to pay, or to provide the reserves as then set up and maintained pursuant to section 5.3 for payment of, all expenses of liquidation and to satisfy all liabilities and obligations of the Company as provided by the Act, and then distribute any remaining cash and other property as Final Distribution Proceeds pursuant to section 5.2.

SECTION 10.3 Distribution to Liquidating Trust. In the discretion of the Board assets otherwise distributable to the Members (or assignees) pursuant to section 10.2 may be distributed to a liquidating trust established for the benefit, and upon the agreement, of all Members (and assignees) for purposes of liquidating Company assets, collecting amounts owed to the Company, and paying any contingent or potential liabilities or obligations of the Company. The term of such trust may extend beyond the existence of the Company, and any such extended term shall not be an extension of the Company's existence. All assets of any such trust remaining upon the termination thereof shall be distributed to the Members (and assignees) in the same proportions as such assets would have otherwise been distributed to the Members by the Company.

SECTION 10.4 Restoration of Deficit Capital Account. In the event Clinic or Summa, following an Event of Termination, has a deficit in its Capital Account as a result of a distribution previously made pursuant to section 5, then Clinic or Summa, respectively, shall be obligated to pay to the Company an amount equal to such deficit. In the event the Assuming Member, following an Event of Termination, has a deficit in its Capital Account, then the Assuming Member shall be obligated to pay to the Company an amount equal to such deficit. Any Member required to so contribute shall contribute the amount of such deficit within 30 days of a request for such payment from the Board. No Member other than the Assuming Member, Clinic and Summa shall have any liability for restoration of any negative Capital Account balance, and the Assuming Member, Clinic and Summa shall have no liability for restoration of any other Member's negative Capital Account Balance.

SECTION 11. MISCELLANEOUS

SECTION 11.1 Notices. All notices shall be in writing and shall be sent by (i) personal delivery; (ii) first class mail, postage prepaid; (iii) national overnight courier; or (iv) telecopier, with telephone confirmation. Notice shall be deemed given on the day such notice is delivered to the recipient or, with respect to any mailing, two days after such notice is deposited in the mail. Unless otherwise specified by a notice to the Company all notices shall be given or made upon the Members at the address (or telecopy number) set forth in the records of the Company or as they may be changed from time to time by written notice.

SECTION 11.2 Amendment. This Agreement may be amended in whole or part in a writing approved by the supermajority vote of the Board pursuant to section 3.9. However, no amendment may reduce any right under this Agreement of any transferee of an Interest, including any right attributable to such Interest to participate in allocations or distributions, without the consent of the transferee.

SECTION 11.3 Construction. The following shall be applicable in interpreting and construing the terms of this Agreement:

(a) Complete Agreement. This Agreement contains the entire agreement among the parties and supersedes any prior understandings or agreements between them respecting the subject matter hereof. This Agreement may be executed in several counterparts, and each executed counterpart shall be considered as an original of this Agreement.

(b) Binding. This Agreement shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of the parties, their respective heirs, personal representatives, successors and permitted assigns.

(c) Interpretation. The captions at the beginning of the sections of this Agreement are not part of the context hereof, but are merely labels to assist in locating and reading those sections and shall be ignored in construing this Agreement. Each exhibit and schedule referred to in this Agreement is incorporated by reference.

(d) Governing Law. This Agreement shall be governed by, and construed pursuant to, the laws of the State of Delaware. Each provision of this Agreement is severable from every other provision of this Agreement.

SECTION 11.4 Rights of Third Parties. This Agreement is expressly intended by the parties to benefit at any time solely those persons who at that time are Members pursuant to the provisions of this Agreement and not any other persons including without limitation any creditors of, or other persons claiming through, the Company. This Agreement shall be enforceable, and proceedings to remedy any breach of this Agreement shall be brought, solely by any one or more of the Members or the legal representatives thereof. By way of illustration and not in limitation of the foregoing, the obligation by any Member (other than the Assuming Member) to make capital contributions or to restore any negative balance in a Capital Account is for the benefit solely of the Members and shall not be enforceable by any creditor of, or other person claiming through, the Company.

SECTION 11.5 Business Rights. Under the asset purchase agreement and related agreements executed at closing thereof (collectively, the “purchase agreement”) between the Company and Doctors Hospital, Inc. of Stark County and Comp Care, Inc. (“hospital”) certain rights have been granted to the hospital. In addition, the Company has entered into the Affiliation Agreement, Management Agreement, Cash Management Agreements and Employee Leasing Agreement that imposes certain restrictions and requirements on the Company. The Members each acknowledge that the rights granted under all of these agreements are enforceable against the Company.

SECTION 11.6 Waiver of Action for Partition. Each Member (and assignee) irrevocably waives, during the term of the Company, any right that he may have to maintain any action for partition with respect to the Company and its property.

SECTION 11.7 Survival of Provisions. Whenever possible, each provision and term of this Agreement shall be interpreted in such manner as to be valid and enforceable; provided that in the event any provision or term of this Agreement should be determined to be invalid or unenforceable, all other provisions and terms of this Agreement and the application thereof to all persons and circumstances subject thereto shall remain unaffected to the extent permitted by law.

SECTION 11.8 Arbitration of Disputes. The parties hereto agree that they shall seek to resolve any and all disputes arising under this Agreement or the documents delivered pursuant hereto or otherwise relating to the transactions contemplated hereby in an amicable and businesslike manner through informal discussions. In the event such informal discussions have not produced a resolution of such dispute within fifteen (15) days of commencing such informal discussions, then either party may initiate arbitration proceedings with respect to the dispute. The parties hereby agree that any such arbitration shall be final and binding upon the parties, to the fullest extent permitted by law. Such arbitration proceedings shall be conducted in the State of Ohio and in accordance with the National Health Lawyer's Association Alternative Dispute Resolution Procedures as then in effect.

SECTION 11.9 Recognition of Non-Profit and Exempt Status of Clinic and Summa. The parties hereby acknowledge that (i) Clinic and Summa are tax-exempt organizations pursuant to section 501(c)(3) of the Code and nonprofit corporations under Ohio law and (ii) it is intended that the organization and operation of the Company shall not adversely affect their status as such. Taxation of income received by Clinic or Summa pursuant to this Agreement shall not be deemed to affect such status. Accordingly, the parties agree that, if any action proposed to be taken by the Company shall reasonably be expected to adversely affect the status of either the Clinic or Summa and Clinic or Summa shall have provided Quorum a written description and analysis of the adverse affect, the Members shall attempt, in good faith, to take such action (or refrain from taking such action) as shall be necessary to avoid adversely affecting such status; provided, however, that this section shall not require any Member to take any action (or refrain from taking any action) that is determined (in the reasonable discretion of such Member) to be adverse to its own economic or other interest.

The Chair shall provide leadership to the Board and its committees, serve as a liaison between the President/CEO and the Board, work closely with the President/CEO in carrying out approved programs and policies and maintain communications to ensure proper evaluation of performance. The Chair shall have such other authorities and duties as may be delegated from time to time by the Board.

SECTION 4.7 Vice Chair. The Vice Chair shall, in the absence of the Chair, perform the duties of the Chair and while so acting, the Vice Chair shall have all powers and authorities of, and shall be subject to the restrictions upon, the Chair. SECTION 5.2 Resignation. Any operating officer may resign at any time by giving written notice to the President/CEO or, in the case of the President/CEO, to the Chair. A resignation shall take effect at the time specified therein, and, unless otherwise specified therein, shall become effective upon delivery. The acceptance of such resignation shall not be necessary to make it effective unless so specified in the resignation.

SECTION 5.3 Removal. The President/CEO may be removed by the Board, with or without cause, at any time by the affirmative vote of the majority of the Board. SECTION 7.2 Procedure. Any Manager having a conflicting interest in any transaction shall recuse himself or herself from all discussions on the matter and shall not vote on the matter, but such Manager may be counted in determining the quorum for the meeting. The minutes of the meeting should reflect the making of the disclosure, the abstention from voting and the quorum situation. The requirements of this section 7.2 shall not be construed as preventing any Manager or officer from briefly stating his or her position in the matter, nor from answering pertinent questions of the Board or other officers. No transaction of the Company shall be voidable solely because a Manager has a direct or indirect interest in the transaction if either the transaction is fair to the Company or the disinterested Managers, knowing the material facts of the transaction and the Manager's interest therein, authorize or ratify the transaction. Ownership of minor amounts of publicly-traded securities shall not be deemed to constitute a conflicting ownership interest.

SECTION 8. INDEMNIFICATION.

SECTION 8.1 Persons Indemnified. Except as otherwise provided in this section 8.1 or as otherwise prohibited by law, the Company shall indemnify and defend each person who, by reason of (1) being or at any time having been a Manager or officer of the Company, or (2) any action taken or omitted to be taken by such Manager or officer in his or her capacity as such, is named or otherwise becomes or is threatened to be made a party to any action, suit, investigation or proceeding (or claim or other matter therein) related to the business, affairs or management of the Company, and the Company by the Board may indemnify any other person as deemed proper by the Board, against any and all costs and expenses (including attorney fees, judgments, fines, penalties, amounts paid in settlement, and other disbursements) actually and reasonably incurred by or imposed upon such person in connection with any action, suit, investigation or proceeding (or claim or other matter therein), whether civil, criminal, administrative or otherwise in nature, with respect to which such person is named or otherwise becomes or is threatened to be made a party by reason of being or at any time having been a Manager, officer, employee or other agent of or in a similar capacity with the Company, or by reason of being or at any time having been, at the direction or request of the Company, a trustee, officer, volunteer, administrator, Manager, employee, member, advisor or other agent of or fiduciary for any other corporation, partnership, trust, venture or other entity or enterprise including any employee benefit plan and the Company.

SECTION 8.2 Scope of Indemnity. Unless it is proved, by clear and convincing evidence in a court with jurisdiction that the act or omission of the Manager or officer for which liability is being asserted in an action, suit, or proceeding referred to in section 8.1 involved gross negligence, willful misconduct or fraud of such Manager or officers, such Manager or officer who is the subject of an action, suit or proceeding referred to in section 8.1 shall be entitled to the indemnification mandated by such section 8.1. Any indemnification hereunder shall be satisfied solely out of the assets of the Company. No Member shall be subject to personal liability by reason of these indemnification provisions.

SECTION 8.3 Advancement of Expenses. Upon the request of a Manager, officer or employee who is the subject of an action, suit or proceeding referred to in section 8.1, the Company shall pay the expenses incurred by such Manager, officer, or employee in defending the action, suit, or proceeding, including attorney's fees, as they are incurred, in advance of the final disposition of the action, suit, or proceeding, upon receipt of an undertaking by or on behalf of the Manager, officer or employee to repay the amount if it is ultimately determined that he or she is not entitled to be indemnified by the Company.

SECTION 8.4 Discretionary Indemnification. Each request or case of or on behalf of any person other than a Manager; officer or employee, who is or may be entitled to indemnification, shall be reviewed by the Board, and indemnification of such person shall be authorized by the Board only if it is determined by the Board that indemnification is proper in the specific case.

SECTION 8.5 Only in Accordance with Law. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this section 7, no person shall be indemnified to the extent, if any, it is ultimately determined by a court of competent jurisdiction that indemnification is contrary to applicable Delaware law.

SECTION 8.6 Contractual Rights; Applicability. The right to be indemnified or to the advancement or reimbursement of expenses (i) is a contract right based upon good and valuable consideration, pursuant to which the person entitled thereto may sue as if these provisions were set forth in a separate written contract between such person and the Company; (ii) is and is intended to be retroactive and shall be available as to events occurring prior to the adoption of these provisions; and (iii) shall continue after any rescission or restrictive modification of such provisions as to events occurring prior thereto.

SECTION 8.7 Insurance. The Company may purchase and maintain such insurance on behalf of any person who is or at any time has been a Manager, officer, employee or other agent of or in a similar capacity with the Company, or who is or at any time has been, at the direction or request of the Company, a trustee, officer, volunteer, administrator, Manager, employee, member, advisor or other agent of or fiduciary for any other corporation, partnership, trust, venture or other entity or enterprise including any employee benefit plan against any liability asserted against and incurred by such person.

SECTION 8.8 Liability. Notwithstanding any provisions of these Bylaws to the contrary, neither a Manager or officer of the Company shall be personally liable to the Company or to the Members of the Company for monetary damages for breach of fiduciary duty except with respect to (1) any breach of the duty of loyalty; (2) acts or omissions not in good faith or which involve intentional misconduct or a knowing violation of law; or (3) any transactions from which the Manager or officer derived an improper personal benefit. Notwithstanding any provisions of these Bylaws, to the contrary, neither a Manager nor an officer shall be liable to the Company or to any Member for any action taken or omitted to be taken by such Manager or officer, provided that such Manager or officer acted in good faith and such action or omission does not involve the gross negligence, willful misconduct or fraud of such Manager or officer.

SECTION 9. MEETINGS OF THE MEMBERS

SECTION 9.1 Meetings. Meetings of the Members shall be held at such time, date and place and upon such notice determined by the Board or by two or more Members.

SECTION 9.2 Quorum. Members holding more than fifty percent (50%) of the Units entitled to vote, represented in person or by proxy, shall constitute a quorum at any meeting of Members. In the absence of a quorum at any such meeting, a majority of the Members so represented may adjourn the meeting from time to time for a period not to exceed thirty (30) days without further notice. However, if the adjournment is for more than thirty (30) days, a notice of the adjourned meeting shall be given to each Member of record entitled to vote at the meeting. At such adjourned meeting at which a quorum shall be present or represented, any business may be transacted which might have been transacted at the meeting as originally noticed. The Members present at a duly organized meeting may continue to transact business until adjournment, notwithstanding the withdrawal during such meeting of that number of Members whose absence would cause there to be less than a quorum.

SECTION 9.3 Manner of Acting. If a quorum is present, the affirmative vote of the Members owning a majority of Units represented at the meeting and entitled to vote on the subject matter shall be the act of the Members, unless a greater or lesser proportion or number or class voting for the appointment of Managers is otherwise required by these Bylaws or the Agreement.

SECTION 9.4 Proxies. At all meetings of Members, a Member may vote in person or by proxy executed in writing by the Member or by a duly authorized attorney-in-fact. Such proxy shall be filed with the Company before or at the time of the meeting.

SECTION 9.5 Voting by Certain Members.

(a) Units owned in the name of a corporation may be voted by such officer, agent or proxy as the Bylaws of such corporation may prescribe, or, in the absence of such provision, as the board of directors of such corporation may determine.

(b) Units owned in the name of a deceased person, a minor ward or an incompetent person, may be voted by an administrator, executor, court appointed guardian or conservator, either in person or by proxy without a transfer of such Units into the name of such administrator, executor, court appointed guardian or conservator. Units owned in the name of a trustee may be voted by him or her, either in person or by proxy, but no trustee shall be entitled to vote Units held by him or her without a transfer of such Units into his or her name.

(c) Units owned in the name of a receiver may be voted by such receiver and Units held by or under the control of a receiver may be voted by such receiver either in person or by proxy, but no receiver shall be entitled to vote Units without a transfer thereof into the receiver's name.

(d) A Member whose Units are pledged shall be entitled to vote such Units until the Units have been transferred into the name of the pledgee, and thereafter the pledgee shall be entitled to vote the Units so transferred.

(e) If Units are owned in the names of two or more persons, whether fiduciaries, members of a partnership, joint tenants, tenants in common, tenants by the entirety, or otherwise, or if two or more persons have the same fiduciary relationship respecting the same Units, voting with respect to the Units shall have the following effect:

(i) If only one person votes, his or her act binds all;

(ii) If two or more persons vote, the act of the majority so voting binds all;

(iii) If two or more persons vote, but the vote is evenly split on any particular matter, each faction may vote the Units in question proportionately, or any person voting the Units of a beneficiary, if any, may apply to any court of competent jurisdiction in the State of Ohio to appoint an additional person to act with the persons so voting the Units. The Units shall then be voted as determined by a majority of such persons and the person appointed by the court. If a tenancy is held in unequal interests, a majority or even split for the purpose of this subparagraph (c) shall be a majority or even split in interest.

SECTION 9.6 Action by Members Without a Meeting. Action required or permitted to be taken at a meeting of Members may be taken without a meeting if the action is evidenced by one or more written consents describing the action taken, signed by each Member entitled to vote and delivered to the President/CEO for filing with the Company records. Action taken under this section 9.6 is effective when all Members entitled to vote have signed the consent, unless the consent specifies a different effective date.

SECTION 9.7 Voting by Ballot. Voting on any question or in any election may be by voice vote unless the Board or at least two (2) Members shall demand that voting be by ballot.

SECTION 9.8 Waiver of Notice. When any notice is required to be given to any Member, a waiver thereof in writing signed by the person entitled to such notice, whether before, at, or after the time stated therein, shall be equivalent to the giving of such notice. The attendance of a Member at any meeting shall constitute a waiver of notice, waiver of objection to defective notice of such meeting, and a waiver of objection to the consideration of a particular matter at the meeting unless the Member, at the beginning of the meeting, objects to the holding of the meeting, the transaction of business at the meeting, or the consideration of a particular matter at the time it is presented at the meeting.

QUORUM HEALTH RESOURCES, LLC

This Limited Liability Company Agreement (“Agreement”) of Quorum Health Resources, LLC (the “Company”) is made and entered into effective as of June 12, 1998, by Quorum Health Group, Inc., a Delaware corporation (“QHG”) (QHG and any additional person admitted hereafter as a member of the Company are referred to individually as a “Member” and collectively as “Members”).

A. QHG formed the Company as a Delaware limited liability company under the Delaware Limited Liability Company Act (the “Act”) by filing a Certificate of Formation with the Office of the Delaware Secretary of State on June 12, 1998.

B. QHG, as the sole Member of the Company, desires to enter into this Agreement to set forth the provisions governing the management and conduct of the business of the Company and the rights and obligations of the Members.

QHG, in consideration of the foregoing premises and the covenants and agreements set forth herein, agrees as follows:

INTERESTS IN AND CAPITAL OF THE COMPANY

1.1 Nature of Interest. A Member’s interest in the Company shall be personal property. All real and personal property owned by the Company shall be owned by the Company as an entity. No Member, as such, shall individually own any interest in specific Company property. A Member’s entire interest in the Company consists of the certain financial rights (including the right to share in profits and losses, the right to share in and to receive distributions, and the right to assign such financial rights as permitted by the Act and this Agreement, all as more fully defined and described in the Act and this Agreement) and all other rights as a Member as described in the Act, including the right to vote.

1.2 Initial Capital Contributions. QHG’s initial Capital Contribution is One Thousand Dollars ($1,000) cash as paid in capital. Except as provided in the Act, after a Member’s initial capital contribution is fully paid, no Member shall be required to make any further Capital Contributions or to lend any funds to the Company. “Capital Contribution” shall mean, with respect to any Member, the amount of money and the initial gross asset value of any property (other than money) contributed at any time to the Company with respect to such Member’s interest in the Company.

1.3 Return of Capital. No Member or assignee shall have the right to demand or receive a return of all or any part of such Member’s contributions to the capital of the Company. No Member (or assignee) shall be entitled to any interest on such Member’s capital account.

1.4 Limited Liability of Members, Assignees and Directors. No Member, assignee or Director shall be personally liable for the acts, debts, liabilities, or other obligations of the Company, whether arising in contract, tort or otherwise, or for the acts or omissions of any other Member, assignee, Director, employee or agent of the Company. Each Member, Director and assignee shall be liable only to make the Capital Contributions that it has agreed to make and for such person's own acts and conduct.

1.5 Capital Accounts. In the event there is more than one Member, separate capital accounts shall be maintained for each Member (and assignee) and shall consist generally of the sum of the Member's initial capital account and any additional contributions to the capital of the Company that may be made by such Member, plus such Member's share of the income of the Company, less such Member's share of any losses of the Company, and less any distributions to or withdrawals made by or attributable to such Member from the Company. Each Member's capital account shall be maintained and adjusted in accordance with the principles set forth in U.S. Treasury Regulation Section 1.704-1(b).

ARTICLE 2 ALLOCATIONS AND DISTRIBUTIONS

2.1 Allocation of Profits and Losses. In the event there is more than one Member, profits and losses for any fiscal year or other shorter period shall be allocated among Members in accordance with their respective ownership interest in the Company. "Profits and Losses" shall mean, for each fiscal year or other shorter period, an amount equal to the Company's taxable income or loss for such year or period, determined in accordance with Code Section 703(a) (for this purpose, all items of income, gain, loss or deduction required to be stated separately pursuant to Code Section 703(a)(1) shall be included in taxable income or loss). "Code" shall mean the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended from time to time.

2.2 Distributions. The Board of Directors is authorized to make distributions of cash or other property to the Members (or assignees) in accordance with their respective ownership interest in the Company in such amounts and at such times as the Board of Directors shall determine. No Member shall have the right to demand or receive distributions of property other than cash. Distributions in kind of Company property, in liquidation or otherwise, shall be made only with the consent of the Board of Directors and only at a value agreed to by the Board of Directors. Prior to any such distribution in kind, the difference between such agreed value and the book value of such property shall be credited or charged, as the case may be, to the Members' capital accounts in proportion to their ownership interest in the Company, except as may otherwise be required under Code Section 704(c). Upon the distribution of such property, such agreed value shall be charged to the Capital Accounts of the Members receiving such distribution.

ARTICLE 3 MANAGEMENT OF THE COMPANY'S AFFAIRS; BOARD OF DIRECTORS

3.1 General Powers of the Board of Directors. The business and affairs of the Company shall be managed by its "Board of Directors" (herein so called) and the persons serving on the Board of Directors (the “Directors”), who shall serve in the capacity of “Managers” as defined in the Act. The Board of Directors shall direct, manage and control the Company’s business to the best of its ability and shall have full and complete authority, power, and discretion to make any and all decisions and do any and all things which the Board of Directors deems necessary or desirable for that purpose, subject to the rights and responsibilities of the Members. Unless expressly authorized by the Board of Directors, no Member shall have any authority to bind or obligate the Company.

3.2 Number. The number of Directors which shall constitute the whole Board of Directors shall be not less than three nor more than ten. The first Board shall consist of four (4) members. Thereafter, within the limits above specified, the number of Directors shall be determined by resolution of the Board of Directors or by the Members at the annual meeting of the Members, except as provided in Section 3.3 of this Article, and each Director elected shall hold office until his successor is elected and qualified. Directors need not be Members.

3.3 Removal of Directors. The Members shall have the power to remove any Director or officer with or without cause by a vote of the majority in interest of the Members.

3.4 Vacancies. Vacancies and newly created directorships resulting from any increase in the authorized number of Directors or from any removal of incumbent Directors may be filled by a majority of the Directors then in office, though less than a quorum, or by a sole remaining Director, and the Directors so chosen shall hold office until the next annual election and until their successors are duly elected and shall qualify, unless sooner removed. If there are no Directors in office, then an election of Directors may be held by the Members.

3.5 Quorum. A majority of all the Directors of the Company shall be necessary to constitute a quorum for the transaction of business at all meetings of the Board of Directors and a majority of the quorum shall decide any question that may come before the meeting, but less than a quorum may adjourn any meeting from time to time.

3.6 Meetings. Regular meetings of the Board of Directors shall be held in the City of Brentwood, Tennessee, or at such other place as from time to time shall be determined by resolution of the Board of Directors and without notice of said meeting. Special meetings may be called at the discretion of the President of the Company, or upon request of a majority of members of the Board of Directors. A regular meeting of the Board of Directors shall be held immediately following the annual meeting of Members, at which the Directors shall elect the officers of the Company for the ensuing year and transact such other business as may come before said meeting, of which no notice need be given except as herein contained.

3.7 Notice of Meetings. Notice of all special meetings and the place, date and hour for holding such meetings, excepting only the regular meetings shall be given to each Director by mail, telecopy, or telegraph, by the Secretary at least three (3) days previous to the time fixed for the meeting. The transactions of any meeting of the Board of Directors, however called or noticed or wherever held, shall be as valid as though had a meeting duly been held after regular call and notice, if a quorum be present, and if, either before or after the meeting, each of the Directors not present signs a written waiver of notice, or a consent to holding such meeting, or an approval of the minutes thereof. All such waivers, consents or approvals shall be filed with the records of the Company or made a part of the minutes of the meeting.

3.8 Compensation. Directors, as such, shall not receive a salary for their services, but by resolution of the Board of Directors, a fixed sum and expenses of attendant, if any, may be allowed for attendance at each regular or special meeting of the Board of Directors. Nothing herein contained shall be construed to preclude any Director from serving the Company in any other capacity and receiving compensation therefor.

3.9 Written Consent in Lieu of Meeting. To the extent provided by applicable law, any action required or permitted to be taken at any meeting of the Board of Directors of any committee thereof may be taken without a meeting, if all members of the Board of Directors or committee, as the case may be, consent thereto in writing, and the writing or writings are filed with the minutes of proceedings of the Board of Directors or committee.

The officers of the Company shall be chosen by the Board of Directors and shall be a President, one or more Vice Presidents, a Secretary and Treasurer and one or more assistant secretaries and assistant treasurers. In addition, the President may appoint, or the Board of Directors may elect one or more Assistant Secretaries and one or more Assistant Treasurers who shall have the same duties and authority, respectively, as the Secretary and Treasurer. transacted. The Members present at a duly organized meeting may continue to transact any business notwithstanding the withdrawal from such meeting of enough Members to leave less than a quorum.

5.6 Proxies. Members may be represented by proxy and no special form of proxy shall be necessary, but the written authorization of proxy over signature of a Member shall be sufficient. No proxy shall be valid after eleven (11) months from the date of its execution, unless otherwise provided in the proxy.

5.10 Written Consent. To the extent provided by applicable law, any action required to be taken at any annual or special meeting of Members of the Company, or any action which may be taken at any annual or special meeting of such Members, may be taken without a meeting, without prior notice and without a vote, if a consent in writing, setting forth the action so taken shall be signed by all of the Members.

ARTICLE 6 INDEMNIFICATION

6.1 Power to Indemnify in Actions, Suits or Proceedings Other Than Those By or In the Right of the Company. Subject to Section 6.3, the Company shall indemnify any person who was or is a party or is threatened to be made a party to any threatened, pending or completed action, suit or proceeding, whether civil, criminal, administrative or investigative (other than an action by or in the right of the Company) by reason of the fact that the person is or was a director, officer, employee or agent of the Company, or is or was serving at the request of the Company as a director, officer, employee or agent of another limited liability company, corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust or other enterprise, against expenses (including attorneys' fees), judgments, fines and amounts paid in settlement actually and reasonably incurred by the person in connection with such action, suit or proceeding if the person acted in good faith and in a manner the person reasonably believed to be in or not opposed to the best interests of the Company, and, with respect to any criminal action or proceeding, had no reasonable cause to believe the person's conduct was unlawful. The termination of any action, suit or proceeding by judgment, order, settlement, conviction or upon a pledge of nolo contendere or its equivalent, shall not, of itself, create a presumption that the person did not act in good faith and in a manner which the person reasonably believed to be or not opposed to the best interest of the Company, and, with respect to any criminal action or proceeding, had reasonable cause to believe the person's conduct was unlawful.

6.2 Power to Indemnify in Actions, Suits or Proceedings by or in the Right of the Company. Subject to Section 6.3, the Company shall indemnify any person who was or is a party or is threatened to be made a party to any threatened, pending or completed action or suit by or in the right of the Company to procure a judgment in its favor by reason of the fact that the person is or was a director, officer, employee or agent of the Company, or is or was serving at the request of the Company as a director, officer, employee or agent of another limited liability company, corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust or other enterprise against expenses (including attorneys' fees) actually and reasonably incurred by the person in connection with the defense or settlement of such action or suit if the person acted in good faith and in a manner the person reasonably believed to be in or not opposed to the best interests of the Company, except that no indemnification shall be made in respect of any claim, issue or matter as to which such person shall have been adjudged to be liable to the Company unless and only to the extent that the Court of Chancery or the court in which such action or suit was brought shall determine upon application that, despite the adjudication of liability but in view of all the circumstances of the case, such person is fairly and reasonably entitled to indemnify for such expenses which the Court of Chancery or such other court shall deem proper.

6.3 Authorization of Indemnification. Any indemnification under this Article 6 (unless ordered by a court) shall be made by the Company only as authorized in the specific case upon a determination that indemnification of the director, officer, employee or agent is proper in the circumstances because the person has met the applicable standard of conduct set forth in Section 6.1 or 6.2, as the case may be. Such determination shall be made (i) by the Board of Directors by a majority vote of a quorum consisting of directors who were not parties to such action, suit or proceeding, or (ii) if such a quorum is not obtainable, or, even if obtainable a quorum of disinterested directors so directs, by independent legal counsel in a written opinion, or (iii) by the Member(s). To the extent, however, that a director, officer, employee or agent of the Company has been successful on the merits or otherwise in defense of any action, suit or proceeding described above, or in defense of any claim, issue or matter therein, the person shall be indemnified against expenses (including attorneys' fees) actually and reasonably incurred by the person in connection therewith, without the necessity of authorization in the specific case.

6.4 Good Faith Defined. For purposes of any determination under Section 6.3, a person shall be deemed to have acted in good faith and in a manner the person reasonably believed to be in or not opposed to the best interests of the Company, or, with respect to any criminal action or proceeding, to have had no reasonable cause to believe the person's conduct was unlawful, if the person's action is based on the records or books of account of the Company or another enterprise, or on information supplied to the person by the officers of the Company or another enterprise in the course of their duties, or on the advice of legal counsel for the Company or another enterprise or on information or records given or reports made to the Company or another enterprise by an independent certified public accountant or by an appraiser or other expert selected with reasonable care by the Company or another enterprise. The term “another enterprise” as used in this Section 6.4 shall mean any other limited liability company or any corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust or other enterprise of which such person is or was serving at the request of the Company as a director, officer, employee or agent. The provisions of this Section 6.4 shall not be deemed to be exclusive or to limit in any way the circumstances in which a person may be deemed to have met the applicable standard of conduct set forth in Section 6.1 or 6.2, as the case may be.

6.5 Indemnification by a Court. Notwithstanding any contrary determination in the specific case under Section 6.3, and notwithstanding the absence of any determination thereunder, any director, officer, employee or agent may apply to any court of competent jurisdiction in the State of Delaware for indemnification to the extent otherwise permissible under Sections 6.1 and 6.2. The basis of such indemnification by a court shall be a determination by such court that indemnification of the director, officer, employee or agent is proper in the circumstances because the person has met the applicable standards of conduct set forth in Sections 6.1 or 6.2, as the case may be. Notice of any application for indemnification pursuant to this Section 6.5 shall be given to the Company promptly upon the filing of such application.

6.6 Expenses Payable in Advance. Expenses (including attorneys’ fees) incurred in defending or investigating a threatened or pending action, suit or proceeding against any director, officer, employee or agent shall be paid by the Company in advance of the final disposition of such action, suit or proceeding upon receipt of an undertaking by or on behalf of the director, officer, employee or agent to repay such amount if it shall ultimately be determined that the person is not entitled to be indemnified by the Company as authorized in this Article 6.

6.7 Non-Exclusivity and Survival of Indemnification. The indemnification and advancement of expenses provided by, or granted pursuant to, the other Sections of this Article 6 shall not be deemed exclusive of any other rights to which those seeking indemnification or advancement of expenses may be entitled under this Agreement, any statute, agreement, contract, vote of Members or disinterested directors or pursuant to the direction (howsoever embodied) of any court of competent jurisdiction or otherwise, both as to action in the person’s official capacity and as to action in another capacity while holding such office, it being the policy of the Company that indemnification of the persons specified in Sections 6.1 and 6.2 shall be made to the fullest extent permitted by law. The provisions of this Article 6 shall not be deemed to preclude the indemnification of any person who is not specified in Sections 6.1 or 6.2 but whom the Company has the power or obligation to indemnify under the provisions of the Limited Liability Company Act of the State of Delaware or otherwise. The indemnification and advancement of expenses provided by, or granted pursuant to, this Article 6 shall, unless otherwise provided when authorized or ratified, continue as to a person who has ceased to be a director, officer, employee or agent and shall inure to the benefit of the heirs, executors and administrators of such a person.

6.8 Insurance. The Company may purchase and maintain insurance on behalf of any person who is or was a director, officer, employee or agent of the Company, or is or was serving at the request of the Company as a director, officer, employee or agent of another limited liability company or any corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust or other enterprise against any liability asserted against the person and incurred by the person in any such capacity, or arising out of the person's status as such, whether or not the Company would have the power or the obligation to indemnify the person against such liability under the provisions of this Article 6.

6.9 Meaning of "Company" for Purposes of Article 6. For purposes of this Article 6, references to "the Company" shall include, in addition to the resulting corporation or other entity, any constituent corporation or other entity (including any constituent of a constituent) absorbed in a consolidation or merger which, if its separate existence had continued, would have had power and authority to indemnify its directors, officers, employees and agents, so that any person who is or was a director, officer, employee or agent of such constituent corporation or other entity, or is or was serving at the request of such constituent corporation as or other entity a director, officer, employee or agent of another corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust or other enterprise, shall stand in the same position under the provisions of this Article 6 with respect to the resulting or surviving corporation or other entity as the person would have with respect to such constituent corporation or other entity if its separate existence had continued.

6.10 Meaning of "Other Enterprises" and Certain Other Terms for Purposes of Article 6. For purposes of this Article 6, references to "other enterprises" shall include employee benefit plans; references to "fines" shall include any excise taxes assessed on a person with respect to an employee benefit plan; and references to "serving at the request of the Company" shall include any service as a director, officer, employee or agent of the Company which imposes duties on, or involves services by, such director, officer, employee or agent with respect to an employee benefit plan, its participants or beneficiaries; and a person who acted in good faith and in a manner the person reasonably believed to be in the interest of the participants and beneficiaries of an employee benefit plan shall be deemed to have acted in a manner "not opposed to the best interests of the Company" as referred to in this Article 6.

6.11 Effect of Repeal or Modification. Any repeal or modification of this Article 6 shall not change the rights of an officer, director, employee or agent to indemnification with respect to any action or omission occurring prior to such repeal or modification.

ST. JOSEPH HEALTH SYSTEM LLC

This Limited Liability Company Agreement (“Agreement”) of St. Joseph Health System LLC (the “Company”) is made and entered into effective as of June 16, 1998, between QHG of Fort Wayne, Inc., an Indiana corporation (“QFW”) and Frankfort Health Partner, Inc., an Indiana corporation (“FHP”) (QFW, FHP and each additional person admitted as a member of the Company are referred to individually as a “Member” and collectively as “Members”).

A. The Members formed the Company as a Delaware limited liability company under the Delaware Limited Liability Company Act (the “Act”) by filing a Certificate of Formation with the Office of the Delaware Secretary of State on June 16, 1998.

B. The Members desire to enter into this Agreement to set forth the provisions governing the management and conduct of the business of the Company and the rights and obligations of the Members.

The Members, in consideration of the foregoing premises and their mutual covenants and agreements set forth herein, agree as follows:

INTERESTS IN AND CAPITAL OF THE COMPANY

1.1 Units: Percentage Shares. Each Member’s Interest in the Company shall be denominated in “Units”. A Member’s “Percentage Share” in the Company shall be obtained by converting to a percentage the fraction having as its numerator the number of Units held by such Member and having as its denominator the aggregate number of Units held by all Members at the time. The initial Units and Percentage Share of each Member shall be set forth opposite such Member’s name on Exhibit 1.1 attached hereto. Thereafter, such Percentage Share shall be adjusted from time to time in accordance with this Agreement. All such adjustments shall be reflected on Exhibit 1.1 hereto.

1.2 Initial Capital Contributions. The Capital Contributions of the Members are shown on Exhibit 1.2. Except as provided in the Act, after a Member’s initial Capital Contribution is fully paid, no Member shall be required to make any further capital contributions or to lend any funds to the Company. “Capital Contribution” shall mean, with respect to any Member, the amount of money and the initial gross asset value of any property (other than money) contributed at any time to the Company with respect to such Member’s interest in the Company.

1.3 Return of Capital. No Member or assignee shall have the right to demand or receive a return of all or any part of such Member’s contributions to the capital of the Company. No Member (or assignee) shall be entitled to any interest on such Member’s capital account.

1.4 Limited Liability of Members, Assignees and Directors. No Member, assignee or Director shall be personally liable for the acts, debts, liabilities, or other obligations of the Company, whether arising in contract, tort or otherwise, or for the acts or omissions of any other Member, assignee, Director, employee or agent of the Company. Each Member, Director and assignee shall be liable only to make the Capital Contributions that it has agreed to make and for such person's own acts and conduct.

1.5 Capital Accounts. Separate capital accounts shall be maintained for each Member (and assignee) and shall consist generally of the sum of the Member's initial capital account and any additional contributions to the capital of the Company that may be made by such Member, plus such Member's share of the income of the Company, less such Member's share of any losses of the Company, and less any distributions to or withdrawals made by or attributable to such Member from the Company. Each Member's capital account shall be maintained and adjusted in accordance with the principles set forth in U.S. Treasury Regulation Section 1.704-1(b).

ALLOCATIONS AND DISTRIBUTIONS

2.1 Allocation of Profits and Losses. Profits and losses for any fiscal year or other shorter period shall be allocated among Members in accordance with their respective Percentage Shares. "Profits and Losses" shall mean, for each fiscal year or other shorter period, an amount equal to the Company's taxable income or loss for such year or period, determined in accordance with Code Section 703(a) (for this purpose, all items of income, gain, loss or deduction required to be stated separately pursuant to Code Section 703(a)(1) shall be included in taxable income or loss). "Code" shall mean the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended from time to time.

2.2 Distributions. The Board of Directors is authorized to make distributions of cash or other property to the Members (or assignees) in accordance with their respective Percentage Shares in such amounts and at such times as the Board of Directors shall determine. Nothing contained herein is intended nor shall be construed or applied to violate the fraud and abuse prohibitions under the Medicare and Medicaid programs. No Member shall have the right to demand or receive distributions of property other than cash. Distributions in kind of Company property, in liquidation or otherwise, shall be made only with the consent of the Board of Directors and only at a value agreed to by the Board of Directors. Prior to any such distribution in kind, the difference between such agreed value and the book value of such property shall be credited or charged, as the case may be, to the Members' capital accounts in proportion to their Percentage Shares, except as may otherwise be required under Code Section 704(c). Upon the distribution of such property, such agreed value shall be charged to the Capital Accounts of the Members receiving such distribution.

MANAGEMENT OF THE COMPANY'S AFFAIRS:

3.1 General Powers of the Board of Directors. The business and affairs of the Company shall be managed by its “Board of Directors” (herein so called) and the persons serving on the Board of Directors (the “Directors”), who shall serve in the capacity of “Managers” as defined in the Act. The Board of Directors shall direct, manage and control the Company’s business to the best of its ability and shall have full and complete authority, power, and discretion to make any and all decisions and do any and all things which the Board of Directors deems necessary or desirable for that purpose, subject to the rights and responsibilities of the Members. Unless expressly authorized by the Board of Directors, no Member shall have any authority to bind or obligate the Company.

3.2 Number. The number of Directors which shall constitute the whole Board of Directors shall be not less than three nor more than ten. The first Board of Directors shall consist of three Directors. Thereafter, within the limits above specified, the number of Directors shall be determined by resolution of the Board of Directors or by the Members at the annual meeting of the Members, except as provided in Section 3.3 of this Article, and each Director elected shall hold office until his successor is elected and qualified. Directors need not be Members.

3.3 Removal of Directors. The Members shall have the power at any meeting of the Members to remove any Director or officer with or without cause by a vote of the majority in amount of all the outstanding Units of the Company entitled to vote.

3.4 Vacancies. Vacancies and newly created directorships resulting from any increase in the authorized number of Directors or from any removal of incumbent Directors may be filled by a majority of the Directors then in office, though less than a quorum, or by a sole remaining Director, and the Directors so chosen shall hold office until the next annual election and until their successors are duly elected and shall qualify, unless sooner removed. If there are no Directors in office, then an election of Directors may be held by the Members.

3.5 Quorum. A majority of all the Directors of the Company shall be necessary to constitute a quorum for the transaction of business at all meetings of the Board of Directors and a majority of the quorum shall decide any question that may come before the meeting, but less than a quorum may adjourn any meeting from time to time.

3.6 Meetings. Regular meetings of the Board of Directors shall be held in the City of Brentwood, Tennessee, or at such other place as from time to time shall be determined by resolution of the Board of Directors and without notice of said meeting. Special meetings may be called at the discretion of the President of the Company, or upon request of a majority of members of the Board of Directors. A regular meeting of the Board of Directors shall be held immediately following the annual meeting of Members, at which the Directors shall elect the officers of the Company for the ensuing year and transact such other business as may come before said meeting, of which no notice need be given except as herein contained.

3.7 Notice of Meetings. Notice of all special meetings and the place, date and hour for holding such meetings, excepting only the regular meetings shall be given to each Director by mail, telecopy, or telegraph, by the Secretary at least three (3) days previous to the time fixed for the meeting. The transactions of any meeting of the Board of Directors, however called or noticed or wherever held, shall be as valid as though had a meeting duly been held after regular call and notice, if a quorum be present, and if, either before or after the meeting, each of the Directors not present signs a written waiver of notice, or a consent to holding such meeting, or an approval of the minutes thereof. All such waivers, consents or approvals shall be filed with the records of the Company or made a part of the minutes of the meeting.

3.8 Compensation. Directors, as such, shall not receive a salary for their services, but by resolution of the Board of Directors, a fixed sum and expenses of attendant, if any, may be allowed for attendance at each regular or special meeting of the Board of Directors. Nothing herein contained shall be construed to preclude any Director from serving the Company in any other capacity and receiving compensation therefor.

3.9 Written Consent in Lieu of Meeting. To the extent provided by applicable law, any action required or permitted to be taken at any meeting of the Board of Directors of any committee thereof may be taken without a meeting, if all members of the Board of Directors or committee, as the case may be, consent thereto in writing, and the writing or writings are filed with the minutes of proceedings of the Board of Directors or committee.

3.10 Indemnification. This Company shall indemnify each present and future Director and officer and any person who may serve at its request as a Director or officer of another entity to the extent required and to the extent permitted by the Act.

ARTICLE 4 OFFICERS

4.1 Number. The officers of the Company shall be chosen by the Board of Directors and shall be a President, one or more Vice Presidents, a Secretary and Treasurer and one or more assistant secretaries and assistant treasurers. In addition, the President may appoint, or the Board of Directors may elect one or more Assistant Secretaries and one or more Assistant Treasurers who shall have the same duties and authority, respectively, as the Secretary and Treasurer. Any number of offices, other than the President and the Secretary, may be held by the same person, unless the certificate of formation or this Agreement provide otherwise. best interest of the Company demands such removal. Any vacancy occurring in any office of the Company shall be filled by the Board of Directors.

4.5 President. It shall be the duty of the President to preside at all meetings of the Board of Directors at which he is present, unless the Board of Directors shall elect a permanent Chairman; to call special meetings of the Board of Directors whenever he may think such meetings are necessary, or as requested to do so in accordance with this Agreement; to sign all contracts, leases, mortgages, deeds, conveyances and other documents of the Company, which shall be countersigned Secretary or Treasurer where required. He shall have executive management and general supervision and direction affairs of the Company. He shall preside at the annual meeting of the Members of the Company and make a presentation covering the operation of the company for the preceding year, together with such suggestions as he may deem proper.

4.6 Vice Presidents. President or in the event of his inability or refusal to act, the Vice President (or in the event there be more than one Vice President, the Vice President in the order designated, or in the absence of any designation, then in the order of their election) shall perform the duties of the President, and when so acting, shall have all the powers of and be subject to all the restrictions upon the President. The Vice President shall perform such other duties and have such other powers as the Board of Directors may from time to time prescribe.

4.7 Secretary. The Secretary shall have the powers granted him under these Bylaws, and shall sign and issue all the calls for the Members' and Directors' meetings when properly authorized; shall give notice of such meetings to each Member or Director as provided above in this Agreement and as required by law; shall have published all notices of the same required by law to be published; shall keep full and accurate minutes of the proceedings of all Members' and Directors' meetings and shall attest the same after approval of the presiding officer. He shall sign such instruments as require his signature, and he shall make such reports and perform such other duties as are incident to his office, or may be required of him by the Board of Directors.

4.8 Assistant Secretary. The Assistant Secretary, or (if there be more than one) the Assistant Secretaries in the order determined by the Board of Directors, shall, in the absence or disability of the Secretary, perform the duties and exercise the powers of the Secretary and shall perform such other duties and have such other powers as the Board of Directors may from time to time prescribe.

4.9 Treasurer. The Treasurer shall have the custody of all monies and securities of the Company and shall deposit same in the name and to the credit of the Company and shall keep a full and accurate account of the receipts and disbursements in books belonging to the Company and shall disburse the funds of the Company by check or other warrant. He shall render such reports to the President and Board of Directors as may be required of him and shall perform such other duties as may be incident to this office, or may be required of him from time to time by the Board of Directors.

4.10 Assistant Treasurer. The Assistant Treasurer, or, if there be more than one, the Assistant Treasurers in the order determined by the Board of Directors, shall, in the absence or disability of the Treasurer, perform the duties and exercise the powers of the Treasurer and shall perform such other duties and such other powers as the Board of Directors may from time to time prescribe.

ARTICLE 5 MEMBERS

5.1 Location. All meetings of the Members shall be held at any place within or without the State of Delaware which may be designated either by the Board of Directors or by the written consent of all Members entitled to vote thereat given either before or after the meeting and filed by the Secretary of the company. In the absence of any such designation, members' meetings shall be held in the City of Brentwood, State of Tennessee.

5.2 Annual Meeting. The annual meeting of the Members shall be held on such dates and at such times as determined by the Board of Directors. At such meeting, the Members shall elect directors, by a plurality vote, to serve for the ensuing year or until their successors shall be elected and qualified.

5.3 Special Meetings. Special meetings of the Members, for any purposes whatsoever, may be called at any time by the President or by any Vice President or by a majority of the Board of Directors or by one or more members holding not less than one-fifth (1/5) of the Units of the Company.

5.4 Notices. Written notice of each annual meeting shall be given to each Member either personally or by mail or by other means of written communication, charges prepaid, addressed to each Member at his address appearing on the books of the Company, or given by him to the Company for the purpose of notice. If a Member gives no address, notice is duly given to him if sent by mail or other means of written communication addressed to the place where the principal office of the Company is situated or if published at least once in some newspaper of general circulation in the county in which the office is located. Except as otherwise expressly provided by statute, any such notice shall be deposited in the United States mail, delivered to the telegraph company in the place in which the principal office of the Company is located or published at least ten (10) days, but not more than forty (40) days prior to the time of the holding of the meeting. In case such notice is personally delivered or delivered by means of written communication other than by mail, telegraph or publication as above provided, it shall be delivered at least seven (7) days prior to the time of the holding of the meeting. Such delivery, mailing, telegraphing or publishing as above provided shall be due legal and personal notice to such Member. Such notices shall specify the place, the day and the hour of such meeting and shall state such other matters, if any, as may be expressly required by statute. Notice of any special meeting shall specify in addition to the place, day and hour of such meeting the general nature of the business to be transacted. Attendance by a Member at any meeting in person or by proxy shall be deemed to waive all requirements as to notice of the meeting. Waiver by a Member in writing of notice of any meeting of Member shall be equivalent to the giving of such notice.

5.5 Quorum. The presence in person or by proxy of the holders of a majority of the Units entitled to vote at any meeting shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. In the absence of a quorum, any meeting of the Members may be adjourned from time to time by the vote of a majority of the Units, the holders of which are either present in person or represented by proxy thereat, but no other business may be transacted. The Members present at a duly organized meeting may continue to transact any business notwithstanding the withdrawal from such meeting of enough Members to leave less than a quorum.

5.6 Proxies. Units and Members may be represented by proxy and no special form of proxy shall be necessary, but the written authorization of proxy over signature of a Member shall be sufficient. No proxy shall be valid after eleven (11) months from the date of its execution, unless otherwise provided in the proxy.

5.7 Voting. Each Unit present at any meeting, either in person or by proxy, and having voting power shall be entitled to one vote on all matters coming before the meeting.

5.8 Presiding Officer. Every meeting of Members, whether annual or special, shall be presided over by the President or, in his absence, by any Vice President. The Secretary of the Company shall act as Secretary of every such meeting or, in his absence, a Secretary shall be appointed by the Chairman of such meeting.

5.9 Record Date. For the purpose of determining Members entitled to notice of or to vote at any meeting of Members or any adjournment thereof, or to receive payment of any dividend, the Board of Directors shall fix a record date for determination of Members entitled to participate, which shall not be less than twenty (20) days nor more than fifty (50) days prior to the date on which such action is to be taken.

5.10 Written Consent. To the extent provided by applicable law, any action required to be taken at any annual or special meeting of Members of the Company, or any action which may be taken at any annual or special meeting of such Members, may be taken without a meeting, without prior notice and without a vote, if a consent in writing, setting forth the action so taken shall be signed by all of the Members.

ARTICLE 6 MANAGEMENT OF MEDICAL FACILITY

6.1 Advisory Board. It shall be the policy of the Company that any medical facility owned by the Company shall be operated as a division of the Company under the administrative direction of an "Administrator" and with the advice of an "Advisory Board", some of the members of which shall be persons who are residents of the area served by the facility. The medical practice conducted in each medical facility shall be under the supervision of the medical staff of such facility and shall be conducted in accordance with the highest standards of medical ethics and professional competence. Initially the Company's Advisory Board shall consist of nine persons, three of whom shall be residents of the area served by the facility, three of whom shall be physician members of the facility's medical staff, one of whom shall be selected by Ancilla System Incorporated, and two of whom shall be selected by QFW, FHP or one of their affiliates.

6.2 Meetings of Advisory Board. The Advisory Board shall be governed by this Agreement, but in addition thereto, shall authorize and adopt Bylaws for its own management subject to the authority of the Board of Directors. Such Bylaws shall provide rules of the procedure for the election of officers, regular meetings, and keeping of a permanent record of the minutes of the meetings of the Advisory Board. Such Bylaws and rules of procedure shall also provide for the giving of adequate notice of the meetings, and a fair and just procedure to be followed in the reaching of evidentiary and judgmental determinations as to the actions of any medical staff member or any employee of the medical facilities or Company. The rules of procedure shall further provide that all action taken by the Advisory Board shall be reported to and subject to the authority of the Board of Directors of the Company.

6.3 Administrator. The Board of Directors shall select and employ a competent and experienced Administrator who shall be its direct representative in the management of the medical facility. The Advisory Board may make recommendations to the Board of Directors concerning candidates for the position of Administrator. The Administrator shall be given the necessary authority and held responsible for the administration of the medical facility in all departments, subject only to the policies enacted by the Board of Directors or by the Advisory Board pursuant to any delegated responsibility for medical matters.

6.4 Amendment. This Article of this Agreement shall not be amended, modified, or repealed without a favorable vote of at least two-thirds of the Units voted at the meeting at which such article is to be considered, except with respect to any medical facilities which, in the opinion of at least two-thirds of all members of the Board of Directors, are not operating in accordance with the highest standards of medical ethics and professional competence or good business practices.

ARTICLE 7 TRANSFERS OF MEMBERSHIP INTERESTS BY MEMBERS

7.1 No Transfers. Each Member covenants and agrees that it will not sell, assign, transfer, alienate or otherwise dispose of (each such event being deemed a "Transfer") all or any part of its Units in the Company to any person or entity, including the Company without the approval of the Board of Directors. Notwithstanding the foregoing, it shall not be deemed a Transfer for a Member to mortgage, pledge or otherwise encumber its Units in the Company; provided, however, that it shall be deemed a Transfer if a party for whose benefit the Units are mortgaged, pledged or otherwise encumbered shall obtain full title to such Units.

ARTICLE 8 DISSOLUTION AND LIQUIDATION OF THE COMPANY

8.1 Dissolving Events. The existence of the Company shall be perpetual provided that the Company shall be dissolved and liquidated upon the occurrence of any of the following events:

8.1.1 The unanimous written agreement of the Members to terminate the Company.

8.1.2 The entry of a final judgment, order or decree of judicial dissolution of the Company issued by a court of competent jurisdiction under the authority of Act § 18-802, and the expiration of the period, if any, allowed by applicable law in which to appeal therefrom.

8.1.3 The administrative dissolution of the Company by action of the Secretary of State of the State of Delaware and the expiration of the period, if any, allowed by applicable law in which to appeal therefrom or to become reinstated.

8.1.4 Any event which results in there being fewer than two Members.

8.1.5 Any Transfer of a Unit in violation of Section 7.1.

Notwithstanding any other provision of this Agreement, in no event shall the redemption or purchase of the Units of a Member by the Company or any Transfer of a Unit be a dissolving event if the remaining Members consent to the continued existence and business of the Company as provided in Act §18-801(4).

8.2 Method of Liquidation. Upon the happening of any of the events specified in Section 8.1, the Company shall continue solely for the purpose of winding up its affairs liquidating its assets, and satisfying the claims of its creditors and Members. The Board of Directors shall be responsible for overseeing the winding up and liquidation of the Company. In the course of winding up its affairs, any of the Company's assets may be sold upon the consent of the Board of Directors, and any proceeds derived from any such sale, together with all assets that are not sold, shall be applied and distributed in the following manner and in the following order of priority:

8.2.1 To the payment of the debts and liabilities of the Company and to the expenses of liquidation in the order of priority as provided by law, and to the establishment of any reserves that the Board of Directors deems necessary for any contingent liabilities or obligations of the Company; then

8.2.2 To the payment of any liabilities or debts, other than capital accounts, of the Company to any of the Members; then

8.2.3 To the Members (and assignees) in accordance with the relative positive balances of their capital accounts, after giving effect to all contributions, distributions and allocations under this Agreement for all periods as required by Section 704(b) of the Code and the regulations promulgated thereunder.

In the course of any liquidation, the difference between the fair market value and book value of any assets that are distributed in kind shall be credited or charged, as the case may be, to the Members' (or assignees') capital accounts.

8.3 Reasonable Time for Liquidation. A reasonable time (not to exceed twelve (12) months) shall be allowed for the orderly liquidation and winding up of the Company in order to minimize any losses that may be attendant upon such liquidation.

8.4 Distribution to Liquidating Trust. In the discretion of the Board of Directors, assets otherwise distributable to the Members (or assignees) pursuant to Section 8.2 may be distributed to a liquidating trust established for the benefit, and upon the agreement, of all Members (and assignees) for purposes of liquidating Company assets, collecting amounts owed to the Company, and paying any contingent or potential liabilities or obligations of the Company.

8.5 Date of Termination. The Company shall be completely terminated when all property of the Company shall have been disposed of by the Company in accordance with Section 8.2. The establishment of any reserves in accordance with the provisions of Section 8.2 or the creation of a liquidating trust in accordance with Section 8.4 shall not have the effect of extending the existence of the Company, but any remaining balance in any such reserve or liquidating trust shall be distributed in the manner provided in Section 8.2 upon expiration of the period of such reserve or liquidating trust, as the case may be.

8.6 Certificate of Cancellation. Upon completing the winding up and liquidation of the Company, the Company shall cause to be filed a Certificate of Cancellation of the Company as provided by Act § 18-203. The Members agree to join in executing such document if such joinder is required by the Act or deemed necessary or appropriate by the Board of Directors. The annual meeting of the stockholders for the election of directors and for the transaction of such other business as properly may come before such meeting shall be held each year on such date, and at such time and place within or without the State of Delaware, as may be designated by the Board of Directors.

Section 1.2 Special Meetings. Special meetings of the stockholders for any proper purpose or purposes may be called at any time by the Board of Directors, the President or the Secretary, to be held on such date, and at such time and place within or without the State of Delaware, as the Board of Directors, the President or the Secretary, whichever has called the meeting, shall direct. A special meeting of the stockholders shall be called by the President or the Secretary whenever stockholders owning a majority of the shares of the Corporation then issued and outstanding and entitled to vote on matters to be submitted to stockholders of the Corporation shall make application therefor in writing. Any such written request shall state a proper purpose or purposes of the meeting and shall be delivered to the President or the Secretary.

Section 1.3 Notice of Meeting. Written notice, signed by the President, the Secretary or any Assistant Secretary, of every meeting of stockholders stating the date and time when, and the place where, such meeting is to be held, shall be delivered either personally or by mail to each stockholder entitled to vote at such meeting not less than ten nor more than sixty days before the date of such meeting, except as otherwise provided by law. Whenever any notice is required to be given under the provisions of the General Corporation Law of the State of Delaware, the Certificate of Incorporation or these By-laws, a waiver thereof, signed by the stockholder entitled to such notice, whether before or after the time stated therein, shall be deemed equivalent thereto. Attendance of a stockholder at the meeting shall be deemed equivalent to a written waiver of notice of such meeting, except as otherwise specifically provided by law.

Section 1.4 Quorum. The presence at any meeting of stockholders, in person or by proxy, of the holders of record of a majority of the shares then issued and outstanding and entitled to vote shall be necessary and sufficient to constitute a quorum for the transaction of business, except as otherwise provided by law.

Board of Directors

Section 2.1 Number. The number of directors which shall constitute the whole Board of Directors shall be fixed from time to time by resolution of the Board of Directors or stockholders (any such resolution of either the Board of Directors or stockholders being subject to any later resolution of either of them). The first Board of Directors and subsequent Boards of Directors shall consist of three (3) directors until changed as herein provided.

Section 2.2 Election and Term of Office. Directors shall be elected at the annual meeting of the stockholders, except as provided in Section 2.3. Each director (whether elected at an annual meeting or to fill a vacancy or otherwise) shall continue in office until such Director's successor shall have been elected and qualified or until such Director's earlier death, resignation or removal in the manner hereinafter provided.

Section 2.3 Vacancies and Additional Directorships. If any vacancy shall occur among the directors by reason of death, resignation or removal, or as the result of an increase in the number of directorships, a majority of the directors then in office, or a sole remaining director, though less than a quorum, may fill any such vacancy.

Section 2.4 Regular Meetings. A regular meeting of the Board of Directors shall be held for organization, for the election of officers and for the transaction of such other business as may properly come before such meeting, within thirty days after each annual meeting of stockholders. The Board of Directors by resolution may provide for the holding of other regular meetings and may fix the times and places at which such meetings shall be held. Notice of regular meetings shall not be required to be given, provided that whenever the time or place of regular meetings shall be fixed or changed, notice of such action shall be mailed promptly to each director who shall not have been present at the meeting at which such action was taken, addressed to such director at such director's residence or usual place of business.

Section 2.5 Special Meetings. Special meetings of the Board of Directors shall be held upon call by or at the direction of the President or the Secretary. Except as otherwise required by law, notice of each special meeting shall be mailed to each director, addressed to such director at such director's residence or usual place of business, or shall be sent to such director at such place by telex, facsimile transmission, telegram, radio or cable, or telephoned or delivered to him personally, not later than the day before the day on which the meeting is to be held. Such notice shall state the time and place of such meeting, but need not state the purposes thereof, unless otherwise required by law, the Certificate of Incorporation or these By-laws.

Section 2.6 Waiver of Notice. Whenever any notice is required to be given under the provisions of the General Corporation Law of the State of Delaware, the Certificate of Incorporation or these By-laws, a waiver thereof, signed by the director entitled to such notice, whether before or after the time stated therein, shall be deemed equivalent thereto. Section 2.7 Quorum and Manner of Acting. At each meeting of the Board of Directors the presence of a majority of the total number of members of the Board of Directors as constituted from time to time, shall be necessary and sufficient to constitute a quorum for the transaction of business, except that when the Board of Directors consists of one or two directors, then the one or two directors, respectively, shall constitute a quorum. In the absence of a quorum, a majority of those present at the time and place of any meeting may adjourn the meeting from time to time until a quorum shall be present and the meeting may be held as so adjourned without further notice or waiver. A majority of those present at any meeting at which a quorum is present may decide any question brought before such meeting, except as otherwise provided by law, the Certificate of Incorporation or these By-laws.

Section 2.8 Resignation of Directors. Any director may resign at any time by giving written notice of such resignation to the Board of Directors, the President or the Secretary. Unless otherwise specified in such notice, such resignation shall take effect upon receipt thereof by the Board of Directors or any such officer, and the acceptance of such resignation shall not be necessary to make it effective.

Section 2.9 Removal of Directors. At any special meeting of the stockholders, duly called as provided in these By-laws, any director or directors may be removed from office, either with or without cause, as provided by law. At such meeting a successor or successors may be elected by a plurality of the votes cast, or if any such vacancy is not so filled, it may be filled by the directors as provided in Section 2.3.

Section 2.10 Compensation of Directors. Directors shall receive such reasonable compensation for their services as such, whether in the form of salary or a fixed fee for attendance at meetings, with expenses, if any, as the Board of Directors may from time to time determine. Nothing herein contained shall be construed to preclude any director from serving the Corporation in any other capacity and receiving compensation therefor.

ARTICLE III

Section 3.1 Designation, Power, Alternate Members and Term of Office. The Board of Directors may, by resolution passed by a majority of the whole Board of Directors, designate one or more committees, each committee to consist of one or more of the directors of the Corporation. Any such committee, to the extent provided in such resolution and permitted by law, shall have and may exercise all the powers and authority of the Board of Directors in the management of the business and affairs of the Corporation, and may authorize the seal of the Corporation or a facsimile thereof to be affixed to or reproduced on all such papers as said committee shall designate, except as otherwise specifically provided by law. The Board of Directors may designate one or more directors as alternate members of any committee who, in the order specified by the Board of Directors, may replace any absent or disqualified member at any meeting of such committee. If at a meeting of any committee one or more of the members thereof should be absent or disqualified, and if either the Board of Directors has not so designated any alternate member or members, or the number of absent or disqualified members exceeds the number of alternate members who are present at such meeting, then the member or members of such committee (including alternates) present at any meeting and not disqualified from voting, whether or not he or they constitute a quorum, may unanimously appoint another director to act at such meeting in the place of any such absent or disqualified member. The term of office of the members of each committee shall be as fixed from time to time by the Board of Directors, subject to these By-laws; provided, however, that any committee member who ceases to be a member of the Board of Directors shall ipso facto cease to be a committee member. Each committee shall appoint a secretary, who may be a director or an officer of the Corporation.

Section 3.2 Meetings, Notices and Records. Each committee may provide for the holding of regular meetings, with or without notice, and may fix the times and places at which such meetings shall be held. Special meetings of each committee shall be held upon call by or at the direction of its chairman or, if there be no chairman, by or at the direction of any one of its members. Except as otherwise provided by law, notice of each special meeting of a committee shall be mailed to each member of such committee, addressed to such member at such member's residence or usual place of business, or shall be sent to him at such place by telex, facsimile transmission, telegram, radio or cable, or telephoned or delivered to such member personally, not later than the day before the day on which the meeting is to be held. Such notice shall state the time and place of such meeting, but need not state the purposes thereof, unless otherwise required by law, the Certificate of Incorporation of the Corporation or these By-laws.

Notice of any meeting of a committee need not be given to any member thereof who shall attend such meeting in person or who shall waive notice thereof, before or after such meeting, in a signed writing. Each committee shall keep a record of its proceedings.

In the absence of a quorum, a majority of the members present at the time and place of any meeting may adjourn the meeting from time to time until a quorum shall be present and the meeting may be held as so adjourned without further notice or waiver. The act of a majority of the members present at any meeting at which a quorum is present shall be the act of such committee. Subject to the foregoing and other provisions of these By-laws and except as otherwise determined by the Board of Directors, each committee may make rules for the conduct of its business.

Section 3.4 Resignations. Any member of a committee may resign at any time by giving written notice of such resignation to the Board of Directors, the President or the Secretary. Unless otherwise specified in such notice, such resignation shall take effect upon receipt thereof by the Board of Directors or any such officer, and the acceptance of such resignation shall not be necessary to make it effective.

Section 3.5 Removal: Any member of any committee may be removed at any time with or without cause by the Board of Directors.

Section 3.6 Vacancies. If any vacancy shall occur in any committee by reason of death, resignation, disqualification, removal or otherwise, the remaining member or members of such committee, so long as a quorum is present, may continue to act until such vacancy is filled by the Board of Directors.

Section 3.7 Compensation. Committee members shall receive such reasonable compensation for their services as such, whether in the form of salary or a fixed fee for attendance at meetings, with expenses, if any, as the Board of Directors may from time to time determine. Nothing herein contained shall be construed to preclude any committee member from serving the Corporation in any other capacity and receiving compensation therefor.

ARTICLE I

Meetings of Stockholders

Section 1.1 Annual Meetings. The annual meeting of the stockholders for the election of directors and for the transaction of such other business as properly may come before such meeting shall be held each year on such date, and at such time and place within or without the State of Delaware, as may be designated by the Board of Directors.

Section 1.2 Special Meetings. Special meetings of the stockholders for any proper purpose or purposes may be called at any time by the Board of Directors, the President or the Secretary, to be held on such date, and at such time and place within or without the State of Delaware, as the Board of Directors, the President or the Secretary, whichever has called the meeting, shall direct. A special meeting of the stockholders shall be called by the President or the Secretary whenever stockholders owning a majority of the shares of the Corporation then issued and outstanding and entitled to vote on matters to be submitted to stockholders of the Corporation shall make application therefor in writing. Any such written request shall state a proper purpose or purposes of the meeting and shall be delivered to the President or the Secretary.

Section 1.3 Notice of Meeting. Written notice, signed by the President, the Secretary or any Assistant Secretary, of every meeting of stockholders stating the date and time when, and the place where, such meeting is to be held, shall be delivered either personally or by mail to each stockholder entitled to vote at such meeting not less than ten nor more than sixty days before the date of such meeting, except as otherwise provided by law. The purpose or purposes for which such meeting is called may, in the case of an annual meeting, and shall in the case of a special meeting, also be stated in such notice. If mailed, such notice shall be directed to a stockholder at such stockholder's address as it shall appear on the stock books of the Corporation, unless such stockholder shall have filed with the Secretary a written request that notices intended for such stockholder be mailed to some other address, in which case it shall be mailed to the address designated in such request. Whenever any notice is required to be given under the provisions of the General Corporation Law of the State of Delaware, the Certificate of Incorporation or these Bylaws, a waiver thereof, signed by the stockholder entitled to such notice, whether before or after the time stated therein, shall be deemed equivalent thereto. Attendance of a stockholder at the meeting shall be deemed equivalent to a written waiver of notice of such meeting.

Section 1.4 Quorum. The presence at any meeting of stockholders, in person or by proxy, of the holders of record of a majority of the shares then issued and outstanding and entitled to vote shall be necessary and sufficient to constitute a quorum for the transaction of business, except as otherwise provided by law.

Section 1.5 Adjournments. In the absence of a quorum, a majority in interest of the stockholders entitled to vote, present in person or by proxy, or, if no stockholder entitled to vote is present in person or by proxy, any officer entitled to preside at or act as secretary of a meeting of stockholders, may adjourn such meeting from time to time until a quorum shall be present.

Section 1.6 Voting. Directors shall be chosen by a plurality of the votes cast at the election, and, except as otherwise provided by law or by the Certificate of Incorporation, all other questions shall be determined by a majority of the votes cast on such question.

Section 1.7 Proxies. Any stockholder entitled to vote may vote by proxy, provided that the instrument authorizing such proxy to act shall have been executed in writing (which shall include telegraphing or cabling) by the stockholder himself or by such stockholder's duly authorized attorney.

Section 1.8 Judges of Election. The Board of Directors may appoint judges of election to serve at any election of directors and at balloting on any other matter that may properly come before a meeting of stockholders. If no such appointment shall be made, or if any of the judges so appointed shall fail to attend, or refuse or be unable to serve, then such appointment may be made by the presiding officer at the meeting.

Board of Directors

Section 2.1 Number. The number of directors which shall constitute the whole Board of Directors shall be fixed from time to time by resolution of the Board of Directors or stockholders (any such resolution of either the Board of Directors or stockholders being subject to any later resolution of either of them). The first Board of Directors shall consist of one (1) director, and subsequent Boards of Directors shall consist of eight (8) directors until changed as herein provided.

Section 2.2 Election and Term of Office. Directors shall be elected at the annual meeting of the stockholders, except as provided in Section 2.3. Each director (whether elected at an annual meeting or to fill a vacancy or otherwise) shall continue in office until such Director's successor shall have been elected and qualified or until such Director's earlier death, resignation or removal in the manner hereinafter provided.

Section 2.3 Vacancies and Additional Directorships. If any vacancy shall occur among the directors by reason of death, resignation or removal, or as the result of an increase in the number of directorships, a majority of the directors then in office, or a sole remaining director, though less than a quorum, may fill any such vacancy.

Section 2.4 Regular Meetings. A regular meeting of the Board of Directors shall be held for organization, for the election of officers and for the transaction of such other business as may properly come before such meeting, within thirty days after each annual meeting of stockholders. The Board of Directors by resolution may provide for the holding of other regular meetings and may fix the times and places at which such meetings shall be held. Notice of regular meetings shall not be required to be given, provided that whenever the time or place of regular meetings shall be fixed or changed, notice of such action shall be mailed promptly to each director who shall not have been present at the meeting at which such action was taken, addressed to such director at such director's residence or usual place of business.

Section 2.5 Special Meetings. Special meetings of the Board of Directors shall be held upon call by or at the direction of the President or the Secretary. Except as otherwise required by law, notice of each special meeting shall be mailed to each director, addressed to such director at such director's residence or usual place of business, at least two days before the day on which the meeting is to be held, or shall be sent to such director at such place by telex, facsimile transmission, telegram, radio or cable, or telephoned or delivered to him personally, not later than the day before the day on which the meeting is to be held. Such notice shall state the time and place of such meeting, but need not state the purposes thereof, unless otherwise required by law, the Certificate of Incorporation or these Bylaws.

Section 2.6 Waiver of Notice. Whenever any notice is required to be given under the provisions of the General Corporation Law of the State of Delaware, the Certificate of Incorporation or these Bylaws, a waiver thereof, signed by the director entitled to such notice, whether before or after the time stated therein, shall be deemed equivalent thereto. Attendance of a director at a meeting shall be deemed equivalent to a written waiver of notice of such meeting.

Section 2.7 Quorum and Manner of Acting. At each meeting of the Board of Directors the presence of a majority of the total number of members of the Board of Directors as constituted from time to time, shall be necessary and sufficient to constitute a quorum for the transaction of business, except that when the Board of Directors consists of one or two directors, then the one or two directors, respectively, shall constitute a quorum. In the absence of a quorum, a majority of those present at the time and place of any meeting may adjourn the meeting from time to time until a quorum shall be present and the meeting may be held as so adjourned without further notice or waiver. A majority of those present at any meeting at which a quorum is present may decide any question brought before such meeting, except as otherwise provided by law, the Certificate of Incorporation or these Bylaws.

Section 2.8 Resignation of Directors. Any director may resign at any time by giving written notice of such resignation to the Board of Directors, the President or the Secretary. Unless otherwise specified in such notice, such resignation shall take effect upon receipt thereof by the Board of Directors or any such officer, and the acceptance of such resignation shall not be necessary to make it effective.

Section 2.9 Removal of Directors. At any special meeting of the stockholders, duly called as provided in these Bylaws, any director or directors may be removed from office, either with or without cause, as provided by law. At such meeting a successor or successors may be elected by a plurality of the votes cast, or if any such vacancy is not so filled, it may be filled by the directors as provided in Section 2.3.

Section 2.10 Compensation of Directors. Directors shall receive such reasonable compensation for their services as such, whether in the form of salary or a fixed fee for attendance at meetings, with expenses, if any, as the Board of Directors may from time to time determine. Nothing herein contained shall be construed to preclude any director from serving the Corporation in any other capacity and receiving compensation therefor.

ARTICLE III

Committees of the Board

Section 3.1 Designation. Power. Alternate Members and Term of Office. The Board of Directors may, by resolution passed by a majority of the whole Board of Directors, designate one or more committees, each committee to consist of one or more of the directors of the Corporation. Any such committee, to the extent provided in such resolution and permitted by law, shall have and may exercise all the powers and authority of the Board of Directors in the management of the business and affairs of the Corporation, and may authorize the seal of the Corporation or a facsimile thereof to be affixed to or reproduced on all such papers as said committee shall designate. The Board of Directors may designate one or more directors as alternate members of any committee who, in the order specified by the Board of Directors, may replace any absent or disqualified member at any meeting of such committee. If at a meeting of any committee one or more of the members thereof should be absent or disqualified, and if either the Board of Directors has not so designated any alternate member or members, or the number of absent or disqualified members exceeds the number of alternate members who are present at such meeting, then the member or members of such committee (including alternates) present at any meeting and not disqualified from voting, whether or not he or they constitute a quorum, may unanimously appoint another director to act at such meeting in the place of any such absent or disqualified member. The term of office of the members of each committee shall be as fixed from time to time by the Board of Directors, subject to these Bylaws; provided, however, that any committee member who ceases to be a member of the Board of Directors shall ipso facto cease to be a committee member. Each committee shall appoint a secretary, who may be a Director or an officer of the Corporation.

Section 3.2 Executive Committee. If an Executive Committee is designated by the Board of Directors in accordance with the provisions of Section 3.1 hereof, the Executive Committee shall have and may exercise all the powers and authority of the Board of Directors in the management of the business and affairs of the Corporation, and may authorize the seal of the Corporation to be affixed to all papers which may require it; but the Executive Committee shall not have power or authority in reference to amending the Certificate of Incorporation, adopting an agreement of merger or consolidation, recommending to the stockholders the sale, lease or exchange of all or substantially all of the Corporation's property and assets, recommending to the stockholders a dissolution of the Corporation or a revocation of a dissolution, amending the Bylaws of the Corporation, declaring a dividend or authorizing the issuance of stock. The provisions of Article III of these Bylaws shall apply to the Executive Committee.

Section 3.3 Meetings. Notices and Records. Each committee may provide for the holding of regular meetings, with or without notice, and may fix the times and places at which such meetings shall be held. Special meetings of each committee shall be held upon call by or at the direction of its chairman or, if there be no chairman, by or at the direction of any one of its members. Except as otherwise provided by law, notice of each special meeting of a committee shall be mailed to each member of such committee, addressed to such member at such member's residence or usual place of business, at least two days before the day on which the meeting is to be held, or shall be sent to him at such place by telex, facsimile transmission, telegram, radio or cable, or telephoned or delivered to such member personally, not later than the day before the day on which the meeting is to be held. Such notice shall state the time and place of such meeting, but need not state the purposes thereof, unless otherwise required by law, the Certificate of Incorporation of the Corporation or these Bylaws.

Notice of any meeting of a committee need not be given to any member thereof who shall attend such meeting in person or who shall waive notice thereof, before or after such meeting, in a signed writing. Each committee shall keep a record of its proceedings.

Section 3.4 Quorum and Manner of Acting. At each meeting of any committee the presence of a majority of its members then in office shall be necessary and sufficient to constitute a quorum for the transaction of business, except that when a committee consists of one member, then the one member shall constitute a quorum. In the absence of a quorum, a majority of the members present at the time and place of any meeting may adjourn the meeting from time to time until a quorum shall be present and the meeting may be held as so adjourned without further notice or waiver. The act of a majority of the members present at any meeting at which a quorum is present shall be the act of such committee. Subject to the foregoing and other provisions of these ByLaws and except as otherwise determined by the Board of Directors, each committee may make rules for the conduct of its business.

Section 3.5 Resignations. Any member of a committee may resign at any time by giving written notice of such resignation to the Board of Directors, the President or the Secretary. Unless otherwise specified in such notice, such resignation shall take effect upon receipt thereof by the Board of Directors or any such officer, and the acceptance of such resignation shall not be necessary to make it effective.

Section 3.6 Removal. Any member of any committee may be removed at any time with or without cause by the Board of Directors.

Section 3.7 Vacancies. If any vacancy shall occur in any committee by reason of death, resignation, disqualification, removal or otherwise, the remaining member or members of such committee, so long as a quorum is present, may continue to act until such vacancy is filled by the Board of Directors.

Section 3.8 Compensation. Committee members shall receive such reasonable compensation for their services as such, whether in the form of salary or a fixed fee for attendance at meetings, with expenses, if any, as the Board of Directors may from time to time determine. Nothing herein contained shall be construed to preclude any committee member from serving the Corporation in any other capacity and receiving compensation therefor.

Neither the failure of the Corporation (including the Board of Directors, independent legal counsel, or its stockholders) to have made a determination prior to the commencement of such action that indemnification of the claimant is proper in the circumstances because he or she has met the applicable standard of conduct set forth in the General Corporation Law of the State of Delaware, nor an actual determination by the Corporation (including its Board of Directors, independent legal counsel, or its stockholders) that the claimant has not met such applicable standard of conduct, shall be a defense to the action or create a presumption that the claimant has not met the applicable standard of conduct.

Section 3. Nonexclusively of Article Seven. The rights to indemnification and the payment of expenses incurred in defending a proceeding in advance of its final disposition conferred in this Article Seven shall not be exclusive of any other right which any person may have or hereafter acquire under any statute, provision of the certificate of incorporation, by-law, agreement, vote of stockholders or disinterested directors or otherwise.

Section 4. Insurance. The Corporation may purchase and maintain insurance on its own behalf and on behalf of any person who is or was a director, officer, employee, fiduciary, or agent of the Corporation or was serving at the request of the Corporation as a director, officer, employee or agent of another corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust or other enterprise against any liability asserted against him or her and incurred by him or her in any such capacity, whether or not the Corporation would have the power to indemnify such person against such liability under this Article Seven.

Section 5. Expenses. Expenses incurred by any person described in Section 1 of this Article Seven in defending a proceeding shall be paid by the Corporation in advance of such proceeding's final disposition unless otherwise determined by the Board of Directors in the specific case upon receipt of an undertaking by or on behalf of the director or officer to repay such amount if it shall ultimately be determined that he is not entitled to be indemnified by the Corporation. Such expenses incurred by other employees and agents may be so paid upon such terms and conditions, if any, as the Board of Directors deems appropriate.

Section 6. Employees and Agents. Persons who are not covered by the foregoing provisions of this Article Seven and who are or were employees or agents of the Corporation, or who are or were serving at the request of the Corporation as employees or agents of another corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust or other enterprise, may be indemnified to the extent authorized at any time or from time to time by the Board of Directors.

Section 7. Contract Rights. The provisions of this Article Seven shall be deemed to be a contract right between the Corporation and each director or officer who serves in any such capacity at any time while this Article Seven and the relevant provisions of the General Corporation Law of the State of Delaware or other applicable law are in effect, and any repeal or modification of this Article Seven or any such law shall not affect any rights or obligations then existing with respect to any state of facts or proceeding then existing.

Section 8. Merger or Consolidation. For purposes of this Article Seven, references to "the Corporation" shall include, in addition to the resulting corporation, any constituent corporation (including any constituent of a constituent) absorbed in a consolidation or merger which, if its separate existence had continued, would have had power and authority to indemnify its directors, officers, and employees or agents, so that any person who is or was a director, officer, employee or agent of such constituent corporation, or is or was serving at the request of such constituent corporation as a director, officer, employee or agent of another corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust or other enterprise, shall stand in the same position under this Article Seven with respect to the resulting or surviving corporation as he or she would have with respect to such constituent corporation if its separate existence had continued.

ARTICLE VIII

The Corporation reserves the right to amend or repeal any provisions contained in this Certificate of Incorporation from time to time and at any time in the manner now or hereafter prescribed by the laws of the State of Delaware, and all rights conferred upon stockholders and directors are granted subject to such reservation.

OFFICES

Section 1. Registered Office. The registered office of the corporation in the State of Delaware shall be located at 160 Greentree Drive, Suite 101, Dover, Delaware 19904, in the County of Kent. The name of the corporation’s registered agent at such address shall be National Registered Agents, Inc. The registered office and/or registered agent of the corporation may be changed from time to time by action of the board of directors.

Section 2. Other Offices. The corporation may also have offices at such other places, both within and without the State of Delaware, as the board of directors may from time to time determine or the business of the corporation may require.

MEETINGS OF STOCKHOLDERS

Section 1. Place and Time of Meetings. An annual meeting of the stockholders may be held each year for the purpose of electing directors and conducting such other proper business as may come before the meeting. The date, time and place of the annual meeting may be determined by resolution of the board of directors or as set by the president of the corporation.

Section 2. Special Meetings. Special meetings of stockholders may be called for any purpose (including, without limitation, the filling of board vacancies and newly created directorships), and may be held at such time and place, within or without the State of Delaware, as shall be stated in a notice of meeting or in a duly executed waiver of notice thereof. Such meetings may be called at any time by one or more members of the board of directors, the president or the holders of shares entitled to cast not less than a majority of the votes at the meeting or the holders of fifty percent (50%) of the outstanding shares of any series or class of the corporation’s capital stock.

Section 3. Place of Meetings. The board of directors may designate any place, either within or without the State of Delaware, as the place of meeting for any annual meeting or for any special meeting called by the board of directors. If no designation is made, or if a special meeting is otherwise called, the place of meeting shall be the principal executive office of the corporation.

Section 4. Notice. Whenever stockholders are required or permitted to take action at a meeting, written or printed notice stating the place, date, time, and, in the case of special meetings, the purpose(s), of such meeting, shall be given to each stockholder entitled to vote at such meeting not less than 10 nor more than 60 days before the date of the meeting. All such notices shall be delivered, either personally or by mail, by or at the direction of the board of directors, the president or the secretary, and if mailed, such notice shall be deemed to be delivered when deposited in the United States mail, postage prepaid, addressed to the stockholder at his, her or its address as the same appears on the records of the corporation. Attendance of a person at a meeting shall constitute a waiver of notice of such meeting, except when the person attends for the express purpose of objecting at the beginning of the meeting to the transaction of any business because the meeting is not lawfully called or convened.

Section 5. Stockholders List. The officer having charge of the stock ledger of the corporation shall make, at least 10 days before every meeting of the stockholders, a complete list of the stockholders entitled to vote at such meeting arranged in alphabetical order, showing the address of each stockholder and the number of shares registered in the name of each stockholder. Such list shall be open to the examination of any stockholder, for any purpose germane to the meeting, during ordinary business hours, for a period of at least 10 days prior to the meeting, either at a place within the city where the meeting is to be held, which place shall be specified in the notice of the meeting or, if not so specified, at the place where the meeting is to be held. The list shall also be produced and kept at the time and place of the meeting during the whole time thereof, and may be inspected by any stockholder who is present.

Section 6. Quorum. Except as otherwise provided by applicable law or by the corporation's certificate of incorporation, a majority of the outstanding shares of the corporation entitled to vote, represented in person or by proxy, shall constitute a quorum at a meeting of stockholders. If less than a majority of the outstanding shares are represented at a meeting, a majority of the shares so represented may adjourn the meeting from time to time in accordance with Section 7 of this Article, until a quorum shall be present or represented.

Section 7. Adjourned Meetings. When a meeting is adjourned to another time and place, notice need not be given of the adjourned meeting if the time and place thereof are announced at the meeting, at which the adjournment is taken. At the adjourned meeting the corporation may transact any business which might have been transacted at the original meeting. If the adjournment is for more than thirty days, or if after the adjournment a new record date is fixed for the adjourned meeting, a notice of the adjourned meeting shall be given to each stockholder of record entitled to vote at the meeting.

Section 8. Vote Required. When a quorum is present, the affirmative vote of the majority of shares present in person or represented by proxy at the meeting and entitled to vote on the subject matter shall be the act of the stockholders, unless the question is one upon which by express provisions of an applicable law or of the corporation's certificate of incorporation a different vote is required, in which case such express provision shall govern and control the decision of such question. Where a separate vote by class is required, the affirmative vote of the majority of shares of such class present in person or represented by proxy at the meeting shall be the act of such class, unless the question is one upon which by express provisions of an applicable law or of the corporation's certificate of incorporation a different vote is required, in which case such express provision shall govern and control the decision of such question.

Section 9. Voting Rights. Except as otherwise provided by the General Corporation Law of the State of Delaware or by the certificate of incorporation of the corporation or any amendments thereto, every stockholder shall at every meeting of the stockholders be entitled to one vote in person or by proxy for each share of common stock held by such stockholder.

Section 10. Proxies. Each stockholder entitled to vote at a meeting of stockholders or to express consent or dissent to corporate action in writing without a meeting may authorize another person(s) to act for him, her or it by proxy. Every proxy must be signed by the stockholder granting the proxy or by his, her or its attorney-in-fact. No proxy shall be voted or acted upon after three years from its date, unless the proxy provides for a longer period. A duly executed proxy shall be irrevocable if it states that it is irrevocable and if, and only as long as, it is coupled with an interest sufficient in law to support an irrevocable power. A proxy may be made irrevocable regardless of whether the interest with which it is coupled is an interest in the stock itself or an interest in the corporation generally.

Section 11. Action by Written Consent. Unless otherwise provided in the corporation's certificate of incorporation, any action required to be taken at any annual or special meeting of stockholders of the corporation, or any action which may be taken at any annual or special meeting of such stockholders, may be taken without a meeting, without prior notice and without a vote, if a consent(s) in writing, setting forth the action so taken and bearing the dates of signature of the stockholders who signed the consent(s), shall be signed by the holders of outstanding shares of stock having not less than a majority of the shares entitled to vote, or, if greater, not less than the minimum number of votes that would be necessary to authorize or take such action at a meeting at which all shares entitled to vote thereon were present and voted and shall be delivered to the corporation by delivery to its registered office in the state of Delaware, or the corporation's principal place of business, or an officer or agent of the corporation having custody of the book(s) in which proceedings of meetings of the stockholders are recorded. Delivery made to the corporation's registered office shall be by hand or by certified or registered mail, return receipt requested, provided, however, that no consent(s) delivered by certified or registered mail shall be deemed delivered until such consent(s) are actually received at the registered office. All consents properly delivered in accordance with this section shall be deemed to be recorded when so delivered. No written consent shall be effective to take the corporate action referred to therein unless, within sixty days of the earliest dated consent delivered to the corporation as required by this section, written consents signed by the holders of a sufficient number of shares to take such corporate action are so recorded. Prompt notice of the taking of the corporate action without a meeting by less than unanimous written consent shall be given to those stockholders who have not consented in writing. Any action taken pursuant to such written consent(s) of the stockholders shall have the same force and effect as if taken by the stockholders at a meeting thereof.

DIRECTORS

Section 1. General Powers. The business and affairs of the corporation shall be managed by or under the direction of the board of directors.

Section 2. Number, Election and Term of Office. The number of directors which shall constitute the first board shall be one or more, which number may be increased or decreased from time to time by resolution of the board. The directors shall be elected by a plurality of the votes of the shares present in person or represented by proxy at the meeting and entitled to vote in the election of directors. The directors shall be elected in this manner at the annual meeting of the stockholders, except as provided in Section 4 of this Article III. Each director elected shall hold office until a successor is duly elected and qualified or until his or her earlier death, resignation or removal as hereinafter provided..

Section 3. Removal and Resignation. Any director or the entire board of directors may be removed at any time, with or without cause, by the holders of a majority of the shares then entitled to vote at an election of directors. Whenever the holders of any class or series are entitled to elect one or more directors by the provisions of the corporation's certificate of incorporation, the provisions of this section shall apply, in respect to the removal without cause or a director or directors so elected, to the vote of the holders of the outstanding shares of that class or series and not to the vote of the outstanding shares as a whole. Any director may resign at any time upon written notice to the corporation.

Section 4. Vacancies. Vacancies and newly created directorships resulting from any increase in the authorized number of directors may be filled by a majority of the directors then in office, though less than a quorum, or by a sole remaining director. Each director so chosen shall hold office until a successor is duly elected and qualified or until his or her earlier death, resignation or removal as herein provided.

Section 5. Annual Meetings. The annual meeting of each newly elected board of directors shall be held without other notice than this bylaw immediately after, and at the same place as, the annual meeting of stockholders.

Section 6. Other Meetings and Notice. Regular meetings, other than the annual meeting, of the board of directors may be held without notice at such time and at such place as shall from time to time be determined by resolution of the board. Special meetings of the board of directors may be called by or at the request of the president or vice president on at least 24 hours notice to each director, either personally, by telephone, by mail, or by telegraph; in like manner and on like notice the president must call a special meeting on the written request of at least a majority of the directors.

Section 7. Quorum, Required Vote and Adjournment. A majority of the total number of directors shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. The vote of a majority of directors present at a meeting at which a quorum is present shall be the act of the board of directors. If a quorum shall not be present at any meeting of the board of directors, the directors present thereat may adjourn the meeting from time to time, without notice other than announcement at the meeting, until a quorum shall be present.

Section 8. Committees. The board of directors may, by resolution passed by a majority of the whole board, designate one or more committees, each committee to consist of one or more of the directors of the corporation, which to the extent provided in such resolution or these bylaws shall have and may exercise the powers of the board of directors in the management and affairs of the corporation except as otherwise limited by law. The board of directors may designate one or more directors as alternate members of any committee, who may replace any absent or disqualified member at any meeting of the committee. Such committee(s) shall have such name(s) as may be determined from time to time by resolution adopted by the board of directors. Each committee shall keep regular minutes of its meetings and report the same to the board of directors when required.

Section 9. Committee Rules. Each committee of the board of directors may fix its own rules of procedure and shall hold its meetings as provided by such rules, except as may otherwise be provided by a resolution of the board of directors designating such committee. Unless otherwise provided in such a resolution, the presence of at least a majority of the members of the committee shall be necessary to constitute a quorum. In the event that a member and that member's alternate, if alternates are designated by the board of directors as provided in Section 8 of this Article III, of such committee is or are absent or disqualified, the member(s) thereof present at any meeting and not disqualified from voting, whether or not such member(s) constitute a quorum, may unanimously appoint another member of the board of directors to act at the meeting in place of any such absent or disqualified member.

Section 10. Communications Equipment. Members of the board of directors or any committee thereof may participate in and act at any meeting of such board or committee through the use of a conference telephone or other communications equipment by means of which all persons participating in the meeting can hear each other, and participation in the meeting pursuant to this section shall constitute presence in person at the meeting.

Section 11. Waiver of Notice and Presumption of Assent. Any member of the board of directors or any committee thereof who is present at a meeting shall be conclusively presumed to have waived notice of such meeting except when such member attends for the express purpose of objecting at the beginning of the meeting to the transaction of any business because the meeting is not lawfully called or convened. Such member shall be conclusively presumed to have assented to any action taken unless his or her dissent shall be entered in the minutes of the meeting or unless his or her written dissent to such action shall be filed with the person acting as the secretary of the meeting before the adjournment thereof or shall be forwarded by registered mail to the secretary of the corporation immediately after the adjournment of the meeting. Such right to dissent shall not apply to any member who voted in favor of such action.

Section 12. Action by Written Consent. Unless otherwise restricted by the corporation's certificate of incorporation, any action required or permitted to be taken at any meeting of the board of directors, or of any committee thereof, may be taken without a meeting if all members of the board or committee, as the case may be, consent thereto in writing, and the writing(s) are filed with the minutes of proceedings of the board or committee.

ARTICLE IV

OFFICERS

Section 1. Number. The officers of the corporation shall be elected by the board of directors and shall consist of a chairman, if any is elected, a president, one or more vice presidents, a secretary, a treasurer, and such other officers and assistant officers as may be deemed necessary or desirable by the board of directors. Any number of offices may be held by the same person, except that no person may simultaneously hold the office of president and secretary. In its discretion, the board of directors may choose not to fill any office for any period as it may deem advisable.

Section 2. Election and Term of Office. The officers of the corporation shall be elected annually by the board of directors at its first meeting held after each annual meeting of stockholders or as soon thereafter as conveniently may be. The president shall appoint other officers to serve for such terms as he or she deems desirable. Vacancies may be filled or new offices created and filled at any meeting of the board of directors. Each officer shall hold office until a successor is duly elected and qualified or until his or her earlier death, resignation or removal as hereinafter provided.

Section 3. Removal. Any officer or agent elected by the board of directors may be removed by the board of directors whenever in its judgment the best interests of the corporation would be served thereby, but such removal shall be without prejudice to the contract rights, if any, of the person so removed.

Section 4. Vacancies. Any vacancy occurring in any office because of death, resignation, removal, disqualification or otherwise, may be filled by the board of directors for the unexpired portion of the term by the board of directors then in office.

Section 5. Compensation. Compensation of all officers shall be fixed by the board of directors, and no officer shall be prevented from receiving such compensation by virtue of his or her also being a director of the corporation.

Section 6. The Chairman of the Board. The Chairman of the Board, if one shall have been elected, shall be a member of the board, an officer of the corporation, and, if present, shall preside at each meeting of the board of directors or shareholders. He shall advise the president, and in the president's absence, other officers of the corporation, and shall perform such other duties as may from time to time be assigned to him by the board of directors.

Section 7. The President. The president shall be the chief executive officer of the corporation. In the absence of the Chairman of the Board or if a Chairman of the Board shall have not been elected, the president (i) shall preside at all meetings of the stockholders and board of directors at which he or she is present; (ii) subject to the powers of the board of directors, shall have general charge of the business, affairs and property of the corporation, and control over its officers, agents and employees; and (iii) shall see that all orders and resolutions of the board of directors are carried into effect. The president shall have such other powers and perform such other duties as may be prescribed by the board of directors or as may be provided in these by-laws.

Section 8. Vice-presidents. The vice-president, if any, or if there shall be more than one, the vice-presidents in the order determined by the board of directors shall, in the absence or disability of the president, act with all of the powers and be subject to all the restrictions of the president. The vice-presidents shall also perform such other duties and have such other powers as the board of directors, the president or these by-laws may, from time to time, prescribe.

Section 9. The Secretary and Assistant Secretaries. The secretary shall attend all meetings of the board of directors, all meetings of the committees thereof and all meetings of the stockholders and record all the proceedings of the meetings in a book(s) to be kept for that purpose. Under the president's supervision, the secretary (i) shall give, or cause to be given, all notices required to be given by these by-laws or by law; (ii) shall have such powers and perform such duties as the board of directors, the president or these by-laws may, from time to time, prescribe; and (iii) shall have custody of the corporate seal of the corporation. The secretary, or an assistant secretary, shall have authority to affix the corporate seal to any instrument requiring it and when so affixed, it may be attested by his or her signature or by the signature of such assistant secretary. The board of directors may give general authority to any other officer to affix the seal of the corporation and to attest the affixing by his or her signature. The assistant secretary, or if there be more than one, the assistant secretaries in the order determined by the board of directors, shall, in the absence or disability of the secretary, perform the duties and exercise the powers of the secretary and shall perform such other duties and have such other powers as the board of directors, the president, or secretary may, from time to time, prescribe.

Section 10. The Treasurer and Assistant Treasurers. The treasurer (i) shall have the custody of the corporate funds and securities; (ii) shall keep full and accurate accounts of receipts and disbursements in books belonging to the corporation; (iii) shall deposit all monies and other valuable effects in the name and to the credit of the corporation as may be ordered by the board of directors; (iv) shall cause the funds of the corporation to be disbursed when such disbursements have been duly authorized, taking proper vouchers for such disbursements; (v) shall render to the president and the board of directors, at its regular meeting or when the board of directors so requires, an account of the corporation; and (vi) shall have such powers and perform such duties as the board of directors, the president or these by-laws may, from time to time, prescribe. If required by the board of directors, the treasurer shall give the corporation a bond (which shall be rendered every six years) in such sums and with such surety or sureties as shall be satisfactory to the board of directors for the faithful performance of the duties of the office of treasurer and for the restoration to the corporation, in case of death, resignation, retirement, or removal from office, of all books, papers, vouchers, money, and other property of whatever kind in the possession or under the control of the treasurer belonging to the corporation. The assistant treasurer, or if there shall be more than one, the assistant treasurers in the order determined by the board of directors, shall in the absence or disability of the treasurer, perform the duties and exercise the powers of the treasurer. The assistant treasurers shall perform such other duties and have such other powers as the board of directors, the president or treasurer may, from time to time, prescribe.

Section 11. Other Officers, Assistant Officers and Agents. Officers, assistant officers and agents, if any, other than those whose duties are provided for in these by-laws, shall have such authority and perform such duties as may from time to time be prescribed by resolution of the board of directors.

Section 12. Absence or Disability of Officers. In the case of the absence or disability of any officer of the corporation and of any person hereby authorized to act in such officer's place during such officer's absence or disability, the board of directors may by resolution delegate the powers and duties of such officer to any other officer or to any director, or to any other person whom it may select.

ARTICLE V CERTIFICATES OF STOCK

Section 1. Form. Every holder of stock in the corporation shall be entitled to have a certificate, signed by, or in the name of the corporation by (i) the chairman of the board, the president or a vice-president and (ii) the secretary or an assistant secretary of the corporation, certifying the number of shares owned by such holder in the corporation. If such a certificate is countersigned (1) by a transfer agent or an assistant transfer agent other than the corporation or its employee or (2) by a registrar, other than the corporation or its employee, the signature of any such chairman of the board, president, vice-president, secretary, or assistant secretary may be facsimiles. In case any officer(s) who have signed, or whose facsimile signature(s) have been used on, any such certificate(s) shall cease to be such officer(s) of the corporation whether because of death, resignation or otherwise before such certificate(s) have been delivered by the corporation, such certificate(s) may nevertheless be issued and delivered as though the person or persons who signed such certificate(s) or whose facsimile signature(s) have been used thereon had not ceased to be such officer(s) of the corporation. All certificates for shares shall be consecutively numbered or otherwise identified. The name of the person to whom the shares represented thereby are issued, with the number of shares and date of issue, shall be entered on the books of the corporation. Shares of stock of the corporation shall only be transferred on the books of the corporation by the holder of record thereof or by such holder's attorney duly authorized in writing, upon surrender to the corporation of the certificate(s) for such shares endorsed by the appropriate person(s), with such evidence of the authenticity of such endorsement, transfer, authorization, and other matters as the corporation may reasonably require, and accompanied by all necessary stock transfer stamps. In that event, it shall be the duty of the corporation to issue a new certificate to the person entitled thereto, cancel the old certificate(s), and record the transaction on its books. The board of directors may appoint a bank or trust company organized under the laws of the United States or any state thereof to act as its transfer agent or registrar, or both in connection with the transfer of any class or series of securities of the corporation.

Section 2. Lost Certificates. The board of directors may direct a new certificate(s) to be issued in place of any certificate(s) previously issued by the corporation alleged to have been lost, stolen, or destroyed, upon the making of an affidavit of that fact by the person claiming the certificate of stock to be lost, stolen, or destroyed. When authorizing such issue of a new certificate(s), the board of directors may, in its discretion and as a condition precedent to the issuance thereof, require the owner of such lost, stolen, or destroyed certificate(s), or his or her legal representative, to give the corporation a bond sufficient to indemnify the corporation against any claim that may be made against the corporation on account of the loss, theft or destruction of any such certificate or the issuance of such new certificate.

Section 3. Fixing a Record Date for Stockholder Meetings. In order that the corporation may determine the stockholders entitled to notice of or to vote at any meeting of stockholders or any adjournment thereof, the board of directors may fix a record date, which record date shall not precede the date upon which the resolution fixing the record date is adopted by the board of directors, and which record date shall not be more than sixty nor less than ten days before the date of such meeting. If no record date is fixed by the board of directors, the record date for determining stockholders entitled to notice of or to vote at a meeting of stockholders shall be the close of business on the day immediately preceding the day on which notice is given, or if notice is waived, at the close of business on the day immediately preceding the day on which the meeting is held. A determination of stockholders of record entitled to notice of or to vote at a meeting of stockholders shall apply to any adjournment of the meeting; provided, however, that the board of directors may fix a new record date for the adjourned meeting.

Section 4. Fixing a Record Date for Action by Written Consent. In order that the corporation may determine the stockholders entitled to consent to corporate action in writing without a meeting, the board of directors may fix a record date, which record date shall not precede the date upon which the resolution fixing the record date is adopted by the board of directors, and which date shall not be more than ten days after the date upon which the resolution fixing the record date is adopted by the board of directors. If no record date has been fixed by the board of directors, the record date for determining stockholders entitled to consent to corporate action in writing without a meeting, when no prior action by the board of directors is required by statute, shall be the first date on which a signed written consent setting forth the action taken or proposed to be taken is delivered to the corporation by delivery to its registered office in the State of Delaware, its principal place of business, or an officer or agent of the corporation having custody of the book in which proceedings of meetings of stockholders are recorded. Delivery made to the corporation's registered office shall be by hand or by certified or registered mail, return receipt requested. If no record date has been fixed by the board of directors and prior action by the board of directors is required by statute, the record date for determining stockholders entitled to consent to corporate action in writing without a meeting shall be at the close of business on the day on which the board of directors adopts the resolution taking such prior action.

Section 5. Fixing a Record Date for Other Purposes. In order that the corporation may determine the stockholders entitled to receive payment of any dividend or other distribution or allotment or any rights of the stockholders entitled to exercise any rights in respect of any change, conversion or exchange of stock, or for the purposes of any other lawful action, the board of directors may fix a record date, which record date shall not precede the date upon which the resolution fixing the record date is adopted, and which record date shall be not more than sixty days prior to such action. If no record date is fixed, the record date for determining stockholders for any such purpose shall be at the close of business on the day on which the board of directors adopts the resolution relating thereto.

Section 6. Registered Stockholders. Prior to the surrender to the corporation of the certificate(s) for a share(s) of stock with a request to record the transfer of such share(s), the corporation may treat the registered owner as the person entitled to receive dividends, to vote, to receive notifications, and otherwise to exercise all the rights and powers of an owner. The corporation shall not be bound to recognize any equitable or other claim to or interest in such share(s) on the part of any other person, whether or not it shall have express or other notice thereof.

Section 7. Subscriptions for Stock. Unless otherwise provided for in the subscription agreement, subscriptions for shares shall be paid in full at such time, or in such installments and at such times, as shall be determined by the board of directors. Any call made by the board of directors for payment on subscriptions shall be uniform as to all shares of the same class or as to all shares of the same series. In case of default in the payment of any installment or call when such payment is due, the corporation may proceed to collect the amount due in the same manner as any debt due the corporation.

ARTICLE VI

GENERAL PROVISIONS

Section 1. Dividends. Dividends upon the capital stock of the corporation, subject to the provisions of the certificate of incorporation, if any, may be declared by the board of directors at any regular or special meeting, pursuant to law. Dividends may be paid in cash, in property, or in shares of the capital stock, subject to the provisions of the certificate of incorporation. Before payment of any dividend, there may be set aside out of any funds of the corporation available for dividends such sum(s) as the directors from time to time, in their absolute discretion, think proper as a reserve(s) to meet contingencies, or for equalizing dividends, or for repairing or maintaining any property of the corporation, or any other purpose and the directors may modify or abolish any such reserve in the manner in which it was created.

Section 2. Checks, Drafts or Orders. All checks, drafts, or other orders for the payment of money by or to the corporation and all notes and other evidences of indebtedness issued in the name of the corporation shall be signed by such officer(s), agent(s) of the corporation, and in such manner, as shall be determined by resolution of the board of directors or a duly authorized committee thereof.

Section 3. Contracts. The board of directors may authorize any officer(s), or any agent(s), of the corporation to enter into any contract or to execute and deliver any instrument in the name of and on behalf of the corporation, and such authority may be general or confined to specific instances.

Section 4. Fiscal Year. The fiscal year of the corporation shall be fixed by resolution of the board of directors.

Section 5. Voting Securities Owned By Corporation. Voting securities in any other corporation held by the corporation shall be voted by the president, unless the board of directors specifically confers authority to vote with respect thereto, which authority may be general or confined to specific instances, upon some other person or officer. Any person authorized to vote securities shall have the power to appoint proxies, with general power of substitution.

Section 6. Inspection of Books and Records. Any stockholder of record, in person or by attorney or other agent, shall, upon written demand under oath stating the purpose thereof, have the right during the usual hours for business to inspect for any proper purpose the corporation's stock ledger, a list of its stockholders, and its other books and records, and to make copies or extracts therefrom. A proper purpose shall mean any purpose reasonably related to such person's interest as a stockholder. In every instance where an attorney or other agent shall be the person who seeks the right to inspection, the demand under oath shall be accompanied by a power of attorney or such other writing which authorizes the attorney or other agent to so act on behalf of the stockholder. The demand under oath shall be directed to the corporation at its registered office in the State of Delaware or at its principal place of business.

ARTICLE I

Offices

The corporation may have offices at such places both within and without the State of Georgia as the Board of Directors may from time to time determine or the business of the corporation may require.

ARTICLE II

Capital Stock

Section 1. Amount of Capital Stock. The authorized capital stock of the corporation shall be as set forth in the Articles of Incorporation filed with the Secretary of State of the State of Georgia.

Section 2. Certificates of Stock. The certificates of stock shall be of such form and device as the Board of Directors may adopt. All certificates of stock shall be signed by the President, or in his absence, by a Vice-President or by the Chairman if there be one, and by the Secretary or Assistant Secretary or by such other persons as may be authorized by law to sign such certificates. Such certificates shall exhibit the holders' names and the number of shares, be numbered, and entered in the books of the corporation as they are issued.

Section 3. Transfers of Stock and Duplicate Certificates. Transfer of stock shall be made only on the books of the corporation. No new certificate shall be issued in lieu of an old one, unless the latter is properly endorsed, surrendered and marked "cancelled" at the time the new one is issued. If, however, a certificate shall be lost or destroyed, the Board of Directors may order a new certificate issued upon receipt by the corporation of satisfactory security by bond or otherwise against loss to the corporation and upon such other terms, conditions and guaranties as such Board may require. Any such new certificates shall be plainly marked "duplicate" on its face.

Section 4. Recognition of Ownership and Treasury Stock. Any person, firm or corporation in whose name stock stands on the books of the corporation, whether individually, or as trustee, pledgee or otherwise, may be recognized and treated by the corporation as the absolute owner thereof, and the corporation shall in no event be obliged to deal with or to recognize the rights or interests of any other person in such stock, or in any part thereof. Treasury stock shall be held by the corporation subject to disposal by the Board of Directors and shall neither be voted nor participate in dividends and other distributions.

ARTICLE III

Meetings of Shareholders

Section 1. Location. All meetings of the shareholders shall be held at any place within or without the State of Georgia which may be designated either by the Board of Directors or by the written consent of all shareholders entitled to vote thereat given either before or after the meeting and filed by the Secretary of the corporation. In the absence of any such designation, shareholders' meetings shall be held at 103 Continental Place , in the City of Brentwood, State of Tennessee.

Section 2. Annual Meeting. The annual meeting of the stockholders shall be held on such dates and at such times as determined by the Board of Directors. At such meeting, the stockholders shall elect directors, by a plurality vote, to serve for the ensuing year or until their successors shall be elected and qualified.

Section 3. Special Meetings. Special meetings of the shareholders, for any purposes whatsoever, may be called at any time by the President or by any Vice President or by a majority of the Board of Directors or by one or more shareholders holding not less than one-fifth (1/5) of the voting power of the corporation.

Section 4. Notices. Written notice of each annual meeting shall be given to each shareholder either personally or by mail or by other means of written communication, charges prepaid, addressed to each shareholder at his address appearing on the books of the corporation, or given by him to the corporation for the purpose of notice. If a shareholder gives no address, notice is duly given to him if sent by mail or other means of written communication addressed to the place where the principal office of the corporation is situated or if published at least once in some newspaper of general circulation in the county in which the office is located. Except as otherwise expressly provided by statute, any such notice shall be deposited in the United States mail, delivered to the telegraph company in the place in which the principal office of the corporation is located or published at least ten (10) days, but not more than forty (40) days prior to the time of the holding of the meeting. In case such notice is personally delivered or delivered by means of written communication other than by mail, telegraph or publication as above provided, it shall be so delivered at least seven (7) days prior to the time of the holding of the meeting. Such delivery, mailing, telegraphing or publishing as above provided shall be due legal and personal notice to such shareholders. Such notices shall specify the place, the day and the hour of such meeting and shall state such other matters, if any, as may be expressly required by statute. Notice of any special meeting shall specify in addition to the place, day and hour of such meeting the general nature of the business to be transacted. Attendance by a shareholder at any meeting in person or by proxy shall be deemed to waive all requirements as to notice of the meeting. Waiver by a shareholder in writing of notice of any meeting of shareholders shall be equivalent to the giving of such notice.

Section 5. Quorum. The presence in person or by proxy of the holders of a majority of the shares entitled to vote at any meeting shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. In the absence of a quorum, any meeting of the shareholders may be adjourned from time to time by the vote of a majority of the shares, the holders of which are either present in person or represented by proxy thereat, but no other business may be transacted. The shareholders present at a duly organized meeting may continue to transact any business notwithstanding the withdrawal from such meeting of enough shareholders to leave less than a quorum.

Section 6. Proxies. Stock may be represented by proxy and no special form of proxy shall be necessary, but the written authorization of proxy over signature of a shareholder shall be sufficient. No proxy shall be valid after eleven (11) months from the date of its execution, unless otherwise provided in the proxy.

Section 7. Voting. Each share of stock present at any meeting, either in person or by proxy, and having voting power shall be entitled to one vote on all matters coming before the meeting.

Section 8. Presiding Officer. Every meeting of shareholders, whether annual or special, shall be presided over by the President or, in his absence, by any Vice President. The Secretary of the corporation shall act as Secretary of every such meeting or, in his absence, a Secretary shall be appointed by the Chairman of such meeting.

Section 9. Record Date. For the purpose of determining shareholders entitled to notice of or to vote at any meeting of shareholders or any adjournment thereof, or to receive payment of any dividend, the Board of Directors shall fix a record date for determination of shareholders entitled to participate, which shall not be less than twenty (20) days nor more than fifty (50) days prior to the date on which such action is to be taken.

Section 10. Written Consent. To the extent provided by applicable law, any action required to be taken at any annual or special meeting of stockholders of the corporation, or any action which may be taken at any annual or special meeting of such stockholders, may be taken without a meeting, without prior notice and without a vote, if a consent in writing, setting forth the action so taken, shall be signed by all of the holders of outstanding stock.

ARTICLE IV

Directors

Section 1. Number. The number of directors which shall constitute the whole Board shall be not less than three nor more than ten. The first Board shall consist of three directors. Thereafter, within the limits above specified, the number of directors shall be determined by resolution of the Board of Directors or by the stockholders at the annual meeting. The directors shall be elected at the annual meeting of the stockholders, except as provided in Section 3 of this Article, and each director elected shall hold office until his successor is elected and qualified. Directors need not be stockholders.

Section 2. Authority. The Board of Directors shall have power:

First: To conduct, manage, and control the affairs and business of the corporation and to make such rules and regulations therefor, not inconsistent with law or with the Articles of Incorporation or with the Bylaws, as they may deem best;

Second: To appoint and remove at pleasure the officers, agents, and employees of the corporation, prescribe their duties and fix their compensation;

Third: To authorize the issue of shares of stock of the corporation from time to time upon such terms as may be lawful, in consideration of money paid, labor done or services actually rendered, debts or securities canceled, or tangible or intangible property actually received, or in the case of shares issued as a dividend, against amounts transferred from surplus to stated capital;

Fourth: To borrow money and incur indebtedness for the purposes of the corporation and to cause to be executed and delivered therefor, in the corporate name, promissory notes, bonds, debentures, deeds of trust, mortgages, pledges, hypothecations or other evidences of debt and securities therefor;

Fifth: To alter, repeal or amend, from time to time, and at any time, these Bylaws and any and all amendments of the same, and from time to time, and at any time, to make and adopt such new and additional Bylaws as may be necessary and proper, subject to the power of the shareholders to adopt, amend or repeal such Bylaws, or to revoke the delegation of authority of the directors, as provided by law or by Article XIII of these Bylaws; and

Sixth: To appoint an executive and other committees, and to delegate to the Executive Committee any of the powers and authority of the board in the management of the business and affairs of the corporation, except the power to declare dividends and to adopt, amend or repeal Bylaws. The Board of Directors shall have the power to prescribe the manner in which proceedings of the Executive Committee and other committees shall be conducted. The Executive Committee shall be composed of two or more directors.

Section 3. Removal of Directors. The stockholders shall have the power at any meeting of the stockholders to remove any director or officer with or without cause by a vote of the majority in amount of all the outstanding stock of the corporation entitled to vote.

Section 4. Vacancies. Vacancies and newly created directorships resulting from any increase in the authorized number of directors or from any removal of incumbent directors may be filled by a majority of the directors then in office, though less than a quorum, or by a sole remaining director, and the directors so chosen shall hold office until the next annual election and until their successors are duly elected and shall qualify, unless sooner removed. If there are no directors in office, then an election of directors may be held in the manner provided by statute.

Section 5. Quorum. A majority of all the directors of the corporation shall be necessary to constitute a quorum for the transaction of business at all meetings of the Board and a majority of the quorum shall decide any question that may come before the meeting, but less than a quorum may adjourn any meeting from time to time.

Section 6. Meetings. Regular meetings of the Board of Directors shall be held in the City of Brentwood, Tennessee, or at such other place as from time to time shall be determined by resolution of the Board and without notice of said meeting. Special meetings may be called at the discretion of the President of the corporation, or upon request of a majority of members of the Board. A regular meeting of the Board of Directors shall be held immediately following the annual meeting of stockholders, at which the directors shall elect the officers of the corporation for the ensuing year and transact such other business as may come before said meeting, of which no notice need be given except as herein contained.

Section 7. Notice of Meetings. Notice of all special meetings and the place, date and hour for holding such meetings, excepting only the regular meetings, shall be given to each director by mail, telecopy, or telegraph, by the Secretary at least three (3) days previous to the time fixed for the meeting. The transactions of any meeting of the Board of Directors, however called or noticed or wherever held, shall be as valid as though had a meeting duly been held after regular call and notice, if a quorum be present, and if, either before or after the meeting, each of the directors not present signs a written waiver of notice, or a consent to holding such meeting, or an approval of the minutes thereof. All such waivers, consents or approvals shall be filed with the corporate records or made a part of the minutes of the meeting.

Section 8. Compensation. Directors, as such, shall not receive a salary for their services, but by resolution of the Board, a fixed sum and expenses of attendant, if any, may be allowed for attendance at each regular or special meeting of the Board. Nothing herein contained shall be construed to preclude any director from serving the corporation in any other capacity and receiving compensation therefor.

Section 9. Written Consent in Lieu of Meeting. To the extent provided by applicable law, any action required or permitted to be taken at any meeting of the Board of Directors or of any committee thereof may be taken without a meeting, if all members of the Board or committee, as the case may be, consent thereto in writing, and the writing or writings are filed with the minutes of proceedings of the Board or committee.

Section 10. Indemnification. This corporation shall indemnify each present and future director and officer and any person who may serve at its request as a director or officer of another corporation to the extent required and to the extent permitted by the laws of the state in which indemnification is sought.

Section 5. President. ARTICLE I

Offices

The corporation may have offices at such places both within and without the State of Indiana as the Board of Directors may from time to time determine or the business of the corporation may require.

ARTICLE II

Capital Stock

Section 1. Amount of Capital Stock. The authorized capital stock of the corporation shall be as set forth in the Articles of Incorporation filed with the Secretary of State of the State of Indiana.

Section 2. Certificates of Stock. The certificates of stock shall be of such form and device as the Board of Directors may adopt. All certificates of stock shall be signed by the President, or in his absence, by a Vice-President or by the Chairman if there be one, and by the Secretary or Assistant Secretary or by such other persons as may be authorized by law to sign such certificates. Such certificates shall exhibit the holders' names and the number of shares, be numbered, and entered in the books of the corporation as they are issued.

Section 3. Transfers of Stock and Duplicate Certificates. Transfer of stock shall be made only on the books of the corporation. No new certificate shall be issued in lieu of an old one, unless the latter is properly endorsed, surrendered and marked "cancelled" at the time the new one is issued. If, however, a certificate shall be lost or destroyed, the Board of Directors may order a new certificate issued upon receipt by the corporation of satisfactory security by bond or otherwise against loss to the corporation and upon such other terms, conditions and guaranties as such Board may require. Any such new certificates shall be plainly marked "duplicate" on its face.

Section 4. Recognition of Ownership and Treasury Stock. Any person, firm or corporation in whose name stock stands on the books of the corporation, whether individually, or as trustee, pledgee or otherwise, may be recognized and treated by the corporation as the absolute owner thereof, and the corporation shall in no event be obliged to deal with or to recognize the rights or interests of any other person in such stock, or in any part thereof. Treasury stock shall be held by the corporation subject to disposal by the Board of Directors and shall neither be voted nor participate in dividends and other distributions.

ARTICLE III

Meetings of Shareholders

Section 1. Location. All meetings of the shareholders shall be held at any place within or without the State of Indiana which may be designated either by the Board of Directors or by the written consent of all shareholders entitled to vote thereat given either before or after the meeting and filed by the Secretary of the corporation. In the absence of any such designation, shareholders' meetings shall be held at 103 Continental Place, in the City of Brentwood, State of Tennessee.

Section 2. Annual Meeting. The annual meeting of the stockholders shall be held on such dates and at such times as determined by the Board of Directors. At such meeting, the stockholders shall elect directors, by a plurality vote, to serve for the ensuing year or until their successors shall be elected and qualified.

Section 3. Special Meetings. Special meetings of the shareholders, for any purposes whatsoever, may be called at any time by the President or by any Vice President or by a majority of the Board of Directors or by one or more shareholders holding not less than one-fifth (1/5) of the voting power of the corporation.

Section 4. Notices. Written notice of each annual meeting shall be given to each shareholder either personally or by mail or by other means of written communication, charges prepaid, addressed to each shareholder at his address appearing on the books of the corporation, or given by him to the corporation for the purpose of notice. If a shareholder gives no address, notice is duly given to him if sent by mail or other means of written communication addressed to the place where the principal office of the corporation is situated or if published at least once in some newspaper of general circulation in the county in which the office is located. Except as otherwise expressly provided by statute, any such notice shall be deposited in the United States mail, delivered to the telegraph company in the place in which the principal office of the corporation is located or published at least ten (10) days, but not more than forty (40) days prior to the time of the holding of the meeting. In case such notice is personally delivered or delivered by means of written communication other than by mail, telegraph or publication as above provided, it shall be so delivered at least seven (7) days prior to the time of the holding of the meeting. Such delivery, mailing, telegraphing or publishing as above provided shall be due legal and personal notice to such shareholders. Such notices shall specify the place, the day and the hour of such meeting and shall state such other matters, if any, as may be expressly required by statute. Notice of any special meeting shall specify in addition to the place, day and hour of such meeting the general nature of the business to be transacted. Attendance by a shareholder at any meeting in person or by proxy shall be deemed to waive all requirements as to notice of the meeting. Waiver by a shareholder in writing of notice of any meeting of shareholders shall be equivalent to the giving of such notice.

Section 5. Quorum. The presence in person or by proxy of the holders of a majority of the shares entitled to vote at any meeting shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. In the absence of a quorum, any meeting of the shareholders may be adjourned from time to time by the vote of a majority of the shares, the holders of which are either present in person or represented by proxy thereat, but no other business may be transacted. The shareholders present at a duly organized meeting may continue to transact any business notwithstanding the withdrawal from such meeting of enough shareholders to leave less than a quorum.

Section 6. Proxies. Stock may be represented by proxy and no special form of proxy shall be necessary, but the written authorization of proxy over signature of a shareholder shall be sufficient. No proxy shall be valid after eleven (11) months from the date of its execution, unless otherwise provided in the proxy.

Section 7. Voting. Each share of stock present at any meeting, either in person or by proxy, and having voting power shall be entitled to one vote on all matters coming before the meeting.

Section 8. Presiding Officer. Every meeting of shareholders, whether annual or special, shall be presided over by the President or, in his absence, by any Vice President. The Secretary of the corporation shall act as Secretary of every such meeting or, in his absence, a Secretary shall be appointed by the Chairman of such meeting.

Section 9. Record Date. For the purpose of determining shareholders entitled to notice of or to vote at any meeting of shareholders or any adjournment thereof, or to receive payment of any dividend, the Board of Directors shall fix a record date for determination of shareholders entitled to participate, which shall not be less than twenty (20) days nor more than fifty (50) days prior to the date on which such action is to be taken.

Section 10. Written Consent. To the extent provided by applicable law, any action required to be taken at any annual or special meeting of stockholders of the corporation, or any action which may be taken at any annual or special meeting of such stockholders, may be taken without a meeting, without prior notice and without a vote, if a consent in writing, setting forth the action so taken, shall be signed by all of the holders of outstanding stock.

ARTICLE IV

Directors

Section 1 Number. The number of directors which shall constitute the whole Board shall be not less than three nor more than ten. The first Board shall consist of three directors. Thereafter, within the limits above specified, the number of directors shall be determined by resolution of the Board of Directors or by the stockholders at the annual meeting. The directors shall be elected at the annual meeting of the stockholders, except as provided in Section 3 of this Article, and each director elected shall hold office until his successor is elected and qualified. Directors need not be stockholders.

Section 2. Authority. The Board of Directors shall have power:

First: To conduct, manage, and control the affairs and business of the corporation and to make such rules and regulations therefor, not inconsistent with law or with the Articles of Incorporation or with the Bylaws, as they may deem best;

Second: To appoint and remove at pleasure the officers, agents, and employees of the corporation, prescribe their duties and fix their compensation;

Third: To authorize the issue of shares of stock of the corporation from time to time upon such terms as may be lawful, in consideration of money paid, labor done or services actually rendered, debts or securities canceled, or tangible or intangible property actually received, or in the case of shares issued as a dividend, against amounts transferred from surplus to stated capital;

Fourth: To borrow money and incur indebtedness for the purposes of the corporation and to cause to be executed and delivered therefor, in the corporate name, promissory notes, bonds, debentures, deeds of trust, mortgages, pledges, hypothecations or other evidences of debt and securities therefor;

Fifth: To alter, repeal or amend, from time to time, and at any time, these Bylaws and any and all amendments of the same, and from time to time, and at any time, to make and adopt such new and additional Bylaws as may be necessary and proper, subject to the power of the shareholders to adopt, amend or repeal such Bylaws, or to revoke the delegation of authority of the directors, as provided by law or by Article XIII of these Bylaws; and

Sixth: To appoint an executive and other committees, and to delegate to the Executive Committee any of the powers and authority of the board in the management of the business and affairs of the corporation, except the power to declare dividends and to adopt, amend or repeal Bylaws. The Board of Directors shall have the power to prescribe the manner in which proceedings of the Executive Committee and other committees shall be conducted. The Executive Committee shall be composed of two or more directors.

Section 3. Removal of Directors. The stockholders shall have the power at any meeting of the stockholders to remove any director or officer with or without cause by a vote of the majority in amount of all the outstanding stock of the corporation entitled to vote.

Section 4. Vacancies. Vacancies and newly created directorships resulting from any increase in the authorized number of directors or from any removal of incumbent directors may be filled by a majority of the directors then in office, though less than a quorum, or by a sole remaining director, and the directors so chosen shall hold office until the next annual election and until their successors are duly elected and shall qualify, unless sooner removed. If there are no directors in office, then an election of directors may be held in the manner provided by statute.

Section 5. Quorum. A majority of all the directors of the corporation shall be necessary to constitute a quorum for the transaction of business at all meetings of the Board and a majority of the quorum shall decide any question that may come before the meeting, but less than a quorum may adjourn any meeting from time to time.

Section 6. Meetings. Regular meetings of the Board of Directors shall be held in the City of Brentwood, Tennessee, or at such other place as from time to time shall be determined by resolution of the Board and without notice of said meeting. Special meetings may be called at the discretion of the President of the corporation, or upon request of a majority of members of the Board. A regular meeting of the Board of Directors shall be held immediately following the annual meeting of stockholders, at which the directors shall elect the officers of the corporation for the ensuing year and transact such other business as may come before said meeting, of which no notice need be given except as herein contained.

Section 7. Notice of Meetings. Notice of all special meetings and the place, date and hour for holding such meetings, excepting only the regular meetings, shall be given to each director by mail, telecopy, or telegraph, by the Secretary at least three (3) days previous to the time fixed for the meeting. The transactions of any meeting of the Board of Directors, however called or noticed or wherever held, shall be as valid as though had a meeting duly been held after regular call and notice, if a quorum be present, and if, either before or after the meeting, each of the directors not present signs a written waiver of notice, or a consent to holding such meeting, or an approval of the minutes thereof. All such waivers, consents or approvals shall be filed with the corporate records or made a part of the minutes of the meeting.

Section 8. Compensation. Directors, as such, shall not receive a salary for their services, but by resolution of the Board, a fixed sum and expenses of attendant, if any, may be allowed for attendance at each regular or special meeting of the Board. Nothing herein contained shall be construed to preclude any director from serving the corporation in any other capacity and receiving compensation therefor.

Section 9. Written Consent in Lieu of Meeting. To the extent provided by applicable law, any action required or permitted to be taken at any meeting of the Board of Directors or of any committee thereof may be taken without a meeting, if all members of the Board or committee, as the case may be, consent thereto in writing, and the writing or writings are filed with the minutes of proceedings of the Board or committee.

Section 10. Indemnification. This corporation shall indemnify each present and future director and officer and any person who may serve at its request as a director or officer of another corporation to the extent required and to the extent permitted by the laws of the state in which indemnification is sought.

Section 5. President. It shall be the duty of the President to preside at all meetings of the Board of Directors at which he is present, unless the Board shall elect a permanent Chairman; to call special meetings of the Board whenever he may think such meetings are necessary, or as requested to do so in accordance with these Bylaws; to sign all certificates of stock, contracts, leases, mortgages, deeds, conveyances and other documents of the corporation, which shall be countersigned by the Secretary or Treasurer where required. ARTICLE I

The corporation may have offices at such places both within and without the State of Indiana as the Board of Directors may from time to time determine or the business of the corporation may require.

ARTICLE II

Capital Stock

Section 1. Amount of Capital Stock. The authorized capital stock of the corporation shall be as set forth in the Articles of Incorporation filed with the Secretary of State of the State of Indiana.

Section 2. Certificates of Stock. The certificates of stock shall be of such form and device as the Board of Directors may adopt. All certificates of stock shall be signed by the President, or in his absence, by a Vice-President or by the Chairman if there be one, and by the Secretary or Assistant Secretary or by such other persons as may be authorized by law to sign such certificates. Such certificates shall exhibit the holders' names and the number of shares, be numbered, and entered in the books of the corporation as they are issued.

Section 3. Transfers of Stock and Duplicate Certificates. Transfer of stock shall be made only on the books of the corporation. No new certificate shall be issued in lieu of an old one, unless the latter is properly endorsed, surrendered and marked "cancelled" at the time the new one is issued. If, however, a certificate shall be lost or destroyed, the Board of Directors may order a new certificate issued upon receipt by the corporation of satisfactory security by bond or otherwise against loss to the corporation and upon such other terms, conditions and guaranties as such Board may require. Any such new certificates shall be plainly marked "duplicate" on its face.

Section 4. Recognition of Ownership and Treasury Stock. Any person, firm or corporation in whose name stock stands on the books of the corporation, whether individually, or as trustee, pledgee or otherwise, may be recognized and treated by the corporation as the absolute owner thereof, and the corporation shall in no event be obliged to deal with or to recognize the rights or interests of any other person in such stock, or in any part thereof. Treasury stock shall be held by the corporation subject to disposal by the Board of Directors and shall neither be voted nor participate in dividends and other distributions.

ARTICLE III

Meetings of Shareholders

Section 1. Location. All meetings of the shareholders shall be held at any place within or without the State of Indiana which may be designated either by the Board of Directors or by the written consent of all shareholders entitled to vote thereat given either before or after the meeting and filed by the Secretary of the corporation. In the absence of any such designation, shareholders' meetings shall be held at 103 Continental Place, in the City of Brentwood, State of Tennessee.

Section 2. Annual Meeting. The annual meeting of the stockholders shall be held on such dates and at such times as determined by the Board of Directors. At such meeting, the stockholders shall elect directors, by a plurality vote, to serve for the ensuing year or until their successors shall be elected and qualified.

Section 3. Special Meetings. Special meetings of the shareholders, for any purposes whatsoever, may be called at any time by the President or by any Vice President or by a majority of the Board of Directors or by one or more shareholders holding not less than one-fifth (1/5) of the voting power of the corporation.

Section 4 . Notices. Written notice of each annual meeting shall be given to each shareholder either personally or by mail or by other means of written communication, charges prepaid, addressed to each shareholder at his address appearing on the books of the corporation, or given by him to the corporation for the purpose of notice. If a shareholder gives no address, notice is duly given to him if sent by mail or other means of written communication addressed to the place where the principal office of the corporation is situated or if published at least once in some newspaper of general circulation in the county in which the office is located. Except as otherwise expressly provided by statute, any such notice shall be deposited in the United States mail, delivered to the telegraph company in the place in which the principal office of the corporation is located or published at least ten (10) days, but not more than forty (40) days prior to the time of the holding of the meeting. In case such notice is personally delivered or delivered by means of written communication other than by mail, telegraph or publication as above provided, it shall be so delivered at least seven (7) days prior to the time of the holding of the meeting. Such delivery, mailing, telegraphing or publishing as above provided shall be due legal and personal notice to such shareholders. Such notices shall specify the place, the day and the hour of such meeting and shall state such other matters, if any, as maybe expressly required by statute. Notice of any special meeting shall specify in addition to the place, day and hour of such meeting the general nature of the business to be transacted. Attendance by a shareholder at any meeting in person or by proxy shall be deemed to waive all requirements as to notice of the meeting. Waiver by a shareholder in writing of notice of any meeting of shareholders shall be equivalent to the giving of such notice.

Section 5. Quorum. The presence in person or by proxy of the holders of a majority of the shares entitled to vote at any meeting shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. In the absence of a quorum, any meeting of the shareholders may be adjourned from time to time by the vote of a majority of the shares, the holders of which are either present in person or represented by proxy thereat, but no other business may be transacted. The shareholders present at a duly organized meeting may continue to transact any business notwithstanding the withdrawal from such meeting of enough shareholders to leave less than a quorum.

Section 6. Proxies. Stock may be represented by proxy and no special form of proxy shall be necessary, but the written authorization of proxy over signature of a shareholder shall be sufficient. No proxy shall be valid after eleven (11) months from the date of its execution, unless otherwise provided in the proxy.

Section 7. Voting. Each share of stock present at any meeting, either in person or by proxy, and having voting power shall be entitled to one vote on all matters coming before the meeting.

Section 8. Presiding Officer. Every meeting of shareholders, whether annual or special, shall be presided over by the President or, in his absence, by any Vice President. The Secretary of the corporation shall act as Secretary of every such meeting or, in his absence, a Secretary shall be appointed by the Chairman of such meeting.

Section 9. Record Date. For the purpose of determining shareholders entitled to notice of or to vote at any meeting of shareholders or any adjournment thereof, or to receive payment of any dividend, the Board of Directors shall fix a record date for determination of shareholders entitled to participate, which shall not be less than twenty (20) days nor more than fifty (50) days prior to the date on which such action is to be taken.

Section 10. Written Consent. To the extent provided by applicable law, any action required to be taken at any annual or special meeting of stockholders of the corporation, or any action which may be taken at any annual or special meeting of such stockholders, may be taken without a meeting, without prior notice and without a vote, if a consent in writing, setting forth the action so taken, shall be signed by all of the holders of outstanding stock.

ARTICLE IV

Directors

Section 1. Number. The number of directors which shall constitute the whole Board shall be not less than three nor more than ten. The first Board shall consist of three directors. Thereafter, within the limits above specified, the number of directors shall be determined by resolution of the Board of Directors or by the stockholders at the annual meeting. The directors shall be elected at the annual meeting of the stockholders, except as provided in Section 3 of this Article, and each director elected shall hold office until his successor is elected and qualified. Directors need not be stockholders.

Section 2. Authority. The Board of Directors shall have power:

First: To conduct, manage, and control the affairs and business of the corporation and to make such rules and regulations therefor, not inconsistent with law or with the Articles of Incorporation or with the Bylaws, as they may deem best;

Second: To appoint and remove at pleasure the officers, agents, and employees of the corporation, prescribe their duties and fix their compensation;

Third: To authorize the issue of shares of stock of the corporation from time to time upon such terms as may be lawful, in consideration of money paid, labor done or services actually rendered, debts or securities canceled, or tangible or intangible property actually received, or in the case of shares issued as a dividend, against amounts transferred from surplus to stated capital;

Fourth: To borrow money and incur indebtedness for the purposes of the corporation and to cause to be executed and delivered therefor, in the corporate name, promissory notes, bonds, debentures, deeds of trust, mortgages, pledges, hypothecations or other evidences of debt and securities therefor;

Fifth: To alter, repeal or amend, from time to time, and at any time, these Bylaws and any and all amendments of the same, and from time to time, and at any time, to make and adopt such new and additional Bylaws as may be necessary and proper, subject to the power of the shareholders to adopt, amend or repeal such Bylaws, or to revoke the delegation of authority of the directors, as provided by law or by Article XIII of these Bylaws; and

Sixth: To appoint an executive and other committees, and to delegate to the Executive Committee any of the powers and authority of the board in the management of the business and affairs of the corporation, except the power to declare dividends and to adopt, amend or repeal Bylaws. The Board of Directors shall have the power to prescribe the manner in which proceedings of the Executive Committee and other committees shall be conducted. The Executive Committee shall be composed of two or more directors.

Section 3. Removal of Directors. The stockholders shall have the power at any meeting of the stockholders to remove any director or officer with or without cause by a vote of the majority in amount of all the outstanding stock of the corporation entitled to vote.

Section 4. Vacancies. Vacancies and newly created directorships resulting from any increase in the authorized number of directors or from any removal of incumbent directors may be filled by a majority of the directors then in office, though less than a quorum, or by a sole remaining director, and the directors so chosen shall hold office until the next annual election and until their successors are duly elected and shall qualify, unless sooner removed. If there are no directors in office, then an election of directors may be held in the manner provided by statute.

Section 5. Quorum. A majority of all the directors of the corporation shall be necessary to constitute a quorum for the transaction of business at all meetings of the Board and a majority of the quorum shall decide any question that may come before the meeting, but less than a quorum may adjourn any meeting from time to time.

Section 6. Meetings. Regular meetings of the Board of Directors shall be held in the City of Brentwood, Tennessee, or at such other place as from time to time shall be determined by resolution of the Board and without notice of said meeting. Special meetings may be called at the discretion of the President of the corporation, or upon request of a majority of members of the Board. A regular meeting of the Board of Directors shall be held immediately following the annual meeting of stockholders, at which the directors shall elect the officers of the corporation for the ensuing year and transact such other business as may come before said meeting, of which no notice need be given except as herein contained.

Section 7. Notice of Meetings. Notice of all special meetings and the place, date and hour for holding such meetings, excepting only the regular meetings, shall be given to each director by mail, telecopy, or telegraph, by the Secretary at least three (3) days previous to the time fixed for the meeting. The transactions of any meeting of the Board of Directors, however called or noticed or wherever held, shall be as valid as though had a meeting duly been held after regular call and notice, if a quorum be present, and if, either before or after the meeting, each of the directors not present signs a written waiver of notice, or a consent to holding such meeting, or an approval of the minutes thereof. All such waivers, consents or approvals shall be filed with the corporate records or made a part of the minutes of the meeting.

Section 8. Compensation. Directors, as such, shall not receive a salary for their services, but by resolution of the Board, a fixed sum and expenses of attendant, if any, may be allowed for attendance at each regular or special meeting of the Board. Nothing herein contained shall be construed to preclude any director from serving the corporation in any other capacity and receiving compensation therefor.

Section 9. Written Consent in Lieu of Meeting. To the extent provided by applicable law, any action required or permitted to be taken at any meeting of the Board of Directors or of any committee thereof may be taken without a meeting, if all members of the Board or committee, as the case may be, consent thereto in writing, and the writing or writings are filed with the minutes of proceedings of the Board or committee.

Section 10. Indemnification. This corporation shall indemnify each present and future director and officer and any person who may serve at its request as a director or officer of another corporation to the extent required and to the extent permitted by the laws of the state in which indemnification is sought.

ARTICLE V

Section 1. Number. The officers of the corporation shall be chosen by the Board of Directors and shall be a President, one or more Vice Presidents, a Secretary and Treasurer. In addition, the President may appoint, or the Board of Directors may elect one or more Assistant Secretaries and one or more Assistant Treasurers who shall have the same duties and authority, respectively, as the Secretary and Treasurer. Any number of offices, other than the President and the Secretary, may be held by the same person, unless the certificate of incorporation or these Bylaws provide otherwise. No person shall sign any document on behalf of this corporation in more than one capacity.

QHG OF CLINTON COUNTY, INC.

Offices

The corporation may have offices at such places both within and without the State of Indiana as the Board of Directors may from time to time determine or the business of the corporation may require.

ARTICLE II

Capital Stock

Section 1. Amount of Capital Stock. The authorized capital stock of the corporation shall be as set forth in the Articles of Incorporation filed with the Secretary of State of the State of Indiana.

Section 2. Certificates of Stock. The certificates of stock shall be of such form and device as the Board of Directors may adopt. All certificates of stock shall be signed by the President, or in his absence, by a Vice-President or by the Chairman if there be one, and by the Secretary or Assistant Secretary or by such other persons as may be authorized by law to sign such certificates. Such certificates shall exhibit the holders' names and the number of shares, be numbered, and entered in the books of the corporation as they are issued.

Section 3. Transfers of Stock and Duplicate Certificates. Transfer of stock shall be made only on the books of the corporation. No new certificate shall be issued in lieu of an old one, unless the latter is properly endorsed, surrendered and marked "cancelled" at the time the new one is issued. If, however, a certificate shall be lost or destroyed, the Board of Directors may order a new certificate issued upon receipt by the corporation of satisfactory security by bond or otherwise against loss to the corporation and upon such other terms, conditions and guaranties as such Board may require. Any such new certificates shall be plainly marked "duplicate" on its face.

Section 4. Recognition of Ownership and Treasury Stock. Any person, firm or corporation in whose name stock stands on the books of the corporation, whether individually, or as trustee, pledgee or otherwise, may be recognized and treated by the corporation as the absolute owner thereof, and the corporation shall in no event be obliged to deal with or to recognize the rights or interests of any other person in such stock, or in any part thereof. Treasury stock shall be held by the corporation subject to disposal by the Board of Directors and shall neither be voted nor participate in dividends and other distributions.

ARTICLE III

Meetings of Shareholders

Section 1. Location. All meetings of the shareholders shall be held at any place within or without the State of Indiana which may be designated either by the Board of Directors or by the written consent of all shareholders entitled to vote thereat given either before or after the meeting and filed by the Secretary of the corporation. In the absence of any such designation, shareholders' meetings shall be held at 103 Continental Place, in the City of Brentwood, State of Tennessee.

Section 2. Annual Meeting. The annual meeting of the stockholders shall be held on such dates and at such times as determined by the Board of Directors. At such meeting, the stockholders shall elect directors, by a plurality vote, to serve for the ensuing year or until their successors shall be elected and qualified.

Section 3. Special Meetings. Special meetings of the shareholders, for any purposes whatsoever, may be called at any time by the President or by any Vice President or by a majority of the Board of Directors or by one or more shareholders holding not less than one-fifth (1/5) of the voting power of the corporation.

Section 4. Notices. Written notice of each annual meeting shall be given to each shareholder either personally or by mail or by other means of written communication, charges prepaid, addressed to each shareholder at his address appearing on the books of the corporation, or given by him to the corporation for the purpose of notice. If a shareholder gives no address, notice is duly given to him if sent by mail or other means of written communication addressed to the place where the principal office of the corporation is situated or if published at least once in some newspaper of general circulation in the county in which the office is located. Except as otherwise expressly provided by statute, any such notice shall be deposited in the United States mail, delivered to the telegraph company in the place in which the principal office of the corporation is located or published at least ten (10) days, but not more than forty (40) days prior to the time of the holding of the meeting. In case such notice is personally delivered or delivered by means of written communication other than by mail, telegraph or publication as above provided, it shall be so delivered at least seven (7) days prior to the time of the holding of the meeting. Such delivery, mailing, telegraphing or publishing as above provided shall be due legal and personal notice to such shareholders. Such notices shall specify the place, the day and the hour of such meeting and shall state such other matters, if any, as may be expressly required by statute. Notice of any special meeting shall specify in addition to the place, day and hour of such meeting the general nature of the business to be transacted. Attendance by a shareholder at any meeting in person or by proxy shall be deemed to waive all requirements as to notice of the meeting. Waiver by a shareholder in writing of notice of any meeting of shareholders shall be equivalent to the giving of such notice.

Section 5. Quorum. The presence in person or by proxy of the holders of a majority of the shares entitled to vote at any meeting shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. In the absence of a quorum, any meeting of the shareholders may be adjourned from time to time by the vote of a majority of the shares, the holders of which are either present in person or represented by proxy thereat, but no other business may be transacted. The shareholders present at a duly organized meeting may continue to transact any business notwithstanding the withdrawal from such meeting of enough shareholders to leave less than a quorum.

Section 6. Proxies. Stock may be represented by proxy and no special form of proxy shall be necessary, but the written authorization of proxy over signature of a shareholder shall be sufficient. No proxy shall be valid after eleven (11) months from the date of its execution, unless otherwise provided in the proxy.

Section 7. Voting. Each share of stock present at any meeting, either in person or by proxy, and having voting power shall be entitled to one vote on all matters coming before the meeting.

Section 8. Presiding Officer. Every meeting of shareholders, whether annual or special, shall be presided over by the President or, in his absence, by any Vice President. The Secretary of the corporation shall act as Secretary of every such meeting or, in his absence, a Secretary shall be appointed by the Chairman of such meeting.

Section 9. Record Date. For the purpose of determining shareholders entitled to notice of or to vote at any meeting of shareholders or any adjournment thereof, or to receive payment of any dividend, the Board of Directors shall fix a record date for determination of shareholders entitled to participate, which shall not be less than twenty (20) days nor more than fifty (50) days prior to the date on which such action is to be taken.

Section 10. Written Consent. To the extent provided by applicable law, any action required to be taken at any annual or special meeting of stockholders of the corporation, or any action which may be taken at any annual or special meeting of such stockholders, may be taken without a meeting, without prior notice and without a vote, if a consent in writing, setting forth the action so taken, shall be signed by all of the holders of outstanding stock.

ARTICLE IV

Directors

Section 1. Number. The number of directors which shall constitute the whole Board shall be not less than three nor more than ten. The first Board shall consist of four directors. Thereafter, within the limits above specified, the number of directors shall be determined by resolution of the Board of Directors or by the stockholders at the annual meeting. The directors shall be elected at the annual meeting of the stockholders, except as provided in Section 3 of this Article, and each director elected shall hold office until his successor is elected and qualified. Directors need not be stockholders.

Section 2. Authority. The Board of Directors shall have power:

First: To conduct, manage, and control the affairs and business of the corporation and to make such rules and regulations therefor, not inconsistent with law or with the Articles of Incorporation or with the Bylaws, as they may deem best;

Second: To appoint and remove at pleasure the officers, agents, and employees of the corporation, prescribe their duties and fix their compensation;

Third: To authorize the issue of shares of stock of the corporation from time to time upon such terms as may be lawful, in consideration of money paid, labor done or services actually rendered, debts or securities canceled, or tangible or intangible property actually received, or in the case of shares issued as a dividend, against amounts transferred from surplus to stated capital;

Fourth: To borrow money and incur indebtedness for the purposes of the corporation and to cause to be executed and delivered therefor, in the corporate name, promissory notes, bonds, debentures, deeds of trust, mortgages, pledges, hypothecations or other evidences of debt and securities therefor;

Fifth: To alter, repeal or amend, from time to time, and at any time, these Bylaws and any and all amendments of the same, and from time to time, and at any time, to make and adopt such new and additional Bylaws as may be necessary and proper, subject to the power of the shareholders to adopt, amend or repeal such Bylaws, or to revoke the delegation of authority of the directors, as provided by law or by Article XIII of these Bylaws; and

Sixth: To appoint an executive and other committees, and to delegate to the Executive Committee any of the powers and authority of the board in the management of the business and affairs of the corporation, except the power to declare dividends and to adopt, amend or repeal Bylaws. The Board of Directors shall have the power to prescribe the manner in which proceedings of the Executive Committee and other committees shall be conducted. The Executive Committee shall be composed of two or more directors.

Section 3. Removal of Directors. The stockholders shall have the power at any meeting of the stockholders to remove any director or officer with or without cause by a vote of the majority in amount of all the outstanding stock of the corporation entitled to vote.

Section 4. Vacancies. Vacancies and newly created directorships resulting from any increase in the authorized number of directors or from any removal of incumbent directors may be filled by a majority of the directors then in office, though less than a quorum, or by a sole remaining director, and the directors so chosen shall hold office until the next annual election and until their successors are duly elected and shall qualify, unless sooner removed. If there are no directors in office, then an election of directors may be held in the manner provided by statute.

Section 5. Quorum. A majority of all the directors of the corporation shall be necessary to constitute a quorum for the transaction of business at all meetings of the Board and a majority of the quorum shall decide any question that may come before the meeting, but less than a quorum may adjourn any meeting from time to time.

Section 6. Meetings. Regular meetings of the Board of Directors shall be held in the City of Brentwood, Tennessee, or at such other place as from time to time shall be determined by resolution of the Board and without notice of said meeting. Special meetings may be called at the discretion of the President of the corporation, or upon request of a majority of members of the Board. A regular meeting of the Board of Directors shall be held immediately following the annual meeting of stockholders, at which the directors shall elect the officers of the corporation for the ensuing year and transact such other business as may come before said meeting, of which no notice need be given except as herein contained.

Section 7. Notice of Meetings. Notice of all special meetings and the place, date and hour for holding such meetings, excepting only the regular meetings, shall be given to each director by mail, telecopy, or telegraph, by the Secretary at least three (3) days previous to the time fixed for the meeting. The transactions of any meeting of the Board of Directors, however called or noticed or wherever held, shall be as valid as though had a meeting duly been held after regular call and notice, if a quorum be present, and if, either before or after the meeting, each of the directors not present signs a written waiver of notice, or a consent to holding such meeting, or an approval of the minutes thereof. All such waivers, consents or approvals shall be filed with the corporate records or made a part of the minutes of the meeting.

Section 8. Compensation. Directors, as such, shall not receive a salary for their services, but by resolution of the Board, a fixed sum and expenses of attendant, if any, may be allowed for attendance at each regular or special meeting of the Board. Nothing herein contained shall be construed to preclude any director from serving the corporation in any other capacity and receiving compensation therefor.

Section 9. Written Consent in Lieu of Meeting. To the extent provided by applicable law, any action required or permitted to be taken at any meeting of the Board of Directors or of any committee thereof may be taken without a meeting, if all members of the Board or committee, as the case may be, consent thereto in writing, and the writing or writings are filed with the minutes of proceedings of the Board or committee.

Section 10. Indemnification. This corporation shall indemnify each present and future director and officer and any person who may serve at its request as a director or officer of another corporation to the extent required and to the extent permitted by the laws of the state in which indemnification is sought.

BYLAWS

QHG OF FORT WAYNE, INC.

Offices

The corporation may have offices at such places both within and without the State of Indiana as the Board of Directors may from time to time determine or the business of the corporation may require.

ARTICLE II

Capital Stock

Section 1. Amount of Capital Stock. The authorized capital stock of the corporation shall be as set forth in the Articles of Incorporation filed with the Secretary of State of the State of Indiana.

Section 2. Certificates of Stock. The certificates of stock shall be of such form and device as the Board of Directors may adopt. All certificates of stock shall be signed by the President, or in his absence, by a Vice-President, and by the Secretary or Assistant Secretary or by such other persons as may be authorized by law to sign such certificates. Such certificates shall exhibit the holders' names and the number of shares, be numbered, and entered in the books of the corporation as they are issued.

Section 3. Transfers of Stock and Duplicate Certificates. Transfer of stock shall be made only on the books of the corporation. No new certificate shall be issued in lieu of an old one, unless the latter is properly endorsed, surrendered and marked "cancelled" at the time the new one is issued. If, however, a certificate shall be lost or destroyed, the Board of Directors may order a new certificate issued upon receipt by the corporation of satisfactory security by bond or otherwise against loss to the corporation and upon such other terms, conditions and guaranties as such Board may require. Any such new certificates shall be plainly marked "duplicate" on its face.

Section 4. Recognition of Ownership and Treasury Stock. Any person, firm or corporation in whose name stock stands on the books of the corporation, whether individually, or as trustee, pledgee or otherwise, may be recognized and treated by the corporation as the absolute owner thereof, and the corporation shall in no event be obliged to deal with or to recognize the rights or interests of any other person in such stock, or in any part thereof. Treasury stock shall be held by the corporation subject to disposal by the Board of Directors and shall neither be voted nor participate in dividends and other distributions.

ARTICLE III

Meetings of Shareholders

Section 1. Location. All meetings of the shareholders shall be held at any place within or without the State of Indiana which may be designated either by the Board of Directors or by the written consent of all shareholders entitled to vote thereat given either before or after the meeting and filed by the Secretary of the corporation. In the absence of any such designation, shareholders' meetings shall be held at 155 Franklin Road, in the City of Brentwood, State of Tennessee.

Section 2. Annual Meeting. The annual meeting of the stockholders shall be held on such dates and at such times as determined by the Board of Directors. At such meeting, the stockholders shall elect directors, by a plurality vote, to serve for the ensuing year or until their successors shall be elected and qualified.

Section 3. Special Meetings. Special meetings of the shareholders, for any purposes whatsoever, may be called at any time by the President or by any Vice President or by a majority of the Board of Directors or by one or more shareholders holding not less than one-fifth (1/5) of the voting power of the corporation.

Section 4. notices. Written notice of each annual meeting shall be given to each shareholder either personally or by mail or by other means of written communication, charges prepaid, addressed to each shareholder at his address appearing on the books of the corporation, or given by him to the corporation for the purpose of notice. If a shareholder gives no address, notice is duly given to him if sent by mail or other means of written communication addressed to the place where the principal office of the corporation is situated or if published at least once in some newspaper of general circulation in the county in which the office is located. Except as otherwise expressly provided by statute, any such notice shall be deposited in the United States mail, delivered to the telegraph company in the place in which the principal office of the corporation is located or published at least ten (10) days, but not more than forty (40) days prior to the time of the holding of the meeting. In case such notice is personally delivered or delivered by means of written communication other than by mail, telegraph or publication as above provided, it shall be so delivered at least seven (7) days prior to the time of the holding of the meeting. Such delivery, mailing, telegraphing or publishing as above provided shall be due legal and personal notice to such shareholders. Such notices shall specify the place, the day and the hour of such meeting and shall state such other matters, if any, as may be expressly required by statute. Notice of any special meeting shall specify in addition to the place, day and hour of such meeting the general nature of the business to be transacted. Attendance by a shareholder at any meeting in person or by proxy shall be deemed to waive all requirements as to notice of the meeting. Waiver by a shareholder in writing of notice of any meeting of shareholders shall be equivalent to the giving of such notice.

Section 5. Quorum. The presence in person or by proxy of the holders of a majority of the shares entitled to vote at any meeting shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. In the absence of a quorum, any meeting of the shareholders may be adjourned from time to time by the vote of a majority of the shares, the holders of which are either present in person or represented by proxy thereat, but no other business may be transacted. The shareholders present at a duly organized meeting may continue to transact any business notwithstanding the withdrawal from such meeting of enough shareholders to leave less than a quorum.

Section 6. Proxies. Stock may be represented by proxy and no special form of proxy shall be necessary, but the written authorization of proxy over signature of a shareholder shall be sufficient. No proxy shall be valid after eleven (11) months from the date of its execution, unless otherwise provided in the proxy.

Section 7. Voting. Each share of stock present at any meeting, either in person or by proxy, and having voting power shall be entitled to one vote on all matters coming before the meeting.

Section 8. Presiding Officer. Every meeting of shareholders, whether annual or special, shall be presided over by the President or, in his absence, by any Vice President. The Secretary of the corporation shall act as Secretary of every such meeting or, in his absence, a Secretary shall be appointed by the Chairman of such meeting.

Section 9. Record Date. For the purpose of determining shareholders entitled to notice of or to vote at any meeting of shareholders or any adjournment thereof, or to receive payment of any dividend, the Board of Directors shall fix a record date for determination of shareholders entitled to participate, which shall not be less than twenty (20) days nor more than fifty (50) days prior to the date on which such action is to be taken.

Section 10. Written Consent. To the extent provided by applicable law, any action required to be taken at any annual or special meeting of stockholders of the corporation, or any action which may be taken at any annual or special meeting of such stockholders, may be taken without a meeting, without prior notice and without a vote, if a consent in writing, setting forth the action so taken, shall be signed by all of the holders of outstanding stock.

ARTICLE IV

Directors

Section 1. Number. The number of directors which shall constitute the whole Board shall be not less than three nor more than ten. The first Board shall consist of four directors. Thereafter, within the limits above specified, the number of directors shall be determined by resolution of the Board of Directors or by the stockholders at the annual meeting. The directors shall be elected at the annual meeting of the stockholders, except as provided in Section 3 of this Article, and each director elected shall hold office until his successor is elected and qualified. Directors need not be stockholders.

Section 2. Authority. The Board of Directors shall have power:

First: To conduct, manage, and control the affairs and business of the corporation and to make such rules and regulations therefor, not inconsistent with law or with the Articles of Incorporation or with the Bylaws, as they may deem best;

Second: To appoint and remove at pleasure the officers, agents, and employees of the corporation, prescribe their duties and fix their compensation;

Third: To authorize the issue of shares of stock of the corporation from time to time upon such terms as may be lawful, in consideration of money paid, labor done or services actually rendered, debts or securities canceled, or tangible or intangible property actually received, or in the case of shares issued as a dividend, against amounts transferred from surplus to stated capital;

Fourth: To borrow money and incur indebtedness for the purposes of the corporation and to cause to be executed and delivered therefor, in the corporate name, promissory notes, bonds, debentures, deeds of trust, mortgages, pledges, hypothecations or other evidences of debt and securities therefor;

Fifth: To alter, repeal or amend, from time to time, and at any time, these Bylaws and any and all amendments of the same, and from time to time, and at any time, to make and adopt such new and additional Bylaws as may be necessary and proper, subject to the power of the shareholders to adopt, amend or repeal such Bylaws, or to revoke the delegation of authority of the directors, as provided by law or by Article XIII of these Bylaws; and

Sixth: To appoint an executive and other committees, and to delegate to the Executive Committee any of the powers and authority of the board in the management of the business and affairs of the corporation, except the power to declare dividends and to adopt, amend or repeal Bylaws. The Board of Directors shall have the power to prescribe the manner in which proceedings of the Executive Committee and other committees shall be conducted. The Executive Committee shall be composed of two or more directors.

Section 3. Removal of Directors. The stockholders shall have the power at any meeting of the stockholders to remove any director or officer with or without cause by a vote of the majority in amount of all the outstanding stock of the corporation entitled to vote.

Section 4. Vacancies. Vacancies and newly created directorships resulting from any increase in the authorized number of directors or from any removal of incumbent directors may be filled by a majority of the directors then in office, though less than a quorum, or by a sole remaining director, and the directors so chosen shall hold office until the next annual election and until their successors are duly elected and shall qualify, unless sooner removed. If there are no directors in office, then an election of directors may be held in the manner provided by statute.

Section 5. Quorum. A majority of all the directors of the corporation shall be necessary to constitute a quorum for the transaction of business at all meetings of the Board and a majority of the quorum shall decide any question that may come before the meeting, but less than a quorum may adjourn any meeting from time to time.

Section 6. Meetings. Regular meetings of the Board of Directors shall be held in the City of Brentwood, Tennessee, or at such other place as from time to time shall be determined by resolution of the Board and without notice of said meeting. Special meetings may be called at the discretion of the President of the corporation, or upon request of a majority of members of the Board. A regular meeting of the Board of Directors shall be held immediately following the annual meeting of stockholders, at which the directors shall elect the officers of the corporation for the ensuing year and transact such other business as may come before said meeting, of which no notice need be given except as herein contained.

Section 7. Notice of Meetings. Notice of all special meetings and the place, date and hour for holding such meetings, excepting only the regular meetings, shall be given to each director by mail, telecopy, or telegraph, by the Secretary at least three (3) days previous to the time fixed for the meeting. The transactions of any meeting of the Board of Directors, however called or noticed or wherever held, shall be as valid as though had a meeting duly been held after regular call and notice, if a quorum be present, and if, either before or after the meeting, each of the directors not present signs a written waiver of notice, or a consent to holding such meeting, or an approval of the minutes thereof. All such waivers, consents or approvals shall be filed with the corporate records or made a part of the minutes of the meeting.

Section 8. Compensation. Directors, as such, shall not receive a salary for their services, but by resolution of the Board, a fixed sum and expenses of attendant, if any, may be allowed for attendance at each regular or special meeting of the Board. Nothing herein contained shall be construed to preclude any director from serving the corporation in any other capacity and receiving compensation therefor.

Section 9. Written Consent in Lieu of Meeting. To the extent provided by applicable law, any action required or permitted to be taken at any meeting of the Board of Directors or of any committee thereof may be taken without a meeting, if all members of the Board or committee, as the case may be, consent thereto in writing, and the writing or writings are filed with the minutes of proceedings of the Board or committee.

Section 10. Indemnification. This corporation shall indemnify each present and future director and officer and any person who may serve at its request as a director or officer of another corporation to the extent required and to the extent permitted by the laws of the state in which indemnification is sought.

ARTICLE V

In addition, the President may appoint, or the Board of Directors may elect one or more Assistant Secretaries and one or more Assistant Treasurers who shall have the same duties and authority, respectively, as the Secretary and Treasurer. Any number of offices, other than the President and the Secretary, may be held by the same person, unless the certificate of incorporation or these Bylaws provide otherwise. No person shall sign any document on behalf of this corporation in more than one capacity.

Section 3. Compensation. The salaries of all officers and agents of the corporation shall be fixed by the Board of Directors.

Section 4. Removal and Vacancies. The officers of the corporation shall hold office until their successors are chosen and qualify. Any officer elected or appointed by the Board of Directors may be removed at any time by the affirmative vote of a majority of the Board of Directors with or without cause, when in the judgment of the Board the best interest of the corporation demands such removal. Any vacancy occurring in any office of the corporation shall be filled by the Board of Directors.

Section 5. President. It shall be the duty of the President to preside at all meetings of the Board of Directors at which he is present, unless the Board shall elect a permanent Chairman; to call special meetings of the Board whenever he may think such meetings are necessary, or as requested to do so in accordance with these Bylaws; to sign all certificates of stock, contracts, leases, mortgages, deeds, conveyances and other documents of the corporation, which shall be countersigned by the Secretary or Treasurer where required. He shall have active executive management and general supervision and direction of the affairs of the corporation. He shall preside at and make to the annual meeting of the stockholders of the corporation a report covering the operation of the corporation for the preceding fiscal year, together with such suggestions as he may deem proper.

Section 6. Vice Presidents. He shall sign such instruments as require his signature, and he shall make such reports and perform such other duties as are incident to his office, or may be required of him by the Board of Directors.

Section 8. Assistant Secretary. The Assistant Secretary, or (if there be more than one) the Assistant Secretaries in the order determined by the Board of Directors, shall, in the absence or disability of the Secretary, perform the duties and exercise the powers of the Secretary and shall perform such other duties and have such other powers as the Board of Directors may from time to time prescribe.

Section 9. Treasurer. The Treasurer shall have the custody of all monies and securities of the corporation and shall deposit same in the name and to the credit of the corporation. He shall keep a full and accurate account of the receipts and disbursements in books belonging to the corporation and shall disburse the funds of the corporation by check or other warrant. Section 10. Assistant Treasurer. The Assistant Treasurer, or, if there be more than one, the Assistant Treasurers in the order determined by the Board of Directors, shall, in the absence or disability of the Treasurer, perform the duties and exercise the powers of the Treasurer and shall perform such other duties and such other powers as the Board of Directors may from time to time prescribe.

BYLAWS

QHG OF WARSAW, INC.

Offices

The corporation may have offices at such places both within and without the State of Indiana as the Board of Directors may from time to time determine or the business of the corporation may require.

ARTICLE II

Capital Stock

Section 1. Amount of Capital Stock. The authorized capital stock of the corporation shall be as set forth in the Articles of Incorporation filed with the Secretary of State of the State of Indiana.

Section 2. Certificates of Stock. The certificates of stock shall be of such form and device as the Board of Directors may adopt. All certificates of stock shall be signed by the President, or in his absence, by a Vice-President or by the Chairman if there be one, and by the Secretary or Assistant Secretary or by such other persons as may be authorized by law to sign such certificates. Such certificates shall exhibit the holders' names and the number of shares, be numbered, and entered in the books of the corporation as they are issued.

Section 3. Transfers of Stock and Duplicate Certificates. Transfer of stock shall be made only on the books of the corporation. No new certificate shall be issued in lieu of an old one, unless the latter is properly endorsed, surrendered and marked "cancelled" at the time the new one is issued. If, however, a certificate shall be lost or destroyed, the Board of Directors may order a new certificate issued upon receipt by the corporation of satisfactory security by bond or otherwise against loss to the corporation and upon such other terms, conditions and guaranties as such Board may require. Any such new certificates shall be plainly marked "duplicate" on its face.

Section 4. Recognition of Ownership and Treasury Stock. Any person, firm or corporation in whose name stock stands on the books of the corporation, whether individually, or as trustee, pledgee or otherwise, may be recognized and treated by the corporation as the absolute owner thereof, and the corporation shall in no event be obliged to deal with or to recognize the rights or interests of any other person in such stock, or in any part thereof. Treasury stock shall be held by the corporation subject to disposal by the Board of Directors and shall neither be voted nor participate in dividends and other distributions.

ARTICLE III

Meetings of Shareholders

Section 1. Location. All meetings of the shareholders shall be held at any place within or without the State of Indiana which may be designated either by the Board of Directors or by the written consent of all shareholders entitled to vote thereat given either before or after the meeting and filed by the Secretary of the corporation. In the absence of any such designation, shareholders' meetings shall be held at 103 Continental Place, in the City of Brentwood, State of Tennessee.

Section 2. Annual Meeting. The annual meeting of the stockholders shall be held on such dates and at such times as determined by the Board of Directors. At such meeting, the stockholders shall elect directors, by a plurality vote, to serve for the ensuing year or until their successors shall be elected and qualified.

Section 3. Special Meetings. Special meetings of the shareholders, for any purposes whatsoever, may be called at any time by the President or by any Vice President or by a majority of the Board of Directors or by one or more shareholders holding not less than one-fifth (1/5) of the voting power of the corporation.

Section 4. Notices. Written notice of each annual meeting shall be given to each shareholder either personally or by mail or by other means of written communication, charges prepaid, addressed to each shareholder at his address appearing on the books of the corporation, or given by him to the corporation for the purpose of notice. If a shareholder gives no address, notice is duly given to him if sent by mail or other means of written communication addressed to the place where the principal office of the corporation is situated or if published at least once in some newspaper of general circulation in the county in which the office is located. Except as otherwise expressly provided by statute, any such notice shall be deposited in the United States mail, delivered to the telegraph company in the place in which the principal office of the corporation is located or published at least ten (10) days, but not more than forty (40) days prior to the time of the holding of the meeting. In case such notice is personally delivered or delivered by means of written communication other than by mail, telegraph or publication as above provided, it shall be so delivered at least seven (7) days prior to the time of the holding of the meeting. Such delivery, mailing, telegraphing or publishing as above provided shall be due legal and personal notice to such shareholders. Such notices shall specify the place, the day and the hour of such meeting and shall state such other matters, if any, as may be expressly required by statute. Notice of any special meeting shall specify in addition to the place, day and hour of such meeting the general nature of the business to be transacted. Attendance by a shareholder at any meeting in person or by proxy shall be deemed to waive all requirements as to notice of the meeting. Waiver by a shareholder in writing of notice of any meeting of shareholders shall be equivalent to the giving of such notice.

Section 5. Quorum. The presence in person or by proxy of the holders of a majority of the shares entitled to vote at any meeting shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. In the absence of a quorum, any meeting of the shareholders may be adjourned from time to time by the vote of a majority of the shares, the holders of which are either present in person or represented by proxy thereat, but no other business may be transacted. The shareholders present at a duly organized meeting may continue to transact any business notwithstanding the withdrawal from such meeting of enough shareholders to leave less than a quorum.

Section 6. Proxies. Stock may be represented by proxy and no special form of proxy shall be necessary, but the written authorization of proxy over signature of a shareholder shall be sufficient. No proxy shall be valid after eleven (11) months from the date of its execution, unless otherwise provided in the proxy.

Section 7. Voting. Each share of stock present at any meeting, either in person or by proxy, and having voting power shall be entitled to one vote on all matters coming before the meeting.

Section 8. Presiding Officer. Every meeting of shareholders, whether annual or special, shall be presided over by the President or, in his absence, by any Vice President. The Secretary of the corporation shall act as Secretary of every such meeting or, in his absence, a Secretary shall be appointed by the Chairman of such meeting.

Section 9. Record Date. For the purpose of determining shareholders entitled to notice of or to vote at any meeting of shareholders or any adjournment thereof, or to receive payment of any dividend, the Board of Directors shall fix a record date for determination of shareholders entitled to participate, which shall not be less than twenty (20) days nor more than fifty (50) days prior to the date on which such action is to be taken.

Section 10. Written Consent. To the extent provided by applicable law, any action required to be taken at any annual or special meeting of stockholders of the corporation, or any action which may be taken at any annual or special meeting of such stockholders, may be taken without a meeting, without prior notice and without a vote, if a consent in writing, setting forth the action so taken, shall be signed by all of the holders of outstanding stock.

ARTICLE IV

Directors

Section 1. Number. The number of directors which shall constitute the whole Board shall be not less than three nor more than ten. The first Board shall consist of three directors. Thereafter, within the limits above specified, the number of directors shall be determined by resolution of the Board of Directors or by the stockholders at the annual meeting. The directors shall be elected at the annual meeting of the stockholders, except as provided in Section 3 of this Article, and each director elected shall hold office until his successor is elected and qualified. Directors need not be stockholders.

Section 2. Authority. The Board of Directors shall have power:

First: To conduct, manage, and control the affairs and business of the corporation and to make such rules and regulations therefor, not inconsistent with law or with the Articles of Incorporation or with the Bylaws, as they may deem best;

Second: To appoint and remove at pleasure the officers, agents, and employees of the corporation, prescribe their duties and fix their compensation;

Third: To authorize the issue of shares of stock of the corporation from time to time upon such terms as may be lawful, in consideration of money paid, labor done or services actually rendered, debts or securities canceled, or tangible or intangible property actually received, or in the case of shares issued as a dividend, against amounts transferred from surplus to stated capital;

Fourth: To borrow money and incur indebtedness for the purposes of the corporation and to cause to be executed and delivered therefor, in the corporate name, promissory notes, bonds, debentures, deeds of trust, mortgages, pledges, hypothecations or other evidences of debt and securities therefor;

Fifth: To alter, repeal or amend, from time to time, and at any time, these Bylaws and any and all amendments of the same, and from time to time, and at any time, to make and adopt such new and additional Bylaws as may be necessary and proper, subject to the power of the shareholders to adopt, amend or repeal such Bylaws, or to revoke the delegation of authority of the directors, as provided by law or by Article XIII of these Bylaws; and

Sixth: To appoint an executive and other committees, and to delegate to the Executive Committee any of the powers and authority of the board in the management of the business and affairs of the corporation, except the power to declare dividends and to adopt, amend or repeal Bylaws. The Board of Directors shall have the power to prescribe the manner in which proceedings of the Executive Committee and other committees shall be conducted. The Executive Committee shall be composed of two or more directors.

Section 3. Removal of Directors. The stockholders shall have the power at any meeting of the stockholders to remove any director or officer with or without cause by a vote of the majority in amount of all the outstanding stock of the corporation entitled to vote.

Section 4. Vacancies. Vacancies and newly created directorships resulting from any increase in the authorized number of directors or from any removal of incumbent directors may be filled by a majority of the directors then in office, though less than a quorum, or by a sole remaining director, and the directors so chosen shall hold office until the next annual election and until their successors are duly elected and shall qualify, unless sooner removed. If there are no directors in office, then an election of directors may be held in the manner provided by statute.

Section 5. Quorum. A majority of all the directors of the corporation shall be necessary to constitute a quorum for the transaction of business at all meetings of the Board and a majority of the quorum shall decide any question that may come before the meeting, but less than a quorum may adjourn any meeting from time to time.

Section 6. Meetings. Regular meetings of the Board of Directors shall be held in the City of Brentwood, Tennessee, or at such other place as from time to time shall be determined by resolution of the Board and without notice of said meeting. Special meetings may be called at the discretion of the President of the corporation, or upon request of a majority of members of the Board. A regular meeting of the Board of Directors shall be held immediately following the annual meeting of stockholders, at which the directors shall elect the officers of the corporation for the ensuing year and transact such other business as may come before said meeting, of which no notice need be given except as herein contained.

Section 7. Notice of Meetings. Notice of all special meetings and the place, date and hour for holding such meetings, excepting only the regular meetings, shall be given to each director by mail, telecopy, or telegraph, by the Secretary at least three (3) days previous to the time fixed for the meeting. The transactions of any meeting of the Board of Directors, however called or noticed or wherever held, shall be as valid as though had a meeting duly been held after regular call and notice, if a quorum be present, and if, either before or after the meeting, each of the directors not present signs a written waiver of notice, or a consent to holding such meeting, or an approval of the minutes thereof. All such waivers, consents or approvals shall be filed with the corporate records or made a part of the minutes of the meeting.

Section 8. Compensation. Directors, as such, shall not receive a salary for their services, but by resolution of the Board, a fixed sum and expenses of attendant, if any, may be allowed for attendance at each regular or special meeting of the Board. Nothing herein contained shall be construed to preclude any director from serving the corporation in any other capacity and receiving compensation therefor.

Section 9. Written Consent in Lieu of Meeting. To the extent provided by applicable law, any action required or permitted to be taken at any meeting of the Board of Directors or of any committee thereof may be taken without a meeting, if all members of the Board or committee, as the case may be, consent thereto in writing, and the writing or writings are filed with the minutes of proceedings of the Board or committee.

At the Effective Time (as defined in Section 1.2), the Non-Surviving Corporation shall be merged with and into the Surviving Corporation, the separate existence of the Non-Surviving Corporation shall cease, and the Surviving Corporation, as the surviving corporation of such merger, shall continue to exist by virtue of and shall be governed by the laws of the State of Mississippi.

1.2 Effective Time of Merger. On January 1, 2006, (i) Articles of Merger setting forth the information required by, and otherwise in compliance with, the Mississippi Act shall be delivered for filing with the Secretary of State of the State of Mississippi, and (ii) Articles of Merger setting forth the information required by, and otherwise in compliance with, the Tennessee Act shall be delivered for filing with the Secretary of State of the State of Tennessee. The Merger shall become effective for all purposes as of 12:01 a.m., Central Time, on January 1, 2006 (the "Effective Time").

1.3 Effect of Merger. At the Effective Time, the Surviving Corporation without further action, as provided by the laws of the State of Mississippi and as provided by the laws of the State of Tennessee, shall succeed to and possess all the rights, privileges, and powers, of a public as well as of a private nature, of the Non-Surviving Corporation; all property, real, personal and mixed, and all debts due on whatsoever account, and all other causes in action, and all and every other interest, of or belonging to or due to the Non-Surviving Corporation, shall be deemed to be vested in the Surviving Corporation without further act or deed; and the title to any real estate, or any interest therein, vested in the Surviving Corporation or the Non-Surviving Corporation shall not revert or be in any way impaired by reason of the Merger. Such transfer to and vesting in the Surviving Corporation shall be deemed to occur by operation of law and no consent or approval of any other person shall be required in connection with any such transfer or vesting unless such consent or approval is specifically required in the event of merger or consolidation by law or express provision in any contract, agreement, decree, order or other instrument to which the Surviving Corporation or the Non-Surviving Corporation is a party or by which any of them are bound. The Surviving Corporation shall thenceforth be responsible and liable for all debts, liabilities and duties of the Non-Surviving Corporation, which may be enforced against the Surviving Corporation to the same extent as if said debts, liabilities and duties had been incurred or contracted by it. Neither the rights of creditors nor any liens upon the property of the Surviving Corporation or the Non-Surviving Corporation shall be impaired by the Merger.

1.4 Articles of Incorporation. The Articles of Incorporation of the Surviving Corporation, a copy of which is attached hereto as Exhibit A (the "Articles of Incorporation"), shall continue in full force and effect until amended or changed in the manner prescribed by the Mississippi Act.

1.5 Corporate Bylaws. The Corporate Bylaws of the Surviving Corporation, a copy of which is attached hereto as Exhibit B (the "Bylaws"), shall continue in full force and effect until amended or changed in the manner prescribed by the Mississippi Act.

1.6 Officers. The officers of the Surviving Corporation who are serving as such at the Effective Time shall be the officers of the Surviving Corporation, as the surviving corporation, from and after the Effective Time, each such individual to serve until his or her successor has been duly elected or appointed and qualified or until his or her earlier death, resignation or removal in accordance with the Mississippi Act, the Surviving Corporation's Articles of Incorporation and its Bylaws.

1.8 Conversion of Shares. At the Effective Time:

(a) Each share of common stock of the Non-Surviving Corporation outstanding immediately prior to the Effective Time shall, by virtue of the Merger and without any action on the part of the holder thereof, be cancelled and no consideration shall be issued in respect thereof

(b) Each share of the common stock of the Surviving Corporation outstanding immediately prior to the Effective Time shall, by virtue of the Merger and without any action on the part of the holder thereof, be unchanged as an outstanding share of common stock of the Surviving Corporation.

AMENDED AND RESTATED BYLAWS

RIVER REGION MEDICAL CORPORATION

PRINCIPAL OFFICES

The principal office of the corporation in the State of Mississippi shall be located in the City of Vicksburg, County of Warren. The corporation may have such other offices, either within or without the State of Mississippi, as the board of directors may designate or as the business of the corporation may require from time to time.

SHAREHOLDERS

SECTION 1. Annual Meeting. The annual meeting of the shareholders shall be held at such time and date in each year as may be determined by the directors, for the purpose of electing directors and for the transaction of such other business as may properly come before the meeting. If the day fixed for the annual meeting shall be a legal holiday in the State of Mississippi, such meeting shall be held on the next succeeding business day.

If the election of directors shall not be held on the day designated herein for any annual meeting of the shareholders, or at any adjournment thereof, the board of directors shall cause the election to be held at a special meeting of the shareholders as soon thereafter as conveniently may be.

SECTION 2. Special Meetings. The corporation shall hold a special meeting of shareholders (1) on call of its board of directors or the president; or (2) unless the articles of incorporation provide otherwise, if the holders of at least ten percent (10%) of all the votes entitled to be cast on any issue proposed to be considered at the proposed special meeting sign, date and deliver to the corporation's secretary one or more written demands for the meeting describing the purpose or purposes for which it is to be held. If not otherwise fixed under applicable law, the record date for determining shareholders entitled to demand a special meeting shall be the date the first shareholder signs the demand.

SECTION 3. Place of Meeting. The board of directors may designate any place, either within or without the State of Mississippi, for any annual meeting or for any special meeting of shareholders. A valid waiver of notice signed by all shareholders entitled to notice may designate any place, either within or without the State of Mississippi, as the place for any annual meeting or for any special meeting of shareholders. Unless the notice of the meeting states otherwise, shareholders, meetings shall be held at the corporation's principal office.

SECTION 4. Notice of Meeting. The corporation shall notify shareholders of the date, time and place of each annual and special shareholders' meeting no fewer than ten (10) nor more than sixty (60) days before the meeting date.

Unless applicable law or the articles of incorporation require otherwise, the corporation shall give notice only to shareholders entitled to vote at the meeting. Unless applicable law or the articles of incorporation require otherwise, notice of an annual meeting need not include a description of the purpose or purposes for which the meeting is called. Notice of a special meeting must include a description of the purpose or purposes for which the meeting shall be called, only business within the purpose or purposes described in the meeting notice may be conducted at a special shareholders' meeting.

Unless these bylaws require otherwise, if an annual or special shareholders' meeting is adjourned to a different date, time or place, notice need not be given of the new date, time or place if the new date, time or place is announced at the meeting before adjournment. If a new record date for the adjourned meeting is or must be filed under applicable law or Article II, Section 5 of these bylaws, however, notice of the adjourned meeting must be given under this section to persons who are shareholders as of the new record date.

SECTION 5. Closing of Transfer Books or Fixing of Record Date. The board of directors of the corporation may fix the record date for one or more voting groups in order to determine shareholders entitled to notice of a shareholders' meeting, to demand a special meeting, to vote or to take any other action. A record date may not be more than seventy (70) days before the meeting or action requiring a determination of shareholders. If not otherwise fixed by law, the record date for determining shareholders entitled to notice of and to vote at an annual or special shareholders' meeting shall be the day before the first notice is delivered to shareholders. If the board of directors does not fix the record date for determining shareholders entitled to a distribution (other than one involving a purchase, redemption or other acquisition of the corporation's shares), it shall be the date the board of directors authorizes the distribution. A determination of shareholders entitled to notice of or to vote at a shareholders' meeting shall be effective for any adjournment of the meeting unless the board of directors fixes a new record date, which it must do if the meeting is adjourned to a date more than one hundred twenty (120) days after the date fixed for the original meeting.

SECTION 6. Voting Lists. After fixing a record date for a meeting, the corporation shall prepare an alphabetical list of the names of all its shareholders who are entitled to notice of a shareholders' meeting. The list must be arranged by voting group (and within each voting group by class or series of shares) and show the address of and number of shares held by each shareholder.

The shareholders' list must be available for inspection by any shareholder beginning two (2) business days after notice of the meeting is given for which the list was prepared and continuing through the meeting, at the corporation's principal office or at a place identified in the meeting notice in the city where the meeting will be held. A shareholder, his agent or attorney shall be entitled on written demand to inspect and, subject to the requirements of applicable law, to copy the list during regular business hours and at his expense, during the period it shall be available for inspection. The corporation shall make the shareholders' list available at the meeting, and any shareholder, his agent or attorney shall be entitled to inspect the list at any time during the meeting or any adjournment.

SECTION 7. Quorum. Shares entitled to vote as a separate voting group may take action on a matter at a meeting only if a quorum of those shares exists with respect to that matter. Unless the articles of incorporation or applicable law impose other quorum requirements, a majority of the votes entitled to be cast on the matter by a voting group, represented in person or by proxy, shall constitute a quorum of that voting group for action on that matter. If less than a majority of the outstanding shares are represented at a meeting, a majority of the shares so represented may adjourn the meeting from time to time without further notice except as may be required by Article 11, Section 4 of these bylaws or by applicable law. At such adjourned meeting at which a quorum shall be present or represented, any business may be transacted which might have been transacted at the meeting as originally noticed. Once a share is represented for any purpose at a meeting, it shall be deemed present for quorum purposes for the remainder of the meeting and for any adjournment of that meeting unless a new record date is or must be set for that adjourned meeting.

SECTION 8. Proxies. A shareholder may appoint a proxy to vote or otherwise act for him by signing an appointment form, either personally or by his attorney-in-fact. An appointment of a proxy shall be effective when received by the secretary or other officer or agent authorized to tabulate votes of the corporation. An appointment shall be valid for eleven (11) months unless a longer period is expressly provided in the appointment form. An appointment of a proxy shall be revocable by the shareholder unless the appointment form conspicuously states that it is irrevocable and the appointment shall be coupled with an interest. Appointments coupled with an interest include the appointment of (1) a pledgee; (2) a person who purchased or agreed to purchase the shares; (3) a creditor of the corporation who extended it credit under terms requiring the appointment; (4) an employee of the corporation whose employment contract requires the appointment; or (5) a party to a voting agreement created under applicable law.

The death or incapacity of the shareholder appointing a proxy does not affect the right of the corporation to accept the proxy's authority unless notice of the death or incapacity shall be received by the secretary or other officer or agent authorized to tabulate votes before the proxy exercises his authority under the appointment. An appointment made irrevocable because it is coupled with an interest shall be revoked when the interest with which it is coupled is extinguished. A transferee for value of shares subject to an irrevocable appointment may revoke the appointment if he did not know of its existence when he acquired the shares and the existence of the irrevocable appointment was not noted conspicuously on the certificate representing the shares or on the information statement for shares without certificates.

Subject to applicable law and to any express limitation on the proxy's authority appearing on the face of the appointment form, the corporation shall be entitled to accept the proxy's vote or other action as that of the shareholder making the appointment.

SECTION 9. Voting of Shares. Except as provided below or, unless the articles of incorporation provide otherwise, and subject to the provisions of Section 12 of this Article II, each outstanding share — regardless of class, shall be entitled to one (1) vote on each matter voted on at a shareholders' meeting. If a quorum exists, action on a matter (other than the election of directors) by a voting group shall be approved if the votes cast within the voting group favoring the action exceed the votes cast opposing the action, unless the articles of incorporation or applicable law require a greater number of affirmative votes. Unless otherwise provided in the articles of incorporation, directors shall be elected by a plurality of the votes cast by the shares entitled to vote in the election at a meeting at which a quorum is present.

SECTION 10. Voting of Shares by Certain Holders. Shares standing in the name of another corporation may be voted by such officer, agent or proxy as the bylaws of such corporation may prescribe, or, in the absence of such provision, as the board of directors of such corporation may determine.

Absent special circumstances, shares of this corporation shall not be entitled to vote if they are owned, directly or indirectly, by a second corporation, domestic or foreign, and this corporation owns, directly or indirectly, a majority of the shares of the second corporation entitled to vote for the directors of the second corporation. This does not limit the power of this corporation to vote any shares, including its own shares, held by it in a fiduciary capacity.

Shares held by an administrator, executor, guardian or conservator may be voted by him, either in person or by proxy, without a transfer of such shares into his name. Shares standing in the name of a trustee may be voted by him, either in person or by proxy, but no trustee shall be entitled to vote shares held by him without a transfer of such shares into his name. Shares standing in the name of a receiver may be voted by such receiver, and shares held by or under the control of a receiver may be voted by such receiver without the transfer thereof into his name if authority so to do be contained in an appropriate order of the court by which such receiver was appointed.

A shareholder whose shares are pledged shall be entitled to vote such shares until the shares have been transferred into the name of the pledgee, and thereafter the pledgee shall be entitled to vote the shares so transferred.

SECTION 11. Informal Action by Shareholders. Action required or permitted by applicable law to be taken at a shareholders meeting may be taken without a meeting if the action is taken by all the shareholders entitled to vote on the action. The action must be evidenced by one or more written consents describing the action taken, signed by all the shareholders entitled to vote on the action, and delivered to the corporation for inclusion in the minutes or filing with the corporate records. If not otherwise determined under applicable law, the record date for determining shareholders entitled to take action without a meeting shall be the date the first shareholder signs such consent. A consent signed under this section has the effect of a meeting vote and may be described as such in any document.

If applicable law requires that notice of proposed action be given to nonvoting shareholders and the action is to be taken by unanimous consent of the voting shareholders, the corporation must give its nonvoting shareholders written notice of the proposed action at least ten (10) days before the action is taken. The notice must contain or be accompanied by the same material that, under applicable law, would have been required to be sent to nonvoting shareholders in a notice of meeting at which the proposed action would have been submitted to the shareholders for action.

SECTION 12. Shares Held by Nominees. The corporation may establish a procedure by which the beneficial owner of shares that are registered in the name of a nominee shall be recognized by the corporation as the shareholder. The extent of this recognition may be determined in the procedure. The procedure may set forth: (1) the types of nominees to which it applies; (2) the rights or privileges that the corporation recognizes in a beneficial owner; (3) the manner in which the procedure shall be selected by the nominee; (4) the information that must be provided when the procedure is selected; (5) the period for which selection of the procedure shall be effective; and (6) other aspects of the rights and duties created.

SECTION 13. Corporation's Acceptance of Votes. If the name signed on a vote, consent, waiver or proxy appointment corresponds to the name of the shareholder, the corporation, if acting in good faith, shall be entitled to accept the vote, consent, waiver or proxy appointment and give it effect as the act of the shareholder.

If the name signed on a vote, consent, waiver or proxy appointment does not correspond to the name of its shareholder, the corporation, if acting in good faith, shall nevertheless be entitled to accept the vote, consent, waiver or proxy appointment and give it effect as the act of the shareholder if: (1) the shareholder is an entity and the name signed purports to be that of an officer or agent of the entity; (2) the name signed purports to be that of an administrator, executor, guardian or conservator representing the shareholder and, if the corporation requests, evidence of fiduciary status acceptable to the corporation has been presented with respect to the vote, consent, waiver or proxy appointment; (3) the name signed purports to be that of a receiver or trustee in bankruptcy of the shareholder and, if the corporation requests, evidence of this status acceptable to the corporation has been presented with respect to the vote, consent, waiver or proxy appointment; (4) the name signed purports to be that of a pledgee, beneficial owner or attorney-in-fact of the shareholder and, if the corporation requests, evidence acceptable to the corporation of the signatory's authority to sign for the shareholder has been presented with respect to the vote, consent, waiver or proxy appointment; (5) two (2) or more persons are the shareholders as co-tenants or fiduciaries and the name signed purports to be the name of at least one (1) of the co-owners and the person signing appears to be acting on behalf of all the co-owners.

The corporation shall be entitled to reject a vote, consent, waiver or proxy appointment if the secretary or other officer or agent authorized to tabulate votes, acting in good faith, has reasonable basis for doubt about the validity of the signature on it or about the signatory's authority to sign for the shareholder.

ARTICLE III BOARD OF DIRECTORS

SECTION 1. General Powers. All corporate powers shall be exercised by or under the authority of, and the business and affairs of the corporation managed under the direction of, its board of directors, subject to any limitation set forth in the articles of incorporation.

SECTION 2. Number, Election, Tenure and Qualifications. The number of directors which shall constitute the whole board shall be eleven (11). A change in the number of directors shall be made only by a vote of the majority of shares of the voting stock of the Corporation. Board of directors shall be elected at each annual shareholders' meeting. The terms of the initial directors of the corporation expire at the first shareholders' meeting at which directors shall be elected. The terms of all other directors expire at the next annual shareholders' meeting following their election. A decrease in the number of directors does not shorten an incumbent director's term. The term of a director elected to fill a vacancy expires at the next shareholders' meeting at which directors shall be elected. Despite the expiration of a director's term, he continues to serve until his successor shall be elected and qualifies or until there shall be a decrease in the number of directors. A director need not be a resident of this state or a shareholder of the corporation.

SECTION 3. Conflict of Interest. Members of the board shall not have any undisclosed conflicts of interest with the Hospital. Such conflict situations may be present, for example, if an individual board member is a supplier of products or services to the Hospital. Each director will sign a statement by which he or she agrees to be bound by the Corporation's policy on conflicts of interest. A director shall absent himself from the discussion and abstain from voting on any issue in which, or in the outcome of which, such director has an interest other than as a fiduciary of the Hospital. Nothing in this paragraph shall prevent the remaining directors from voting on any issue, contract or recommendation.

SECTION 4. Resignation of Board of Directors: Removal of Board of Directors by Shareholders. A director may resign at any time by delivering written notice to the board of directors, to its chairman or to the corporation. A resignation shall be effective when the notice is delivered unless the notice specifies a later effective date.

The shareholders may remove one or more directors with or without cause unless the articles of incorporation provide that directors may be removed only for cause. If a director is elected by a voting group of shareholders, only the shareholders of that voting group may participate in the vote to remove him. If cumulative voting is authorized, a director may not be removed if the number of votes sufficient to elect him under cumulative voting is voted against his removal. If cumulative voting is not authorized, a director may be removed only if the number of votes cast to remove him exceeds the number of votes cast not to remove him. A director may be removed by the shareholders only at a meeting called for the purpose of removing him and the meeting notice must state that the purpose, or one (1) of the purposes, of the meeting shall be removal of the director.

SECTION 5. Regular Meetings. Unless the articles of incorporation or these bylaws provide otherwise, a regular meeting of the board of directors shall be held without other notice than this bylaw immediately after, and at the same place as, the annual meeting of shareholders.

SECTION 6. Special Meetings. Special meetings of the board of directors may be called by or at the request of the president or a majority of the members of the board. Unless the articles of incorporation or these bylaws provide for a longer or shorter period, special meetings of the board of directors must be preceded by at least two (2) days' notice of the date, time and place of the meeting. If no place for the meeting has been designated in the notice, the meeting shall be held at the principal office of the corporation. The notice need not describe the purpose of the special meeting unless required by the articles of incorporation or these bylaws.

SECTION 7. Place of Meetings. The board of directors may hold regular or special meetings in or out of this state.

SECTION 8. Quorum. Unless the articles of incorporation or these bylaws require a greater number, a quorum of the board of directors consists of a majority of the number of directors fixed by Article III, Section 2, or a majority of the number of directors prescribed, or if no number is prescribed, the number in office immediately before the meeting begins, if the corporation has a variable-range size board. If less than such number necessary for a quorum shall be present at a meeting, a majority of the directors present may adjourn the meeting from time to time without further notice.

SECTION 9. Manner of Acting. If a quorum is present when a vote is taken, the affirmative vote of a majority of directors present is the act of the board of directors unless the articles of incorporation or bylaws require the vote of a greater number of directors.

SECTION 10. Action Without a Meeting. Unless the articles of incorporation or bylaws provide otherwise, action required or permitted to be taken at a board of directors' meeting may be taken without a meeting if the action is taken by all members of the board. The action must be evidenced by one or more written consents describing the action taken, signed by each director, and included in the minutes or filed with the corporate records reflecting the action taken. Action taken under this section shall be effective when the last director signs the consent, unless the consent specifies a different effective date. Such a consent has the effect of a meeting vote and may be described as such in any document.

SECTION 11. Vacancies. Unless the articles of incorporation provide otherwise, if a vacancy occurs on the board of directors, including a vacancy resulting from an increase in the number of directors (i) the shareholders may fill the vacancy, (ii) the board of directors may fill the vacancy, or (iii) if the directors remaining in office constitute fewer than a quorum of the board, they may fill the vacancy by the affirmative vote of a majority of all the directors remaining in office. If the vacant office was held by a director elected by a voting group of shareholders, only the holders of shares of that voting group shall be entitled to fill the vacancy if it is filled by the shareholders. A vacancy that will occur at a specific later date (by reason of a resignation effective at a later date or otherwise) may be filled before the vacancy occurs, but the new director may not take office until the vacancy occurs.

SECTION 12. Compensation. Unless the articles of incorporation or these bylaws provide otherwise, the board of directors may fix the compensation of directors. By resolution of the board of directors, each director may be paid his expenses, if any, of attendance at each meeting of the board of directors, and may be paid a stated salary as a director or a fixed sum for attendance at each meeting of the board of directors or both. No such payment shall preclude any director from serving the corporation in any other capacity and receiving compensation therefor.

SECTION 13. Executive and Other Committees. Unless the articles of incorporation or bylaws provide otherwise, the board of directors may create an executive committee and one or more other committees and appoint members of the board of directors to serve on them. Each committee must have two (2) or more members, who serve at the pleasure of the board of directors. The Chairman shall preside over meetings, administer the minutes of all meetings, record all votes taken at such meetings, ensure that all administrative actions are carried out by the Medical Advisory Board and communicate to the board of directors of the Corporation the actions and decisions as made by the Medical Advisory Board.

SECTION 4. Meetings. Meetings of the Medical Advisory Board may be called by or at the request of the board of directors of the Corporation or by the Chairman of the Medical Advisory Board. All votes taken by the Medical Advisory Board shall be by a majority vote of the members present at the meeting provided that a majority of the members are-present at the meeting.

SECTION 5. Amendment to this Article XVI. Any amendment or modification to this Article XVI shall be made only by a vote of the majority of shares of the voting stock of the Corporation.

ARTICLE XVII GENERAL PROVISIONS

SECTION 1. Duality of Interest. Any board member, officer, employee, or committee member having an interest in a contract or other transaction presented to the Hospital CEO for authorization, approval or ratification shall give prompt, full and frank disclosure of his interest to the Hospital CEO prior to action by the Hospital CEO on such contract or transaction.

SECTION 2. Indemnification. The Corporation shall indemnify any present or former employee or agent of the Hospital, including any Staff appointee engaged in Hospital business through committee or other service to the extent and in the manner set forth in these Bylaws, (hereinafter, "Official Acts"). Such indemnity shall be for expenses and costs actually and necessarily incurred by him in connection with the defense or settlement of any pending or threatened action, suit or proceeding to which he is made a party by reason of his being or having been such an official, except in relation to matters as to which he shall be finally adjudged to be liable of willful misconduct amounting to bad faith. Such indemnification shall not be deemed exclusive of any other rights to which those indemnified may be entitled under these Bylaws or any agreement, vote of the board or insurance purchased by the Hospital or Corporation.

SECTION 3. Auxiliary and Associated Organizations. The board may authorize the formation of auxiliary and associate organizations to assist in the fulfillment of the purposes of the Hospital. Each such organization shall establish its rules and regulations and make amendments thereto which shall be subject to board approval and which shall not be inconsistent with these Bylaws or the standing rules of the board or the Hospital. The services and activities of any individual volunteers who are not members of an organized auxiliary organization will be supervised by an administrative delegate. Reports and other information which these Bylaws require the Staff to transmit to the board shall be deemed so transmitted when delivered, unless otherwise specified, to the Hospital CEO.

SECTION 4. Transmittal of Reports. Reports and other information which these Bylaws require the Staff to transmit to the board shall be deemed so transmitted when delivered, unless otherwise specified, to the Hospital CEO.

ARTICLE XVIII AMENDMENTS

(a) Unless the articles of incorporation, applicable law, a resolution of the shareholders or specific Bylaw provision reserves this power exclusively to the shareholders in whole or in part, the Corporation's board of directors may amend or repeal these Bylaws and adopt new Bylaws at any regular or special meeting of the board of directors.

(b) The board shall review these Bylaws annually to ensure compliance with applicable law and the requirements of the Joint Commission for the Accreditation of Healthcare Organizations; any amendments shall be made in accordance with (a) above.

PRINCIPAL OFFICES

The principal office of the corporation in the State of Mississippi shall be located in the City of Vicksburg, County of Warren. The corporation may have such other offices, either within or without the State of Mississippi, as the board of directors may designate or as the business of the corporation may require from time to time.

SHAREHOLDERS

SECTION 1. Annual Meeting. The annual meeting of the shareholders shall be held at such time and date in each year as may be determined by the directors, for the purpose of electing directors and for the transaction of such other business as may properly come before the meeting. If the day fixed for the annual meeting shall be a legal holiday in the State of Mississippi, such meeting shall be held on the next succeeding business day.

If the election of directors shall not be held on the day designated herein for any annual meeting of the shareholders, or at any adjournment thereof, the board of directors shall cause the election to be held at a special meeting of the shareholders as soon thereafter as conveniently may be.

SECTION 2. Special Meetings. The corporation shall hold a special meeting of shareholders (1) on call of its board of directors or the president; or (2) unless the articles of incorporation provide otherwise, if the holders of at least ten percent (10%) of all the votes entitled to be cast on any issue proposed to be considered at the proposed special meeting sign, date and deliver to the corporation's secretary one or more written demands for the meeting describing the purpose or purposes for which it is to be held. If not otherwise fixed under applicable law, the record date for determining shareholders entitled to demand a special meeting shall be the date the first shareholder signs the demand.

SECTION 3. Place of Meeting. The board of directors may designate any place, either within or without the State of Mississippi, for any annual meeting or for any special meeting of shareholders. A valid waiver of notice signed by all shareholders entitled to notice may designate any place, either within or without the State of Mississippi, as the place for any annual meeting or for any special meeting of shareholders. Unless the notice of the meeting states otherwise, shareholders, meetings shall be held at the corporation's principal office.

SECTION 4. Notice of Meeting. The corporation shall notify shareholders of the date, time and place of each annual and special shareholders' meeting no fewer than ten (10) nor more than sixty (60) days before the meeting date.

Unless applicable law or the articles of incorporation require otherwise, the corporation shall give notice only to shareholders entitled to vote at the meeting. Unless applicable law or the articles of incorporation require otherwise, notice of an annual meeting need not include a description of the purpose or purposes for which the meeting is called. Notice of a special meeting must include a description of the purpose or purposes for which the meeting shall be called, only business within the purpose or purposes described in the meeting notice may be conducted at a special shareholders' meeting.

Unless these bylaws require otherwise, if an annual or special shareholders' meeting is adjourned to a different date, time or place, notice need not be given of the new date, time or place if the new date, time or place is announced at the meeting before adjournment. If a new record date for the adjourned meeting is or must be filed under applicable law or Article II, Section 5 of these bylaws, however, notice of the adjourned meeting must be given under this section to persons who are shareholders as of the new record date.

SECTION 5. Closing of Transfer Books or Fixing of Record Date. The board of directors of the corporation may fix the record date for one or more voting groups in order to determine shareholders entitled to notice of a shareholders' meeting, to demand a special meeting, to vote or to take any other action. A record date may not be more than seventy (70) days before the meeting or action requiring a determination of shareholders. If not otherwise fixed by law, the record date for determining shareholders entitled to notice of and to vote at an annual or special shareholders' meeting shall be the day before the first notice is delivered to shareholders. If the board of directors does not fix the record date for determining shareholders entitled to a distribution (other than one involving a purchase, redemption or other acquisition of the corporation's shares), it shall be the date the board of directors authorizes the distribution. A determination of shareholders entitled to notice of or to vote at a shareholders' meeting shall be effective for any adjournment of the meeting unless the board of directors fixes a new record date, which it must do if the meeting is adjourned to a date more than one hundred twenty (120) days after the date fixed for the original meeting.

SECTION 6. Voting Lists. After fixing a record date for a meeting, the corporation shall prepare an alphabetical list of the names of all its shareholders who are entitled to notice of a shareholders' meeting. The list must be arranged by voting group (and within each voting group by class or series of shares) and show the address of and number of shares held by each shareholder.

The shareholders' list must be available for inspection by any shareholder beginning two (2) business days after notice of the meeting is given for which the list was prepared and continuing through the meeting, at the corporation's principal office or at a place identified in the meeting notice in the city where the meeting will be held. A shareholder, his agent or attorney shall be entitled on written demand to inspect and, subject to the requirements of applicable law, to copy the list during regular business hours and at his expense, during the period it shall be available for inspection. The corporation shall make the shareholders' list available at the meeting, and any shareholder, his agent or attorney shall be entitled to inspect the list at any time during the meeting or any adjournment.

SECTION 7. Quorum. Shares entitled to vote as a separate voting group may take action on a matter at a meeting only if a quorum of those shares exists with respect to that matter. Unless the articles of incorporation or applicable law impose other quorum requirements, a majority of the votes entitled to be cast on the matter by a voting group, represented in person or by proxy, shall constitute a quorum of that voting group for action on that matter. If less than a majority of the outstanding shares are represented at a meeting, a majority of the shares so represented may adjourn the meeting from time to time without further notice except as may be required by Article 11, Section 4 of these bylaws or by applicable law. At such adjourned meeting at which a quorum shall be present or represented, any business may be transacted which might have been transacted at the meeting as originally noticed. Once a share is represented for any purpose at a meeting, it shall be deemed present for quorum purposes for the remainder of the meeting and for any adjournment of that meeting unless a new record date is or must be set for that adjourned meeting.

SECTION 8. Proxies. A shareholder may appoint a proxy to vote or otherwise act for him by signing an appointment form, either personally or by his attorney-in-fact. An appointment of a proxy shall be effective when received by the secretary or other officer or agent authorized to tabulate votes of the corporation. An appointment shall be valid for eleven (11) months unless a longer period is expressly provided in the appointment form. An appointment of a proxy shall be revocable by the shareholder unless the appointment form conspicuously states that it is irrevocable and the appointment shall be coupled with an interest. Appointments coupled with an interest include the appointment of (1) a pledgee; (2) a person who purchased or agreed to purchase the shares; (3) a creditor of the corporation who extended it credit under terms requiring the appointment; (4) an employee of the corporation whose employment contract requires the appointment; or (5) a party to a voting agreement created under applicable law.

The death or incapacity of the shareholder appointing a proxy does not affect the right of the corporation to accept the proxy's authority unless notice of the death or incapacity shall be received by the secretary or other officer or agent authorized to tabulate votes before the proxy exercises his authority under the appointment. An appointment made irrevocable because it is coupled with an interest shall be revoked when the interest with which it is coupled is extinguished. A transferee for value of shares subject to an irrevocable appointment may revoke the appointment if he did not know of its existence when he acquired the shares and the existence of the irrevocable appointment was not noted conspicuously on the certificate representing the shares or on the information statement for shares without certificates.

Subject to applicable law and to any express limitation on the proxy's authority appearing on the face of the appointment form, the corporation shall be entitled to accept the proxy's vote or other action as that of the shareholder making the appointment.

SECTION 9. Voting of Shares. Except as provided below or, unless the articles of incorporation provide otherwise, and subject to the provisions of Section 12 of this Article II, each outstanding share — regardless of class, shall be entitled to one (1) vote on each matter voted on at a shareholders' meeting. If a quorum exists, action on a matter (other than the election of directors) by a voting group shall be approved if the votes cast within the voting group favoring the action exceed the votes cast opposing the action, unless the articles of incorporation or applicable law require a greater number of affirmative votes. Unless otherwise provided in the articles of incorporation, directors shall be elected by a plurality of the votes cast by the shares entitled to vote in the election at a meeting at which a quorum is present.

SECTION 10. Voting of Shares by Certain Holders. Shares standing in the name of another corporation may be voted by such officer, agent or proxy as the bylaws of such corporation may prescribe, or, in the absence of such provision, as the board of directors of such corporation may determine.

Absent special circumstances, shares of this corporation shall not be entitled to vote if they are owned, directly or indirectly, by a second corporation, domestic or foreign, and this corporation owns, directly or indirectly, a majority of the shares of the second corporation entitled to vote for the directors of the second corporation. This does not limit the power of this corporation to vote any shares, including its own shares, held by it in a fiduciary capacity.

Shares held by an administrator, executor, guardian or conservator may be voted by him, either in person or by proxy, without a transfer of such shares into his name. Shares standing in the name of a trustee may be voted by him, either in person or by proxy, but no trustee shall be entitled to vote shares held by him without a transfer of such shares into his name. Shares standing in the name of a receiver may be voted by such receiver, and shares held by or under the control of a receiver may be voted by such receiver without the transfer thereof into his name if authority so to do be contained in an appropriate order of the court by which such receiver was appointed.

A shareholder whose shares are pledged shall be entitled to vote such shares until the shares have been transferred into the name of the pledgee, and thereafter the pledgee shall be entitled to vote the shares so transferred.

SECTION 11. Informal Action by Shareholders. Action required or permitted by applicable law to be taken at a shareholders, meeting may be taken without a meeting if the action is taken by all the shareholders entitled to vote on the action. The action must be evidenced by one or more written consents describing the action taken, signed by all the shareholders entitled to vote on the action, and delivered to the corporation for inclusion in the minutes or filing with the corporate records. If not otherwise determined under applicable law, the record date for determining shareholders entitled to take action without a meeting shall be the date the first shareholder signs such consent. A consent signed under this section has the effect of a meeting vote and may be described as such in any document.

If applicable law requires that notice of proposed action be given to nonvoting shareholders and the action is to be taken by unanimous consent of the voting shareholders, the corporation must give its nonvoting shareholders written notice of the proposed action at least ten (10) days before the action is taken. The notice must contain or be accompanied by the same material that, under applicable law, would have been required to be sent to nonvoting shareholders in a notice of meeting at which the proposed action would have been submitted to the shareholders for action.

SECTION 12. Shares Held by Nominees. The corporation may establish a procedure by which the beneficial owner of shares that are registered in the name of a nominee shall be recognized by the corporation as the shareholder. The extent of this recognition may be determined in the procedure. The procedure may set forth: (1) the types of nominees to which it applies; (2) the rights or privileges that the corporation recognizes in a beneficial owner; (3) the manner in which the procedure shall be selected by the nominee; (4) the information that must be provided when the procedure is selected; (5) the period for which selection of the procedure shall be effective; and (6) other aspects of the rights and duties created.

SECTION 13. Corporation's Acceptance of Votes. If the name signed on a vote, consent, waiver or proxy appointment corresponds to the name of the shareholder, the corporation, if acting in good faith, shall be entitled to accept the vote, consent, waiver or proxy appointment and give it effect as the act of the shareholder.

If the name signed on a vote, consent, waiver or proxy appointment does not correspond to the name of its shareholder, the corporation, if acting in good faith, shall nevertheless be entitled to accept the vote, consent, waiver or proxy appointment and give it effect as the act of the shareholder if: (1) the shareholder is an entity and the name signed purports to be that of an officer or agent of the entity; (2) the name signed purports to be that of an administrator, executor, guardian or conservator representing the shareholder and, if the corporation requests, evidence of fiduciary status acceptable to the corporation has been presented with respect to the vote, consent, waiver or proxy appointment; (3) the name signed purports to be that of a receiver or trustee in bankruptcy of the shareholder and, if the corporation requests, evidence of this status acceptable to the corporation has been presented with respect to the vote, consent, waiver or proxy appointment; (4) the name signed purports to be that of a pledgee, beneficial owner or attorney-in-fact of the shareholder and, if the corporation requests, evidence acceptable to the corporation of the signatory's authority to sign for the shareholder has been presented with respect to the vote, consent, waiver or proxy appointment; (5) two (2) or more persons are the shareholders as co-tenants or fiduciaries and the name signed purports to be the name of at least one (1) of the co-owners and the person signing appears to be acting on behalf of all the co-owners.

The corporation shall be entitled to reject a vote, consent, waiver or proxy appointment if the secretary or other officer or agent authorized to tabulate votes, acting in good faith, has reasonable basis for doubt about the validity of the signature on it or about the signatory's authority to sign for the shareholder.

ARTICLE III BOARD OF DIRECTORS

SECTION 1. General Powers. All corporate powers shall be exercised by or under the authority of, and the business and affairs of the corporation managed under the direction of, its board of directors, subject to any limitation set forth in the articles of incorporation.

SECTION 2. Number, Election, Tenure and Qualifications. The number of directors which shall constitute the whole board shall be eleven (11). A change in the number of directors shall be made only by a vote of the majority of shares of the voting stock of the Corporation. Board of directors shall be elected at each annual shareholders' meeting. The terms of the initial directors of the corporation expire at the first shareholders' meeting at which directors shall be elected. The terms of all other directors expire at the next annual shareholders' meeting following their election. A decrease in the number of directors does not shorten an incumbent director's term. The term of a director elected to fill a vacancy expires at the next shareholders' meeting at which directors shall be elected. Despite the expiration of a director's term, he continues to serve until his successor shall be elected and qualifies or until there shall be a decrease in the number of directors. A director need not be a resident of this state or a shareholder of the corporation.

SECTION 3. Conflict of Interest. Members of the board shall not have any undisclosed conflicts of interest with the Hospital. Such conflict situations may be present, for example, if an individual board member is a supplier of products or services to the Hospital. Each director will sign a statement by which he or she agrees to be bound by the Corporation's policy on conflicts of interest. A director shall absent himself from the discussion and abstain from voting on any issue in which, or in the outcome of which, such director has an interest other than as a fiduciary of the Hospital. Nothing in this paragraph shall prevent the remaining directors from voting on any issue, contract or recommendation.

SECTION 4. Resignation of Board of Directors: Removal of Board of Directors by Shareholders. A director may resign at any time by delivering written notice to the board of directors, to its chairman or to the corporation. A resignation shall be effective when the notice is delivered unless the notice specifies a later effective date.

The shareholders may remove one or more directors with or without cause unless the articles of incorporation provide that directors may be removed only for cause. If a director is elected by a voting group of shareholders, only the shareholders of that voting group may participate in the vote to remove him. If cumulative voting is authorized, a director may not be removed if the number of votes sufficient to elect him under cumulative voting is voted against his removal. If cumulative voting is not authorized, a director may be removed only if the number of votes cast to remove him exceeds the number of votes cast not to remove him. A director may be removed by the shareholders only at a meeting called for the purpose of removing him and the meeting notice must state that the purpose, or one (1) of the purposes, of the meeting shall be removal of the director.

SECTION 5. Regular Meetings. Unless the articles of incorporation or these bylaws provide otherwise, a regular meeting of the board of directors shall be held without other notice than this bylaw immediately after, and at the same place as, the annual meeting of shareholders.

SECTION 6. Special Meetings. Special meetings of the board of directors may be called by or at the request of the president or a majority of the members of the board. Unless the articles of incorporation or these bylaws provide for a longer or shorter period, special meetings of the board of directors must be preceded by at least two (2) days' notice of the date, time and place of the meeting. If no place for the meeting has been designated in the notice, the meeting shall be held at the principal office of the corporation. The notice need not describe the purpose of the special meeting unless required by the articles of incorporation or these bylaws.

SECTION 7. Place of Meetings. The board of directors may hold regular or special meetings in or out of this state.

SECTION 8. Quorum. Unless the articles of incorporation or these bylaws require a greater number, a quorum of the board of directors consists of a majority of the number of directors fixed by Article III, Section 2, or a majority of the number of directors prescribed, or if no number is prescribed, the number in office immediately before the meeting begins, if the corporation has a variable-range size board. If less than such number necessary for a quorum shall be present at a meeting, a majority of the directors present may adjourn the meeting from time to time without further notice.

SECTION 9. Manner of Acting. If a quorum is present when a vote is taken, the affirmative vote of a majority of directors present is the act of the board of directors unless the articles of incorporation or bylaws require the vote of a greater number of directors.

SECTION 10. Action Without a Meeting. Unless the articles of incorporation or bylaws provide otherwise, action required or permitted to be taken at a board of directors' meeting may be taken without a meeting if the action is taken by all members of the board. The action must be evidenced by one or more written consents describing the action taken, signed by each director, and included in the minutes or filed with the corporate records reflecting the action taken. Action taken under this section shall be effective when the last director signs the consent, unless the consent specifies a different effective date. Such a consent has the effect of a meeting vote and may be described as such in any document.

SECTION 11. Vacancies. Unless the articles of incorporation provide otherwise, if a vacancy occurs on the board of directors, including a vacancy resulting from an increase in the number of directors (i) the shareholders may fill the vacancy, (ii) the board of directors may fill the vacancy, or (iii) if the directors remaining in office constitute fewer than a quorum of the board, they may fill the vacancy by the affirmative vote of a majority of all the directors remaining in office. If the vacant office was held by a director elected by a voting group of shareholders, only the holders of shares of that voting group shall be entitled to fill the vacancy if it is filled by the shareholders. A vacancy that will occur at a specific later date (by reason of a resignation effective at a later date or otherwise) may be filled before the vacancy occurs, but the new director may not take office until the vacancy occurs.

SECTION 12. Compensation. Unless the articles of incorporation or these bylaws provide otherwise, the board of directors may fix the compensation of directors. By resolution of the board of directors, each director may be paid his expenses, if any, of attendance at each meeting of the board of directors, and may be paid a stated salary as a director or a fixed sum for attendance at each meeting of the board of directors or both. No such payment shall preclude any director from serving the corporation in any other capacity and receiving compensation therefor.

SECTION 13. Executive and Other Committees. Unless the articles of incorporation or bylaws provide otherwise, the board of directors may create an executive committee and one or more other committees and appoint members of the board of directors to serve on them. Each committee must have two (2) or more members, who serve at the pleasure of the board of directors. The creation of a committee and appointment of members to it must be approved by the greater of (1) a majority of all the directors in office when the action is taken or (2) the number of directors required by the articles of incorporation or bylaws to take action. To the extent specified by the board of directors or in the articles of incorporation or bylaws, each committee may exercise the authority of the board of directors. A committee may not, however, (i) authorize distributions, (ii) approve or propose to shareholders action required by applicable law to be approved by shareholders, (iii) fill vacancies on the board of directors or on any of its committees, (iv) amend articles of incorporation pursuant to applicable law authorizing amendment by the board of directors, (v) adopt, amend, or repeal bylaws, (vi) approve a plan of merger not requiring shareholder approval, (vii) authorize or approve the reacquisition of shares, except according to a formula or method prescribed by the board of directors, or (viii) authorize or approve the issuance or sale or contract for sale of shares, or determine the designation and relative rights, preferences and limitations of a class or series of shares, except that the board of directors may authorize a committee (Or a senior executive officer of the corporation) to do so within limits specifically prescribed by the board of directors. Provisions of these bylaws governing meetings, action without Meetings, notice and waiver of notice, and quorum and voting requirements of the board of directors, apply to committees and their members as well.

SECTION 14. Participation by Telephonic or Other Means. Unless the articles of incorporation or these bylaws provide otherwise, the board of directors may permit any or all directors to participate in a regular or special meeting by, or conduct the meeting through the use of, any means of communication by which all directors may simultaneously hear each other during the meeting. A director participating in a meeting by this means shall be deemed to be present in person at the meeting.

ARTICLE IV OFFICERS

SECTION 1. Number. The officers of the corporation shall be chosen by the board of directors and shall be a president, one or more vice presidents, a secretary and treasurer. The board in its discretion, may also choose a chairman, who must be a director of the corporation. In addition, the president may appoint, or the board of directors may elect one or more assistant secretaries and one or more assistant treasurers who shall have the same duties and authority, respectively, as the secretary and treasurer. Any number of offices, other than the president and the secretary may be held by the same person, unless the articles of incorporation or these bylaws provide otherwise. No person shall sign any document on behalf of this corporation in more than one capacity.

SECTION 2. Election. The officers shall be elected or appointed by the board of directors at the first meeting following each annual meeting of shareholders and shall hold office at the pleasure of such board. The president shall be a director.

SECTION 3. Compensation. The salaries of all officers and agents of the corporation shall be fixed by the board of directors.

SECTION 4. Removal and Vacancies. The officers of the corporation shall hold office until their successors are chosen and qualify. Any officer elected or appointed by the board of directors may be removed at any time by the affirmative vote of a majority of the board of directors with or without cause, when in the judgment of the board the best interest of the corporation demands such removal. Any vacancy occurring in any office of the corporation shall be filled by the board of directors.

SECTION 5. Chairman of the Board. The chairman of the board of directors, if there be one, shall preside at all meetings of the board and of the shareholders at which he is present. Except where by law the signature of the president is required, the Chairman shall possess the same power as the president to sign all certificates of stock, contracts, leases, mortgages and other documents and instruments of the corporation which may be authorized by the board. During the absence or disability of the president, the chairman shall exercise all the powers and discharge all the duties of the president. The chairman shall also perform such other duties and exercise such other powers as from time to time may be assigned to him by these bylaws or by the board of directors.

SECTION 6. President. NC-DSH, INC.

Offices

The corporation may have offices at such places both within and without the State of Nevada as the Board of Directors may from time to time determine or the business of the corporation may require.

ARTICLE II

Capital Stock

Section 1. Amount of Capital Stock. The authorized capital stock of the corporation shall be as set forth in the Articles of Incorporation filed with the Secretary of State of the State of Nevada.

Section 2. Certificates of Stock. The certificates of stock shall be of such form and device as the Board of Directors may adopt. All certificates of stock shall be signed by the President, or in his absence, by a Vice-President, and by the Secretary or Assistant Secretary or by such other persons as may be authorized by law to sign such certificates. Such certificates shall exhibit the holders' names and the number of shares, be numbered, and entered in the books of the corporation as they are issued.

Section 3. Transfers of Stock and Duplicate Certificates. Transfer of stock shall be made only on the books of the corporation. No new certificate shall be issued in lieu of an old one, unless the latter is properly endorsed, surrendered and marked "cancelled" at the time the new one is issued. If, however, a certificate shall be lost or destroyed, the Board of Directors may order a new certificate issued upon receipt by the corporation of satisfactory security by bond or otherwise against loss to the corporation and upon such other terms, conditions and guaranties as such Board may require. Any such new certificates shall be plainly marked "duplicate" on its face.

Section 4. Recognition of Ownership and Treasury Stock. Any person, firm or corporation in whose name stock stands on the books of the corporation, whether individually, or as trustee, pledgee or otherwise, may be recognized and treated by the corporation as the absolute owner thereof, and the corporation shall in no event be obliged to deal with or to recognize the rights or interests of any other person in such stock, or in any part thereof. Treasury stock shall be held by the corporation subject to disposal by the Board of Directors and shall neither be voted nor participate in dividends and other distributions.

ARTICLE III

Meetings of Shareholders

Section 1. Location. All meetings of the shareholders shall be held at any place within or without the State of Nevada which may be designated either by the Board of Directors or by the written consent of all shareholders entitled to vote thereat given either before or after the meeting and filed by the Secretary of the corporation. In the absence of any such designation, shareholders' meetings shall be held at 155 Franklin Road, in the City of Brentwood, State of Tennessee.

Section 2. Annual Meeting. The annual meeting of the stockholders shall be held on such dates and at such times as determined by the Board of Directors. At such meeting, the stockholders shall elect directors, by a plurality vote, to serve for the ensuing year or until their successors shall be elected and qualified.

Section 3. Special Meetings. Special meetings of the shareholders, for any purposes whatsoever, may be called at any time by the President or by any Vice President or by a majority of the Board of Directors or by one or more shareholders holding not less than one-fifth (1/5) of the voting power of the corporation.

Section 4. Notices. Written notice of each annual meeting shall be given to each shareholder either personally or by mail or by other means of written communication, charges prepaid, addressed to each shareholder at his address appearing on the books of the corporation, or given by him to the corporation for the purpose of notice. If a shareholder gives no address, notice is duly given to him if sent by mail or other means of written communication addressed to the place where the principal office of the corporation is situated or if published at least once in some newspaper of general circulation in the county in which the office is located. Except as otherwise expressly provided by statute, any such notice shall be deposited in the United States mail, delivered to the telegraph company in the place in which the principal office of the corporation is located or published at least ten (10) days, but not more than forty (40) days prior to the time of the holding of the meeting. In case such notice is personally delivered or delivered by means of written communication other than by mail, telegraph or publication as above provided, it shall be so delivered at least seven (7) days prior to the time of the holding of the meeting. Such delivery, mailing, telegraphing or publishing as above provided shall be due legal and personal notice to such shareholders. Such notices shall specify the place, the day and the hour of such meeting and shall state such other matters, if any, as may be expressly required by statute. Notice of any special meeting shall specify in addition to the place, day and hour of such meeting the general nature of the business to be transacted. Attendance by a shareholder at any meeting in person or by proxy shall be deemed to waive all requirements as to notice of the meeting. Waiver by a shareholder in writing of notice of any meeting of shareholders shall be equivalent to the giving of such notice.

Section 5. Quorum. The presence in person or by proxy of the holders of a majority of the shares entitled to vote at any meeting shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. In the absence of a quorum, any meeting of the shareholders may be adjourned from time to time by the vote of a majority of the shares, the holders of which are either present in person or represented by proxy thereat, but no other business may be transacted. The shareholders present at a duly organized meeting may continue to transact any business notwithstanding the withdrawal from such meeting of enough shareholders to leave less than a quorum.

Section 6. Proxies. Stock may be represented by proxy and no special form of proxy shall be necessary, but the written authorization of proxy over signature of a shareholder shall be sufficient. No proxy shall be valid after eleven (11) months from the date of its execution, unless otherwise provided in the proxy.

Section 7. Voting. Each share of stock present at any meeting, either in person or by proxy, and having voting power shall be entitled to one vote on all matters coming before the meeting.

Section 8. Presiding Officer. Every meeting of shareholders, whether annual or special, shall be presided over by the President or, in his absence, by any Vice President. The Secretary of the corporation shall act as Secretary of every such meeting or, in his absence, a Secretary shall be appointed by the Chairman of such meeting.

Section 9. Record Date. For the purpose of determining shareholders entitled to notice of or to vote at any meeting of shareholders or any adjournment thereof, or to receive payment of any dividend, the Board of Directors shall fix a record date for determination of shareholders entitled to participate, which shall not be less than twenty (20) days nor more than fifty (50) days prior to the date on which such action is to be taken.

Section 10. Written Consent. To the extent provided by applicable law, any action required to be taken at any annual or special meeting of stockholders of the corporation, or any action which may be taken at any annual or special meeting of such stockholders, may be taken without a meeting, without prior notice and without a vote, if a consent in writing, setting forth the action so taken, shall be signed by all of the holders of outstanding stock.

ARTICLE IV

Directors

Section 1. Number. The number of directors which shall constitute the whole Board shall be not less than three nor more than ten. The first Board shall consist of three directors. Thereafter, within the limits above specified, the number of directors shall be determined by resolution of the Board of Directors or by the stockholders at the annual meeting. The directors shall be elected at the annual meeting of the stockholders, except as provided in Section 3 of this Article, and each director elected shall hold office until his successor is elected and qualified. Directors need not be stockholders.

Section 2. Authority. The Board of Directors shall have power:

First: To conduct, manage, and control the affairs and business of the corporation and to make such rules and regulations therefor, not inconsistent with law or with the Articles of Incorporation or with the Bylaws, as they may deem best;

Second: To appoint and remove at pleasure the officers, agents, and employees of the corporation, prescribe their duties and fix their compensation;

Third: To authorize the issue of shares of stock of the corporation from time to time upon such terms as may be lawful, in consideration of money paid, labor done or services actually rendered, debts or securities canceled, or tangible or intangible property actually received, or in the case of shares issued as a dividend, against amounts transferred from surplus to stated capital;

Fourth: To borrow money and incur indebtedness for the purposes of the corporation and to cause to be executed and delivered therefor, in the corporate name, promissory notes, bonds, debentures, deeds of trust, mortgages, pledges, hypothecations or other evidences of debt and securities therefor;

Fifth: To alter, repeal or amend, from time to time, and at any time, these Bylaws and any and all amendments of the same, and from time to time, and at any time, to make and adopt such new and additional Bylaws as may be necessary and proper, subject to the power of the shareholders to adopt, amend or repeal such Bylaws, or to revoke the delegation of authority of the directors, as provided by law or by Article XIII of these Bylaws; and

Sixth: To appoint an executive and other committees, and to delegate to the Executive Committee any of the powers and authority of the board in the management of the business and affairs of the corporation, except the power to declare dividends and to adopt, amend or repeal Bylaws. The Board of Directors shall have the power to prescribe the manner in which proceedings of the Executive Committee and other committees shall be conducted. The Executive Committee shall be composed of two or more directors.

Section 3. Removal of Directors. The stockholders shall have the power at any meeting of the stockholders to remove any director or officer with or without cause by a vote of the majority in amount of all the outstanding stock of the corporation entitled to vote.

Section 4. Vacancies. Vacancies and newly created directorships resulting from any increase in the authorized number of directors or from any removal of incumbent directors may be filled by a majority of the directors then in office, though less than a quorum, or by a sole remaining director, and the directors so chosen shall hold office until the next annual election and until their successors are duly elected and shall qualify, unless sooner removed. If there are no directors in office, then an election of directors may be held in the manner provided by statute.

Section 5. Quorum. A majority of all the directors of the corporation shall be necessary to constitute a quorum for the transaction of business at all meetings of the Board and a majority of the quorum shall decide any question that may come before the meeting, but less than a quorum may adjourn any meeting from time to time.

Section 6. Meetings. Regular meetings of the Board of Directors shall be held in the City of Brentwood, Tennessee, or at such other place as from time to time shall be determined by resolution of the Board and without notice of said meeting. Special meetings may be called at the discretion of the President of the corporation, or upon request of a majority of members of the Board. A regular meeting of the Board of Directors shall be held immediately following the annual meeting of stockholders, at which the directors shall elect the officers of the corporation for the ensuing year and transact such other business as may come before said meeting, of which no notice need be given except as herein contained.

Section 7. Notice of Meetings. Notice of all special meetings and the place, date and hour for holding such meetings, excepting only the regular meetings, shall be given to each director by mail, telecopy, or telegraph, by the Secretary at least three (3) days previous to the time fixed for the meeting. The transactions of any meeting of the Board of Directors, however called or noticed or wherever held, shall be as valid as though had a meeting duly been held after regular call and notice, if a quorum be present, and if, either before or after the meeting, each of the directors not present signs a written waiver of notice, or a consent to holding such meeting, or an approval of the minutes thereof. All such waivers, consents or approvals shall be filed with the corporate records or made a part of the minutes of the meeting.

Section 8. Compensation. Directors, as such, shall not receive a salary for their services, but by resolution of the Board, a fixed sum and expenses of attendant, if any, may be allowed for attendance at each regular or special meeting of the Board. Nothing herein contained shall be construed to preclude any director from serving the corporation in any other capacity and receiving compensation therefor.

Section 9. Written Consent in Lieu of Meeting. To the extent provided by applicable law, any action required or permitted to be taken at any meeting of the Board of Directors or of any committee thereof may be taken without a meeting, if all members of the Board or committee, as the case may be, consent thereto in writing, and the writing or writings are filed with the minutes of proceedings of the Board or committee.

Any such new certificates shall be plainly marked "duplicate" on its face, Section 4. Recognition of Ownership and Treasury Stock. Treasury stock shall be held by the corporation subject to disposal by the Board of Directors and shall neither be voted nor participate in dividends and other distributions.

ARTICLE III

Meetings of Shareholders

Section 1. Location. All meetings of the shareholders shall be held at any place within or without the State of Ohio which may be designated either by the Board of Directors or by the written consent of all shareholders entitled to vote thereat given either before or after the meeting and filed by the Secretary of the corporation. In the absence of any such designation, shareholders' meetings shall be held at 103 Continental Place, in the City of Brentwood, State of Tennessee.

Section 2. Annual Meeting. The annual meeting of the stockholders shall be held on such dates and at such times as determined by the Board of Directors. At such meeting, the stockholders shall elect directors, by a plurality vote, to serve for the ensuing year or until their successors shall be elected and qualified.

Section 3. Special Meetings. Special meetings of the shareholders, for any purposes whatsoever, may be called at any time by the President or by any Vice President or by a majority of the Board of Directors or by one or more shareholders holding not less than one-fifth (1/5) of the voting power of the corporation.

Section 4. Notices. Written notice of each annual meeting shall be given to each shareholder either personally or by mail or by other means of written communication, charges prepaid, addressed to each shareholder at his address appearing on the books of the corporation, or given by him to the corporation for the purpose of notice. If a shareholder gives no address, notice is duly given to him if sent by mail or other means of written communication addressed to the place where the principal office of the corporation is situated or if published at least once in some newspaper of general circulation in the county in which the office is located. Except as otherwise expressly provided by statute, any such notice shall be deposited in the United States mail, delivered to the telegraph company in the place in which the principal office of the corporation is located or published at least ten (10) days, but not more than forty (40) days prior to the time of the holding of the meeting. Such delivery, mailing, telegraphing or publishing as above provided shall be due legal and personal notice to such shareholders. Such notices shall specify the place, the day and the hour of such meeting and shall state such other matters, if any, as may be expressly required by statute. Notice of any special meeting shall specify in addition to the place, day and hour of such meeting the general nature of the business to be transacted. Attendance by a shareholder at any meeting in person or by proxy shall be deemed to waive all requirements as to notice of the meeting. Waiver by a shareholder in writing of notice of any meeting of shareholders shall be equivalent to the giving of such notice.

Section 5. Quorum. The presence in person or by proxy of the holders of a majority of the shares entitled to vote at any meeting shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. In the absence of a quorum, any meeting of the shareholders may be adjourned from time to time by the vote of a majority of the shares, the holders of which are either present in person or represented by proxy thereat, but no other business may be transacted. The shareholders present at a duly organized meeting may continue to transact any business notwithstanding the withdrawal from such meeting of enough shareholders to leave less than a quorum.

Section 6. Proxies. Stock may be represented by proxy and no special form of proxy shall be necessary, but the written authorization of proxy over signature of a shareholder shall be sufficient. No proxy shall be valid after eleven (11) months from the date of its execution, unless otherwise provided in the proxy.

Section 10. Written Consent. To the extent provided by applicable law, any action required to be taken at any annual or special meeting of stockholders of the corporation, or any action which may be taken at any annual or special meeting of such stockholders, may be taken without a meeting, without prior notice and without a vote, if a consent in writing, setting forth the action so taken, shall be signed by all of the holders of outstanding stock.

ARTICLE IV

Directors

Section 1. Number. The number of directors which shall constitute the whole Board shall be not less than three nor more than ten. The first Board shall consist of four directors. Thereafter, within the limits above specified, the number of directors shall be determined by resolution of the Board of Directors or by the stockholders at the annual meeting. The directors shall be elected at the annual meeting of the stockholders, except as provided in Section 3 of this Article, and each director elected shall hold office until his successor is elected and qualified. Directors need not be stockholders.

Section 2. Authority. The Board of Directors shall have power:

First: To conduct, manage, and control the affairs and business of the corporation and to make such rules and regulations therefor, not inconsistent with law or with the Articles of Incorporation or with the Bylaws, as they may deem best;

Second: To appoint and remove at pleasure the officers, agents, and employees of the corporation, prescribe their duties and fix their compensation;

Third: To authorize the issue of shares of stock of the corporation from time to time upon such terms as may be lawful, in consideration of money paid, labor done or services actually rendered, debts or securities canceled, or tangible or intangible property actually received, or in the case of shares issued as a dividend, against amounts transferred from surplus to stated capital;

Fourth: To borrow money and incur indebtedness for the purposes of the corporation and to cause to be executed and delivered therefor, in the corporate name, promissory notes, bonds, debentures, deeds of trust, mortgages, pledges, hypothecations or other evidences of debt and securities therefor;

Fifth: To alter, repeal or amend, from time to time, and at any time, these Bylaws and any and all amendments of the same, and from time to time, and at any time, to make and adopt such new and additional Bylaws as may be necessary and proper, subject to the power of the shareholders to adopt, amend or repeal such Bylaws, or to revoke the delegation of authority of the directors, as provided by law or by Article XIII of these Bylaws; and

Sixth: To appoint an executive and other committees, and to delegate to the Executive Committee any of the powers and authority of the board in the management of the business and affairs of the corporation, except the power to declare dividends and to adopt, amend or repeal Bylaws. The Board of Directors shall have the power to prescribe the manner in which proceedings of the Executive Committee and other committees shall be conducted. The Executive Committee shall be composed of two or more directors.

Section 3. Removal of Directors. The stockholders shall have the power at any meeting of the stockholders to remove any director or officer with or without cause by a vote of the majority in amount of all the outstanding stock of the corporation entitled to vote.

Section 4. Vacancies. Vacancies and newly created directorships resulting from any increase in the authorized number of directors or from any removal of incumbent directors may be filled by a majority of the directors then in office, though less than a quorum, or by a sole remaining director, and the directors so chosen shall hold office until the next annual election and until their successors are duly elected and shall qualify, unless sooner removed. If there are no directors in office, then an election of directors may be held in the manner provided by statute.

Section 5. Quorum. A majority of all the directors of the corporation shall be necessary to constitute a quorum for the transaction of business at all meetings of the Board and a majority of the quorum shall decide any question that may come before the meeting, but less than a quorum may adjourn any meeting from time to time.

Section 6. Meetings. Regular meetings of the Board of Directors shall be held in the City of Brentwood, Tennessee, or at such other place as from time to time shall be determined by resolution of the Board and without notice of said meeting. Special meetings may be called at the discretion of the President of the corporation, or upon request of a majority of members of the Board. A regular meeting of the Board of Directors shall be held immediately following the annual meeting of stockholders, at which the directors shall elect the officers of the corporation for the ensuing year and transact such other business as may come before said meeting, of which no notice need be given except as herein contained.

Section 7. Notice of Meetings. Notice of all special meetings and the place, date and hour for holding such meetings, excepting only the regular meetings, shall be given to each director by mail, telecopy, or telegraph, by the Secretary at least three (3) days previous to the time fixed for the meeting. The transactions of any meeting of the Board of Directors, however called or noticed or wherever held, shall be as valid as though had a meeting duly been held after regular call and notice, if a quorum be present, and if, either before or after the meeting, each of the directors not present signs a written waiver of notice, or a consent to holding such meeting, or an approval of the minutes thereof. All such waivers, consents or approvals shall be filed with the corporate records or made a part of the minutes of the meeting.

Section 8. Compensation. Directors, as such, shall not receive a salary for their services, but by resolution of the Board, a fixed sum and expenses of attendant, if any, may be allowed for attendance at each regular or special meeting of the Board. Nothing herein contained shall be construed to preclude any director from serving the corporation in any other capacity and receiving compensation therefor.

Section 9. Written Consent in Lieu of Meeting. To the extent provided by applicable law, any action required or permitted to be taken at any meeting of the Board of Directors or of any committee thereof may be taken without a meeting, if all members of the Board or committee, as the case may be, consent thereto in writing, and the writing or writings are filed with the minutes of proceedings of the Board or committee.

Section 10. This corporation shall indemnify each present and future director and officer and any person who may serve at its request as a director or officer of another corporation to the extent required and to the extent permitted by the laws of the state in which indemnification is sought.

Section 10. Written Consent. To the extent provided by applicable law, any action required to be taken at any annual or special meeting of stockholders of the corporation, or any action which may be taken at any annual or special meeting of such stockholders, may be taken without a meeting, without prior notice and without a vote, if a consent in writing, setting forth the action so taken, shall be signed by all of the holders of outstanding stock.

ARTICLE IV

Directors

Section 1. Number. The number of directors which shall constitute the whole Board shall be not less than three nor more than ten. The first Board shall consist of four directors. Thereafter, within the limits above specified, the number of directors shall be determined by resolution of the Board of Directors or by the stockholders at the annual meeting. The directors shall be elected at the annual meeting of the stockholders, except as provided in Section 3 of this Article, and each director elected shall hold office until his successor is elected and qualified. Directors need not be stockholders.

Section 2. Authority. The Board of Directors shall have power:

First: To conduct, manage, and control the affairs and business of the corporation and to make such rules and regulations therefor, not inconsistent with law or with the Articles of Incorporation or with the Bylaws, as they may deem best;

Second: To appoint and remove at pleasure the officers, agents, and employees of the corporation, prescribe their duties and fix their compensation;

Third: To authorize the issue of shares of stock of the corporation from time to time upon such terms as may be lawful, in consideration of money paid, labor done or services actually rendered, debts or securities canceled, or tangible or intangible property actually received, or in the case of shares issued as a dividend, against amounts transferred from surplus to stated capital;

Fourth: To borrow money and incur indebtedness for the purposes of the corporation and to cause to be executed and delivered therefor, in the corporate name, promissory notes, bonds, debentures, deeds of trust, mortgages, pledges, hypothecations or other evidences of debt and securities therefor;

Fifth: To alter, repeal or amend, from time to time, and at any time, these Bylaws and any and all amendments of the same, and from time to time, and at any time, to make and adopt such new and additional Bylaws as may be necessary and proper, subject to the power of the shareholders to adopt, amend or repeal such Bylaws, or to revoke the delegation of authority of the directors, as provided by law or by Article XIII of these Bylaws; and

Sixth: To appoint an executive and other committees, and to delegate to the Executive Committee any of the powers and authority of the board in the management of the business and affairs of the corporation, except the power to declare dividends and to adopt, amend or repeal Bylaws. The Board of Directors shall have the power to prescribe the manner in which proceedings of the Executive Committee and other committees shall be conducted. The Executive Committee shall be composed of two or more directors.

Section 3. Removal of Directors. The stockholders shall have the power at any meeting of the stockholders to remove any director or officer with or without cause by a vote of the majority in amount of all the outstanding stock of the corporation entitled to vote.

Section 4. Vacancies. Vacancies and newly created directorships resulting from any increase in the authorized number of directors or from any removal of incumbent directors may be filled by a majority of the directors then in office, though less than a quorum, or by a sole remaining director, and the directors so chosen shall hold office until the next annual election and until their successors are duly elected and shall qualify, unless sooner removed. If there are no directors in office, then an election of directors may be held in the manner provided by statute.

Section 5. Quorum. A majority of all the directors of the corporation shall be necessary to constitute a quorum for the transaction of business at all meetings of the Board and a majority of the quorum shall decide any question that may come before the meeting, but less than a quorum may adjourn any meeting from time to time.

Section 6. Meetings. Regular meetings of the Board of Directors shall be held in the City of Brentwood, Tennessee, or at such other place as from time to time shall be determined by resolution of the Board and without notice of said meeting. Special meetings may be called at the discretion of the President of the corporation, or upon request of a majority of members of the Board. A regular meeting of the Board of Directors shall be held immediately following the annual meeting of stockholders, at which the directors shall elect the officers of the corporation for the ensuing year and transact such other business as may come before said meeting, of which no notice need be given except as herein contained.

Section 7. Notice of Meetings. Notice of all special meetings and the place, date and hour for holding such meetings, excepting only the regular meetings, shall be given to each director by mail, telecopy, or telegraph, by the Secretary at least three (3) days previous to the time fixed for the meeting. The transactions of any meeting of the Board of Directors, however called or noticed or wherever held, shall be as valid as though had a meeting duly been held after regular call and notice, if a quorum be present, and if, either before or after the meeting, each of the directors not present signs a written waiver of notice, or a consent to holding such meeting, or an approval of the minutes thereof. All such waivers, consents or approvals shall be filed with the corporate records or made a part of the minutes of the meeting.

Section 8. Compensation. Directors, as such, shall not receive a salary for their services, but by resolution of the Board, a fixed sum and expenses of attendant, if any, may be allowed for attendance at each regular or special meeting of the Board. Nothing herein contained shall be construed to preclude any director from serving the corporation in any other capacity and receiving compensation therefor.

Section 9. Written Consent in Lieu of Meeting. To the extent provided by applicable law, any action required or permitted to be taken at any meeting of the Board of Directors or of any committee thereof may be taken without a meeting, if all members of the Board or committee, as the case may be, consent thereto in writing, and the writing or writings are filed with the minutes of proceedings of the Board or committee.

Section 10. Indemnification. SECTION 3. PLACE OF MEETING. The annual meeting, or any special meeting called by the Board of Directors, shall be held in Dallas, Texas, unless otherwise designated by them. A waiver of notice, signed by all shareholders, may designate any place, either within or without the State of Oklahoma, as the place for the holding of such meeting. If a special meeting be otherwise called, the place of meeting shall be the office of the Corporation in the State of Texas, except as otherwise provided in Section 5 of this Article.

SECTION 4. NOTICE OF MEETINGS. Written or printed notice stating the place, day and hour of the meeting, and in case of a special meeting, the purpose or purposes for which the meeting is called, shall be delivered not less than ten (10) nor more than forty (40) days before the date of the meeting, either personally or by mail, by or at the direction of the Chairman of the Board, the President, the Secretary, or the officer or persons calling the meeting, to each shareholder of record entitled to vote at such meeting. If mailed, such notice shall be deemed to be delivered when deposited in the United States mail in a sealed envelope addressed to the shareholder at his address as it appears on the records of the Corporation, with postage thereon prepaid. Notice of a meeting, either annual or special, called for the purpose of electing directors shall be delivered not less than twenty (20) days before the date of the meeting.

SECTION 5. MEETING OF ALL SHAREHOLDERS. If all of the shareholders shall meet at any time and place, either within or without the State of Oklahoma, and consent to the holding of a meeting, such meeting shall be valid without call or notice, and at such meeting any corporate action may be taken.

SECTION 6. QUORUM. A majority of the outstanding shares of the Corporation, represented in person or by proxy, shall constitute a quorum at any meeting of shareholders; provided, that if less than a majority of the outstanding shares are represented at said meeting, a majority of the shares so represented may adjourn the meeting from time to time without further notice.

SECTION 7. PROXIES. At all meetings of shareholders, a shareholder may vote by proxy executed in writing by the shareholder or by his duly authorized attorney-in-fact. Such proxy shall be filed with the Secretary of the Corporation before or at the time of the meeting. No proxy shall be valid after eleven (11) months from the date of its execution, unless otherwise provided in the proxy, and such proxy may be withdrawn at any time.

SECTION 8. VOTING OF SHARES. Subject to the provisions of Section 10, each outstanding share of common stock shall be entitled to one vote upon each matter submitted to a vote at a meeting of shareholders.

SECTION 9. VOTING OF SHARES BY CERTAIN HOLDERS. In all elections of directors, every shareholder shall have the right to vote, in person or by proxy, the number of shares owned by him, for as many persons as there are directors to be elected. All voting shall be on a non-cumulative basis, unless otherwise stated in the Articles of Incorporation or except as required by applicable state law.

SECTION 11. INFORMAL ACTION BY SHAREHOLDERS. Any action required to be taken at a meeting of the shareholders may be taken without a meeting if a consent in writing, setting forth the action so taken, shall be signed by all of the shareholders entitled to vote with respect to the subject matter thereof.

DIRECTORS

Special meetings shall be held, unless otherwise designated by the Board of Directors, in Dallas, Texas. Meetings may be held by the directors participating in same by means of a conference telephone or similar communications equipment by means of which all persons participating in the meeting can hear each other and such participation constitutes presence in person for all those participating. Whenever the laws of the State of Oklahoma authorize or permit directors to act other than at a meeting, including but not limited to acting through unanimous written consents, then such actions shall be as effective as if taken by the directors at a meeting.

SECTION 4. NOTICE. Notice of any special meeting shall be given at least two (2) days previously thereto by written notice delivered personally or mailed to each director at his business address, or by facsimile. If mailed, such notice shall be deemed to be delivered when deposited in the United States mail in a sealed envelope so addressed, with postage thereon prepaid. If notice be given by facsimile, such notice shall be deemed to be delivered when the facsimile is transmitted. Any director may waive notice of any meeting. The attendance of a director at any meeting shall constitute a waiver of notice of such meeting, except where a director attends a meeting for the express purpose of objecting to the transaction of any business because the meeting is not lawfully called or convened. Neither the business to be transacted at, nor the purpose of, any regular or special meeting of the Board of Directors need be specified in the notice or waiver of notice of such meeting.

SECTION 5. QUORUM. SECTION 9. REMOVAL OF DIRECTORS. At any special meeting of the stockholders, duly called as provided in these By-laws, any director or directors may, by the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of all the shares of stock outstanding and entitled to vote for the election of directors, be removed from office, either with or without cause. At such meeting a successor or successors may be elected by a majority of the votes cast.

SECTION 10. COMPENSATION. Directors, as such, shall not receive any stated salaries for their services, but by resolution of the Board of Directors, a fixed sum and expenses of attendance, if any, may be allowed for attendance at each regular or special meeting of the Board of Directors; provided that nothing herein contained shall be construed to preclude any director from serving the Corporation in any other capacity and receiving compensation therefor.

For the purpose of determining shareholders entitled to notice of or to vote at any meeting of shareholders or any adjournment thereof, or to receive payment of any dividend, the Board of Directors shall fix a record date for determination of shareholders entitled to participate, which shall not be less than twenty (20) days nor more than fifty (50) days prior to the date on which such action is to be taken.

Section 10. Written Consent. To the extent provided by applicable law, any action required to be taken at any annual or special meeting of stockholders of the corporation, or any action which may be taken at any annual or special meeting of such stockholders, may be taken without a meeting, without prior notice and without a vote, if a consent in writing, setting forth the action so taken, shall be signed by all of the holders of outstanding stock.

ARTICLE IV

Directors

Section 1. Number. The number of directors which shall constitute the whole Board shall be not less than three nor more than ten. The first Board shall consist of four directors. Thereafter, within the limits above specified, the number of directors shall be determined by resolution of the Board of Directors or by the stockholders at the annual meeting. The directors shall be elected at the annual meeting of the stockholders, except as provided in Section 3 of this Article, and each director elected shall hold office until his successor is elected and qualified. Directors need not be stockholders.

Section 2. Authority. The Board of Directors shall have power:

First: To conduct, manage, and control the affairs and business of the corporation and to make such rules and regulations therefor, not inconsistent with law or with the Articles of Incorporation or with the Bylaws, as they may deem best;

Second: To appoint and remove at pleasure the officers, agents, and employees of the corporation, prescribe their duties and fix their compensation;

Third: To authorize the issue of shares of stock of the corporation from time to time upon such terms as may be lawful, in consideration of money paid, labor done or services actually rendered, debts or securities canceled, or tangible or intangible property actually received, or in the case of shares issued as a dividend, against amounts transferred from surplus to stated capital;

Fourth: To borrow money and incur indebtedness for the purposes of the corporation and to cause to be executed and delivered therefor, in the corporate name, promissory notes, bonds, debentures, deeds of trust, mortgages, pledges, hypothecations or other evidences of debt and securities therefor;

Fifth: To alter, repeal or amend, from time to time, and at any time, these Bylaws and any and all amendments of the same, and from time to time, and at any time, to make and adopt such new and additional Bylaws as may be necessary and proper, subject to the power of the shareholders to adopt, amend or repeal such Bylaws, or to revoke the delegation of authority of the directors, as provided by law or by Article XIII of these Bylaws; and

Sixth: To appoint an executive and other committees, and to delegate to the Executive Committee any of the powers and authority of the board in the management of the business and affairs of the corporation, except the power to declare dividends and to adopt, amend or repeal Bylaws. The Board of Directors shall have the power to prescribe the manner in which proceedings of the Executive Committee and other committees shall be conducted. The Executive Committee shall be composed of two or more directors.

Section 3. Removal of Directors. The stockholders shall have the power at any meeting of the stockholders to remove any director or officer with or without cause by a vote of the majority in amount of all the outstanding stock of the corporation entitled to vote.

Section 4. Vacancies. Vacancies and newly created directorships resulting from any increase in the authorized number of directors or from any removal of incumbent directors may be filled by a majority of the directors then in office, though less than a quorum, or by a sole remaining director, and the directors so chosen shall hold office until the next annual election and until their successors are duly elected and shall qualify, unless sooner removed. If there are no directors in office, then an election of directors may be held in the manner provided by statute.

Section 5. Quorum. A majority of all the directors of the corporation shall be necessary to constitute a quorum for the transaction of business at all meetings of the Board and a majority of the quorum shall decide any question that may come before the meeting, but less than a quorum may adjourn any meeting from time to time.

Section 6. Meetings. Regular meetings of the Board of Directors shall be held in the City of Brentwood, Tennessee, or at such other place as from time to time shall be determined by resolution of the Board and without notice of said meeting. Special meetings may be called at the discretion of the President of the corporation, or upon request of a majority of members of the Board. A regular meeting of the Board of Directors shall be held immediately following the annual meeting of stockholders, at which the directors shall elect the officers of the corporation for the ensuing year and transact such other business as may come before said meeting, of which no notice need be given except as herein contained.

Section 7. Notice of Meetings. Notice of all special meetings and the place, date and hour for holding such meetings, excepting only the regular meetings, shall be given to each director by mail, telecopy, or telegraph, by the Secretary at least three (3) days previous to the time fixed for the meeting. The transactions of any meeting of the Board of Directors, however called or noticed or wherever held, shall be as valid as though had a meeting duly been held after regular call and notice, if a quorum be present, and if, either before or after the meeting, each of the directors not present signs a written waiver of notice, or a consent to holding such meeting, or an approval of the minutes thereof. All such waivers, consents or approvals shall be filed with the corporate records or made a part of the minutes of the meeting.

Section 8. Compensation. Directors, as such, shall not receive a salary for their services, but by resolution of the Board, a fixed sum and expenses of attendant, if any, may be allowed for attendance at each regular or special meeting of the Board. Nothing herein contained shall be construed to preclude any director from serving the corporation in any other capacity and receiving compensation therefor.

Section 9. Written Consent in Lieu of Meeting. To the extent provided by applicable law, any action required or permitted to be taken at any meeting of the Board of Directors or of any committee thereof may be taken without a meeting, if all members of the Board or committee, as the case may be, consent thereto in writing, and the writing or writings are filed with the minutes of proceedings of the Board or committee.

Re: CHS/Community Health Systems, Inc.

Ladies and Gentlemen:

We are issuing this opinion letter in our capacity as special counsel for and at the request of CHS/Community Health Systems, Inc. (the "Issuer"), a Delaware corporation and the Guarantors named within the Registration Statement (as hereinafter defined) (together, the "Guarantors," and together with the Issuer, the "Registrants"), in connection with the proposed registration by the Issuer of up to $3,021,331,000 in aggregate principal amount of the Issuer's 8⁷/₈% Senior Notes due 2015, (the "Exchange Notes"), pursuant to a Registration Statement on Form S-4 to be filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission (the "Commission") on or about September 25, 2007, under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the "Act") (such Registration Statement, as amended or supplemented, is hereinafter referred to as the "Registration Statement"). The obligations of the Issuer under the Exchange Notes will be guaranteed by the Guarantors (the "Guarantees"). The Exchange Notes and the Guarantees are to be issued pursuant to the Indenture (as supplemented, the "Indenture"), dated as of July 25, 2007, by and among the Issuer, the Guarantors, and U.S. Bank National Association, as Trustee. The Exchange Notes and the Guarantees are to be issued in exchange for and in replacement of the Issuer's outstanding 8⁷/₈% Senior Notes due 2015 (the "Old Notes") and the related guarantees from the Guarantors, of which we understand $3,021,331,000 in aggregate principal amount is outstanding.
